

THE OLD MOTHER.
Poor old lady set her sigh—
Her children are grown and her work is done, True, in their service her locks turned gray, But show her away, unsought, alone.
Give her a home for decency's sake,
In some back room, far out of the way, Where her tremulous voice cannot be heard, —It might check your mirth when you would be gay.
Strive to forget how she toiled for you, And cradled you out on her living breast—Told you stories and joined your play, Many an hour when she needed rest.
No matter for that—huddle her off, Your friends might wince at her warty jest;
She is too "old-fashioned" and speaks "too plain," —Get her out of the way of the coming guest.
Once you valued her cheerful voice, Her merry laugh, and her merry song, But to "hear polite," they are quite too loud—Her jokes too sharp, her tales too long.
So, poor old lady, hustle her off—In her cheerless room let her sit alone, She must not meet with your guests tonight,
For her children are grown and her work is done.

How Gen. Scott Rebukes.
On his way from the capital to N. York,
On his late retirement as head of the army, Gen. Scott passed through an inland town of Pennsylvania, where a regiment of soldiers were encamped. Many citizens went to the depot to see the old veteran. So also did the soldiers of the regiment. The General appeared on the platform of the cars, in full view of the grateful multitude.
The colonel of the regiment, who always felt his "brief authority" greatly, and on that occasion particularly so, took his position in front of the General's la Bona parte, with his arms folded, and his face turned toward the altitude of the north star. The crowd being all around, a soldier of the regiment, who had been absent for some time on furlough, and who was a former intimate acquaintance of the Colonel, came up to greet him by a friendly recognition. The exalted Colonel, as if highly disgusted and insulted by such a familiarity on the part of a common private in the presence of General Scott, fell back with head and shoulders from the angle of the north star, to nearly the altitude of the meridian, with a most withering frown of reproof on his sublime face. Gen. Scott saw it all; and instantly extending his hand to the soldier said, "How do you do, sir," and shook his hand with great heartiness.
The sublime colonel's face relaxed its assumed dignity, as a peacecock drops his feathers under a shower of rain, and as much shame as he was capable of immediately took its place. The greatness of General Scott and the littleness of the colonel at that moment appeared in most suggestive contrast in full view of a large crowd of spectators. Next to the great General Scott, this was the richest scene of that occasion. How true it is always, and in all places, that "he that humbles himself shall be exalted, and he that exalts himself shall be abased."

AN INCIDENT ON THE KEERS.—A young lady from the rural district of Hoosierdom, lately visited Chicago with her beau—Getting into a city railroad car for the first time, she took her seat, while her lover planted himself on the platform with the driver. Pretty soon the conductor began to collect fare, and, approaching the rustic maiden he said
"Your fare, miss?"
The Hoosier rosebud allowed a delicate pink to manifest itself on her cheek and looked down in soft confusion. The conductor was rather astonished at this, but ventured to remark once more:
"Your fare, miss?"
This time the pink deepened to earnation, as the rustic beauty replied:
"Wall, I am good lookin' you hadn't oughter say it ought I had ar loafers!" The passengers in the car roared with laughter, and the lover coming into see what was going on, at once settled the fare.

CLEANLINESS NEXT TO GODLINESS.— Tobacco chewsers visiting church should bear this in mind and avoid the indecent practice of spitting over the floor and upon the backs of pews, as it is very offensive to the ladies, and emphatically a very beastly habit. Those addicted to the tobacco equipping propensity during divine service had better carry a white pocket handkerchief to contain the precious juice than spit upon the floor for the ladies to wipe up with their dresses. No gentleman would be guilty of so mean an act.

A BIG SOAP KETTLE.—B. T. Babbit, of New York, the well known s. u. and sal-erarius manufacturer, has erected a tub capable of holding 250 tons of soap! The cost for the grease alone in a single charge is $20,000! Steam is employed for heating it; and 3,000 one inch pipe, coiled on the bottom, are required for the purpose.
Mr. B.'s facilities for cooking, could furnish 250,000 soldiers with two pounds of good band soap in one installment.

At best life is not very long. A few more smiles, a few more tears, some pleasures, much pain, sunshine and song, clouds and darkness, hearty greetings, abrupt farewells, then our little play will close, and injured and injurer will pass away. Is it worth while to hate each other?
We should be thankful for the sun—so many friends, so many joys desert us during our pilgrimage through life; the sun remains true to us, lights us from the cradle to the grave.
Dangerous Opinions.—The Washington despatch says:
"The names of several young army officers who express the opinion that the South cannot be whipped, have recently been stricken from the roll. We trust that this is only a beginning in the right direction." How short is human life! The very breath which frames my words, accelerates my death.—Hannah Moore.
There are many people whose whole wisdom consists in hiding their want of it.
If you desire to be released from a rash promise of marriage, breathe vows of love continually after eating onions.
If you discharge a jest at a friend or a game of woodcock, be sure it isn't out of season.

Latest Improved Thresher and Triple Gear Horse Power, driving either by Gear or Belt, all furnished complete, ready to be put on Wagons.

I, the undersigned, desire to call the attention of Farmers and Threshermen of Franking and adjoining counties to it. This Machine has been before the public for seven years, during which time it has given general satisfaction, and the patents having made some very important improvements which render it still more complete, both for cleaning and separating, and also for ease of dragnet and fast threshing. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it will give the best of satisfaction. I am manufacturing three different sizes, as follows:
No. 1 is a 8 horse Power, will thresh and clean from 200 to 500 bushels per day.
No. 2 is a 6 to 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 150 to 300 bushels per day.
No. 3 is a 4 to 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 100 to 200 bushels per day.
These Machines are warranted to do the above, and do it much better in every respect than any other machine in use.
Grain having much light flint in it cleaned on this Machine is worth from 3 to 5 cents more per bushel than when cleaned on any other separator, or the common way of cleaning on hand fans. For this reason there is not the eighth part of light matter in the grain as when cleaned on the riddle principle.
The best wheat freely on all the grain as it leaves the stones, winnow, when cleaned with riddle that advantage is lost.
This machine does not return the tailings as do most of the separators do. By returning flint tailings alternately it is impossible to make merchandize grain. Another important feature in this machine that others of the kind have not, is the Self-acting Blasf Hogulator in the fan, which remedies all difficulties in bad cleaning, blowing grain in the cleaning in high speed or irregular driving, which cannot be avoided in cleaning grain by horse power.
This Machine is also more durable and less tedious to manage than any other Separator and Cleaner of the common machine with shaker.
Orders to insure their being filled until harvest should be sent in immediately.
I am fully prepared to make to order and on short notice Portable and Stationed proved machinery, such as Lathes, Boring, Planing their work done in the most satisfactory manner.

I am also prepared to manufacture to order machinery for wood, such as Toning and Grooving
