SANDYSTON.

A resident of this town residing near Hainesville sent his two boys to that village on an errand. A red headed chap thought to have some fun and got the boys to fight. When the father arrived on the scene there was a "scatteration" and the aforesaid red head was maimed as an oyster, for the father meant business.

At a recent caucus the chairman appointed six men to retire to a room and make the ticket for the spring election. The secretary of the ticket makers called for the votes when a candidates name was presented when only two voted for the candidate, the other four refusing to vote. The chairman threw that candidate out. I claim he was nominated. Will some one enlighten me, am I correct?

Daniel B. Letimore, an almost life long resident of Layton, will move on Wednesday of this week to the property recently purchased at Branchville. Dan's familiar figure and jolly salutation will be missed.

The final decision of our highest courts was handed down last week in the Roe Park and Lake Bill and it was declared unconstitutional. I am sorry that such is the case as I fear it will cause the city people to go elsewhere than along the shores of Culvers and Swartzwood Lakes. There is quite a village of cottages along the east side of Culver's Lake and others are contracted for, but this decision will stop all this.

Wash. Dupue moved from Hainesville to his new store in Branchville on Friday last. Mr. Dupue had a good business here and had the patronage of this valley as director of funerals and his going leaves a good opening for some enterprising man in this line. The store occupied by him has not been rented, so far as I know.

The teachers' meetings being held in various parts of this county are doing a great deal of good, and in the end will prove beneficial to the schools. Won't the Superintendent organize something in the same line for the boards of education. The law says they shall meet every two months while the schools are in session and have they done it, not much.

William Clark of Hainesville has been confined to the house by illness for the past week, and is seriously ill. He is one of our oldest citizens.

I hear very little about foxes lately, but, Floyd Courson shot a fine one on Saturday last. The severe cold weather has kept the animals in their holes, but, Floyd caught this on the run.

All indications point to a successful season for the creamery at Bevans. Some who have not sold milk before will try the creamery the coming year. Very few will go back to the making of butter, after trying the plan of selling their milk.

What happens twice will happen the third time is often quoted. Rev. R. W. Lake at Hainesville took unto himself a wife a short time ago, and last week Rev. Fletcher Garis of Branchville was married to Miss Etta Williams, a teacher in that borough. There is a rumor that a third Dominie will do likewise soon, the bride to be a Sandyston lady.

Will The Press please print, as briefly as possible, the Pennsylvania law as to the payment of poll taxes in Pike county? Every township in Sussex Co. has its list of delinquent poll taxes, and some of them boast that they do not have to pay it. If the Pennsylvania law enforces the payment of poll taxes, I think the Jersey people would be heartily in favor of such a law.

In counties and townships in Pennsylvania, outside of cities of certain classes, what is known as a poll tax is assessed on occupations, and in the case of a refusal to pay, the collector may enforce collection, by taking the body. The act says, "If any person shall neglect or refuse to make payment of the amount due by him for such tax, the collector shall levy such amount by distress and sale of the goods and chattels, etc., and in case goods and chattels sufficient to satisfy the same with the costs cannot be found, such collector shall be authorized to take the body of such delinquent and convey him to the jail of the proper county, there to remain until the amount of such tax, together with the costs, shall be paid or secured to be paid, or until he shall be otherwise discharged by due course of law."—Et. Pinks.]

Working Overties

Eight hour laws are ignored by those hireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day, curing indigestion, biliousness, constipation, such headaches and all stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25 cents at all drug stores.

Peculiar To Itself

In what it is and what it does—containing the best blood-purifying, alterative and tonic substances and effecting the most radical and permanent cures of all humors and all eruptions, relieving weak, tired, languid feelings, and building up the whole system—is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No other medicine acts like it; no other medicine has done so much real, substantial good, no other medicine has restored health and strength at so little cost.

"I was troubled with eczema and could not see to do anything. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I could see to do anything."—S. A. HARRISON, Withers, N. C.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

MATAMORAS.

The Newark conference convenes at Newark, N. J., on March 23rd. Bishop Cranston presides. We trust that Rev. O. J. Shoop will be returned to Matamoras. His congregation and friends would be pleased to have him and his estimable wife remain another year.

Mrs. Jennie A. Corey, wife of Conductor Chas. Corey, died at her home in Matamoras, March 2, aged 35 years, 2 months and 19 days.

Mrs. Corey was born at Pompton, Wayne county, Pa., Dec. 14, 1857, and resided there until married in June 8, 1857, when she came to Matamoras and resided until her death.

Besides her husband she is survived by the following children: Nettie, aged 15 years; Myrtle, aged 6 years; Mildred, aged 5 years, and Eva, aged 3 years.

The remains of Mrs. Corey were taken to Pompton, her former home, for burial and funeral services Saturday morning.

John Davis on Pennsylvania Ave. is ill.

Gordon Hunt, the little son of Irving Hunt, has been very ill the past week.

Prof. C. H. Houck, principal of the Matamoras schools, intends in the near future to give an entertainment at the Matamoras High School room.

Miss Saddle Bloker of Port Jervis, formerly of Matamoras, is visiting friends in Patterson and New York city.

Rev. Mr. Metzger and family will arrive in this village some time next week.

J. DeBoeuf and family, who have been occupying a farm in New Jersey for the past two years, have returned to Matamoras and are living in their house on Main street.

Mrs. M. J. Owen and daughter, Beulah, are visiting relatives at Yulan, N. Y.

Great sorrow is felt over the going away of the bridge. The people in Matamoras will have to resort now to the ferries. At 8 o'clock the ice backed up to the lower part of Matamoras below Pennsylvania avenue necessitating some of the families to leave their homes. Wagons were procured and carried them to places of safety. A number were taken to the Matamoras school building until they were conveyed back to their homes.

Matamoras was never visited with so much high water and ice as Wednesday. The 8th day of March will long be remembered by the citizens of Matamoras.

Wednesday morning the ice was blocked at Bell's farm and did a great deal of damage to his property. Mr. Bell's family was taken to the Allen House. Water came up to the second story of his house. James Rose's place was all surrounded by water. As such as the gorge broke at Bell's farm the water receded Matamoras never suffered so much before at any season. We trust the danger at this vicinity is all passed.

The smile that won't come off has been completely eliminated from Mr. Gorman's countenance. Both locally and nationally Mr. Gorman has been "getting it in the neck" and although he is now heading the opposition to liberal appropriations for an American navy, his democratic colleagues admit that he is considerably discouraged.

Land is being cleared to enlarge the large pond on what is known as the Buchanan Mill tract in Porter, owned by Philadelphia parties and proposals are asked to build foundation walls for a club house on the site where the house was burned.

The Sanderson tract, below Silver Lake, is also being cleared of timber for a pond. Cement is already on the ground for the dam which is to be built this spring.

Some here think there is no more truth in the story that Jagger burned Van Anken's store than there is in the rumors that he girdled the fruit trees of George Harsh.

The lower part of the town does not seem quite natural since Levi Howell moved away to Branchville.

The M. E. church here has had its furnaces repaired and the building will be generally renovated. A good minister is expected after Conference meets and steps are being taken so that his salary may be raised.

Arthur Jagger has been confined to his house with pneumonia. It is rumored that Ellenberger, the lumber dealer, will have his financial troubles arranged and that by next season lumbering here will be a lively industry.

Better prices are paid at Bushkill for ties than here because they are sold direct to the railroad company and loaded on their cars. From here they must be rafted by a dealer.

Sickness is quite prevalent, and many are affected with colds.

Although John Schreiber did not receive a nomination for supervisor since election he is on deck. He knows how to manage a piece of bad road and make it good, and the voters appreciated that ability, regardless of the caucus chaps who wanted the place for some one else.

SILVER LAKE

Andrew Cron, who has spent the winter in Dunmore, Pa., returned to his home at Centre Wednesday.

A heavy thunder shower occurred here on March 4th.

August Mercier made a trip to Port Jervis last week.

Mrs. Stoll Jagger is confined to the house with a severe cold. Allen Crone of Centre was here on Tuesday.

Robins and blue birds have made their appearance.

Mrs. Eugene Heater is on the sick list.

It must be quite interesting to rush along over the Siberian railroad and know that keen, educated Japs, shaved and disguised as Chinese coolies are likely to be met with at any point ready to blow up trestle work, road beds and trains.

Life Guards

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, disease, and allies in the very elements as cold, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonias do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against those diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.
