

AN INTERESTING CASE CURED BY Dr. D. JAYNE'S ALTERNATIVE.—In the spring of 1834, a Cancerous tumor appeared in the right breast of Mrs. Phoebe, wife of Peter Strepan, of Salem, N. J. It was examined by many physicians, and was considered by all as Cancerous, and besides bore all the characteristic marks of one. All probable means of cure were used without the slightest benefit. It continued to increase both in size and painfulness, until it began to endanger her life, but by a judicious operation, was removed, which, after a consultation of eminent physicians, was performed, Jan. 1st, 1832, by Dr. John Rhoads Barton, assisted by Dr. Redman, Dr. Jayne, and two other medical gentlemen. The entire breast was removed, and at present a cancer of the most malignant character. In about three months, after incredible sufferings, she was enabled to get about again. She remained feeble, and her general health was exceedingly low, and indeed had been for several years before. In the spring of 1837, upwards of five years after her breast had been removed, a painful tumor made its appearance on the right side, immediately over the part formerly occupied by the nipple of the right breast, previously to its removal. It increased rapidly, and became so painful as to deprive her of rest. The glands under the right arm were enlarged, and Scirrhus, and a hard, irregular, and at times painful tumor, appeared in the left breast. No operation could now arrest the disease, and the whole body appeared to be a mass of disease. Her case was considered hopeless. She was of a very scrofula habit, both of her parents having died of pulmonary consumption. The experiment was now made with this ALTERNATIVE. It was at first given in small doses three times a day, and the dose very gradually, but steadily increased daily as long as she took it, which was about six months, and the skin on and round the tumor was wet night and morning with a strong solution of Iodine and Hydrochloric Putash. The tumor continued to increase in size for about six weeks, and was at times very painful, when the pain suddenly ceased altogether, and the tumor swelled out at the base, and became soft, and then began to diminish and continued to decrease until every vestige of disease was removed. The tumor in her left breast, and those in her right axilla were also dispersed. No Cancerous or Scrofulous tumors ever appeared afterwards; and her general health, which had been so bad for fourteen years, has since improved, and she is effectively and permanently restored. The proprietor is in possession of the diseased breast, and those who choose may examine it. He would also say, that he could mention a dozen cases equally interesting, wherein his alternative has subdued Cancerous and Cancerous tumors, as well as various numbers of Guttur and Bronchocoele.

HORIZONTAL SPINNER.

IN connection with the following certificate were handed to us the testimonials of several highly respectable ladies, who have used the Domestic Horizontal Spinning Wheel, and who concur in saying substantially, that they can spin with it seven or eight run, (or about four day's work) per form, with as much ease as they can perform an ordinary day's work with a common wheel. The inference is irresistible; that it will hereafter be more profitable for the farmer who manufactures his wool, with this machine, to have in his employ at the same cost for labor, one girl, than four girls with the common stand-and-spin wheels.—People's Advocate.

The undersigned, citizens of Montrose, have witnessed with much satisfaction the operation of a novel machine denominated the "Domestic Horizontal Spinning-wheel," lately invented by Hiram F. Wheeler of Springville, in this county. It appears to us to be a valuable improvement, in view of the ease with which it is used and the rapidity with which it executes. We doubt not that our Farmers generally, with all who "roll and spin" will approve it too.

NEW WORK.

Chambers' Miscellany OF USEFUL & ENTERTAINING KNOWLEDGE. Edited by ROBERT CHAMBERS, Author of "Cyclopædia of English Literature," &c. With Elegant Illustrations, Engravings, Price 25 Cents per No.

GOULD, KENDALL & LINCOLN re-apply to announce that they have completed arrangements with Messrs. Chambers, of Edinburgh, for the republication, in semi-monthly numbers, of CHAMBERS' MISCELLANY.

The design of the MISCELLANY is to supply the increasing demand for useful, instructive and entertaining reading, and to bring all the aids of literature to bear on cultivation of the feelings and intellectual faculties of the people—to impress correct views on important moral and social questions—to suppress every species of error and savagery, and to excite and sustain by the relation of tales drawn from the imaginations of popular writers—those the fancy, by descriptions of interesting foreign scenes—give a zest to every-day occupations, by ballad and lyrical poetry—in short, to furnish an appropriate treatise on the human mind.

The universally acknowledged merits of the Cyclopædia of English Literature, by the same author, connected with its serial issue, and its unqualified commendation bestowed by the press, gives the publishers full confidence in the real value and entire success of the present work.

The publication has already commenced, and will be continued semi-monthly. Each number will form a complete work, and every third number will be furnished with a title page and table of contents, thus forming a beautifully illustrated volume of over 500 pages of useful and entertaining reading, adapted to every class of readers. The whole is to be completed in TWENTY SEASONS, forming THE GOLDEN VOLUME.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.
From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.
We are glad to see an American issue of this publication, and especially in so convenient a form. It is an admirable publication, and one of the best good taste which has been shown in all the publications of the Messrs. Chambers. It unites the useful and entertaining. We hope its circulation here will be long enough to supplant, to a good extent, the monthly and quarterly publications which have so long been too widely circulated.

From the Mercantile Journal, Boston.
A most valuable work, one that every one should possess. Edited by Robert Chambers, whose industry and talent and uprightnes are well known, and most secure for the work before us an extensive circulation.

From the New York Observer.
A vast treasury of pleasant reading, which we commend to families.

From the Christian World, Boston.
This is one of the most charming books that has fallen under our notice for a long time. Indeed we feel that we must bid it a most cordial welcome. It is in England there are more such works, let's have them.

From the Westsich Standard.
We are prepared to recommend it without reserve to every lover of refined and solid literature.

From the Excelsior, Boston.
Truly useful and entertaining work. No man is better known than Messrs. Chambers, of Edinburgh, for the manner in which he has treated the public mind, and in which he has spread the light of knowledge and of true religion, and in which he has shown the Boston public the manner in which he has spread the light of knowledge and of true religion, and in which he has shown the Boston public the manner in which he has spread the light of knowledge and of true religion.

From the Palmyra Courier, N. Y.
Our readers will bear us witness that we are not in the habit of "puffing" indiscriminately the periodicals that are published in this country, but in the present case we are, from such indications, have been afforded, and from the character of the editor and publishers of this Miscellany that it will prove an entertaining and useful work, and especially valuable to those who are forming their reading habits, and to parents who wish to cultivate the minds of their children, that we cannot refrain from thus in a special manner calling attention to it.

From the Literary World, New York.
The deserved success of Ouseburn's Cyclopædia of English Literature, has rendered it necessary to commence reprinting this very popular work, and as it is more desirable and practical than the Cy-
