When he has a house separate from the main building, purposely for ashes, and an iron or tin vessel to transport them, it shows that he never built his dwelling to be a funeral pile for his family, and perhaps himself.

When his hog-pen is boarded inside and out, it shows that he is "going the whole hog" in Recping plenty inside his house and poverty out.

When his sled is housed in summer and his farming implements covered both winter and summer, it plainly shows that he will have a good house over his head in the summer of carly life and in the winter of old age.

When his cattle are properly shielded and fed in winter, it evidences that he is acting ac- those who advertise by the year. cording to scripture, which says that "a mer-ciful man is merciful to his beasts."

When he is seen subscribing for newspapers it shows that he is speaking like a book respecting the latest improvements in agriculture, and that he will never get his "walking papers" to the land of poverty.

Nest Egg.

To those who keep hens, and desire eggs in Winter, a good hest egg is important. The qualities of a good nest egg are, a tolerable resemblance to a real egg—for a close resem-blance is not important; hens having adopted an old law maxim, de minimis tex not curator about minute matters the law don't careand weight equal to or greater than that of a real egg. A hen will not lay to an egg shell, however perfect it may be, for she knows, by its want of weight that is a counterfeit.

A good nest egg is made of solid hickory wood turned to the right shape. But every one has not a lathe, and such eggs are not always to be had. Another nest egg which may be made by any body, any where, was lately described to us by Mr. D. Lathrop, of Lasalle, a gentleman who keeps a 100 hens, and is very ant to find out the best mode of doing any particular thing.

The eggs are made of clay, formed to the right shape in the hands. After being dried, they are whitewashed -when they are ready for use. The matter is so simple, that it only requires to be thought of to be available.-These eggs answer the purpose perfectly—the hens accepting them as fully as those of their own make.—Prairie Farmer.

BLOATED CATTLE .- A friend of ours, who by the way, is a person of much observation, and who withal, has had considerable experience lately in the management of neat cattle informs us that last August he noticed one of his young cattle much bloated, evidently in breath. His first movement was to cut off a small portion of her tail. He then administered a strong dose of thoroughwort, with a small quantity of tansey, which immediately started the wind; a second, bottle was then poured down and the animal turned into the yard, and driven briskly about for a few minutes, and driven briskly about for a few minutes, REMAINING in the Post Office at Montwhen the bloat wholly disappeared, and the rose, Pa., Jan. 1, 1848. animal was in a short time as well and hearty as ever.
