The town council at its meeting Monday evening took a decided step in the right direction. Centre Square has remained practically treeless for 100 years, when, if some interest had been manifested in time past in planting out trees it would now be a beautiful shaded lawn and an adornment to the town. Council has now concluded to rectify this neglect and will have planted a suitable number of trees which in time will furnish shade and make the Square an attractive spot. For this act it will have the sincere thanks of our citizens and posterity will rise up and call it blessed for its public spirit.

It was also resolved by Council to repair the sidewalks on the Square. There are several places where after a snow water stands and makes pedestrianism unpleasant. This will be remedied. Now that council has taken this matter in hand every property owner should in justice to himself and the public, wherever necessary, repair the walks so that they will be free from mud puddles and standing water. Just a little care in this matter and a trifling expense will demonstrate a spirit of progress which will be heartily commended and have its reward. The matter of placing seats around town and in the Glen has been considered and will receive attention. Steps have been taken to procure seats and some will be placed at convenient places for public use. Every one should be interested in their care and preservation, and see that they are not disfigured or wantonly or carelessly injured.

The able article elsewhere printed on taxation in Pennsylvania is from the pen of X. P. Huddy, Esq. It shows how this, the foremost republican state in the union, protects and fosters the interests of her citizens by relieving them of all taxes to raise money for schools, state, roads and expenses of the state generally and places the burden on corporations. This State is pioneer in this form of taxation which operates directly to the benefit of the farmer, by relieving him from taxes. The state is generous to the public school system, has made large appropriations for road purposes and gets all the money from corporations. At the induction of the new state treasurer in office Monday over twelve million dollars were turned over to him by the retiring treasurer.

If the people of the town really desire that the Borough shall be made inviting and neat in appearance and that in this respect it shall keep pace with the effort they make to bring summer guests here they have the means of effecting the result in their hands—the ballot. Elect only men with progressive ideas and who will exercise every care to see that the borough is put and kept in a condition commensurate with the requirements of a place advertising itself as a model summer resort. Business men here are spending money to induce a larger summer trade, all such efforts can be nullified by a lack of care for the surroundings and appearance of the place.

Our esteemed contemporary this week devotes considerably over a column to the subject of improving and beautifying the town. With what it says we most cordially agree and unite in urging our citizens to heed its excellent advice. We cannot forbear wondering, however, whether our e. o. and its editor are two separate and very distinct institutions. We recall without effort that its editor has just concluded a three year's term on the town council and it might strike the average citizen as a little peculiar why during his individual incumbency as a councilman he did not inaugurate the reforms which he now as an editor so warmly urges.

A foot bridge is needed to the upper Glen. Several have been built but each has in succession gone the way of its predecessor, down the sawmill. The proper place to throw one across the stream is just below Wells' mill where it will be safe from floods. It would cost but little more and would be, if properly built entirely safe from destruction and permanent. No use to waste money in structures located and built as formerly. Meantime a bridge in the nature of a pontoon could be cheaply made for public accommodation.

A village improvement society has not yet materialized, but it is certain that the ladies, always progressive and foremost in good works and deeds, will not long delay in making their influence manifest in this direction. All that is needed is for some one to initiate the movement and the spirit is certain to become contagious.

Results from the advertising in Southern papers are already apparent. Parties have written here making enquiry for rooms stating they saw the ad. in the Baltimore American.

Do it now, don't wait. This is a better time to hustle than in July or August. An "Ex." says "paint your Bangy." This must be a new name for nose.

Miss Sarah Newman is in ill health at her home on Harford street.

C. S. Cautis has been over to Branchville doing painting for Geo. E. Horton.

Jo Mollineux, an employee in a watch case factory at Riverside, N. J., is here for the summer.

Mrs. D. A. Unsworth, who spent part of the winter in Atlanta, Ga., returned home with her son this week.

Benj. V. Dolph, M. D., who went to Colorado for his health has, located there and enjoys a lucrative practice.

Hon. M. F. Coolbaugh of Monroe has been appointed presidential elector on the democratic ticket for the 26th district.

Mrs. Virginia F. McCarty, who has spent the winter at Ridgewood, N. J., with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Wharton, is at her home here again.

F. W. Cross, who has been for some time here searching titles for the Potter Company of Pittsburg, returned to the smoky city Monday.

The directors of the Independent School District let a contract last evening to E. S. Wolfe to build a chimney in the new school building. The price is $50.

The morning train arranged for the Delaware Division and Honesdale branch has been discontinued because of objections by the operating department of the Erie.

Mrs. Lena A. Talmage was in town this week on business connected with the estate of the late P. A. L. Quick. An advertisement of real estate will be found elsewhere.

Shad fishing here has commenced and some fine ones are being caught. Though they seem to be the same old breed, just as full of bones as ever, every spring when they appear on the table fresh and firm, the meat we imagine seems just a little sweeter than ever before. Of course that is all fancy, but a Delaware shad this time of year properly cooked touches just about the right spot gastronomically speaking.

Unclaimed Letters. Lost of unclaimed letters remaining in the post office at Milford for the week ending May 7, 1904: Peter Boguth, Luigi Decini, F. Gale.

HYMENEAL

A very pretty wedding took place at the German Lutheran parsonage in Port Jervis at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 1st, Rev. H. C. Wassund officiating, when Fred J. Huegle of Port Jervis and Miss Margaret A. Shepherd, also of that village, but formerly of Dingmans Ferry, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was beautiful and impressive and included the rite of the ring. The best man was Floyd Harding, and the bridesmaid was Miss Mariella Clark, both of Port Jervis. The bride was very charming in her traveling suit of gray camelhair cloth, trimmed with white broadcloth, gold braid and buttons and wore a white hat with plume. The bridesmaid was also very becomingly attired in a suit of brown broadcloth, with hat to match. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shepherd of Dingmans Ferry and is held in high esteem by a host of friends, wherever she is known. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huegle of No. 173 Pike street, Port Jervis, and is a highly respected and promising young business man of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Huegle started on 6:10 o'clock train for a tour to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City. On their return they will begin house keeping at No. 12 Canal street, Port Jervis the home already prepared by the thoughtful groom. The wedding was a very quiet affair on account of the recent serious illness of the bride's mother.

THE STATE'S POWER TO TAX

(Continued from First Page) on foreign held corporate bonds. This statute was presented to the Supreme Court of the United States for consideration and in 1872 that court decided that the statute was unconstitutional. This decision, resulting from Pennsylvania legislation has had a far reaching effect and is one of the greatest decisions of the 'highest court of our land concerning the subject of taxation and the place where property is taxable.

Under an act passed in 1891 and amended in 1895, Pennsylvania provided for the taxation of resident bondholders of private corporations, and made it the duty of the corporation to assess and collect the tax for the state. This statute has many times been upheld and construed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and may serve as a model for similar statutes to be enacted by other states of the Union.

From an examination of the laws passed by Pennsylvania and those of the different states it is apparent that no state has exhibited such alertness and has exercised its powers to such a searching extent in reference to taxation as Pennsylvania. This is indicative of progress in the administration of governmental functions and it shows that the law making power of Pennsylvania has kept pace with the many business inventions of the age, compelling them to contribute their just proportion to the support of the government which affords them protection in the carrying on of their business enterprises.

Prohibition Convention. The Prohibition voters and all friends of Prohibition are requested to meet in county convention at the Court House in Milford, Wednesday, May 11th, at 2:30 p. m. for the nomination of candidates, election of delegates to the state Prohibition convention at Uniontown, Pa., on June 8th, and other business. State Chairman Charles E. Jones will be with us. J. A. MYER, Secretary.

8 Cents

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.

We will send you a little free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS, 409 Pearl Street, New York. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them. They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rhium on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Mrs. I. O. Brown, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

HECTOR COMING

The Rev. J. H. Hector, the well known colored temperance orator will address the people of Milford at the M. E. church next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock. His wife and daughter and Madame, Abbie Lyons, all excellent singers, will be with him and the singing will be a drawing feature. All are welcome. A silver offering will be received.

DINGMAN'S FERRY.

Charles Person has commenced the meat business and killed his first beef several days ago.

Thomas Bennett of Bushkill, proprietor of the stage route between that place and Dingmans, desires to sell out. Being somewhat deaf interferes with his business and as many people during summer patronize the line he considers his inability an impediment.

John Schreiber, supervisor of the upper district will have his section gravelled before the roads are settled. Early working is an accommodation to the farmers.

The supervisor on Centre district has worked out nearly all the taxes and put the roads in much better condition than they have been in years. He employed boys but instead of paying them $1 a day he paid 25, 50 and 75 cents according to their deserts, and if they would not work for those wages they were sent home.

Mrs. Sinley has been canvassing the town with samples of wall paper and has done a good business.

Sarah Cortright and children are still camping out under the sky, their house having been burned last winter. Their abode is made of white pine branches without any covering. It is said they all can have plenty of work but are not willing to accept it.

John Brodhead has returned to his home in Nebraska.

About a dozen horses have been lost in this township recently. Some died because they were given a certain kind of feed, some because they were fed none and some from accidents, and about fifteen cows have died from similar causes.

Louis Chaiton will soon have his hotel at High Falls completed. Since he began making improvements the place has much benefited in appearance.

A Sunday school has been organized at Centre.

Henry Crone has severed his connection with the Howey saw mill.

G. W. Donaldson has been planting out maple trees. He sets them on a boulevard design, that is in double rows, leaving a path beside the main road.

John Raitt of Brooklyn has moved his family to his farm here.

George Jagger has been ill and his wife has been over to Newton to visit him.

The manufacturing plant and a large stock of lumber of Manhart & Sons of Greene township was burned last Sunday. The loss is several thousand dollars.

A Sure Thing

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMetter of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for cough, whooping cough, grip, pneumonia and consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by all druggists. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c, $1.00.
