MATAMORAS.

Miss Myth Crane from Middletown, N. Y., who has been spending her vacation in Matamoras, has returned. She is a very able assistant at the Thrall hospital in that city.

Mrs. W. B. Kelly, who has been visiting friends at Deposit for the past week, has returned home.

W. W. Coleman of Potsdam, N. J., has taken up his residence in the Brick Block on Pennsylvania avenue. He is connected with the sewing machine business.

John Durant arrived home safely Sunday morning after his perilous experience in the Delaware river on Saturday when the Barrett bridge gave away. He is feeling quite well now, after his hard struggle for life.

There were no services at Hope or Epworth church Sunday, both pastors being detained by the flood and not able to return on Saturday.

The heavy rain last Friday carried away the bridge crossing Driller's Brook on River street which inconveniences Milton Shay in carrying the milk to his customers. The town should put up a more substantial bridge in the future. This is the second time this season it has been carried away.

Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Weidner, who have been to Orwigsburg, Pa., for the past two weeks, returned home as far as Port Jervis.

The Barrett Bridge going away inconveniences the Matamoras people very much. It is to be hoped the upper bridge can be made safe for traveling.

The Harvest Home Supper that was to have been held at Epworth church Thursday and Friday of this week has been postponed until further notice.

George Happ, the Port Jervis baker, is accommodating his Matamoras customers nicely during the loss of the bridge. He leaves his wagon on the Matamoras side and carries his goods across the river by boat. The people in Matamoras are very much pleased to be so nicely served.

The funeral of the late Jacob Westfall, one of the victims of the Barrett Bridge, took place at his late home on Jefferson street, Rev. Shoop and Rev. Chadwick officiated. The casket was carried across the railroad bridge and wagon met it on the other side to carry it to Laurel Grove cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Westfall have the heartfelt sympathy of the people of Matamoras in their bereavement.

The funeral of Stanley French took place Wednesday afternoon. Another victim of the Barrett bridge.

Rev. Mr. Shoop, pastor of Epworth church, left town last Wednesday to attend the Epworth league convention which convened at Jersey City Thursday afternoon and evening and was detained in Jersey City on account of the flood and preached at Trinity M. E. church in Jersey City Sunday morning.

Irving Courtright in company with Ed Wickham and George Ruegger and Messrs. Alva and Jacob Dewitt all of Matamoras are on a fishing excursion to Yankee Pond in Sullivan county.

GREENTOWN.

Mrs. John Marsch, who has been suffering from brain fever, died at her home in Greentown Wednesday, Oct. 7th. The funeral services were held in the Moravian church Sunday in charge of Rev. Clewell.

Mrs. Marsch was an active member in the Moravian church and will be greatly missed by the large circle of friends.

Deceased leaves a husband, two sons and four daughters to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Theodore Correll also quietly passed away Oct. 8. Services were held in the Moravian church Oct. 12. Rev. Williams officiating. Interment in the Moravian cemetery.

Dr. Barrus of Scranton performed an operation on T. S. Osborn Oct. 13 for cancer of the liver.

Americus Friebe is getting better. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Simons have been on a visit to Scranton.

Mark Simons has returned to Chicago.

Mrs. Nina McKean leaves this week for Newark where she expects to spend the fall and winter.

Evangelist Shelborn is holding meetings at South Sterling.

Traveling has been much hindered by the effects of the recent heavy rains.

Washington had a meeting the other day of "oldest inhabitants." It developed that there were two oldest inhabitants.

WANTED—FAITHFUL PERSON TO travel and supervise some of salesmen and make collections for manufacturing firms. Straight salary $200 a week and expenses. Salary paid weekly and expenses money advanced. Previous experience unnecessary. Local territory. Business successful. Position permanent. Enclose self-addressed envelope. Superintendant, 221 Dearborn street, Chicago.

MAST HOPE

The greatest flood ever known on the Delaware has come and gone and left destruction in its trail.

At William Hawks the water was 5 feet deep on the first floor; the family was obliged to seek refuge in the barn Friday night and stay there about 24 hours.

At William Hankins the stock was removed to the orchard, potatoes were carried out and the family was prepared to leave. Water covered the dooryard wall so that they could ride over it and up to the Ten Mile River in the road or farther back in the fields if they wished. Driftwood and pumpkins floated in the yard and they could catch drift from their gate. They got in the barn walking over a plank. The barn yard was a pond. Besides pumpkins floating into the barn yard, there also came the picture of Mr. Davenport whose house went away from Narrowsburg. A small piece of the glass was broken out otherwise it was not soiled.

John Hermon was not home but his wife with seven children and an old lady were there. The children did not understand but went to sleep until 11 o'clock when they were called. Their mother then carried out chairs and quilts into an old pig pen when they remained until the next day in the afternoon. About 5 the next morning N. E. Hankins went to them with food and built a fire on the hillside so they could keep warm. Mrs. Hermon said when the lantern came to view, it was pleasing to see. The water was about 2 feet deep but no serious damage was done to anything.

At Margaret Hoffmans they could not leave, having waited until the water got too deep, and then had to go upstairs. Bed springs and various other articles lodged against her house.

R. Hankins crossed the river when at its highest to attend his cows which were shut up in the barn. The wooden bridge above J. Barlow's on the west branch of Ten Mile River was washed away, the iron bridge on the east branch and the stone arch near J. Barlow's. The east branch now runs through H. Tuthill's garden and across the road near the arch through Mr. Barlow's field. Jesse Barlow was at Monticello attending the republican convention. His wife carried many things out of the house and then the family left the house. The pig pen was carried away but the pig was rescued. The gristmill and the saw mill dams both gave way. The stone arch at the grist mill still stands but the wings wall and the filling have disappeared. The brook road and the road from Hankins to M. H. Hoffmans are impassable on account of stones of all sizes and drift wood. Among the drift is the bureau belonging to John Davenport of Narrowsburg and the contents have been taken care of. The drift consists of furniture, parts of buildings, and factory, a bridge, a tower to a bridge, pumpkins, etc. One pumpkin marked J. Arnold Hancock; a sign lettered "F. A. Bandenidalle, Undertaker"; a paper in a bottle on which was written J. C. Shanley, 1902, and many things not yet known.

The road on the Penn's side in the cut below Dabrons is all gone.

Raymond Tuthill is home for a week.

Mr. Markle has moved his family into the upper mill house.

Ell Johnson moved his horses over into the Seldon barn on account of high water. The iron bridge near his house was entirely submerged. Old and young were enjoying a boat ride in what seemed to be a pond above the bridge. When the taxes come in they will not be so greatly enjoyed.

Miss Mtnckler and sisters of Fremont Centre spent several days in this place and during the time went cranberrying.

Miss Lizzie Boemer is a guest of her mother.

Miss D. Seldon is in New York city.

WANTED—AN ENTERPRISING FARMER in this section to canvass during the late fall and winter among the farmers in his vicinity. Must be active, capable and honest. Work will prove profitable to a good man and can be made a source of regular and easily earned income each year. To it may be devoted as much or as little time as desired. If interested write AT ONCE to T. M. G., Box 74, Albany, N. Y. 1104

Unlike some of our peerless leaders Joseph Chamberlain is a statesman who would rather make speeches than hold office; he is not making speeches for the purpose of getting into office.

Do Good—If Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.

SANDYSTON.

John Y. Clark, one of the best known citizens of Montague, died Wednesday last aged about 62 years. He had been afflicted with heart trouble for a long time, but a few days ago he was stricken with paralysis and survived only a day or two. He leaves a daughter, Cora, and James, both at home.

Seth Shay of Newark and Miss Bertie Rosenkrans went to Stanhope, N. J., and were married by the Rev. C. W. Demings on the 7th inst. The groom is a popular young man and is conductor on a Newark trolley line. The bride is an estimable young lady of Layton, and their hosts of friends wish them all the happiness and success attainable. They will begin housekeeping in Newark at once.

By the weather service gauge I recorded nearly 9 inches of water in Oct. Thursday and Friday last. I was in New York and the downfall was greater by nearly one-half than it was here. Our roads are almost impassable and on many roads the bridges were swept away. West street, N. Y., could be navigated by boat, and they had lots of trouble. The loss in this county on roads and bridges will be large.

I am told that John Y. Clark, whose death occurred on Wednesday, had a policy on his life of $1000 and John S. Hursh one of $2000. Both in the Mutual Life of New York.

Thursday last I journeyed to Trenton to attend the reunion of my regiment the 1st New Jersey vet. vol. cavalry. Only about sixty of the comrades were present and I can truly say that no veteran should miss their regimental reunion. To clasp by the hand the comrade who camped, marched and fought by your side for 3 years is a pleasure prized by all comrades. Many of the boys, as we familiarly term them, were very infirm, and as we bade each other goodbye we realized that it might be for the last time. Col. Kester, the beloved commander of the regiment, is in the asylum at Philadelphia, and in good physical health although insane. The next reunion at Trenton second Thursday of October 1904.

John J. Vansickle and Mr. Ramor of Bucyrus arrived at Layton Monday noon. Their stay will be brief.

That comradeship existing among soldiers was fully exemplified on Sunday when the writer was told by the conductor, Whyms, that I must get off as his train could not go further than Warbasse's Junction. Where I was 15 miles from my home, when Comrade David Webb said, "come over to the house and have some dinner and I will send you home." I had a splendid dinner thanks to his estimable wife and in due time was set down at my door. That I would call true, soldierly feeling.

Tuesday the democratic convention for nominating candidates for senator and surrogate will be held at Newton. That there will be a heap of wire pulling is a sure thing.

I hear that James Swartwout, living over along the river, is very ill of typhoid fever. Mr Swartwout has the sympathy of all his many friends in his affliction.

Samuel Swartwout, an aged colored man, was killed last week by a Monticello train at Port Jervis. He had lived at the Alms House for the past two years and was out for a visiting tour. He was a quiet, inoffensive man, and hadn't an enemy in the world.

The rains of last week raised the stream along the new road, and damaged the abutments of the bridge near Turtles Corner so that extensive repairs must be made.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. We purchased some of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and he commenced taking them. Inside of thirty days he had gained forty pounds in flesh. He is now fully recovered. We have a good trade on the Tablets.—HOLLEY BROS., Merchants, Long Branch, Mo. For sale by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.

COUGH SEASON

Fall and Winter is the time that throat and lung troubles get their start. Every cough or cold means tearing down—a threat against life. Every neglected cough makes the next one come easier.

ARMSTRONG'S COUGH MIXTURE

cures cough by removing the cause. It heals, strengthens and soothes. It loosens the cough and cures thoroughly.
