could not have been possible except through the best of management on the part of the bank officials and directors, and this it has had.

Its first cashier was M. B. Wright, who was a born financier—able, cool, calculating, exceedingly affable, a man who could look over a proposition and size it up, make up his mind quickly and always unerringly, and, when the case demanded, could lay the proposition before other men in such a way as to have them understand its salient points and win them to his way of thinking. In this way much of the bank's big volume of business was built up from year to year.

Mr. Wright was not only a successful banker, but he was also successful in the political field. When seeking the congressional nomination from his party in this district he succeeded in securing it against great odds, and the nomination was succeeded by his election and re-election for several terms. He is known in local history as one of the most valuable and popular men of congress ever sent from this district. After his death occurred, his brother, C. F. Wright, who had previously been assistant cashier in the bank, was promoted to the cashier's desk, and his selection was an eminently fit one from every standpoint, for he had naturally a talent for financing, as well as his brother, who had put him in touch with all of his affairs to such an extent that the business of the bank went on in the same successful way, growing from year to year, all of its details being looked after in the best manner by Mr. Wright and his assistants, and keeping up its marvelous growth from year to year.

C. F. Wright also has figured in the political field of Susquehanna county. He secured the nomination to congress from this district and was elected in 1898 and re-elected in 1900 and again in 1902. He was always popular with his constituents who had business before the departments in Washington or had other interests at the capital to be looked after by our representative and was always prompt, painstaking and affable in dealing with the affairs of his constituents.

The present officers and directors of the bank are: M. H. Eisman, president; F. D. Lyons, vice-president; C. F. Wright, cashier; A. H. Falkenburg, assistant cashier. Directors: M. H. Eisman, Joseph F. Lannon, W. S. Mitchell, C. F. Wright, F. D. Lyons, A. H. Falkenburg, M. E. Wright—all reputable, high-class citizens, the backing of whom places the First National of Susquehanna in the front rank of the county's best and most reliable money centers.

Zeller's Bottling Works.

Frank Zeller conducts what is perhaps the largest plant in the county devoted to bottling healthful carbonated drinks, as well as ales and beer. Mr. Zeller manufactures all kinds of carbonated beverages. The exceptional quality of all the various soft drinks made by him is known to all who partake of them and the demand is constantly increasing.

He is the agent in the vicinity of Susquehanna for the Pabst Milwaukee beer, which is considered by competent judges to be the best beer manufactured.

C. E. Titsworth

One of Susquehanna's best insurance men, C. E. Titsworth, learned the insurance business in Montrose, in the well-known office of Lathrop & Titsworth, and became an expert in that line, partly because of his natural ability, partly because of his methodical business habits, partly again—and in no small degree—because of his genial personality and his happy faculty of leaving a pleasant impression with all with whom he comes in contact. All these features combined could not fail to win and retain business for an energetic young man, and when an opening occurred at Susquehanna in the insurance field Mr. Titsworth was splendidly qualified to go there and occupy it. This he did and has built up a very successful business, becoming one of Susquehanna's best young business men and a solid fixture there, and his Montrose friends are always pleased to hear of his continued success. He represents some of the very best companies in the United States, among which are the Home, German-American, New York, North America, Philadelphia; Phoenix, National, Hartford, Conn.

Adequate Electrical Power.

The prime objects of this edition of the "Democrat" being to induce desirable immigration, new enterprises and more capital to come into our grand old county, it is pleasant to realize that the Susquehanna County Electric Co. is adequately equipped to furnish electric light and power to new manufacturing concerns and other enterprises which may locate at or near Susquehanna, Hallstead, Great Bend and Lanesboro. This company is now supplying a very acceptable and satisfactory service to such large concerns as the Erie shops in Susquehanna, and doing the municipal lighting of Susquehanna, Hallstead, Great Bend and Lanesboro, besides furnishing light for nearly all the business houses and dwellings in those towns. The company furnishes power for the same price as is charged in Scranton, where fuel is 500 per cent. cheaper than it is in Susquehanna, consequently the price for power here is not only moderate but very low as compared with other localities having an abundance of very cheap fuel. No legitimate complaints are ever heard from thinking, responsible people, when it is understood that the cost of production of electricity in Susquehanna is perhaps the maximum in comparison with figures of power plants in other sections. The officers of the company are: O. S. Johnson, president; F. I. Linen, secretary; F. J. Platt, treasurer, all well-known citizens of Scranton, who are men of affairs here. Mr. R. Harris, resident superintendent, has had wide experience in the electrical field and is very popular with the business public.

Can Cancer Be Cured?

Based upon the words of men of character and reputation (many of them well-known citizens) that they have been cured of that most malignant of diseases—cancer—cured by the serum treatment as practiced at the Beach Sanitarium, located in Susquehanna, there is no room for doubt as to the efficacy of the treatment.

Women testify that they have been cured; men proclaim it broadcast that they have been cured; hence, what testimony is stronger than that the serum used by Dr. Beach does cure cancer?

It has been proven to be effectual, therefore a large number of highly respectable physicians—professional men not hampered by prejudice—endorse the treatment; other "doctors" knock it, and so it goes. Have the knocking doctors any proof that cancer has not been cured at the Beach Sanitarium? That is the vital question. If you, or your loved ones have cancer, these professional gentlemen, wrapped up in their code of ethics, come out and prove, if they can, that cures have not been effected. Negative denials do not withstand positive proof in this age of progress. The man from Missouri, when he exclaimed, "You have to show me!" knocked moss-covered ethics into smithereens when he was shown.

Many honest, humane, physicians have been converted to the Beach treatment, and having themselves failed to cure cancer with their burning plasters and formidable gleaming cutlery, have turned their patients over to Dr. Beach, who actually cured said patients, and that is the whole story in a nutshell.

This institution is not a mere dispensary. It is an up-to-date sanitarium, with matron, nurses, medical staff and furnished throughout for the convenience and comfort of the patients who may wish to rest and board while undergoing treatment. It is backed by ample capital; is beautifully situated in a picturesque part of Susquehanna, and is in every way a responsible, highly respectable establishment, having as its aim the relief and actual cure of humanity suffering from one of the most dreaded diseases known.

If you, or your loved ones have cancer, lose no time in getting the Beach treatment. Positive evidence of numerous cures will be furnished by the management to all who inquire.
