REACHING THE TOP in any calling of life does not mean a vigorous body and a healthy mind. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, pancreas and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After months of suffering from Kidney Trouble," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c at all druggists.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE TENER, eleven days after the published accusations against him, has made answer. He admits that in December last year he was asked to become president of the National utilities corporation, and was elected January 1, 1910. He says he was informed the company had been incorporated according to law, was properly organized and could legitimately carry on the business of building a railroad in Oregon and mentions the names of several reputable men who were directors in the concern. He served as president during a quarter of a year. His resignation as president is recorded May 3, 1910 but he remained a director until Sept. 22. He denies having stock in the corporation and refused to buy any. He says he believed the objects of the company to be legitimate, and still believes they could be carried out. Says he never promoted the corporation, was not a participant in its promotion, never sold any of its stock, or solicited any one to buy any and if it is proven by any one who purchased stock, that he did so relying on his name as president or on his name being used in connection with the company, he will take the stock and pay back exactly what was paid for it in cash. Says he had nothing to do with, or knowledge of the taking over of other or subsidiary companies or enterprises, but believe if done it was properly and legally done. Now if he etc. and does show that the company had a fair financial basis and was found after careful investigation to be worthy of public confidence and a reasonably safe investment he will have answered the charges against him. A man may be mistaken in his judgment and deceived as to facts, and if Mr. Tener made due enquiry as to the good faith and safe basis of the company and as a business man found both satisfactory and such as he could recommend then he should be fairly exonerated from any attempt to deceive. But in view of all the allegations against him with respect to his knowledge of and connection with this company he should satisfy all of his entire good faith.

NOTES FROM SANDYSTON

Rumor is correct for once that a wedding will take place near Bevans on the 26th inst.

The contracting parties are George Armstrong of Montague, and Miss Lydia Kyte of Bevans.

Patients in the Asylum for the Insane at Morris Plains are supposed to pay for their care if they have any means. There are parties in that institution whose relatives should be made to pay for their care.

Some city people must have a great taste for partridge and woodcock when country stores are paying $1.25 for the former and 70 cents for the latter.

What must be their cost when served up at the Waldorf or Netherland.

O. J. Little and his men are at work upon the abutments for the iron bridge just south of Bevans. An astrologer should be consulted to know when the bridge will be placed on those abutments, not this year anyway.

I am glad to announce that the end of the Tuttle's Corner—Layton in sight, for the men are working on the last piece of the road, and this week will see the rough grading finished on that.

One thing for which the public is thankful, is that the road has been fairly passable ever since the work began.

The school meeting on Saturday evening could not count a quorum, hence no business was done.

Some of the patrons of the school wanted to oust the teacher, and when the teacher took the school she was to teach one school when another school was consolidated with her school, and no means of transporting was made. It is a shameful mixup as it stands, with patrons upbraid their children.

The dry weather is being more severely felt, especially on the ridge and along the river. Several farmers are compelled to drive their stock long distances for water, and also haul all water for family use. Springs that were never known to go dry are dry now.

Our School grounds have a neat flag and pole, the flag to be displayed when the school is in session, but occasionally one is allowed to float from one week end to another.

TO THE PUBLIC We, the undersigned merchants of Milford, do hereby mutually agree to close our places of business at 6 o'clock in the evening from Nov. 1st to Apr. 1st, excepting Saturday evenings and Holiday weeks.

The change in custom seems to warrant this action on our part. We hope our friends and customers will look with favor on this, granting us more time for rest and recreation.

HYMENEAL

ANGLE-DISHMAN

Walter Dingman of Milford and Eva, daughter of Irving Angle and wife of Delaware township were married Wednesday at Stroudsburg. At last accounts they were in Easton on their honeymoon. Both are worthy young people and all wish them a happy and successful voyage over the sea on which their barque is launched.

CASE-MAISH

W. F. Marsh of Honesdale and Elizabeth, a daughter of Ezra A. Case and wife of Welcome Lake this county were married at the home of the bride Oct. 19th.

OWNER-VAN TASSEL

Grace G., daughter of J. S. Owner of Dingman township and W. J. Van Tassel of Milford were married Wednesday by Rev. C. A. White. Only immediate relatives were present. A reception was held in the evening and they will occupy a house on Harford Street.

ALFRED MARVIN, of Malamoras, Republican Candidate for Representative in Pike Co., Pa.

TO THE VOTERS OF PIKE COUNTY:

If elected to the Legislature as your Representative this fall, I have in mind and plan laid for the drafting of a law asking the state to establish a State Agricultural Farm in the upper end of Pike County, at a point accessible to Wayne and Monroe Counties.

I have gone into the matter at some length with representatives of the State Agricultural Department, as well as others, and I am assured that such a plan is feasible and I believe such a plan could be successfully carried out.

If elected I would draft and introduce such a law, asking the state Legislature to appropriate from the State funds an amount of money sufficient to purchase a suitable tract of land; to properly equip it with buildings, machinery and stock, and to employ a corps of men trained under the Department of Agriculture to operate the same, so that residents of this as of the adjoining counties could see the results of scientific farming and dairying, attend the lectures and demonstrations given there and receive instruction and advice free of charge.

I believe that the State of Pennsylvania, having within its borders, millions of dollars invested in the best farming lands in the world, should endeavor to give her farmers all it can and in no way could the state do more for Pike County than to establish such a farm under the direction of its agricultural department, operated by skilled men, paid for by the state and given free to all those desiring to be benefited.

Such a farm would, in my opinion, be worth thousands of dollars annually to Pike County and show those interested the best and most modern methods of general farming, raising of fruits, vegetables, breeding of animals and fowls, and dairying etc., and I pledge myself if elected, to undertake to secure such an experimental farm for the upper end of Pike County.

I would endeavor to press to a finish the Free Bridge movement, which has never progressed to so near a solution as now, and I have every reason to believe that its passage could be secured.

If this Free Bridge question is not now disposed of favorably, it will take years to get our sister states to again cooperate in the movement and the efforts of the past will have gone for nothing.

As chairman of the Delaware River Free Bridge Commission, to which commission I was appointed by Governor Stuart, I pledge myself to submit to the legislature a favorable report recommending the purchase of all toll bridges across the Delaware and making them free of tolls for all time and if elected I pledge myself to draft and introduce a law asking the Legislature for an amount of money to buy her half of these bridges.

If re-elected, I would recommend that our Fish and Game Laws be simplified and made less ambiguous, so that by a casual reading one might know what he could or could not do.

If re-elected, I would work, in harmony with and favorably for, any movement towards the betterment of our roads, knowing that good roads mean easy hauls, personal comfort and the upbuilding of the community.

If re-elected, I would re-introduce the bill asking the Legislature for an appropriation to the State Highway Department to experiment with Marcellus Shale on the road leading from Bushkill to Malamoras, along which for nearly 25 miles there are thousands of acres of the finest natural road material and in said bill would ask the state to take charge of the entire 25 miles in her experiments.

Last Session in the general good road agitation it was suggested to build state roads connecting the various county seats; I would heartily concur in this movement, for I believe then we would have laid a foundation for permanent good roads as it is, we have a mile here and a mile there, and in the end there is no tangible plan.

I would interest myself especially in the adoption of a School Code.

For some years I was an examiner under the New York State Regents and am familiar with its code, and I am satisfied that by the adoption of the code the chaotic condition of our school laws would disappear. Then, too, the bringing together under one head of the many acts relating to educational matters and the doing away with the many intricacies would simplify our school system, and the work incident thereto would be simplified and more wisely executed.

Pike County in 1906 received from the state for her schools, $9,088.66; in 1908, $13,857.00; and in 1909, $14,019.98.

If elected I would reintroduce the Lockawaxen Dike Bill and endeavor to secure its passage, believing that the homes and inhabitants there should be protected.

I would work for which the people of Pike County desired me, irrespective of my personal feeling, realizing that I was their representative and there to carry out their wishes and not my own.

As a resident, a tax payer and interested in Pike County I would be continually on the alert for anything that would have a tendency to improve the county or the condition of its inhabitants.

I have made ante-election promises before, and in each instance I have endeavored to fulfill such promises in so far as was successful, in others I failed, but I made the effort to carry out every promise made, and will do so now.

Confidence, in a little over a week you will again cast your ballot, electing a man to represent you at Harrisburg.

I have done something for Pike County and can do more. It is "up to you" to say whether you want me to make the effort to carry out these things for you.

Very truly yours,
ALFRED MARVIN.

Col. Good Shot.

Col. J. Lewis Good of Philadelphia was shot in the knee Monday while hunting near Silver Lake by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was alone at the time some distance from the nearest member of his party and it was an hour before he was discovered. He was taken to Stroudsburg in the Conashaugh Spring House automobile and the train to Philadelphia was held an hour and fifteen minutes awaiting him.

He is commander of the Second Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. It is reported his leg will have to be amputated.

DIRECTORS' CONVENTION.

The Eighth Annual Convention of the School Directors met at the Court House Monday and was presided over by G. W. Bull Esq. President, with First Vice President Gen. A. Kneeling and Second Vice President W. J. Kessler assisting. The other officers were Secretary Walter Vetterlein, Treasurer Jas. P. Van Eiten. It being a joint meeting the teachers elected as officers 1st Vice President P. F. Chamberlain, 2nd C. H. Wildrick, Secretary Hattie Bradford, Assistant Julia Compton and Treasurer Helen Rowland.

Several teachers read carefully prepared papers which showed ability in the presentation of their subjects in composition, and that in evolving their ideas, C. H. Wildrick principal of Milford High School had for his subject School Supervision. Miss Sara Ramey treated the topic of Education Received in Common Schools in a clean and excellent manner. Miss Helen Rowland on the subject of Grading our Rural Schools and incidentally some ideas as to sanitation and conduct of schools, provided herself a close student of these most interesting phases of management. Miss Bertha Kiser on the Real and the Ideal drew a poetical picture contrasting the two, and Miss Nellie Brasfield was both entertaining and instructive on the subject The Good Health Movement in the Public Schools.

The proposed new school code being of interest both to teachers and directors J. H. Van Eiten gave an outline of its provisions, called attention to its salient points and pointed out wherein it differs from the present law.

In the evening Miss Alicia M. Zierden from the Department at Harrisburg gave an illustrated lecture. Many views were thrown on the screen showing how all branches of study may be taught in a more effective manner by means of them. Many and diversified subjects were shown, and the state will furnish free to any school slides exhibiting scenes in all branches desired.

Tuesday morning after opening exercises and an address by Rev. C. A. White Prof. Charles H. Albert made an address on the topic Education and Environment, replete with advice, instruction and suggestion, both to teachers and directors.

It was agreed that the next meeting of directors and teachers be joint.

On motion J. H. Van Eiten was elected delegate to the state convention of Directors to be held in Harrisburg and that the convention defray his expenses.

Officers were then selected for the ensuing year. President E. B. Labar and all former officers reelected.

The auditors report signed by Julius W. Kiesel and G. E. Swartzwood showed a balance in treasurers hands of $37.12. The following resolutions were then adopted:

The Pike County Directors' Association, in annual convention assembled for the consideration of conditions and problems pertaining to the improvement of schools in the county in order to further the attainment of this purpose, deem it fitting to record the opinions and recommend the conclusions of this association. Therefore, be it resolved.

That we favor the enactment into law of the proposed new School Code with provisions made therein for the continued payment of the State Appropriation for such schools as may be closed because of small attendance, providing this is applied on the transportation of pupils of such schools.

That we note with pleasure that two districts have added an extra month to their school year and we hope that by another year we will find all the districts with a larger school term.

That our thanks are herewith extended to the officers of our association for their efforts in making up and carrying out so successfully the program of our sessions, and to those of our members who have taken part in this program.

That we tender our thanks to Prof. Charles H. Albert and to the teachers for their valuable contributions to the success of our annual meeting.

That our acknowledgements are also due to the commissioners for the use of the court house.

Tuesday morning was partly occupied by Dr. Smith of Bucknell on the topic, The Function of Expression in Education. Expression will test the education and that in what the teacher should obtain from the pupil.

In the afternoon Dr. Albert talked on A Negative View of Geography, the largest subject in the world for it includes all. A Standard of Good Reading was discussed by Dr. Smith.

In the evening Dr. Smith lectured on Julius Caesar. The music was furnished on the piano and violin by Miss Cumiffe of Port Jervis.

Wednesday morning's session was opened with devotional exercises conducted by Rev. McKie and during the morning Dr. Smith and Prof. Albert occupied the attention of the teachers.

In the afternoon Dr. Smith entertained with a description as to the interpreting of standard literature, and in the evening his recital, Literary Interpretations was a rare treat.

Prof. Albert and Dr. Smith occupied the morning and afternoon of Thursday with instructive addresses, and in the evening Dr. Albert made a stirring address on "Our Country's Call for Men."

FORCED TO LEAVE HOME

Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson of Calumet, Ark., "when all others failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup—all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

THE STORM

Dedicated to Mrs. George E. McMullen.

High winds, dust clouds and darkening sky,
Bending branches, crows low flying,
Windsfalls dropping from the trees,
Thousands in the orchards lying,
Fluttering leaves all scattered round,
Too soon doomed to fall and wither,
Cattle huddle side by side,
As though to shelter one another.

Lightning far away is flashing,
Distant thunder's rumbling's heard,
Inky nebulae now thickened,
The troubling heavens all are stirred,
Nearer and more blinding lightning,
Creaking thunder, Rain drops fall
Thick and fast and without mercy,
Drenching earth, man, beasts and all.

Pouring, dashing torrents meeting,
Overflowing onward go
Turgid streams swell, and in fury
Flood the leas and fells below,
The Storm King rules supreme and mighty.

For now an hour he's held his sway,
He o'er commands the founts of heaven
To close, and swiftly rides away,
Behold! The eastern sky is brightening.

The air is fresh, the flowers rejoice
And shake their caps and bells with gladness,
Inviting nature with one voice
To sing the praise of God Almighty,
The melody is heard above;
The rainbow spans the arch of heaven.

The storm is over, and "God is love."
