In recommeding these Pills to the public, the proprietor does not wish to make any unneces sary or tedious perambulation, but with full directions and a few important remarks he will leave the medicine to speak for itself, feeling confident that its merits are such as will not fail to bring it into general use; indeed, he is so sanguine of the efficacy of these Pills, he does not besitate to guarantee a cure in the most aggravated cases. By following the directions closely while taking this preparation, its superiority over the ordinary Tonic Mixture, Pills, &c. &c., will be readily discovered.
