THE TYRANT AND THE SLAVE.

You have fettered me but I was born
As free as you, though I'm your slave,
Your price for my freedom I soon,
My sweet I'll take to my grave.
So fast you tread on you will,
I'll not betray my sacred trust,
I've pledged my honor and shall fulfill
My promise, yes I shall and must.
My gaping wounds have not yet healed,
And the blood you made so freely flow
Canned me not one jot to yield;
You may take my life, my honor, no!
So coward I defy your power,
And though stung with pain I shriek
Under your blows to my dying hour
The pledge I gave, I shall not break.
The tyrant white with rage renewed
With doleful vigor blow on blow,
The old man fell; The tyrant viewed
His prostrate form and then let go
The lash. Death kept his secret bound
But it revealed a greater one,
One his lifeless form was found
A baby's picture—His Tyrant Son!

Political Card

To the Democratic Voters of Pike County:
I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination for STATE SENATOR at the Primary Election to be held on Saturday June 4th and respectfully solicit your support.
HARVEY HUFFMAN.
Stroudsburg, Pa., Apr. 27, 1910.

Candidates Card.

To the voters of Pike County:
Upon the urgent request of voters of both parties, I announce my candidacy for the nomination, to the office of REPRESENTATIVE IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.
If nominated and elected, I will do all I can for Pike County.
ALFRED MARVIN
Matamoras, Pa., May 2, 1910.

Candidate's Card

To the Democratic Voters of the Fourteenth Senatorial District of Pennsylvania:

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Senator from the Fourteenth Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Carbon, Monroe, Wayne and Pike, at the election to nominate a candidate for the said office to be held on Saturday June 4th, A. D. 1910.

Wayne and Pike counties having no candidates to present to the voters of this district, all question as to the right of Monroe county to this nomination would seem to have been eliminated.

The late Senator, Hon. David S. Lee, of Monroe county, whose term extended from 1899 to 1903, inclusive was succeeded by Hon. J. G. Zern of Carbon county, whose term extended from 1903 to 1906, inclusive; and the latter was succeeded by Hon. G. Frank Rowland of Pike county, whose unexpired term was filled by his brother, Hon. Miles C. Rowland, the full term extending from 1907 to 1910, inclusive.

It would seem, therefore, that, with no candidates and no claims upon the part of Wayne and Pike counties, and Carbon county having been represented since Monroe, in accordance not only with the old rule of rotation, but also from the standpoint of right, of justice and of fair play, there is now no room for any question or any discussion as to the right and claim of Monroe county to the nomination referred to.

As a member of the Democratic party of Monroe county, therefore, believing under the law and the precedents of the party it is my right to submit my candidacy to the fair and impartial consideration of the voters of this district, I announce myself as a candidate for the office above mentioned; hereby pledging myself, in the event of my nomination and election, to devote my time and attention and the very best service of which I am capable, to the promotion of the interests and the welfare of all the people of the counties composing this Senatorial District.

Very sincerely yours,
ROGERS L. BURNETT.
Stroudsburg, Pa., May 9th, 1910.

GOLD AND SILVER WORKERS.

The Two Divisions of Panama Employees Thus Designated.

A novel system of classification of employees is followed in the Panama Canal Zone. The men are rated in two divisions known as the gold and the silver divisions.

The gold employees, according to the Hookkeeper, are the engineers, clerks, bookkeepers, auditors, and all except the mechanics and ordinary laborers who are classed as silver men. There are 4,165 of the gold men and 22,222 of the silver men.

The latter are again classified into American, European and West Indian laborers. Of the total number over 10,000 are from the West Indies and the old country. The gold men are so named because they are paid in United States currency, while the silver men are paid in Panama currency, which has only a local circulation.

Work in Intense Heat.

"Persons who complain of the heat when the thermometer reaches the nineties," said a steamship engineer, "seldom think of the discomfort of men employed in gas works, in blast furnaces and in steamships where the firemen have to endure an atmosphere ranging from 118 to 140 degrees. In all these and many other places where big boilers are located the men wear their little clothing, and while they undoubtedly suffer from the exposure, they do not feel the heat as much as might be supposed. The explanation of this fact is that these men are not reached by the humidity. They are working in places where the artificial heat is so intense as to drive out the humidity, and 118 or more degrees of heat in a pure, dry air is not felt as much as a mixture of 90 degrees of heat and 90 per cent. of humidity, that tells on people and sorely tries their vitality."

Titanium in a Star.

At the May meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society in London, Prof. Alfred Fowler described his comparison of the spectrum of the wonderful variable star, Mira, or Omicron Ceti, with that of titanium metal. He finds that the two spectra are, for the greater part, identical. Especially the curious bands seen in the spectrum of Mira are shown to be due to titanium oxide. Professor Fowler also finds evidence of the presence of vanadium in the same star. The lines of titanium and vanadium have likewise been discovered in the light of sun-spots, leading the astronomer, Father Corio, to remark that sun-spots and the star Mira are evidently very closely connected in physical condition. Many readers will doubtless be particularly interested in this discovery because of the reputation of titanium and vanadium for their extraordinary usefulness in unexpected ways.

Earthquakes and Weather.

A writer in Nature calls attention to the peculiar weather which accompanied and followed the great Sicilian earthquake. The sudden fog which settled upon the Strait of Messina was paralleled by a heavy mist accompanying the Mexican earthquake of January, 1897, and the writer adds that rainfall is so frequently reported as the immediate successor of an earthquake that "we can no longer reject the hypothesis of a real connection between the two." Professor Milne has suggested that the disturbance of the ground when transmitted to the overlying air may determine precipitation, thus explaining the apparent association of severe earthquakes with mist and rain.

THE BELLS OF THE BASTILLE.

Still in Existence in a Private House in Paris.

Comparatively few persons have ever heard of the bells of the Bastille, yet they are still in existence. After the destruction of the prison, says the Gentlewoman, they found their way to the great foundry in Romilly, but the manager of the works disobeyed the orders he received and did not destroy them.

Now they are back in Paris, in a private house in the Avenue d'Eylah. On each bell is engraved, "Made by Louis Cheron for the Royal Bastille, in the year 1761," and they are further ornamented with the royal arms and a huge cross.

Adviser "Back to the Land."

There is just one way for the people of the city to find it possible to buy eggs, chickens, meat and flour for less money—that is for some of them to leave the city and go back to raising more hens, more cattle, and growing more wheat. The fact is that the country is getting top-heavy. The cities are calling too heavily on the producing areas. Farming is getting to be one of the most profitable businesses in the country, because the proportion of non-producers is getting so large. It is all a matter of supply and demand: just now the demand for foodstuffs is larger than it has ever been in proportion to the supply.—Denver Republican.

Before and After.

Colonel Peterby met his colored gardener, Jim Webster. Jim had been recently married.

"How do you like matrimony?" asked Colonel Peterby.

Jim shook his head dubiously.
"What's the matter?"
"I've seen, boss, before we were married, when I knocked at de door she used ter say: 'Am dat you, honey-suckle?' Now when I come home she hawls out: 'Cless off dem boots before you comes in dat door, you black snake!'"

Editorial Encouragement.

"Is your daughter meeting with success in her writing?" asked the visitor.
"Yes, indeed," replied the fond mother. "She hasn't sold anything yet, but some of the best known magazines have actually taken the pains to have slips printed, thanking her for submitting her stories, declaring they have been read with great interest and assuring her that their return is not simply lack of merit."

NOT THAT KIND.

The Man from Montana Resented the Waiter's Suggestion.

Senator Dewey recently brought this from Europe:
"In the smoke room of the ship I heard an interesting thing about a Montanan in Chester. Chester, you know, is walled. Its wide walls on which you could drive a horse, are famous. You can circle the town on them."

"But the Montanan knew nothing about Chester. He had only arrived in Liverpool that afternoon. As soon as he finished his quiet dinner he said to the waiter in the quiet Chester inn:

"What is the best way for me to amuse myself here for an hour or two before bedtime?"
"Well, sir," said the waiter, "it's a fine evening, the moon is full, and I think you'd find a stroll on the walls most enjoyable."

"What do you take me for? A tomato!"

A Modern Diogenes.

Ethel, aged 6, had gone down the village street with her new doll. It could be plainly seen that she was in dire distress. She stood still, and after a close scrutiny of several men who passed, she accosted one.

"Say, are you an honest man?" she demanded.
"Why, yes, I think so," was the astonished reply.
"Well, then, if you're sure you're an honest man," said the little maid, "please hold my dolly while I tie my shoe."

Tree-Culture in English Schools.

In an effort to stimulate the local fruit industry in the county of Suffolk, England, the East Suffolk Education Committee has instituted a system of establishing apple-tree nurseries in connection with the customary school gardens. A competent instructor has been engaged to visit the different schools, and many of the children are now an expert in the art of grafting and budding as a veteran horticulturist.

Only a nominal price is charged for these apple trees, and the villagers immediately recognized the opportunity that awaited them and have been eager to purchase the entire supply. A number of orchards have been established, and in a single town more than five hundred of these trees have been transplanted.
Canon Abby, the head of the progressive and successful Framingham Agricultural Co-operative Society, is enthusiastic over the efforts made to restore to prominence the fruit industry and is superintending the work. Nearly three thousand of the young trees are now in stock, and a thousand more are to be produced this year.
