from the Cincinnati News. The Leap for Life.

Kentucky ranks first among her, sister states for the daring courage and high toned honor of her chivalious sons; swift to take offence and as quickly to forgive, they avenge upon the spot, but malice never har, bors in their heartsa

Nature has given a befitting home to her favorite sons. The scenery of Kentucky abounds in the wild and sublime, soft and beautiful. We see "Knobs" bristling with tall trees, rear their lofty heads till they are lost in the clouds, and then sink gently into lovely and teeming valleys. Her rivers rush leaping, dashing, forming like mad demons down the rugged beights, then gently flowing on through smiling mendows, with a bosom as unrufiled as the face of a sleeping

The scene of this sketch is on the "Rolling Fork." On the right from the water's edge cises perpendicularly, a "knob" to the height of a hundred feet, and then floats gradually to, the summit. This "knob" to distinguish it from others, was known as the "Cedar Lieks" from its being entirely covered by tall cedars, and the salt teste of the earth which the deer came in droves

Many were the hair-breadth escapes while hunting. Cunning as were the 'red-skins,' yet Dan by his wonderful skill and woodcraft, always contrived to eludetheir snares, and generally left them to mourn one or two of their braves.

Dam's favorite place for hunting was the Cedar Lick. So hither he would repair early in the morning, and concealing himself, watch for game. One morning while thus occupied, he sat down upon a fallen tree, and was soon wrapped in deep thought. Suddenly the cracking of a twig startled his ear. Instantly he crouched behind a tree, cocked his rifle, and glanced in the direction from which came the sound; but instead of a fine buck bounding from the bushes, he perceived the dark form of an Indian creeping through the bushes about a hundred yards from him. Quick as thought, Dan raised his rifle to his shoulder, glanced along the barrel and fired. With a yell the Indian leaped to his feet, staggered a few paces, and fell to the ground a quivering corpse.

Before Dan had time to re-load, another savage who had crept up unperceived, sprang upon him and both fell struggling to the ground, our hero under. Escape now seemed impossible, but making an effort for his life, he exerted all his immense strength, and turned his assailant, but could not use his hands, for the Indian clasped him tightly around the body. Having no other wea-pon, he seized him by the throat with his tecth and ground them till they met. The relaxed hold and stiffened limbs of his adversary soon told how deadly had been the bite of the Kentuckian. Already the woods resounded with the yells of numerous the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal words and parifying the body, it will be manifest that, if the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal words and parifying the body, it will be manifest that, if the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced, a personal to the constitution be not entirely enhanced. murderous red-skins. The Indians pressed close, driving him to the bank of the river.

The land are red-skins and pleasure, disease of every name is rapidly driven from the would suffer were he taken, and he had ofrecound go no further, for he was on the brink of a precipice. Dan shuddered as he looked from the dizzy height at the neep and rapid stream far, far below—but close behind him were his blood-thirsty pursuers.

"Better," exclaimed he, "be dealed a continuous form the body.

Down, down lie sped with the swiftness, of an arrow, struck the water and disappeared. He soon rose to the surface and floated a moment, stunned. Then recovering he struck out for the opposite bank, gained it and disappeared in the forest. The descendants of the bardy pioneer still point out to the wondering traveller the spot where Dan Banks took his "Leap for

The Mourning Dove.

Here (at Thamesville) I first saw that curious little Canadian bird, the mourning dove. It came hopping along the ground close to the inn, but the evening was not light enough to distinguis more than that it was very small. not so big as a quail, and dark colored. It seems to prefer the sandy road; and as it is probably never mojested, picked up the oats at various distances its soft but exceedingly melancholy call. It appears peculiar to this part of Canada, and is the smallest of the days kind. I know nothing to account to the sept. 1340. dove kind. I know nothing to compare with its soft, cadenced and plaintive cry; it almost makes one weep to hear it, and is totally dif- THE subscriber, thankful for past favors of his ferent from the coo of the turtle dove—attention to the new and splendid lot of Goods now When it begins, and the whip-poor-will joins the concert, one is apt to fancy there is a lament among the feathered tribe for some general loss, in the stillness and solemnity of a summer's night, when the leaves of the wast and obscure forest are nuruffled, when which will be sold at low as usual.

NEW SERIES OF THE

Congressional Globe & Appendix. CONGRESS, at its last session, through the Joint Library Committee of the two Houses, having authorized a large subscription for the Con-gressional Globe and Appendix, and the senate, by resolution, having directed the mode of preparing the reports of its proceedings, and authorized the scere-tary of the senate to contract with the undersigned. stipulating that the reports when written out shall be suject to the revision of the speakers, the Congressional Globe and Appendix is now offered to the public, not only as up authentic but as un official account of the proceedings of Congress made under the eye and published by the authority of that body

The undersigned originated the mode of journalizing the proceedings of Congress, which, thus adopted, is to be perfected with the aid and under the supervision of Congress. Their publication was the first and only one that the each successive step in every measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all measure in both branches of Congress; a brief of all the debates, every important vote and an Appendig including at full length all the revised speeches delivered during the session.

The work, as it is now to be conducted by them, will be found a most complete political history. The senators from the states and the representatives from every section of the Union bring with them into congress a knowledge of the feedings, sentiments, and interests of their several constinencies. Public opinion and public information, as it exists among those they represent are embodied by them; and in the civil se of corpositive wisdom of our times is the crucible of congress the wisdom of our times is brought to the test, and is there concentrated in directing the political movements of the whole country; the impulses thus given through congress from every quarter, react upon the nation as a whole, and Among those who were the first to settle all its component parts are made to move in co-operal all its component parts are made to move in co-operal all its component parts are made to move in co-operal all its component parts are made to move in co-operal all its component parts are made to move in co-operal in co-operal in co-operal in its component parts are made to move in co-operal in co

Having identified ourselves with the plan of adrestless and danger-loving disposition, lie eagerly embraced the first opportunity of fered to emigrate to the "dark and bloody ground." At the time the following incident happened, he had been three years in Kentucky, and together with six of his companions had settled near the Cedar Lick.

In height, Dan strength, and the best shot in the clearing.

Being bold and fearless, he assumed the companions with gaine.

Many were the hair-breadth escapes while step in advance of the former in all points of execution. With a view to accomplish this, we shall be (one or the other,) in attendence on Congress.

The reports will not be affected by our party bias. We believe every member of Congress will bear witness that our reports are full and fair.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two houses of dongress, and printed on superline double royal paper, with small type, (brevier and nonpareil) in quarto form, each number containing sixteen royal quarto pages. The speeches of the members in this, first form are condensed—the full report of the speeches being redensel—the full report of the speeches being reserved for the Appendix. All resolutions, motions, and other proceedings, are given in the form of the journals, with the years and mays on every important

The Appendix is made up of the President's anmual message, the reports of the principal officers of government that accompany it, and all speeches of members of congress written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes about the same number of pages during a session

"SUGAR COATED" PILLS. Beware! Caution

The increasing popularity of Dr. G. Benj. Rmith mproved Indian Vegetable sugar coated Pills has induced a number of persons to make something induced a number of persons to make something they call Phals and coat them with sugar, in order to sell them for the genuine, while they do not possess a particle of the geoliness, nor dyen assimilate in appearance to the original Dr. Smith's Pills. In short, they are an intended FRAUD upon the constant, they are an intended FRAUD upon the constant. short, they are an intenueu r nauto upon the com-manity. A minister who at first had an interest in an imitation sugar Coated Fill, manufactured in Al-bany, N. Y., has given them up, as he says, on ac-count of the miserable dishonest parties concerned count of the iniscrable dishonest parties concerned in manufacturing them. The same party are now industriously circulating reports calculated to injure Dr. Smith and to affect the reputation of his valuable pills; but rather than notice them in public, Dr. Smith is about to institute legal proceedings against them for their slanders, as he has in mother case against a similar party, in which he recovered a large amount of damages. These misetable imitators have to resort to the most abominable means. tors have to resort to the most abominable means to palm off their counterfeit pills, as the public know that Dr. Smith's are the original and genuine. Ser-cel instances have that or similar are use original and genuine. cer-eral instances have come to public uptice in which life has been endangered by the unfortunate use of the counterfeits. It is Dr. Smith's Pills that are doing so much good in the country—as the following plainly show.

More Ministers use and recommend Dr. Smith's

Pills than all others.

This is to certify that I have used the sugar cont and Fills manufactured by G. Benjamin Smith of N. York, for some time, and believe them to be a good medicine; and also, from inquiry in that city, I am persuaded that he is the original inventor, and therefore is entitled to the benefit of the inventor.

S. WILLIAMS, Pastor 1st Baptist Church, Pittsburgh.

From the Blue Hen's Chicken, (Del.) We call the attention of our readers to the certificate of Rev. S. Williams, Pastor of 1st Bantist Church Pittsburgh, in relation to Dr. Smith s Pitts. We can ourselves bear itestimony to the excellence of these Pills, one of us having used them and experienced great relief from them.

The above is the best paper in the state of Del.

The improved indian vegetable pills," (suar coated,) ase certainly doing much good in the whole country, and are highly estectized, if one half is true that people write and say about them. They are so casy in their operation that all like them.—
The editor of the Northern State Journal, (one of the largest and best papers in the state of N. Y.) writes as follows:

Watertown, May 31, 1846.

Dr. G. Benj. Smith—

Dear sir: I was laid up with a wal cold some tsme since my return from N. Y., and during my illness I made trial of your pills, and I must say I found them excellent. They are the best medicine for the purposes they are intended that I have yet seen. I seldom take pills, but I found yours entirely free from the objections to which other pills are liable. I hope they will continue to be a source of profit to you, as I doubt not they will be a means of relief to the afflicted on a large scale.

Yours truly,

J. GREEN. Watertown, May 31, 1846.

Yours truly, . J. GREEN. Tonawanda, N. Y. sept 18, 1546. Dr. G. Benj. Smith-Dr. G. Benj. Smith—
Dear sir! Your agent left with me n lot of your sugar coated Pills, and I have but few boxes left.—
Every box I have sold has given entire satisfaction.
I have taken them myself and I consider them the best pills I have ever used; and I electfully recommend to the public. I wish a further supply at the content of the public.

Yours respectfully, JACOB KIBLER, P. M.
