PAUPACK

The house known as the "Sheridan homestead," owned by Mrs. Lester Hanna and occupied by a family by the name of Steele, was burned about noon Friday last. It caught from the chimney and altho soon discovered it was impossible to be extinguished. Very little of the contents were saved. We have not heard if the building was insured.

Miss Edith Pellett of Paterson was a guest of C. A. Pellett and family part of the past week.

A. E. Killam and daughter Ruth of Hawley spent Sunday with relatives here.

Anna Steinman returned to her home the 7th, after a short time spent with relatives at a distance.

B. F. Killam and daughter Frances and S. C. Steele visited at the home of Walter Vetterlein Sunday.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Clark Thursday.

GREENTOWN

Richard Wolf of this place died June 3d at the home of his son William, of apoplexy, aged about 79 years. Interment was made the 7th in the old Moravian cemetery at Newfoundland.

William Wolf has resigned his position as foreman for Lake Paupack Co. and his place is taken by Mr. Tile of Philadelphia.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. C. Lange, an invalid lady residing at Newfoundland, wandered away from home and was found at Greentown, about two miles from her home, at 10 o'clock that evening.

Jennie and Addie Wilson were guests at Vine Cottage last Sunday.

George Banks is seriously ill and Henry Manhart is among the sick.

License Transfer

Women Who Are Envyed

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at all druggists.

Squirrels Used for Stable Fur. Several secrets of the fur trade were revealed in the Lord Chief Justice's court in London at a hearing a remarkable claim by a man who was suing a firm which formerly employed him. It was testified that in Berlin there is an extensive industry which employs hundreds of men in turning to "sables" the skins of squirrels brought from Siberia and other parts of the Russian Empire.

A Gruesome Paperweight. On the writing-table of King Edward VII, in the palace of Sandringham, lies the mummified hand of an Egyptian princess who died three thousand or more years ago. It was presented to the king by a famous Egyptologist.

BOROUGH ORDINANCE NO. 50

Relating to imposing a license tax on the Milford Water Co., and Milford Gas Co. Be it enacted and ordained by the Town Council of the Borough of Milford in council assembled and it is hereby enacted and ordained by authority of said council as follows:

Section 1. That every Water Company, Artificial Gas Company or other Company mains and pipes within the Borough of Milford shall be inspected by the Police department of this borough at least once in every year that the same may be kept in safe and proper condition.

Section 2. That each mile of pipes or mains laid or maintained within the limits of said Borough shall be liable to an annual license fee as follows: of twenty-five dollars for each and every mile and a proportionate sum for every fraction of a mile on the pipes and mains of the Milford Water Company and an annual license fee of ten dollars for each and every mile and a proportionate sum for every fraction of a mile on the pipes and mains of the Milford Gas Company.

Section 3. That said license fee shall be paid to the Treasurer of said Borough on or before the first day of July of each and every year who shall issue his receipt, therefor showing the number of miles of pipes and mains for which the license is paid. The foregoing ordinance was on the fifth day of April 1909, ordained and enacted, adopted and passed by the Town Council of the Borough of Milford in council assembled as an ordinance of said Borough.

ALBERT J. RUDOLPH, President Town Council of the Borough of Milford.

E. H. McMURRAY, Secretary Town Council of the Borough of Milford.

The above ordinance was returned without action by the Chief Burgess for the reason that he was personally interested in both of above named companies.

CHIVALRY IN WYOMING.

A Rawlins Editor is a Red-Hot Advocate of Woman Suffrage.

We can't understand why a man—a full-grown male person—should object to women suffrage—if the woman wants it, says the Rawlins Republican. We are of the opinion that woman is entitled to just about anything her heart desires. If she wants to vote, for mercy's sake give her the ballot. If she wants to run for office the spectators should stand back and give her plenty of elbow room, and if necessary let her success in contests of this character let her costume be such as to interfere as little as possible with her progress. We are for women first and other things afterward. So is half the population numerically and seven-fifths of it intrinsically. In other words, she is the whole blooming work-a-pluse.

If she is happy the rest of us guys ought to be tickled to death. Therefore we say franchise her if it will please her, if it will make her smile, if it will give us common male mortals a glimpse into heaven through her sweetly curved lips; in the name of all that is good and holy, franchise her. Give her the ballot if it will improve her already lovely disposition. Give it to her, and give it to her quick. This world is too commonplace and life too dull and short to deny woman anything that might possibly enhance her many God-given graces.

Second Thought. A well-known Brooklyn physician was examining a class of nurses who had served their appointed time in the hospital. The candidates filed past him, and to each he addressed a question calculated to show the nurse's efficiency. In one of the questions he described the condition of a patient and asked the nurse how much morphine, in her opinion, should be administered to the sufferer.

"Eight grains," promptly replied the nurse. The doctor made no comment, and she passed on. When her turn came again she appeared confused, and said to the examiner: "Doctor, I wish to correct the answer I made last time. I meant to say that one-eighth of a grain should be given to the patient."

"Too late," remarked Dr. Matheon, without looking up from his question paper. "The man's dead."

Convincing Arguments. The lawyer for the plaintiff had finished his argument, and counsel for the defense stepped forward to speak, when the new judge interrupted him. His eyes were wide open, and filled with wonder and admiration for the plea of the plaintiff. "Defendant need not speak," he said. "Plaintiff wins."

How He Did It. Yes, our little four-year-old is such a comfort and such a help to me, said Mrs. Eastside to a lady caller. "Why, he can take care of his baby sister as well as any nurse. He is in the next room now playing with little Dorothy." (Raises her voice.) "Walter."

Britain's Lost Forests. Ever since the abolition of the wooden navy we have been a singularly supine people in the matter of tree planting while it would seem that we have never learned the lesson that the most solidly prosperous land in that which makes the utmost use of every acre.—English Estates Gazette.

The Law of Speculation. Big men are given to taking profits, while smaller men are laying a basis for profits that may or may not be shown. The law of the fishes in the sea applies in speculation. The big and the little fish have their respective missions, and the small ones are safe when the largest ones are not being.

John D. as Driver. His mother was telling eight-year-old Jack of John D. Rockefeller's success, and as he listened he said, "Yes, I know him." "No, I guess you don't know him," she replied; "you have only heard of him." "Why, yes, I do," he replied; "I have seen him a good many times when he goes by on his oil wagon."

Inoculated Their Dolls. Health Commissioner Patton visited a diphtheria patient the other day and encountered two bright little girls of four and five years respectively. He made friends with the tots, and before leaving as a precaution he gave each an injection of antitoxin. They were very inquisitive as to the meaning of all this, and finally Dr. Patton explained to them that without the antitoxin they would catch the disease. The next day when the doctor visited his patient the first thing he perceived upon entering the house was the two little girls sitting in the middle of the room taking turns in injecting antitoxin into their dolls' legs. "What are you doing that for?" asked the doctor, somewhat astonished. "Why, we is afraid dolly will catch diphtheria," replied one of the tots, and she straightway injected another dose of the precious fluid into the stuffed baby.

The Possibilities. A lady fell into a river. A boy on the bank dived in and succeeded in rescuing her. The lady's husband was effusive in his thanks, and presented the boy with a dollar! The bystanders showed their astonishment at his niggardliness. "Oh, don't blame the gentleman," said the boy. "Maybe, if I hadn't saved her, he'd have made it a five spot!"

Ninety Miles of Bookshelves. The new New York Public Library contains three hundred rooms, covers nine acres of space, one acre more than the Congressional Library at Washington, and has the largest reading-room in the world. A little matter of seven or eight millions is expected to be the cost price.

Her Ambition. "Why, if it ain't Lucy Simmonson!" exclaimed one Richmond negro not long ago, on encountering a friend in the street. "Wear on earth has yo' been?" "It's been workin' hard," was the answer.

A New Cure. A doctor whose practice lies mostly in the country districts was recently called to attend a playman's boy, whom he found to be suffering from whooping cough. Among his instructions he told the mother to "put some ice in a bag and tie it around the boy's head." Next day he called again and was met at the door by the girl-wife, who, in answer to his query, replied, "Aye, Jockie's a heap better the day, but the mice s'rv' a' d'ed."—Dundee Weekly News.
