PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION

FOR THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.

PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

SECTION TWO.—To Article Four.

Proposed amendments eight and twenty-one of article four, sections eleven and twelve of article five, sections seven and ten of article eight, section one of article twelve, and sections two and seven of article fourteen, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and providing for carrying the amendments into effect.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth, that the following are proposed amendments to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, to be held at the convention of the eighteenth article thereof.

Amendment One.—To Article Four, Section One.

Section 1. Amend section one of article four of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"He shall nominate and, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth; an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen in the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session; he shall have power to fill any vacancy that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a person to fill such vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to fill such office at the next general election, unless the vacancy shall happen within three calendar months immediately preceding such election, in which case the election shall be held on the second succeeding general election. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in conferring or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the Journal;"

He shall nominate and, with the advice and consent of two-thirds of all the members of the Senate, appoint a Secretary of the Commonwealth; an Attorney General during pleasure, a Superintendent of Public Instruction for four years, and such other officers of the Commonwealth as he is or may be authorized by the Constitution or by law to appoint; he shall have power to fill all vacancies that may happen, during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session, in the office of Auditor General, State Treasurer, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Superintendent of Public Instruction, in a judicial office, or in any other elective office which he is or may be authorized to fill; if the vacancy shall happen during the session of the Senate, the Governor shall nominate to the Senate, before their final adjournment, a person to fill such vacancy; but in any such case of vacancy, in an elective office, a person shall be chosen to fill such office at the next election day appropriate to such office, unless the vacancy shall happen within two calendar months immediately preceding such election day, in which case the election for said office shall be held on the second succeeding election day appropriate to such office. In acting on executive nominations the Senate shall sit with open doors, and, in conferring or rejecting the nominations of the Governor, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays, and shall be entered on the Journal.

Amendment Two.—To Article Four, Section One.

Section 2. Amend section one of article four, which reads as follows:

"The term of the Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be four years; of the Auditor General three years; and of the State Treasurer two years. These officers shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the State at general elections. No person elected to the office of Auditor General or State Treasurer shall be capable of holding the same office for two consecutive terms."

Amendment Three.—To Article Five, Section Five.

Section 5. Amend section five of article five, which reads as follows:

"Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs and townships at the election of the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for the term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, but more than one alderman shall be elected in each ward or district, so as to read:

Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, justices of the peace or aldermen shall be elected in the several wards, districts, boroughs or townships, by the qualified electors thereof, at the election of the qualified electors thereof, in such manner as shall be directed by law, and shall be commissioned by the Governor for the term of five years. No township, ward, district or borough shall elect more than two justices of the peace or aldermen without the consent of a majority of the qualified electors within such township, ward or borough; no person shall be elected to such office unless he shall have resided within the township, borough, ward or district for one year next preceding his election. In cities containing over fifty thousand inhabitants, but more than one alderman shall be elected in such ward or district.

Amendment Four.—To Article Five, Section Twelve.

Section 12. Amend section twelve of article five of the Constitution, which reads as follows:

"In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of justice and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years, and they shall be elected by general election by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county, and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as hereinafter provided, and is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction, as may be made by law. In Philadelphia the office of alderman is abolished." so as to read as follows:

In Philadelphia there shall be established, for each thirty thousand inhabitants, one court, not of record, of justice and civil causes, with jurisdiction not exceeding one hundred dollars; such courts shall be held by magistrates whose term of office shall be five years, and they shall be elected by general election by the qualified voters at large; and in the election of the said magistrates no voter shall vote for more than two-thirds of the number of persons to be chosen; they shall be compensated only by fixed salaries, to be paid by said county, and shall exercise such jurisdiction, civil and criminal, except as hereinafter provided, and is now exercised by aldermen, subject to such changes, not involving an increase of civil jurisdiction, as may be made by law. SQUALS AND MEALS.

Intimate Connection Between These Two Events in a Baby's Life.

The idea that babies squall by nature, as a matter of habit or out of pure cussedness, is both a delusion and a base slander on the baby, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson. Whenever a baby squalls, he says, it is some grow-up's fault. A farmer who would bear his cherished hogs squealing in their fattening pens would promptly "call down" the hired man whose duty it was to feed them. A baby does not want very much at a time, but he does like it regular. And when you have once, by a little careful observation, "struck his gait" as to amount and frequency—about two ounces every two hours is a fair average to begin with—then his little life will be one peaceful sequence of eating and sleeping, sleeping and eating, but all the time growing, with a little fuss or disturbance as a tulip makes when it is pushing up its green pencil through the brown earth.

The regularity recommended should be the baby's kind of regularity, not that of the grow-up who have him "charge" the doctor explains further.

"He is no railroad train that reaches an eating station on schedule time, and every two hours. They did not know anything about clocks when he came from. But he has a natural self-acting dinner gong in his little interior which serves his purposes excellently and will rise to the potency of a foghorn or fire alarm if you do not pay attention to it promptly. His idea of regularity is a nicely balanced rhythm of sleeping till he is hungry and then feeding till he is sleepy, with a fine disregard for the hands of the clock and even for the difference between day and night. As his food box is limited in size, and the degree of concentration of the fuel administered does not vary much, it will take him just about so long to burn up each charge, so that he will tap the gong at pretty regular intervals. But there will be nothing machine-like or suburban-time-table-like about this regularity. If he should awake fifteen minutes before the sacred hour and show by unmistakable minor signs that he is ready for business, feed him at once. He should never be allowed to go to the length of crying. The cry is a signal of distress, and a baby that cries much has been unlucky in its parents or its nurse. The idea that babies cry just to expand their lungs or to develop their voices in a nurse's tale. A child that never cries is as healthy and as happy as a nation that has no history."

Consumption and the Telephone.

The panic recently created on the subject of the assumed danger lurking in the transmitter of the telephone is not precisely new. It is but the development of a fear which has caused misgiving for some years. On the supposition that various germs of disease probably collect in the receiver and transmitter of the instrument, at any rate in public telephone stations, some medical alarmists have thrown out suggestions that antiseptics, both in a dry state and in solution, should be applied for the safety of the telephone user. The recent dictum goes one step further, inasmuch as it now has established fact that tubercle bacilli, the causal micro-organisms of consumption, have been found alive and in robust condition—in the instrument. It is quite natural, in view of such a find, that a feeling of alarm might seize hold of the more nervous. — British Medical Journal.

His Idea of Bonanza.

A certain man had a disastrous experience in gold mine speculation. One day a number of colleagues were discussing the subject of speculation, when one of them said to this speculator:

"Old chap, as an expert, give us a definition of the term 'bonanza.'"

"A 'bonanza,'" replied the experienced man, with emphasis, "is a hole in the ground owned by a 'samson.'"

Grass of Great Strength.

A steel-like grass which grows on the volcanic slopes of Orau, Algeria, is so elastic and strong that it can be used instead of springs in the manufacture of furniture.
