A Man Killed by a Panther. The Jersey Shore Republican contains a long account of the death of Dr. RIENNALD, formely of Williamsport. It appears from the statement that he was a respectable German physician, and resided in Liberty, Tioga county, Pn. He was found dead in a small valley of the Blockhouse Fork creek on Sunflay, the 22ult. He had left his residence, in the Blockhouse, on the morning of the 22d of December, with the intention of visiting a patient who resided on Little Pine creek. The woods through which he had to fravel were infested by wild beasts of preys and it is believed that a pauther shockingly mangled. His entire face, with the check bones, were torn off; the bone of the under jaw was unbroken, but stripped of all its covering. The throat, and part of the right side of the neck, were torn away, and all the covering wasstripped off the colhar bong, down to the bone of the right arm. which was at the shoulder laid bare. Four or five tubs were torn out of his right side, and an entrance made through his body, in the direction or region of the heart. His gun laysix or eight feet from the body, with one barrel discharged.

F is proposed to erect in Pottsville, Pa. an asylum for disabled miners, and the canal and railroad companies have been peutioned by nearly all the operators in the region to include in their rates of toll, one cent per ton, to be appropriated to the erection of such an institution. The proposition was favorably received by both companies, and they have asked the requisite authority of the Legislature to make such appropriation.

For the People's Advocate. Capital Punishment--No. 5. To the Editors of the Advocate :

I have no wish to enter into the discussion of the controversy that is now exciting our community; but as my opinions and feelings are against the punishment by death, I offer for the consideration of Biblical critics, the following suggestions, with a full and. fixed determination of listening calmly and patiently to any remarks in reply ; but without subjecting myself to the necessity of vindeating my own views by further investigation, or research.

To all the arguments against taking life for crime, it is replied: we have no option ! it is the divine law! it is our duty, not to speculate, but to obey! Let it be proved that a grandute has issued and that is an end of the controversy. This I understand to be Judge Jessup's view. Now we have only to remember, in such a case, that the Bible is one thing and our notions of it another; and as furge divisions of Christendom, and even of the Jews themselves, differ essentialy, and all claim to be right, and each sect fortified with vast research and ability .--He that knows the most will be far from consecause he knows best how little he conducted with as much acuteness, as much mon use, and which Judge Jessup, if he is profound thought, and as much energy of a member of the American Bible Society, mind, by him and his friends, under the assists to distribute, has it in this way "who tents of the Idumean Emirs, as they have will shed the blood of man, in man, his blood ever been in professing Christendom. Judge Jessup, if I understood him, insists that it the manner of the first life-taking, and not .s to be dur guide in all our relations, social, moral, and political, and that it may be used Huguenot translation, which is probably the now as in the days of Galileo and one edited by Junius and Tremelius was Columbus, to retard the progress of science, until clear and indubitable evidence is brought forward that they are not contradictory-hence he sustains the divine right of by the same as the French Bible !! Blaise Paschal who is, I apprehend, ies of science, both sides should regard their other I have quoted, cites the passage as own conclusions with distrust; or, at least, given in the Vulgate, and after discussing it, charity for each other should be inculcated. In the Greek church the Bible is held to eral prohibition takes from man all power sanction despotism, but not to require the over the life of man;" but still be is in favor punishment of death : in republican counines it is exactly reversed. And, the doubts that arise as to the correctness of each or any of these constucions, would make me extremely cautious if were a member of the legislature, of putin jeopardy any immortal soul, without the clearest evidence of a divine mandate. The Hev. Dr. Cheever, who is the ablest dvocate I have yet read for the punishment of death admits that "the argument from cripture is somewint limited," its whole strength being condensed into a single verse; this he calls "the citadel of our argument, commanding and sweeping the whole sub-

Of course we cannot tell whether the sentence is a command, an assertion, or a prophetic annunciation. The phrase translated "by man," is the Hebrew "b' adam," the word adam," preceded by the letter "beth," which means also, in, among, with, &c. A very distinguished Hebrew scholar says the preposition "by" is properly represented by the letter " mem;" and if he is correct, it is very doubtful whether the blood to be shed, death.
