DINGMAN'S FERRY.
The fish pond to be made by H. H. Sanderson will be a sheet of water about the size of Silver Lake. This beautiful expanse of water is now owned entirely by non-residents of the county who keep it as a private resort, and Porter's pond where in days of yore we used to go and spear fish at night and snatch them in the day time with hook and line is also owned by a private corporation. The artificial pond at the Bowman place has been prospected and the only place now left in this section where we may go with perfect freedom in a small pond known as the Bennewater.
The first leap year party hereabouts was given at Retallick's last Wednesday.
The cold proved too much even for lumbermen and they took a siesta by the fire.
Louis Chastillon is having an addition built to his house at High Falls.
What is one's loss is another's gain holds good in Cole's district this winter. The scholars under Miss Carrie Horubek have made admirable progress in their studies.
Wouldn't school directors be now busy canvassing to get the nomination. Of course they promise to fulfill the duties of the office, if elected, to the best of their ability. The present ones made the same promises, yet the school at Centre is said to be dismissed because there is no firewood. Panes of glass are out and the door does not fit. Would the new directors do any better than the old?

Santa Claus found the good children and left them a lot of presents. Jack Frost has found the apples and potatoes, not well protected, and frozen them. Apples are spoiled, but the potatoes if left undisturbed and kept in the dark will generally come out in a normal condition, and sometimes the freezing seems to improve the quality.
The cold weather has organized debating clubs around the store stoves. One question discussed was marriage, and it seems to be agreed that the old fashioned institution does not tend to the full emancipation of women. They and the children are sometimes crowded into occupations, because of the cheaper labor, which should be filled by the fathers, and they are thus thrown out of employment. The woman who should be a help mate is thus made really to be an incubus.
Kainit or German salt, which contains considerable potash, might have a good sale here. Where used it takes the place of lime, and is a good grub killer. Down in Bucks county the farmers pay $16 a ton for it and use it quite extensively. Two hundred pounds is about the quantity per acre. If some one here would purchase a small supply so the farmers could experiment with it a profitable trade might be built up.

MATAMORAS.
Sherman Skinner left town on Monday to visit relatives at Middletown and Newark, N. J.
Calvin Langton and wife returned to New York Tuesday. They were called here to attend the funeral of George H. Langton which occurred Monday.
Quick and Van Elten charge persons driving sleighs across the ice at their ferries 10 cents.
Miss Agnes Wilk left town on Saturday for New York and will be absent some time.
Miss Julia Myers, of Matamoras, and Mrs. Anthony Kuehn of Dinghamton left town Saturday morning to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. B. Hoig, which occurred in that city Saturday afternoon.
A number of Matamoras people will take part in the historical entertainment which occurs at the Casino in Port Jervis on Jan. 18 and 19.
Miss Edna Van Akin, a teacher in one of the grammar schools in New York City, is ill at her home.
Oliver D. Squires, wife and little daughter, Hope, from Highland, N. Y., arrived in Matamoras Friday. They will occupy the pleasant cottage of Calvin Langton's on Third street. Mr. Squires is a druggist, and is employed at St. John's drug store, uptown, in Port Jervis.
Miss Anna Hill has been ill with a bad cold on her lungs. Her mother is very sick with the grip.
Leon G. Crane, who has been spending two weeks in Matamoras, has returned to his work in New York City. He is a trained nurse at Bellevue Hospital.

SANDYSTON.
A. S. Stoll, a prominent citizen of Beavans, this township, died at his home Thursday forenoon aged about 73 years. For many years his health had not been good, and for the past few months has been confined to the house. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Lulla McCoy of Montague, Miss Raye and Vienna at home, and Norma wife of Mr. Carhart of Jersey City.
Mrs. Sarah Kays, wife of James Kays, of Frankford died Wednesday last at her home near Culver's Lake, aged about 63 years. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Kays resided in this township.
Some time ago I referred to the trapping of rabbits, the boys making the plea that they were trapping for skunks. Isaac Angle of Warren county disposed of six trapped rabbits and was called up by the game warden. He was found guilty and fined $120 and $10 costs. It was a spite work case all through, and will probably be appealed to a higher court.
The social at J. B. Rosenkrans on Friday evening was attended by a large number, and every one had a good time. The little boys thought it was great.
H. L. says the boys got limburger and beer at a recent serenade. I didn't know there were any Dutch in Milford.
Our legislative Solons are talking of prohibiting the sale and use of cigarettes in this state, and I am sure they will have the hearty support of every parent to that end. To see the boys in their early teens gravely take out the paper, then hunt around for their tobacco, roll the paper with great care, and draw it through the lips, rubbing it carefully to seal the paper, and then deliberately look around to be sure every one present is observing them, they light up and are perfectly contented with themselves. It is disgusting to say the least.
The trial of George Jager has been laid over until Feb. 8 on account of a witness. The adjourned court will convene on the 19th.
Hunterdon county, N. J., has abolished its board of freeholders and in their stead have 3 commissioners, who will perform the duties of the freeholders. If we had such a board in Sussex county we would not be in the middle of good roads that we are at the present time. Instead of pieces of Macadam scattered all over the county we would have had one continuous piece of good road stretching from the Morris county good road to some point on the Delaware, either Dingmans or Milford. The experiment of the 3 commissioners in Hunterdon will be watched all over the state, and if it proves a success other counties will adopt it.
The venue of Frank Johnson near Beavans on the 5th inst was not concluded and an adjourned sale will take place on the 16th inst, when he will dispose of his horses, cows and other stock.
Mr. Morgan of Dingmans who has rented the farm of Mrs. Mettler has moved upon the premises.
I am glad to note that the operation upon the wife of Porter Layton in a New York hospital was very successful and she will be able to return home in a few days.
I notice that "Dingmans Ferry" says, "If New Jersey had a Macadam road from Layton to Port Jervis," etc. Well, my dear friend, I and others have been praying for that kind of road for years, and am in hopes we will get it one of these days. But the way things, I mean financially, are just now, our county is in bad shape and I am afraid the Macadam road business is in the same fix. I only wish we had your great banks of shies, would make all the good roads we need. Yes, I agree with you in that the road from Layton to the river is the "toughest" in this valley, and I hope some one will head a movement to change that piece of road, for it would be a decided benefit to those living along the river as well as our neighbors over in Pike.
On Wednesday, 6th, Miss Luella Robbins of Walpack Centre and Deque Titman of Andover were united in marriage at the home of the bride. Their many friends extend their wishes for future happiness.
The children of Abram Johnson and grandchildren met on Saturday evening at the homestead now occupied by Frank Johnson.

SEND US A COW,
plei by Frank Johnson, and held a family reunion. I believe every one was present, and such reunions are provocative of good feeling between the members of a family and should be fostered and kept up. The homestead farm will pass into other hands in a few days, hence the reunion.
Young ladies when out driving should keep a firm hold on the reins when turning a corner. A couple of ladies inadvertently omitted the firm hold and were dumped into a snow bank. The horse ran a short distance and stopped, and looked back to see if her driver was coming. No one hurt, the rig was all right, and the girls went on their way rejoicing at their lucky upset.
I see by a Stroudsburg paper the announcement that B. D. Hursh, the efficient manager of the Stroudsburg Telephone Co, had taken out a marriage license. Ben is an all round good fellow, thoroughly temperate and knows his business from A to Z, and his host of friends wish him unlimited success.
KIMBLES
Sasie Edwards of Port Jervis is visiting relatives in this place.
