

The Child's Grave.

It is a place where tender thought Its voiceless vigil keepeth: It is a place where kneeling love Mid all its hope, still weepeth: The vanished light of a life That tiny spot encloseth, Where followed by a thousand dreams, The little one repositeth.

It is a place where thankfulness Its tearful tribute giveth, That one so pure hath left a world Where so much sorrow liveth: Where trial to the heavy heart Its constant cross presenteth, And every hour some trace remains, For which the soul repenteth.

It is a place for Hope to rise When other brightness waneeth: And from the darkness of the grave To learn the gift it gaineth From him, who wept as on the earth Undying love still weepeth; From Him, who spoke those blessed words— "She is not dead, but sleepeth!"

A Flower.

There's not a hothouse, however rude, But hath some little flower, To brighten up its splitude, And scent the evening hour.

There's not a heart, however cast By grief and sorrow down, But hath some memory of the past, To love and call its own.

MATRIMONIAL ADVENTURE.—A remarkable story, vouched for as true, is told in a Glasgow paper:

The Adolph Theatre in that city was open and the pleasant play of "The Battle of Sedgemoor" was in course of performance. A favorite actress, Mrs. De Bourgh, was upon the stage supporting one of the characters, when a tall military man, in one of the stage boxes, gazed wildly about him, and starting up from his seat loudly exclaimed: "My wife, by Heaven, my Eliza!"

Of course astonishment ensued, and an explanation took place, which resulted in the discovery that the gentleman was a Lieut. Lewis, and that he was in truth the lady's husband. He had been on foreign service for many years, and was now accompanied by the lady's son, a fine fellow of two and twenty. Each believed the other dead, and the lady had married a Mr. De Bourgh, who had been dead about eighteen months. Soon after this a most agreeable denouement took place, for the united and happy pair availed themselves again of the benefit of clergy, and no objections being made by the church or State, these two persons, whom the fortunes of war had put asunder, were re-married, in the presence of a large body of rejoicing friends.

GOOD ADVICE.—Dow, Jr., in his sermon of last week, gives the following very excellent advice to the young ladies of this flock: "The bawny, bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked, full-breasted, bouncing lass—who can darn a stocking, mend trousers, make her own frocks, command a regiment of pots and kettles, feed the pigs, chop wood, milk cows, wrestle with the boys, and be a lady without a company," is just the sort of a girl for any worthy man to marry—but you, ye pinning, moping, lolling, screwed-up, never-waisted, putty-faced, consumption-moragaged, music-murdering, novel-devouring daughters of Fashion and Idleness—you are no more fit for matrimony than a pullet is to look after a family of fourteen chickens.

The truth is, my dear girls, you want, generally speaking, more liberty and less fashionable restraints—more kitchen and less parlor—more leg exercise and less sofa—more pudding and less piano—more frankness and less modesty—more breakfast and less bustle—Loosen yourselves a little; enjoy more liberty, and less restraint by fashion—breathe the pure atmosphere of freedom, and become something nearly as lovely and beautiful as the God of nature designed.

A young lady having entered a dry goods store, politely requested to be shown a certain article. An impatient clerk in a rough manner obeyed her wishes.

"What is the price?" asked she.

"Three dollars," was the unceremonious reply.

"Three dollars!" exclaimed the maiden in surprise. "How very high your prices are!"

"They're cheap enough, if you'll only imagine so," was the nutty reply.

"Well, you may wrap it up for me, and I will take it," said the lady.

The article was accordingly packed, and taking it in her hands, she was leaving the store. But the alarmed clerk, running after her exclaimed, "Madam, you have not paid me!" "O! yes, I have, if you'll only imagine so!" she archely replied.

EXPECTED RETURN OF THE COMET OF 1556.—As long since as 1751, Mr. Richard Dunbar, of Cambridge, of commencing the elements of the comet of 1556, that he was led to the conclusion that the two were identical, and that its return might be expected about 1848. Subsequent investigations which have been made by different astronomers, confirm this conclusion; and there is, therefore, good reason to look for the re-appearance of the comet during the year 1848, although it would not be surprising if this event should happen even a year earlier or later than the date.—Silliman's Journal, May.

The following incident is related of Mr. Jefferson, when he was sent as Minister to France. On being presented at Court, some eminent functionary remarked to him: "You replace Dr. Franklin, do you?" "I succeed Dr. Franklin," was Jefferson's prompt reply; "no man can replace him."

Amecote.

The Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Old Hadly, Mass., exchanged a short time ago, with one of the ministers in the neighborhood, and his horse broke loose during the night, and was missing on Sunday morning, which occasioned some little excitement in the quiet New England village. When the clergyman uttered his text in the morning, which was, "Oh! that I knew where I might find him!" (Job, 23, v. 3) a little fellow jumped up and cried out, "I can tell you, sir—he's in Deacon Little's barn, I saw him there not more than an hour ago!" The clergyman had to sit down a few moments before he could proceed.

YANKEE BOARDING.—What do you charge for board? asked a tall Green Mountain boy, as he walked up to the bar of a second rate hotel in New York.—What do ask a week for board and lodgings? "Five dollars." "Five dollars! That's too much; but I suppose you'll allow for the times I am absent from dinner and supper?" "Certainly—thirty-seven and a half cents for each meal!"

Here the conversation ended, and the Yankee took up his quarters for two weeks. During this time he lodged and breakfasted at the hotel, but did not take either dinner or supper, saying his business detained him in another portion of the town.

At the expiration of two weeks he again went up to the bar, and said— "S'pose we settle that account—I'm going in a few minutes."

The landlord handed his bill.

"Two week's board at $5—$10."

"Hero stranger," said the Yankee, "this is wrong."

"How so, sir?"

"You've made a mistake!—you've not deducted the times I was absent from dinner and supper—14 days 2 meals per day—28 meals at 37 1/2 cents each—10 50. If you've not got the fifty cents change that's due me, I'll take a drink and the balance in silver."

News-Boy Wrt.—A gentleman crossing one of our city ferries the other day was accosted by one of those precipitate vendors, who are to be found in shoals about all our public places, with "Buy Bulwer's last work, sir? only two shillings!" The gentleman, willing to have a laugh with the urchin, said, "Why, I am Bulwer, myself!" Off went the lad, and whispering to another, at a little distance, excited his wonderment at the information he had to impart. Eying the pretended author of "Pelham" with a kind of awe, he approached him timidly, and holding out a pamphlet, said modestly, "Buy the 'Woman of England,' sir? You are not Mrs. Ellis?" Of course the proposed sale was effected.—N. Y. Times.

The wise man has his follies, no less than a fool; but it has been said that here lies the difference—the follies of the fool are known to the world, but are hidden from himself; the follies of the wise are known to himself, but hidden from the world. A harmless hilarity, and a buoyant and cheerful-ness are not uncommon concomitants of genius and we are never more deceived, than when we mistake gravity, for greatness, solemnity for science, and pomposity for erudition.

"Where did you come from?" said Wilker to a beggar in the Isle of Wight. "From the devil." "What is going on there?" "Much the same as here."

"What's that?"

"The rich taken in, and the poor kept out."

An obstreperous husband, convicted of beating his wife, upon being admonished by the judge that the wife was the weaker vessel, replied—"Then if she is the weaker vessel, she mustn't carry so much sail."

KEEP AWAKE.—A sleepy deacon, who sometimes engaged in popular games, hearing the minister use the words "shuffle off this mortal coil" started up, rubbed his eyes, and exclaimed, "hold on—it's my deal!"

"Do you want a work on practical speaking, sir?"

"No of course not. I am a married man, and have plenty of that at home."

A Western editor wishes to know whether the laws recently enacted against the carrying of deadly weapons apply to doctors who carry pills in their pockets.

An Irishman, hearing that Mexico was about to treat, exclaimed,—"Boys, Mexico is a goin' to treat! Be jabbers, I'm glad of it! I've been waiting a drop this many a day!"

"You look rather flat," as the tea-kettle said to the pancake.

"I would take that as an insult," said the pancake, "if you had not been steaming it."

A French paper mentions an ouing out high from Sumatra, which has attained so high a degree of civilization as to refuse to sleep without a night cap!

There is a volume contained in the words of Shakespeare where he says, "Drunkness is an egg from which all vice may be hatched."

An advertisement appears in an exchange paper, of a house to let suitable "for a small family in good repair."

A Washington letter in the N. Y. Herald, states that the Pope has determined upon opening relations with the U. S. Government.

An exchange paper heads its marriage notice thus: "Ad and Comfort." Comment is unnecessary.

HYER'S PILLS.

THE American Improved Hygeine Vegetable Medicine. THESE Pills are one of the best Medical Compounds in use at the present day. As a common family physic, for administration in all temporary complaints of the stomach and bowels, head aches, colds, &c. they may be fully depended upon, and a prompt use of them on the first appearance of indisposition will invariably save much sickness. They are peculiarly adapted to all cases of weakness and general debility—any derangement of the system, and especially with females—and a steady and interrupted use of them, in strict conformity with the directions will very soon restore the organs of the stomach to their natural tone and action and regulate the bowels, and renovate the whole system. There is no disposition to give extravagant commendation to them. What is here stated, is the result of actual experience with them, and that through a period of fifteen years. It is not supposed, or pretended, that they will raise the dead; neither are they designed to be used as freely as we use our room! Such is not the true purpose of medicine. It only appropriate office is to assist nature in restoring the system to a proper tone and action, when unavoidably, or through carelessness or excess, it becomes deranged. Many are careless, and hence need this aid. And the most careful are liable to irregularities of the system. It is needless almost to say, that a prompt use of a safe and effective remedy, on the first appearance of illness, is the part of wisdom. It is a Medicine the Proprietor knows these Pills to be. And he is certain that in forty nine cases out of fifty, where a fair trial is made according to the directions, they will be used again as a standard medicine. He has never known an instance, where they have been thus used, in which they have not met with unequalled success. Numerous testimonials may be seen at the General Office of sale, and references will be given to substantial living witnesses of their valuable curative properties. The Pills are purely vegetable, are of two kinds, stimulant and purgative, purifying the blood, and producing a healthy action through the entire system; are a valuable Anti-Bilious Medicine, and eminently useful in all lingering complaints—Weakness, General Debility, Dyspepsy, Pulmonary Affections, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic and Spasmodic Affections, Female Complaints, Palpitations, &c. No Family, after a fair trial, will be without them. They are put up in FIFTY CENT and DOLLAR PACKAGES, each having a complete embracing a valuable Treatise on Disease, with full directions for use. The Dollar packages are the cheapest to the purchaser. They may be ordered through Druggists, giving the Street and No. of the General Depot. Sole, Wholesale and Retail, at No. 140 Fulton street, Second Floor, N. Y. Between Nassau-street and Broadway. As a valuable Health-Try them! The above Pills are also for sale at the store of BENTLEY & READ, of this place.
