

0. G. HEMPSTEAD, Proprietor.

MONTROSE PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19:11848.

an accidental residence for a Tew weeks at a ed one would be removed from that very nec-Charlton suddenly disappeared. He fool-TERMS OF THE "DEMOCRAT.' Jesuit mission ; without means of refinement; essary class-their beaux. There were but ishly thought his love ill-directed, and strove ORE DOLLAR AND FIFT CENTS & year, in advance, or two dollars if not paid unit the end of the year, or Subscription. No paper discontinued until arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publisher. and having for the language of her mind only two exercises, one of leaping and one of mere to escape even from its memory, what could be learned from the voice of Nature strength. Old Max, himself, led off on the CHAPTER III.

Rates of Advertising. (twelve lines, or le Ench subsequentity One Square, 3 months Rusiness Cards, of four lines or less, Yearly Advertisers (who occupy not over 4 squares,) oluma, one year,

POSTRY

The World has much of Beautifui.

BY C. D. STUART. The world his much of beautiful, If man could only see, A glory in the beaming stars, The lowest budding tree ; A spleador from the farthest east, Unto the farthest west ; Aye! every thing is beautiful, And we are greatly blest.

'Tis only that our eyes are dim And clouded, that we go So sorrowful, and lonely like, Along out path below ; For kindling sights are in the skies, And on the spicy air, And beauty bids us wake and see That love is every where.

Is not the morning light our own, The cold and mellow-eve ? Do not the voices of the flowers Forbid the soul to grieve : Why aro we and lonely, then-The carth is bright and gay. And hope, with golden wing, inspires . The heart from day to day.

There is a bost of angels who With every moment throng, If we could only list awhile, The cadence of their song ; They speak in every sunny glance That flashes on the stream, In every hely thrill of ours, And every lofty dream.

We know not half the good that lion Around our pathway here ; We smother blessing with a sigh, Or drown it with a tear ; And think the earth is made amiss. Because in lonely hours We see among the thorns of life No soft and soothing flowers.

The world is good and beautiful We all may know it well, For there are many thousand tongues That every day can tell. What love has cheered them on the way, O'er every ill above-in her deepest seclusions. This she could un- first, and grumbled because his stiffened limbs si od derstand vaguely, could not carry him beyond fourteen feet, four ----- " and the heart of the maiden less, as he bitterly exclaimed, than he could Swelled and obeyed its power like the tremulous tides leap in his youth. Then came the others, one of the ocean." by one, and with different success. Some fifteen She loved the green woods and mighty forests, feet, some sixteen, two seventeen, one luckless for there her soul could live beyond the rough boy only thirtcen, and another, more fortubate influences of the only life she had ever known. than the rest, a perfect Ajax in limb, reached Hours passed away and she would linger, as seventeen and three quarters. This settled the much rapt in her woodland teachings as when question, and all turned their attention to the she first entered the pleasing solitude, leaving second trial. Just then, the young lawyer, the rude camp and its life far behind. Perhaps Charlton, came up and gazed upon the proceedshowas better educated thus than if she had ings with quiet indifference.

been taught to cultivate her mind by harsh A bar was fastened firmly between two par mathematics, her religion from a prosy pulpit allel posts full four feet above the reach of a in some sleepy church, or her affections from man from the ground. The candidates were fashionable novels. Yet there certainly were to leap up; catch with both hands, and then, defects in this primitive system. Though the after heavy weights had been attached to their faith which nature taught her was childlike and feet in this position, slowly raise their shoulders pure, the trainings of her soul lofty and wide till they touched the bar, then drop and hang as the forests themselves, this was not all of by a single hand. The one who could cling her life." Days and nights by camp fires, the longest thus was the winner of a wife. Fewer with half-civilized beings, the constant sight of great muscular strength, and besides, the imweapons and death, had all given an unnatural mense limbs of the former winner seemed to there to a spirit originally bold, and taught her settle the question. With the weights attached ignorance to believe that manliness lay only in he remained in the air just twelve minutes, a skill with the rifle or strength for athletic feats. third longer than any other had done. He de-An unnatural character, perhaps. But place scended with an air of triumph that became a her two lovely namesakes in the same situation, sneer when Charlton stepped forward and debold Diane of Poifiers, and that better creation liberately prepared for the spring. Max rubof fancy, dashing Die Vernon, and, my life for bed his eyes, and Diane herself surveyed the

Such was her character when old Max Ker- erfully formed, though by no means as large in mon, exchanging his semi-barbarism for the bulk as his chief rival. Yet every limb aphalf-civilization of a Western frontier found as peared to be in its proper place and well set. little difference between his old and new situa- | With a light spring he gained the bar, raised tions as might have been expected. In fine himself, when the woights were attached, till days he bunted, in unpleasant weather he perch- his breast touched it, and then hung motionless ed on a settle with his pipe and told huge stories without any apparent effort. Nine, ten, minof old adventures. Of course books and book. Intes passed away and he did not stir -- twelve men were contemptible in his eyes, and equally and he seemed to quiver slightly ;-thirteen, of course they were worthless in her sight, for and he drew out his watch with a calm smile.

the weights ?" favorite retreat.

She was very beautiful. Long exposure to the sun had veiled but not bidden her fair com-He dropped lightly down. plexion with a rich olive, and indeed, as with man, my boy, but why didn't you try the more fashionable ladies, the veil added to her leap?"

Charlton marked the ground with a warv charms. Constant exercise had given firmness and elasticity to her limbs. No wonder then eye, and then rose nimbly from the starting heavy body through the orange data with death, that she was the belle of the village, even place "Right in his tracks !" cried the old hunter though rarely seen, and still more rarely addressed. Suitors came for ber hand pad were the for you bad risen a little taguer, you would repulsed. The bold and adventurous she in- bave struck two inches ahead. No matter stinctively disliked for the coarsness which gen- though-it's enough to be even with him on hunter. erally characterised them; the few of a differ- this. You beat him on the other as neatly as they exchanged none. She thanked her pre- lieve, who has parents respected and beloved, be determined to see, and if possible reclaims trouble to notice, thinking them hardly worthy Notwithstanding his admiration of these server in simple heartfelt words, and he replied A child affectionate and dutiful, will never his wife and children. After a weary travel & of Charlton's of the name of men. Of this latter number, proofs the most prominent was James Charlton, a seemed somewhat dissatisfied with the idea of young lawyer who had just opened his office in marrying his daughter to a lawyer. The young that village. It is no wonder that with her man whom Charlton had so eclipsed was eviviews of bookmen, she rarely thought of him dently his first choice. Suddenly his face who would come nearest to that class of any brightened as he turned to the rivals, and sne had ever known. In that single word was selar. comprised all of Charlton's character, so far as "Come, boys, you're even on the jumping— it had yet been developed. Educated at an let's have a little rifle practice to settle that Eastern university, and naturally of a retired part. Another trial will do you no harm.— 'cast of mind, he had always avoided the world Two shots each, remember." and lived only with his books. In being obliged The Ajax briskly approved this plan with a to fall back on them for support, lie met the triumphant glance at Charlton. He well knew fave which usually attends men of this stamp, that the young lawyer had not reckoned on whom the world does not understand. But a this or ever trained himself very particularly part only of his character had appeared. A with the rifle. The other looked surprised and little intercourse with the world would soon annoyed, but made no useless opposition. cess. In his eyes the beautiful forest girl was fired first with great care, but missed it by at thus long and fervently. Mind had met kin- you will need the same care and attention.— the one whom philosophers had always admired least a foot. His rival next, and with better dred mind, and each was loth to shorten the Filial love will never go unrewarded. and vainly sought to find. He determined to success for his bullet struck within an inch of communion. At last he stopped and mused for Max Kermon; the old bunter, at last settled be more fortunate and to obtain the reality of the snall. The old bunter rubbed his hand and a few moments, then looked at her fixedly with down within the reach of civilization. In youth the child freshness, while they could only con-seizing a rifle took rapid aim. The nail was be placed in than this? Here were two a voyager among Canadians, in after life a ceive the ideal. Luckily he sawhis deficiencies driven right into the tree. Charlton had the a voyager among Canadians, in after life a ceive the ideal. Luckily he sawhis deficiencies driven right into the tree. Charlton had the love-of his own love to her. and resolved to amend them, so that she could next shot, and noticing that Max had raised his companionship of a few chance comrades be at least think of him, and after that-bis san- rifle rapidly until the instant of pressing the trigger, imitated the motion precisely, trusting

CUT A DASH. BY D. C. COLESWORTHY.

It is no wonder that so many young men are out of business and poor withal, when it has ---- It is the hour when love been their high ambition for years past to cut Shpots up the eye like morning on the east, Making amends for the long northern night ' They passed dre either knew the other loved." a dash and show off themselves. Men altogeth-

The poor girl waked from her dream of hap-port, on small salaries and a few perquisities, for everything goes wrong without the reverse dream where The poor girl waked from her dream of hap-port, on small salaries and a tew perquisities, for everything goes wave a stand read provide the second stand of the salaries and the salaries are salaries are salaries are salaries are salaries and the salaries are salari billings it may be they would go and they be they would go an par- [Bill mas almost loss and they are continually opening before her it is of pleasure, drink to excess, perhaps, and has got monish again because the they are they are they do not got and they are th

the distribution of the second state of the se associated with him, and were incomplete with- dreds following in the same steps-reaching af. the teeming brain of the novellist. Of this has out his presence. Yet the pride native to her ter the same follies, and who, when reminded following o'er true tale, told us in brief by bosom was untamed, and his abrupt, insulting of their dangerous courses, either pay no regard steward of the packet-boat Louisians on Set desertion prevented her from making any mani- to your wholesome advice, or tell you to mind urdsy, will furnish an illustration : fastation of sorrow. She returned to her books your own business and they will take pars of Some ten years ago, as our readers. will relittle intercourse ever enjoyed, and that solely tried this game than the other, for it required and old haunts again, somewhat sadder per- themselves. Instead of cultivating their minds member, there was what was termed a "reber haps, but with the same enthusiasm as before. and improving their hearts, they devote all their lion" in Canada, and alter the "patriota" ware Nearly two years passed and she still re- energies to decorate the outer man. None are subdued, some were summarily executed and mained unmarried. Time had fully developed more foolish in this respect, than the sons of a portion banished for a term of years to Aus-ber mind, and could James Charlton have seen farmers, who, leaving the plough and the rake, tralia. Most of these latter were men of famiher now in her intelligent beauty, he would are drawn to the city, that they may lead a lies, from which they were torn without merhave sorely repented his self banishment. Old more idle life. Many a young man, brought cy to explate, in a far distant land, by impris-Max was furious at first, but soon settled his up in the country, would be ashamed to speak onment and hard labor, the crime of having mind by reflecting that, after all, a lawyer was to his own parents, if accidently he should meet failed in their attempts to rid their country of not the best suited to his taste. Besides, he them when his popinjay associates were about the evils of misgovernment. We think they had lately selected a new son-in-law, whom he him.

vainly sought to commend to his daughter's fa- Many a youth has been ruined by leaving his tremities they did, but this point we will not vor. This was a young hunter, just returned homely abode in the country. The idleders of stop to consider With one of these expatrated homely abode in the country. The idleders of stop to consider With one of these expatrated ity fashionables—their follies and their views. The idleders of stop to consider with one of these expatrated ity fashionables—their follies and their views. The idleders of stop to consider with one of these expatrated ity fashionables—their follies and their views. The idle der with a chiefly to do. For some years be had borne the bards big bards one of the stop of a lonely explicitly, hopeless of sver series in the stop of a lonely explicitly to do. For some following the bards borne the bards being to make the bards being the bards borne the bards being to be bards borne the bards being to be bards borne the bards being to be bards borne the bards be b He was a fine, handsome fellow too, much dark- to farmers, is, keep your children at home on friends or home again, when a general annes ened by exposure, but manly in his bearing and the farm. We have clerks in abundance in the ty was proclaimed by the British government, frank address. Yet, as . Diane always avoided city; but the soil is wasting for the belp of man in regard to all, with one or two exceptions, of him, he had never been able to exchange a We need more farmers and less merchants and those who had been concerned in the rebellion. word with her. One day she sought a favorite shade, more and fewer drones and paupers." Let those then thought was to seek his home. But be had no dear to her, because on that very spot was her who would cut a dash and live a butterfly ex- means to pay his passage there, and be had solast meeting with Charlton. She tried to read istence for a few summers, reflect seriously up- cordingly shipped on board a whaling w the leisure time alone with her musings in some main here any longer. Will some one unfasten and the there and of two years or main here any longer. Will some one unfasten and the there and of two years or main here any longer. and she threw aside her book to think of him. woods and the fields and try their fortunes in upon his native shore.

Hour after hour passed without moving, though the bustle of the city. If they know how to "Bravely done!" said Max, "done like a love and pride were struggling in her heart. appreciate health and cheerful spirits and real thoughts, and bastened to his old residence in an, my boy, but why didn't you try the She heard a slight noise, and listlessly looked contentment, we are certain that no inducement Canada. Everything remained as it has been up, then came suddenly the report of a rifle, a will tempt them to forsake their country --friends and neighbors greeted bim as be vell of agony, and the quick crashing of some homes.

It was no time for mere compliments, and woman will turn out basely, we sincerely begot so plaugy stingy he wont take the papers now, and we know nothing. Well, who preached ?" " Mr.-

"What did he preach about ?" " On the death of our Saviour ?" "Why, is he dead ?-well, well, all creation ight be dead, and we know nothing about it I

VOL. V. NO. 42

It is a trife but at the same time true I acted very unwisely in proceeding to the ex-professional men; a larger number of workers Our hero was now at liberty, and his first

"Wife, children and friends" filled all his passed along-but how his heart sunk within

FILAL LOVE. - There is not on earth a more and to learn that his wife had been fell at her feet just as a man leaped from the lovely sight, than the unwearled eare and at- two years to another, supposing the live is found in the heart we will answer found mate had left, that part of an other will answer found mate had left, that part of an other will answer found mate had left. that part of an other will answer found mate had left. for all the other virtues. No young man or and settled somewhere in Illinois, The poor man was left desolate, indeed and

It only needs a goodly hear To know that all is Love

Then murmhr not good traveller But see the brighter years, That beam beyond the dark to day, So hidden by thy team; Still toil away, and hope away, For soon the ill is past, And death will steer thy shattered bark To better climes at last.

MISOELLANY.

From Holden's Dollar Magazine. LIWIER-TS. HUNTER : OR. THE TWICE WON. CHAPTER L

Oh, for the young heart like a founting playing ! Flinging its bright fresh feelings up to the skies, It loves and strives to reach-strives, loves in vain : It is with earth .----Festus.

trapper without society except the occasional was wholly wedded to a wild life, and inly pined guine nature hoped the rest. when the infirmities of age compelled him to return to his kind, and wear social fetters. There was another motive, as it seemed to others, which bowever had little weight with by a beautiful, wild-hearted girl, the sole off- risge, and bluntly told his daughter so, who, on was too sensible not to feel that his natural life to lack something—she could hardly tell what ly counting the afternoon stars. must soon terminate, and that the desert was ______and the fact induced fears for her future He rose and looked sultan for a not the most fitting home for an unprotected, happiness. However, she hoped for good forfriendless girl So he settled himself quietly tune; and thought little more on the subject. as near the wilderness as possible, and became The hunter was determined that none but a the oracle to all lovers of forest-craft. His man after his own heart should possess his nature was better pleased with this amphibious daughter, and almost the only qualification life than if he had existed in a wholly uncon- necessary according to his views were strength genial element. Diane Kermon inherited from her mother, to conceal his deterministics, and it was surthe daughter of a Canadian voyageur, both a prising how suddenly such games rose in favor name and the roaming spirit of that race. From with the young men of the village and vicinity. the days of carliest recollection, she had been Among so many it was somewhat difficult to at her father's side on the wild prairie or rang-ing over desert mountains, and sometimes too general desire. Max Kermon appended a par-her courage was tried in hours of danger. The ticular day for the contest with the anderstand-bold hunter, delighted in nothing more than ing that the victor should be backed by his predatory adminishing with the Indians, who on favor. Diane protested at first against this their part were wont to acknowledge the debt primitive plan, but the old man was resolute with interest. Once, with but two commides and, the yielded. If the truth must be told, at his back, he was surrounded in his trapping lodge and forced to stand a week's siege. Then the fearless conduct of his daughter, child as of the day as her busband, provided he was not her wont form him the full development of her abe was wont form him the full are to be the busband, provided he was not her the fearless wont form him the full development of her and a be was wont form him the full development of her and a be the the two busband, provided he was not she was, won from him a hunter's praise and fatherly pride. Yet though without fear at the sight of blood, she shuddered at its effusion. At last the day came, and with a crowe of the brave girl, who so concacement is function.

The brave girl, who so courageously garrisoned young men about him, Max measured off the one side of their little hut, was a true woman ground of contest, and made every pecessary atsorbed was she in her, new pursuit, and he

spring of the only marriage that the free trap-her part received it with a feeling that she endure. He shock his clenched fist at Charlton per had ever contracted. People thought that could hardly understand. Marriage she had and throwing himself into his favorite fighting as his daughter approached womanhood, Max always looked upon as a necessary evil which position, with bent head sprang straight for the preserved your life!" would naturally wish to give her the advan- all must sometime endure, and in her few dreams other's breast. Charlton's hands were as quick tages of education and society. But he had no of the future husband destined for herself, had as his eye, and stepping a little aside, he graspsuch thought These things were of little im- pictured him as a bold, wild, frank-hearted man, cd the other's waist while yet in air, and with portance in his own views, or indeed in those of differing from her father only in years. All of a slight whirl, compelled him to execute a somis derighter, as he very well knew, but Max this class whom she had bitherto known seemed erset on nothing and then fall on his back, wild-

He rose and looked sullen for a moment, then nicely done. You are my friend-take her." acely done. You are my friend-take her." felf. Ho translated for me the mysterious grave has been filled by those who might have All congratulated the lucky victor. Old teachings of Nature, which I had often faintly lived and been happy for years, if they had not Max shook him warmly by the hand, and the heard, but could never understand. He gave killed themselves by fear and appropersion of two men that, as it could not be deprived et a fair prize beamed a sweet smile on her fortu-nate winner. The objects for which he had Ought I not then to love him, and not blush at should every evil day of their mortality father at some future time. The restored ho, the father at some future time. spent long hours of painful labor, was now gain- the avowal? While he exists, I will think of every untoward event of their speedy dissolaed and he called himself a happy man. For a month he daily visited her abode and no other-live for no other but him." chatted with the old hunter, or more commonly trath, though his love had increased, Charlton lover. She turned away with burning cheek was disappointed. He found even more and and women mays and, he had expected, --- s noble but informed sonl detained her and said, the thoughts but undirected and wandering. "This was Charlton, the hunter?" was disappointed. He found even more than and would have left him there; but he lightly

She looked into his face and finding that its expression had changed to an earnest yet not intrusive anxiety, replied without hesitation, 4 It în '

"Blessings on you for that word !" cried the offer overcoming her first aversion to books and hunter, winding his arm around her waist, "I okmen, made rapid progress. Indeed, he am that foolish man who doubted your love. hardly knew that his affection was returned, so Hedrew her to his bosom, and she there for-the side of mater nucle nucle nucle nucle nucle nucle with a rangement. There were fair girls too, pre-she received — wandering over an uninhabited set at the scenes ; blooming Western damach, bis standard of perfection, much less think of intelligence has been received in New Or-country with a rude trapper ; shut out from drawn together by the excitament of these rul country with a rude trapper ; shut out from drawn together by the excitament of these rul country and only taught to read and write by the lists, or perhaps anxious to see what first a lover.

with strange embarrassment for one who was bring the gray hairs of its parents to the grave. many inquires be traced them to Knox counusually so ready in his language. He first The wretch who breaks loose from wholesome ty, Illinois, where they were comfortably stammered out something about the fortunate restraint and disregards the laws of his coun- tled in their new home. There he presented accident that had brought him so near her, then try, must have first disobeyed his parents_ himself a few days since. The wife could not suddenly changing his tone, as if recollecting showing peither love or respect for them. It have been more surprised or pained to see an himself, entered into conversation with his fair is seldom the case that a dutiful son is found apparition from the grave, for she bad long companion that strangely surprised her. She in the ranks of vice-among the wretched and considered him as dead. The new husband society, but with that also which forms the re- rents live, when you will not be under obliga- ious to obtain the lady, the second was disinclinfinement of society, with the production of tions to them. The older they grow the more ed to give her up, looking upon his " claim" master men. She was charmed and bewildered. need will there be for your assiduous care and as good ... the

No such elegance had ever reached her, except attention to their wants. The venerable brow They were reasonable people all around. when poured from the lips of the lost Charlton. and frosty hair, speak loudly to the love and The original claimant remained in the neighborhood a couple of weeks during which the On her part, she entered into the spirit, which compassion of the child. If sickness and inmatter was frankly talked over. At last the breathed from all his words, and replied in a firmity make them at times fretful, bear with manner that astonished her new friend as much, them patiently, not forgetting that time ere rivals came to the very just and rational conthat, his talents were a sure guaranty of suc- at long shot distance as the mark. Charlton probably, as he had dazzled her. They talked long may bring you to the same condition, when clusion that the lady was the proper person to make a final decision of the question, and to her it was mutually agreed to refer it, giving her time to consider it in all its bearings. What more perplexing position could a wo-RUNNING DOWN -- Nothing is gained by runtions. One was the father of all her children love.'

She started at the word, and the image of ually you will lose double what you gain. Men tions. One was the father of all her children the other children but one the companion of her youth the other charlton seemed rising up to robuke the past know where it is fur their interest to trade, and but one the companion of her youth the other charles the seemed rising up to robuke the past know where it is fur their interest to trade, and but one the companion of her youth the other charles the seemed rising up to robuke the past know where it is fur their interest to trade, and but one the companion of her youth the other charles the seemed rising up to robuke the past her where it is fur their interest to trade, and but one the past her her and sarred the set in the set of th bours of happiness. This new acquaintance a person of sterling character caund put up er, bound to her heart by near and sacred ties, was fascinating, but her heart was already oc- with hearing slauder and he will forsake you on and by the mutual love they bore an infant cunied. She was supprised too at his shrupe the count of the mutual love they bore an infant too. The marker at the tree announced that cupied. She was surprised too at his abrupt this account if for no other reason. The world that they had been born to them. She could "Ile is a fool who strives not for love and beauty." these new nail had been slightly struck on the introduction of the subject, but could not be is wide enough for all to get along smoothly hot for a time decide what true hearted we edge of the head and bent double. The last offended with him who had preserved her from together, without in the least interfering in one man could ? A tunult of thoughts and emohim. His wanderings were not entirely solita-ry. For many years he had been accompanied head that eighteen was the proper age for mar-bas beautiful mild hearts, liter are for mar-bas beautiful mild hearts, liter are for mar-bas beautiful mild hearts, liter are for mar-bas beautiful mild hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. Thus the conflict lasted for hearts at a form side to side. The side to si This was more than the defeated man could lar avowal, and a request that she might be worth having, and eventually succeeds better several days, during which time she was enthan the man who is forever speaking against labled to look clearly into her own heart, and at pained with it no more.

"You love another, then. Remember that I his neighbor and his neighbor's goods. Think ast sho was ready for a decision. of this and be wise. whom were twined the tendrils of a first and His words might have been insulting, but not in the tone he used, or with that same unacfirst offering of her heart? The needle may vibrate for a time, but it points at last with countable, winning smile upon his face. Thrown that you shall come to want, hey? Nonsense. off her reserve by this bold language, she re- We'll risk you. With such limbs and health, there is no danger, if you but pluck un courage unfailing constancy to the never setting star plied, hurriedly, "What you have said is true. You have and work. You may rot out, but hang us, if of the north-and in like manner the licent of prescryed my life, and I owe you all gratitude you wear out these fifty years. No man ever a true woman, having in the universe but one and friendship. But I also owe a richer, dear- came to want, who had his health, unless he fitting mato will, after all viciositudes, tura grasping Charlton by the hand, saying, as only er debt, to another. He found me ignorant, made a fool of himself by intemperance, or idlea Western man can say, "Lawyor! that was and taught me how to feel, and know what I ness, or unnecessary, cowardly fear. Many a tion, and so they died. Shall you thus descend family prepared to go to a new home and so o other-live for no other but him." tion, and so they died. Shall you thus descend was the interest excited in the neighbor-"While she spoke these passionate and un- to the grave? Away with your fear -pluck met was the interest excited in the neighborchatted with the old hunter, or more commonly guarded words, the hunter was regarding ber up courage and for a groat, we'll insure your walked out with the daughter. Yet not a word with the same curious, provoking smile, such as life a dozon years at least. Boston Olive hardly seemed to belit the mouth of a rejected Branch.

Consequence of Not Taking The Papers.

Some years ago a lady noticing a neighbor of hers was not in her wat at church on the Sabbath, called on her return home, to inquire

On entering the house she found the family second ?- Chicago Chronicle, Illinois, what should detain so punctual an attendant. busy at work. She was surprised when her friend addressed hordressed up in your Sabbath-day cloths ?"

1. 中国的国际

father at some future time. The re-united hood by this singular affair, that as many as a hundred and fifty persons from the neighbor-

lovingly to the sunny warmth of a "first, oalw

A disposition of the youngest born must now be made, and it was mutually agreed by the

Which could she choose but the man around hood were present to witness their departure. On Saturday last they came up in the packet Lonisiana, on their way to Michigan, where they will take up their residence. We naturally sympathize with the first hus-band, to whom wife and children are restored, but who will not feel for the bereavement of the Ber It is a fact worthy of note (anys the Boston Post) that General Cass when Goversor of the territory of Michigan performed more dressed up in your pappath-day sloths ?" "To meeting " "Why, what day is it ?" "Sabbath-day !" "Sal, stop whething in a minute :--Sabbath day ! Well, 1 did not know for my husband has ground in the promote time.

and the second s