rowed, the furrows being about 2 feet 3 inches apart. The seed was prepared by steeping it in a strong lyc made of hog manure, for 24 hours; after which the lye was drained off and I added to half a bashel of seed half a peck of plaster, stirring until the corn was covered with plaster. . The seed was then suffered to stand until it had grown an inch, when I planted it in single kernels premiscuously at the bottom of the furrows, and then filled the furrows about halffull of barn yard manure, to which had been added about 5 loads of hog manure. In weed-ing time I culled out many stalks, leaving those remaining about 7 inches apart. It was succorred once, and hoed three times.
