

Agricultural.

Good and Bad Farming.

Look at the contrast between a good farmer and a bad farmer—between a neat thrifty cultivator of the soil, and a slovenly agrivator of it. The buildings of the one, whether large or small, are all in good repair. The premises about them are clean and unincumbered by piles of rubbish and brush. His wood is cut and placed under cover in proper season. His tillage and mowing fields are clean of weeds, bushes and stones. His walls and fences have no unsightly gaps. His fruit trees are well trimmed and well cultivated, and are kept free from cankers and caterpillars. His barn yard or barn cellar evinces the high value he places on manure, by the care he bestows in making and saving it, and his lands from year to year, show they experience the full benefit of a right application of it. He is at work, boys and all, before the sun. While he finds time for the discharge of his political and other public duties, he spends little or none of it by his way-side, in discussing the affairs of the nation or the gossip of the village. He takes a newspaper to tell him how the government and the world jog on, and an agricultural paper to give him an idea of the improvements to be made in his own occupation.

The building and premises of the other exhibits many a symptom of neglect and premature decay. A barn door, perhaps, for loss of hinges, is propped up by rails or stakes. The frame-work of a shell is all that remains of what was once a shelter for his stock. Brush-wood and trunks of trees lie in fantastic confusion about his doors, whilst the skeletons of departed carts, and wheels, and sleds, and plows, line the roadside, for a considerable distance, as you approach his dwelling. His walls and fences are so enveloped in bushes, as to be almost impenetrable. His barnyard is washed and drained by a convenient declivity leading either to the roadside, or a neighboring stream. His tillage land is impoverished by repeated croppings and a stinted allowance of food. Thistles, johns-wood and mullein, or some similar specimens of vegetation, hold title to his mowing fields by right of uninterrupted occupation. He rises not before the sun tells him it is day. He is generally behind-hand in his work. His crops suffer for want of due care and harvesting. He carries to market an inferior article, gets an inferior price, and then complains to every body he meets of hard times and the hard life a farmer has to lead. Of course, he is quite ready to lay the blame on any shoulders but his own, and the government, either state or national, has very often to bear no small share of it.

By a process recently invented, the rays of the sun, striking upon a person's countenance, portray in an instant of time, an exact miniature of his features. The same art has also been supplied to give a faithful bird's eye view of objects and men. Every attitude, every limbament is struck off in a twinkling, with all beauties or blemishes, just as they are in the original. Suppose a Daguerrotype were employed to seize the striking points of each farm in this country, and that the pictures, thus produced, were suspended on these walls for inspection. Would there be no contrast exhibited in the panorama? No features which would willingly be erased? No whole pictures which would gladly be turned face to the wall?

No farmer who has any pretensions to the name, when he looks upon the two extremes to which his noble art may be elevated or degraded, would hesitate which to choose for the subject of his endeavors. If he select the good farmer as the model of his imitation he will need something more than mere wishes and resolutions—than sudden starts and occasional exertions, to realize in his character the enviable distinction of a skillful cultivator of the soil. It is not the work of a day or two year, but of many years, truly to earn and deserve his title. It is laborious, patient, persevering and intelligent working, that is to do it. He must take an honest pride in his profession; never be ashamed of hard hands, home-spun frock, or toilsome occupation. His motto should be, "Whatever is honest is honorable," and farm labor is pre-eminently so. His heart and his head, as well as his muscles and sinews, must be in his work. He must endeavor not only to make his farm profitable, to gain from it the most he can at the least expense, but to keep it in a constantly progressive state of improvement. He will have his attention awake, at all times, to the means of effecting this. He will not lay out for cultivation more ground than he can manure well and leave in better tillage than he found it. He will remember another axiom of the good farmer, "That whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well." He will ever bear in mind, too, that his own farming, however excellent and successful, may still be made better and more profitable.—[Address of A. W. Dodge, Esq., before the Barnstable Agricultural Society.]

CURRENT BUSINESS.—Having noticed that current bushes may as well be made trees as shrubs, I conclude to tell you how I have seen it done. In the spring of 1831, my father commenced in garden, and among other things, cuttings for current bushes. I determined to make an experiment on one of these cuttings, and as soon as it grew, I pinched off all the leaves, except the top one which I let grow. The cutting was about 14 inches high, and during the summer, the sprout from the top of this grew near ten inches. The next spring I pinched off all the leaves to about half way up the first year's growth so as to leave the lowest limbs about two feet from the ground. It branched well, became a handsome little dwarf tree and when it came to bear fruit, it was more productive than any other bush in the garden, and the fruit larger. It was less infected with spiders and other insects; blemishes did not pick off the fruit, and grass and weeds were more easily kept from about the roots, and it was an ornament instead of a blemish. Now, I would propose that current cuttings be set in rows about four or five feet apart each way, (let them be long and straight ones,) trained into trees.—Cor. Michigan Farmer.

To see two women pass each other in the street without one of them turning to see what the other had on, would be singular.

Why is woman's hair like a fallow? Because it requires a year to grow upon it.

Why is a butcher's cart like his boots? Because he carries his calves there.

Hooping Cough and Croup.
To Parents.—JAYNE'S EXpectorant, is without exception the most valuable preparation in use for the above diseases. It converts Hooping Cough into a mild and tractable disease, and abates its duration more than one-half, and produces a certain and speedy recovery. From half to one tea spoonful, will certainly cure Croup in infants and young children, in half an hour's time. The lives of hundreds of children will be saved annually, by always keeping it on hand ready for every emergency.

BOWEL AND SUMMER COMPLAINT.
Dr. JAYNE, No. 8 South THIRD Street, is willing to guarantee that his CARMINATIVE BALM will cure Diarrhoea, Colic, Cramps, Griping, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, and other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, and in less than half the time than can be effected by any other means. It is especially pleasant, and children as fond of it. It is especially efficacious for adults as children, when the directions are followed, and for so long as it is used, the money will be cheerfully returned. Price 25 and 50 cts. a bottle.

ANOTHER PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
The following additional testimony in favour of Dr. JAYNE'S EXpectorant has recently been received from a Physician of high standing in Louisiana, Co. Miss., under date of August 5, 1846.
"Dr. D. Jayne—Dear Sir—I am intimately acquainted with some of your preparations, and can safely recommend them. Your Expectorant and Carmivative Balm I have used extensively in my own practice, and I state unhesitatingly that I have used no article, or combination of medicines, that has better answered the purpose for which they were prepared than the above, &c.
W. W. JOHNSON, M. D.,
Lauderdale Co., Miss."

Prepared only by Dr. D. JAYNE, Philadelphia, and sold on agency by N. MITCHELL & CO., Drug-gists, Montreal, Pa.
Where may be had the AMERICAN HAIR Dye, warranted to change the hair to a beautiful Auburn or perfectly Jet Black, without staining or irritating the skin.

Rheumatism, Cough & Tic Dou-loureux.
A respectable gentleman called at our office, as he said, to inform us that he had been afflicted for fifteen years with Rheumatism or Gout, and occasionally with Tic Dououreux; that he has been frequently confined to his room for months together, and often suffered the most intense and excruciating pains, but that lately he had been using JAYNE'S EXpectorant, from which he found the most signal and unexpected relief. He says he found the medicine very pleasant and effective, and that he now considers himself thoroughly cured.—Spirit of the Times.

LIFE! LIFE! LIFE!!!
"All that a man hath will he give for his life," so we find recorded in the most ancient and best of books, but we see thousands dying around us with Consumption, Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting blood, and other Pulmonary affections, and we do not doubt the correctness of the above assertion, especially since it is so well known that a certain remedy may be obtained, which always arrests those diseases. Dr. JAYNE'S EXpectorant never fails to give relief, and the other every other means have failed. This can be and has been proved in thousands of instances, where it has effected radical cures, after the patient had been given up by all his friends and physicians.

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS.
Though not recommended as a universal "cure all," have nevertheless proved superior to every thing of the kind, especially in Liver Complaint, Biliousness, and when used in conjunction with his Tonic Vermifuge or Alternative, will not fail one time in a hundred, of effecting a permanent cure.
Prepared only by Dr. D. JAYNE, Philadelphia, and sold on agency by N. MITCHELL & CO., Drug-gists, Montreal, Pa.
Also JAYNE'S Carmivative, a never failing remedy for Bowel Complaints, Colic, &c.

FINE NEW TEAS, AT NEW YORK PRICES.

L. M. REXFORD has made arrangements with the NEW-YORK FERIN TEA COMPANY, for the sale of TEAS in Birmingham, and can furnish his customers, and the Trade, with Teas at the same prices that the Company charge for them in New York, which is, at least, from One to Two Shil-lings cheaper on each pound than the Grocers sell at. And in every case where these Teas do not give satisfaction, the money will be paid back for them.

CATALOGUE OF TEAS.

Young Hyson, good,	37 1-2
Do. do. sweet cargo,	50
Do. do. fine cargo,	75
Do. do. silver leaf,	1 00
Silver leaf—selected and sorted by large dealers, because of the very small profits made on its sale—is a very superior Tea.
Do. do. golden chop,	1 50
Golden chop—This is the finest Green Tea cultivated in China. It is of the first picking, and excels all other Green Teas for its delicacy of flavor, strength and aroma. Hereofore this Tea has never reached this country, except in small lots to suit the purchaser.
Hyson, fine,	75
Do. very fine,	1 00
Ganpowder, fine,	75
Do. extra fine,	1 00
Imperial, fine,	75
Do. extra fine,	1 00
Hyson Skin, good,	37 1-2

BLACK.

Ning Yung, strong and good flavor, 37 1-2
Ning Yung—The grocers sell this at 50 cents, and call it Oolong.
Oolong, a delicious Black Tea, 50
Compare this superior Tea with that sold by grocers, as being an Oolong Tea. The difference is too plain, and the description too palpable.
Green, plantain green,	75
English Breakfast, fine,	50
Do. do. extra fine,	63
Howqua's Mixture, a rich & highly flavored,	175
Peko Flower,	1 50
Do. Scented,	1 50
No Flux Ultra—This Tea is as fragrant and sweet as a rose, it yields a perfume that is truly delightful. It is of garden growth and superior to anything of the kind ever sold in this country.

Our Tea Catalogue does not comprise all the varieties contained in my assortment. I have every variety imported, and every shade of quality, and I suit the most fastidious purchaser. The above Teas are all done up in Chinese packages, in quantities of 1-4 lb., 1-2 lb., and 1 lb. each.

RECOMMENDATIONS.
We have tried the Teas imported by the Pekin Tea Company, 75 and 77 Fulton-st., and if we live we will try them often. They are selling the most delicious Teas we ever drank, and retail them at wholesale prices.—Evening Post.

You may be sure of obtaining at all times pure and highly flavored teas, by the single pound, at whole sale prices, of the Pekin Tea Company, 75 & 77 Fulton-st. They have probably the largest stock and greatest variety of fine Green and Black Teas of any one establishment in the United States. They are doing a large business, and are a great benefit to consumers of tea.—Atlas.

Heretofore it has been very difficult, indeed impossible, to obtain good Green and Black Teas. But now you have only to visit the warehouses of the Pekin Tea Company, 75 and 77 Fulton-st., and obtain as delicious and fragrant teas as you could wish for.—Daily Sun.

A word to Tea Drinkers.—The Pekin Tea Company, 75 and 77 Fulton-st., have imported into this country one hundred thousand dollars worth of the finest grades of Green and Black Teas grown in the Celestial Empire, done up in all the various styles and packages that Chinese ingenuity can invent. It is a privilege to buy teas at this great establishment, and luxury and comfort to drink them. They sell good Teas, and retail them at wholesale prices. Country grocers who wish to always sell good Teas, can get their supplies at this place, on reasonable terms.—Evening Post.

BLACKS-MITHING.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends, and the public, that he has purchased the shop formerly occupied by P. Jenks, but more recently by Mr. H. Patrick, a few rods west of the Court House, where he is now carrying on the above business in all its branches. He solicits a share of the public patronage.

WALTER FOLLET.
Montrose, Jan. 20, 1847.

The Grape-Vine Cradle.

THE undersigned takes this method of informing the public that he is now engaged in manufacturing one of the most useful instruments for cutting grain, ever offered in market. The structure of this Cradle is such as to enable a man to cut his grain in much less labor than is usually required—thereby almost changing the task into pleasure. A number of citizens of this county, who have used the Cradle during the past season, (whose names can be given if reference is desired) hesitate not to pronounce it superior, by fifty per cent, to any instrument of the kind they ever used.

An opportunity of examining the structure and utility of the instrument will shortly be given. They will be offered for sale by the first of May, at all the principal stores and public places throughout the county.

Prices—according to the article.
For a common article, (say the included) $4 00
Do. Wye trimmed & do. 5 00
Do. Five teeth and trimmed do. 5 50
