The quid goes in when his pipe goes out, Tis chew, chew, chew, Now, a cloud of smoke pours from his throat, Then, his mouth sends a constant stream affoat, Sufficient to carry a mill or a boat, 'Tis chew, chew, chew.

He sits all day in a smoke or fog. 'Tis puff, puff, puff, He growls at his wafe, the cat and the dog, He covers with filth the carpet and rug, And his only answer when I give him a jog, Is puff, puff, guff.

The house all o'er from end to end, Is smoke, smoke; In whatever room my way I wend,
If I take his old clothes to patch and mend, Ungrateful perfumes will ever ascend, Of smoke, smoke, smoke.

As home or abroad, afar or near, Tis smoke, chew, smoke; His mouth is stuffed from ear to ear, Or puffing the stump of a pipe so dear, And his days will end, I verily fear, In smoke, smoke, smoke.

Young ladies, beware! live single indeed Ere you marry a man who uses "the weed; Botter that husbands you ever should lack, O, Than marry a "hasband who uses tobacco."

· `Coquetry.

It is strange, though nevertheless true, that a virtuous woman will occasionally encourage, unwittingly, impreper addresses. The lovet may ask pardon for his indiscretion, but offends again while supplicating for forgiveness. She herself will excuse his love on the plea of innocent intentions. She will then pity his sufferings, while she continues to listen to him as a flatterer; she exhorts him to fortitude, while secretly admiring his generosity; and while she endeavors to instill virtue in his mind, she perils her own. When such a woman succumbs to less, for the first three insertions, and twenty-five cents force | Cash or other good pay, as at any other store seductive arts, like Casar, she displays or subsequentinsection. A liberal discount will be made to this side of Canton or Pekin. dignity in her fall. There is nothing more absurd or coquetish, than a woman pretending to be displeased at the declaration of a love which she has already known to exist; her receiving the visits of an admirer, sanctions the declaration, and proves it to be grateful. The pleasure of being loved, finds its way into every heart and Madame de Stael has justly maintained that we cease to live ourselves if we are no beloved by another. This is a dangerous truth that has tripped up many a woman in the path of rectitude. Our vanity cannot conceive any circumstance more painful and degrading than that of meeting with utter indifference. How maddening must be such a conviction in the mind of a coquette!

A HARD CASE A Mr. Paine, of Mass. who was convicted in November, 1846, of have ing procured the burning of a barn, and sent to the State Prison for eight years, has been pardoned by the Governor, after serving fourteen months of his term, and has returned to his family,—his complete innocence having been established by the confession of a boy of 15 years, by whose false testimony Mr. P. was convicted. The boy lived with the owner of the barn, and was himself arrested for the burning, and admitted as state's evidence. It may be impossible to make Mr. Paine full atonement for the injury done him; but we think the Legislature of Massachusetts should do something in such a case. Whatever damage he may bave suffered in a monetary way, at least, should be made up to him.

By the way, the occurrence of such cases as the above has done more than perhaps any thing else, to strengthen the present movement in opposition to capital punishment. There was a time when aroon was punished with death in Massachusetts had Mr. Paine been hung upon false testimos y, no restitution could have been made to him by society. Therefore it is that so many advecate the substitution of imprisonment for life for the present penalty, in. in cases for conviction for murder.—Saturday

The American Improved Hygeian Vegetable Medicine.

THESE Pills are one of the best Medical Compounds in use at the present day .-As a common family physic, for administration in all temporary complaints of the stomach and bowels, head ache, colds, &c., they may be fally depended upon, and a prompt use of them on the first appearance of indisposition will invariably save much sickness. They are pecu-liarly adapted to all cases of weakness and general debility-any derangement of the system and especially with females - and a stendy, uninterrupted use of them, in strict conformity with the directions will very soon restore the organs of the stomach to their natural tone and action, and regulate the bowels, and renovate the whole system.

There is no disposition to give extravagant commendations of them. What is here stated, is the result of actual experience with them and that through a period of fifteen years. I is not supposed, or pretended, that they will raise the dead; neither are they designed to be used as freely as we use our roop! Such is not the true purpose of medicine. Its only appropriate office is to assist nature in restoring the system to a proper tone and action, when unabcidably, or through carelessness or excess, it vecomes deranged. Many are careless, and hence need this aid. And the most careful are liable to irregularities of the system. It is needless almost to say, that a prompt use of principal physicians, and recommend your sarsaparlia.
