

The People's Advocate.

Here shall the Press, the People's rights maintain,
Unawed by influence, and unbribed by gain."

MONROSE, SEPT. 3, 1846.

Democratic Nominations.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,
WM. B. FOSTER, JR.
OF BRADFORD COUNTY.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE,
DAVID THOMAS,
OF GREAT BEND.

FOR COMMISSIONER,
NATHANIEL WEST,
OF THOMSON.

FOR AUDITOR,
FRANCIS QUINN,
OF CHOCANUT.

Whig Nominations.
FOR REPRESENTATIVE,
DANIEL SEARLE,
OF MONROSE.

FOR COMMISSIONER,
JOEL LAMB,
OF THOMSON.

FOR AUDITOR,
THOMAS NICHOLSON,
OF SPRINGVILLE.

Subscribers to our paper who have received from the first No. will bear in mind that the present No. closes the first quarter. By our terms it will be seen that we agree to furnish the paper for one dollar a year if paid within three months from the first No. or from the time of subscribing. After the present week, by our terms, we will charge one dollar and fifty cents to subscribers who have taken from the first No.

Congressional Conference.

When and where is it to be held? We suppose in Towanda at some time in next week. Are not the Tariff Democrats of Tioga and Bradford counties intending to appoint Conferees? If they would do so, a candidate might be placed in the field who would meet with no opposition except from the Free trade dough face party of this district; and we have discovered that the good people; even of this "back-woods district," have, generally, correct conceptions of their rights as Pennsylvania citizens. Though they sought a modification of the Tariff in some particulars, never did they ask or desire the suicidal alterations supported by Mr. Wilmot. We firmly believe that a majority of the electors in the district, prefer application of the one term principle to the case of Mr. Wilmot. If it here be asked, how, then, did he happen to be nominated in this and Tioga counties; our reply is this. We have heretofore exposed the iniquitous machinery by which his selfish supporters here succeeded; and have been informed by a worthy and intelligent democrat of Tioga, that he was there successful only, (to use the exact words,) "through deception, fraud, and treachery." For nominations thus made, honest men can entertain very little respect.

Our Prospects.

Important accessions to our subscription list, made during the two weeks of Court which has just been held, put us under renewed obligations to the People whose interests it is our privilege to serve. Though this is the 12th No. of our paper, only, we can now congratulate ourselves and our friends on as large a circulation as is given to any paper in the county. This result is indeed cheering, and will nerve us on to greater exertion in our efforts to cull from the rubbish of party interestedness, the genuine principles which lie at the foundation of our Republican government, and hold them up in bold relief to the approving view of the honest and virtuous of every condition in life. It is not expected that our views, upon every subject presented for consideration, will receive the ready sanction of all our patrons; we by no means so far trespass upon the credulity of our readers; neither do we assume reproachfully to denigrate every one who differs from us in opinion, a "demagogue," a "nabob," a "capitalist," &c. &c. Liberty of sentiment and freedom of speech we recognize as the People's common birth-right; and, therefore, repudiate the feeling of slavish obedient fear, which it is evidently the endeavor of some rival editors in this county to inspire. When we lose our sense of political independence, we may, like fawning sycophants, cringe before the power of an arbitrary little Clique or Junto of office-holders—until then, we shall act agreeably to the dictates of reason and common sense.

Take Heed.

We have been informed there are two or three men who do not take our paper, and who waste much precious time in endeavoring to dissuade others from taking it. We thank our patrons for the information. Report to us such meetings, and we will hold the authors up to the light, whether they be young or old. We have the portrait of a busy-body down south and will publish it, too, unless he is more quiet.

Schwylter Fasset.
We observe that our Convention for nominating candidates for county officers, &c. resolved cordially to approve the course pursued by Schwylter Fasset, as Representative, and recommended that Wyoming county reject him. This is a real Old Hunker trick. When David Wilmot was first a candidate for Congress, he came over here and prevailed upon our Convention to recommend his nomination, for effect with the Bradford County Convention which was to be afterwards held. When we concede to Wyoming a Representative, would it not be more courteous to permit her citizens to select a candidate without our interference.—We believe them to be fully capable to transact their own business, and quite as honest as our Fire-proof Clique.

Gen. Santa Anna, and Parades.

Our Mexican news this week is quite interesting. It is reported that Santa Anna, on the next day after receiving intelligence of a revolt in his favor at Vera Cruz, with his entire suite started in the British steamship Arab for that place. We learn, however, by the Ledger of Monday last, it had just been informed by Magnetic Telegraph that Santa Anna, instead of embarking for Vera Cruz, had departed with an intention of landing at Sisal. We learn also by the latest advices, that Gen. Parades has succeeded in raising some thirteen thousand troops. The new regiments are chiefly composed of Leperos and Jarochos—the lowest classes of the cross-breeds—who have been taken in chains to the capital, and there, in their half-naked state, they are furnished with a musket, and taught roughly and toughly how to load, aim and fire.—They are miserable beings, who may fight hard, but not with the necessary discipline. The advices from Mexico, published on Saturday last, represented that these ragged specimens of soldiers had all deserted him. No wonder. They are as badly accoutred as the Swedish garrison at New Castle, reviewed by old Governor Stuyvesant, and described by Washington Irving, where three men had but a pair and a half of pantaloons between them.

The California Volunteers.

Col. Stephenson's regiment of volunteers are still encamped on Governor's Island, New York harbor. They ought to have been doubling Cape Horn by this time, but there seem to be many difficulties in the way of an embarkation. A few days since some of Col. Stephenson's creditors commenced proceedings against him, for the purpose of preventing his departure from the country, and now we see a meeting has been held in relation to certain alleged grievances which the present volunteer corps on Governor's Island are suffering. The meeting was addressed by one or two persons, when resolutions were adopted condemnatory of the course of Col. Stephenson, after which the meeting separated. We notice among the names of volunteers now encamped on Governor's Island, that of A. J. Ward, formerly of this county.

FIRE!

The usual quiet of our citizens was again disturbed on Monday evening last, by this alarming cry. Soon upon the spot, we discovered it was caused by the burning of a kiln of choice lumber, near the new Methodist Church in this village, which was being seasoned for the completion of that noble building. Though the Church was considerably endangered; by timely attention and continued vigilance, it was kept safe. Loss, some $60, or more.

We observed on this and other occasions of a similar nature; the prompt and venturesome conduct of some of our worthy citizens; who ascended the church like squirrels, and rendered good service by sprinkling the roof with water.

We understand that the Committee appointed for the purpose, are now negotiating for the purchase of an efficient engine. Success to an enterprise worthy of much commendation.

Death of Judge Kennedy.

The Hon. John Kennedy, one of the Associate Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, died at his residence, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening the 20th ult. He was seventy-two years of age, and has been laboring under a severe and painful illness for a long time. Judge Kennedy occupied a seat upon the bench of the Supreme Court for fifteen or sixteen years, having succeeded Judge Frederick Smith, and has enjoyed in the highest degree the confidence of his associates and the members of the bar throughout the State. The members of the Philadelphia bar held a meeting on the 28th, for the purpose of paying a suitable respect to the memory of the deceased.

AN ENRAGED ELEPHANT.—An elephant belonging to Raymond and Waring's collection of animals, which were exhibited in this village a few weeks since, escaped from the tent while being exhibited in Lockport, recently, and being enraged in consequence of some one having given him tobacco concealed in his food, created no little alarm by his pranks. He first attacked a span of horses, killing one and mangleing it in a shocking manner. The keeper afterwards came up, and calling him by name, he followed him to an adjoining orchard, where he was secured by strong chains to a full grown tree. The report was that the elephant uprooted the tree and injured some of the bystanders, but the particulars were not known.

Congressional Nominations.

Maj. Findley Patterson has been nominated by the Democrats for Congress from the 24th district of this state, now represented by Mr. Buffington, Whig.

The Democrats of Union county, in the 13th Congressional district, have nominated Hon. Isaac Slenker; formerly a State Senator, as their candidate for Congress.

The Hon. John Strohm is the Whig candidate in the 8th or Lancaster district.

The Hon. Arnold Plummer declines being a candidate for Congress in the 22nd district, composed of the counties of Crawford, Mercer and Venango. M. B. Lowry, Esq. will probably be chosen by the Democrats.

John M. Coleman, Esq. has been nominated by the Whigs of the 3d Congressional district, composed of Spring Garden and the Northern Liberties, Philadelphia.

Joseph R. Ingersoll has been re-nominated by the Whigs for Congress, from Philadelphia.

The Next Congressman.

It is reported Tioga and Bradford counties prefer that Susquehanna should present a candidate for the next Congressional Election. Though we do not claim it, yet, if insisted upon, our friends may be assured that we will furnish a candidate who will merit, and in these parts, receive the cordial support of all truly denominated Northern Pennsylvania Democrats. We do not yet know who are to be the only candidates for Congress or the Legislature, in this county,—when known we will announce.

Good Advice.

"Somebody," says the Phil's Ledger, "lays down the following rules to govern young men in business. They will apply equally well to young and old. Let the business of every one alone, and attend to your own. Don't buy what you don't want; use every hour to advantage, and study to make every leisure hour useful; think twice before you spend a shilling, and remember you will have another to make for it; find recreation in looking after your business, and thus your business will not be neglected in looking after recreation; buy fair, sell fair, take care of the profits; look over your books regularly; and if you find an error, trace it out; should a stroke of misfortune come upon you in trade, retrench—work harder, but never fly the track; confront difficulties with unflinching perseverance, and they will disappear at last; though you should even fall in the struggle, you will be honored; but shrink from the task, and you will be despised.

Col. A. W. C. FANNING, U. S. A. died suddenly at Cincinnati recently, of apoplexy, 58 years of age. Col. F. was one of the bravest officers in the Army, and, by his uniform courtesy and kindness to officers and soldiers under his command, has endeared himself to the whole army. His death will be deeply regretted in and out of the army. It is generally conceded that Col. Fanning has seen more hard service than any other officer of the army now living; he served through the late war with England, was with Gen. Jackson in the Seminole war, and lost his left arm in that campaign. He was again ordered to Florida in 1835, and actively participated in that sanguinary struggle. By his bravery and coolness in that campaign, he was christened by the Seminoles, "The one-armed Chief."

New York and Erie Railroad.

The Owego Gazette, of last week, gives the decision of Commissioners appointed by the New York legislature, to examine the two routes, for the location of this Road, east of Binghamton, and says: "One hundred miles of the road were ordered to be put under contract at an early day. All the friends of the work who have no personal interest on the interior route; are rejoiced by the decision of the Commissioners. The work is now bound to go ahead to an early completion."

HON. LOUIS McLANE.—This gentleman will probably arrive in the Britannia steamship from Liverpool, which left there on the 19th inst. and was due at Boston yesterday.

For the People's Advocate.

I observed on Friday morning last a numerous congregation of the canine species in front of a certain "Democrat Office" down town. On inquiry by the Devil whom they wished to see, old Towser replied, "we have called to pay suitable respect to theologist of our kind." Each left his card at the door and retired.

TALIO.

We insert the foregoing as an act of justice to the malignantly insulted; but would respectfully admonish correspondents, that articles sometimes appear in the print referred to, a serious notice of which would lessen the dignity of our paper.

THE DANGER OF THE MINES.—The miners are continually exposed to accident, from the inflammable gases generated in their subterraneous workshops. Last week, in the Lewis vein Colliery, Pottsville, an explosion took place, immediately succeeded by an eruption of Choke Damp. Immediately on the explosion taking place, active measures were taken to rescue those endangered, (some ten or twelve in number,) and they were all brought out of the mines apparently dead. A physician succeeded in restoring the whole of them, with the exception of one by the name of John Tyler. One of the horses in the mine was also suffocated.

GEN. GAINES.—The Union publishes the proceedings of the Court of Inquiry in the case of Gen. Gaines, the opinion of the Court and the orders of the War Department under the instructions of the President, from which it appears that the Court approves some of the acts of the General, while it disapproves others. His calling out volunteers after he had heard of the victories of Gen. Taylor, and mustering into the service at Mobile certain staff officers after he was relieved from command, are among the acts condemned by the Court. In consideration of the patriotic motives by which the General was actuated, the Court recommended that the case be dismissed, and the President has approved the finding of the court.—Tribune.

CALIFORNIA EXPEDITION.—The ship Thomas H. Perkins, Arthur, cleared on the 24th ult. at Boston for New York. She is one of the vessels employed by the government to convey Col. Stevenson's regiment of volunteers to California. The Susan Drew is taking in her armament, &c., at one of the docks in the East river; the other ship chartered is the Loo Choo. These vessels are of about 700 tons burthen each, and the sum paid by government for their charter is about $65,000. It is expected they will sail about the 10th of September.

PURCHASED BY THE GOVERNMENT.—We understand that the new and beautiful steamboat "Cambridge," which was built for Capt. John D. Turner, to run between this city and the several landings on the Eastern Shore, has been sold to the U. S. Government. She is expected to leave in a few days for the South.—Balt. Clipper.

Sept. 1, 1846.

DIED.

Very suddenly, at Great Bend, on the 16th ult. GRANT LEE, son of Grant B. and Love L. Trowbridge, aged 2 years and 6 months. The deceased was a peculiarly interesting child, and had, by its lovely and affectionate disposition, entwined itself deeply into the affections of those who knew it, but, like the tender flower, bloomed but to be admired, and then to fade away and die. "Life is a space—a fleeting hour—How soon the vapor flies! Man is a tender, transient flower, That, 'e'en in blooming, dies." [Com.]
