

South Carolina—Her Slaves.
An awful Destiny Impending.

The entire coast from Warsaw Sound, forty miles below Port Royal, at least to North Edisto Inlet, forty miles above the same place, is deserted by its white inhabitants; the slaves are everywhere, practically free; the batteries, which are erected at every point where ingress could be had by an invading force, were undoubtedly abandoned within a week after the fight at Hilton Head, and the guns removed. This state of affairs exists upwards for a distance of at least ten miles, and in many places of thirty. Half the cotton houses in this region must have been burned, in a majority of instances by troops, not by their owners. The only places where firing of any importance has occurred against our forces are the Ousehoo Sound, and about seven miles up Warsaw River. At these two places batteries have still been retained. These are both in Georgia, but unless on Stone Inlet, there is no place in South Carolina below Charleston where the rebel flag flaunts. At no place in S. Carolina have the rebels showed fight since their defeat on the 7th of November. Beaufort was at once abandoned, and our reconnoitering parties have nowhere encountered an enemy. The slaves have, in various instances, assisted in the capture of their masters, have also several times of late asked to be armed, which was not originally the case. Colonies of them have been established, not only at Hilton Head, but on Oyster Island in St. Helena Sound, and at the mouth of Edisto Inlet. At both these places they are protected either by gunboats or by the guns of the batteries put up by the rebels, but now occupied by the Union forces. Schooners belonging to the rebels have been chased in these inland waters, and captured or burned.

The universal story of the negroes is, that the poor whites are unwilling to fight, and certainly there seems an unwillingness somewhere. In ever South Carolina desperation is to be manifested, one would think it would be now; they talk in their newspapers and in the private letters I have seen of hoisting the black flag of defiance, giving no asking quarter, but have taken a number of prisoners, who seemed not averse to submitting to the fate of prisoners of war. There are now in Beaufort District, alone, nearly 10,000 slaves, whose masters have fled, and Beaufort District is but a small portion of the country at present in our hands. Every where the blacks hurry in droves to our lines; they crowd in small boats around our ships; they hurry to our officers, from the cotton-houses of their masters, in an hour or two after our guns are fired. Drivers, field-hands, house-maids, coachmen and body-servants, point out how their masters might be caught where they were hidden, and what were their forces. As guides and pilots, they point out in what houses stores of arms and ammunition were kept, and where bodies of troops were stationed. In a few hours the information is sometimes verified.

The slaves not yet escaped, of course, pretend to be faithful, but some said to their masters and mistresses on the day of the fight, "The Yankees will be whipped, Massa and Massa, but all the while they prayed and believed otherwise. So, casual illusions are made in Charleston papers to the fidelity of their servants, as if it were a matter of course, but there is no laborious discussion of a subject too terrible for discussion. The writer says:—As for my judgment—it may not be worth much—but I came hither to find all the negroes attached to their masters and I have gradually observed a feeling of bitterness displayed by the blacks; at first there was only elation at their own escape; of late this has been mingled with indignation at the insane attempt to fire on them; I have known of several instances where slaves asked for arms to fire on their own masters, (this was the case with Col. Whitmarsh, Seabrook's live stock near Edisto); I have known where slaves assisted in the capture of their masters; I have sometimes asked myself whether the time might not come when arming the blacks and regularly drilling them as soldiers under white officers, might not prove the only means of averting the odious horrors of a service insurrection.

The Colonial Presbyterian, which is probably the ablest paper published in New Brunswick, espouses the Federal cause with a warmth which deserves our grateful appreciation. In a recent article it says:—

"To us it appears much more difficult for a true British subject to sympathize with the South than with the North, and we are convinced that the principles enunciated by the pro Southern Canadian and New Brunswick press, would if practically carried out, be fatal to the safety of the British empire. They are, in short, utterly seditious and dangerous, contrary to all divine and human law. Curses are not the only things which, like chickens, come home to roost. Evil principles bring retribution in their train. To hold that apart from any exercise of oppression by a Government, creating a moral right of revolution, its authority is to be cast off at pleasure or through caprice, its property seized; its courts of justice subverted; to hold that all oaths of allegiance to it may be violated without moral guilt or political degradation, is to hold that civil government rests upon no divine sanction or stable base. We maintain that there has rarely been a more just war waged in this world than that by which the Federal Government aims at suppressing the nationality of a great people. As British subjects, we resent any insult to our nation's flag, and demand an amende. But internal rebellion is worse than external war, to be an enemy is to occupy an honorable position compared with being a traitor. How well it looks to see those who are ready to fly to arms to maintain the honor of the British flag, in the same breath denounce the U. States for raising up one man to wipe out the remnant of Fort Sumter!

A young and beautiful damsel having two lovers, and not knowing which to prefer, scouted the matter by marrying the one and eloping with the other.

The love of children is always the indication of a genial nature—a pure, unworldly and unselfish heart.

THE BEST COOK STOVE in the market to be had at the sign of the Big Red Horn.
D. B. ROSS.

WAYNESBORO
AND MACHINE SHOP!

IMPORTANT TO WHEAT-GROWERS.

GRISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING GRAIN SEPARATOR, CLEANER AND BAGGER AND THE Latest Improved Thresher and Triple Gear or Belt, all furnished complete, ready to be put on Wagons.

1, the undersigned, desire to call the attention of Farmers and Threshermen of Franklin and adjoining counties to it. This Machine has been before the public for some years, during which time it has given general satisfaction, and the owners having made some very important improvements which render it still more complete, both for clean separating and cleaning, and also for ease of draught and fast threshing. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it will give the best of satisfaction. I am manufacturing three different sizes, as follows:

No. 1 is a 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 200 to 500 bushels per day.

No. 2 is 8 to 8 horse power, will thresh and clean from 150 to 300 bushels per day.

No. 3 is 4 to 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 100 to 200 bushels per day.

These Machines are warranted to do the above, and do it much better in every respect than any other machine in use.

Grain having much light chaff in it cleaned on this Machine is worth from 2 to 3 cents more per bushel than when cleaned on any other separator, or the common way of cleaning on hand fans. For this reason there is not the slightest particle of chaff in the grain as when cleaned on the "riddle principle." The blast acts freely on all the grain as it leaves the shoes, whereas, when cleaned with riddle that advantage is lost.

This machine does not return the tailings as most of the separators do. By returning filthy tailings alternately it is impossible to make merchantable grain. Another important feature in this machine that sets it apart from all others is the self-acting Blast Regulator in the fan, which remedies all difficulties in bad cleaning, blowing grain in the chaff in high speed or irregular driving, which cannot be avoided in cleaning grain by horse power. This Machine is also more durable and less tedious to manage than any other Separator and Cleaner of the common machine with shaker.

Orders to insure their being filled until harvest should be sent in immediately.

I am fully prepared to make to order and on short notice Portable and Stationed

STEAM ENGINES,
GRIST AND SAW MILL GEARING,
SHAFTING AND PULLEYS,
IRON BRIDGES, CAST IRON WATER WHEELS, IRON KETTLES, &c.

Stoves and Flow castings also cast iron and wrought iron pipes for steam or other engines, and all other every description; in a word, I am prepared to do everything usually done in a foundry and machine shop. Having supplied myself with the latest improved machinery, such as Lathes, Boring, Planing and Drilling Machines, persons can rely on having their work done in the most satisfactory manner.—I am also prepared to make to order all kinds of machinery for wind, such as Tanning and Grinding machines for flooring, Surfacing, Planing and Moulding machines, &c.

I also offer to the public a new and valuable improvement in my steam engines, made within the last year, viz: for the economizing of fuel, and the regulation of speed, which renders my new engines far superior to the old engines of the kind.

All my machines are sold under warranty. My hands are all experienced workmen in this line of business, and I use all good material, so that I am perfectly safe in warranting all my work.

I am also prepared to do repairing in workmen-like manner, on the shortest notice. Orders solicited and promptly attended to. All estimates in respect to repairing must be accompanied with the cash. For particulars and circulars descriptive of machine, address
