HORIZONTAL SPINNER!
IN connexion with the following certificate were handed to us the testimonials of several highly respectable ladies, who have used the Domestic Horizontal Spinning Wheel, and who concur in saying substantially, that they can spin with it seven or eight run, (or about four day's work) per diem, with as much ease as they can perform an ordinary day's work with a common wheel. The inference is irresistible; that it will hereafter be more profitable for the farmer who manufactures his wool, with this machine to have in his employ at the same cost for labor, one girl, than four girls with the common stand-and-spin wheels.—
[People's Advocate.

The undersigned, citizens of Montrose, have witnessed with much satisfaction the operation of a novel machine denominated the "Domestic Horizontal Spinning-wheel," lately invented by Mirra F. Wheeler of Springville, in this county. It appears to us to be a valuable improvement, in view of the ease with which it is used and the rapidity with which it executes. We doubt not that our Farmers generally, with all who "toil and spin" will approve it too.

THE TREASURY OF HISTORY,
Comprising a general introductory outline of Universal History, ancient and modern, and a series of separate Histories of every principal nation that exists, their rise, progress, present condition, &c.
BY SAMUEL MAUNDEE.
Author of the "Treasury of Knowledge," "Biographical Treasury," "Literary and Scientific Treasury," &c., including
THE HISTORY OF AMERICA,
EDITED BY JOHN ISMAN, ESQ.
The republication of this valuable work has been undertaken partly on account of the high favor with which it has been received in England, but chiefly in consideration of its intrinsic value, and the felicitous adoption of the plan to a work that has been long and generally felt and from the judgment and fidelity manifested in its execution.— The idea of giving in a single work, of so very formidable dimensions, and in so brief a space, the history of the world, and of every nation within the reach of very moderate circumstances, a sufficient outline of the world's whole history, and similar outlines of the history of every nation, is so obviously judicious and appropriate as to require no lengthy consideration. The author has endeavored to acquire of useful knowledge must desire to possess such a general knowledge of past events, not only in his own country but in all countries, as shall enable him to understand the various incidents, and allusions that are found in almost any course of general reading; because for want of such understanding there is always a serious diminution both of pleasure and profit, even in the perusal of such works as are designed chiefly for amusement. For instance, most of Sir Walter Scott's novels are founded upon history, and abound with references to historical events and persons, a want of some acquaintance with which detracts seriously from the interest and delight they are so well qualified to awaken; and so of most other works belonging to the better class of what is called light literature.— But the difficulty has been to obtain this general knowledge without going through many books, requiring a greater expenditure of time and money than most persons are able or willing to afford; and to obviate such difficulty has been the purpose of Mr. Maundee.
His plan has the merit of completeness, and is undoubtedly the best that could have been desired.— He gives first a general sketch of ancient and modern history—a rapid and comprehensive bird's-eye view, as it were, of the rise and progress of nations, the most important incidents of their career, and their relations to each other; and after this he takes up the nations separately, furnishing a concise digest of all that is important or desirable to know concerning each, and thus affording a sort of key to the changes and events that were more briefly indicated, rather by their results than their incidents, in the general sketch or outline. [Thus the salient points of history are brought within a manageable compass; and an excellent foundation is laid for more thorough and extensive reading in reference to any portion of the world, or any special of which a complete knowledge may be desired.]
In the execution of this plan the author has been very successful. His notice of historical events, the brief, are lucid and satisfactory; and he traces the connection of effect and cause with their incidents, and generally with most commendable freedom from partiality or bias; thus applying a very good idea of the philosophy of history as well as the facts which history records. In a word, the work will be found invaluable to the general reader and a very useful help to the student.
Complete in two volumes, large octavo, with engravings, $4. An edition in paper covers, complete, suitable for mailing, $3.

IT IS WRITTEN
IN THE BOOK OF NATURE AND OF COMMON SENSE, that the nature and productions of every country are, if properly applied, amply sufficient for the cure of every malady incident to each peculiar climate.
Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills
of the North American College of Health, are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil, and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions than medicines concocted from foreign drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as they are founded upon the principle that the best manly body is in truth
Subject to but one Disease, viz: corrupt humors, and that said medicine cures this disease
Natural Principles
by cleansing and purifying the body; it will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted—a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.
When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it; and the nature of the waters in like manner; if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.
Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills will be found one of the best, if not the very best medicine in the world for carrying out this Grand purifying principle, because they expel from the body all corrupt and impure humors, the cause of disease, in an easy and natural manner; and while they every day
