Capt. Tower, mingled with those of the men. We took them, placed them in a coffin, and brought them home.".

In reply to a question of a member of the committee, as to whether he was satisfied that they were buried intentionally with their faces downward, Gov. Sprague's answer was, "Undoubtedly! Beyond all controversy!" and that "it was done as a mark of indignity."-In answer to another question, as to what their object could have been, especially in regard to the body of Colonel Slocum, he replied, 'Sheer brutality, and nothing else. They did it on account of his courage and chivalry, in forcing his regiment, fearlessly and bravely, apon them. He destroyed about one half of that Georgia regiment which was made up of her best citizeus."

W hen the inquiry was put whether he thought these barbarities were committed by that regiment, he responded, "By that same reginent, as I was told." While their own dead tion, and of refusing to imitate the monstrous were buried with marble head and foot stones, practices we have been called upon to invesand names upon them, ours were buried, as I have stated, in trenches. This eminent witness concludes his testimony as follows: "I have published an order to my second regiment, to which these officers were attached, that I shall not be satisfied with what they shall do unless they give an account of one rebel killed for each of their own num-

The members of your committee might content themselves by leaving this testimony to the Senate and the people without a word of comment; but when the enemies of a just and generous government are attemping to excite the sympathy of disloyal men in our own country, and to solicit the aid of foreign governments by the grossest misrepresentations of the objects of the war and of the conduct of the officers and soldiers of the republic. this, the most startling evidence of their insincerity and inhumanity, deserves some notice at our hands. History will be examined in vain for a parallel to this rebellion against a good govern-Long prepared for by ambitious men. who were made doubly confident of success by the aid and cousel of former Administrations, and by the belief that their plans were unobserved by a magnanimous people they precipitated the war at a moment when the General Administration had just been changed under circumstances of astounding perfidy. without a single reasonable ground of complaint, and in the face of repeated manifestations of moderation and peace on the part of and upon reasonable terms. the President and his friends, they took uparms and declared that they would never surrender until their rebellion had been recognized, or the institutions established by our fathers had been destroyed. The people of the loyal States, at last convinced that they could preserve their liberties only by an appeal to the God of battles, rushed to the standard of the Republic in response to the call of the Chief Magistrate. Every step of this monstrous treason has been marked by violence and crime. No transgression has been too great and no wrong too startling for its leaders. They disgraced the sanctity of oaths they had ta-ken to support the Constitution; they repudiated all their obligations to the people of the free States; they deceived and betrayed their own fellow-citizens, and crowded their armies with forced levies; they drove from their midst all who would not yield to their despotism, or filled their prisons with men who would not enlist under their flag. They have now crowned the rebellion by the perpetration of deeds scarcely—known even to savage warfare.

The investigation of your committee have established this fact beyond controversy.— The witnesses called before us were men of undonbted veracity and character. Some of them occupy high positions in the army, and others high positions in civil life. Differing phine and burning fluids is for sale by Stoner. in political sentiments, their evidence presents a remarkable concurrence of opinion and of judgement.

Our fellow-countrymen, heretofore sufficiently impressed by the generosity and forbearance of the Government of the United States, and the barbarous character of the crusade against it, will be shocked by the statements of these unimpeached and unimpeachable witnesses, and foreign nations must, with one accord, however they have hesitated heretofore, consign to lasting odium the authors of crimes which, in all their details, exceed the worst excesses of the Sepoys of India.

Inhumanity to the living has been the leading trait of the rebel leaders, but it was the gallant dead. Our soldiers taken prisoners in honorable battle have been subjected to the most shameful treatment.

All the considerations that inspire chivalric emotions and generous considerations for brave men have been disregarded. It is almost beyond belief that men fighting in such a cause as ours, and sustained by a Government which in the midst of violence and ment which in the midst of violence and treachery has given repeated evidences of its indulgence, should have been subjected returned from the Eastern cities with a general as to treatment never before resorted to by one foreign nation in a conflict with another. All the courtesies of professional and civil life seem to have been discarded.

Gen. Beauregard himself, who, on every recent occasion, boasted that he had been controlled by humane feelings, after the battle of Bull Run coolly proposed to hold Gen. Ricketts as a hostage for one of the murderous privateurs, and the rebel surgeons disdained intercoourse and communication with our own surgeons, taken in honorable battle. The outrages upon the dead will revive the Important to Farmers recollections of the cruelties to which savage tribes subjected their prisoners. They were buried in many cases naked, with their face downward. They were left to decay in the open air, their bones carried off as trophies. sometimes, as the testimony proves, to be used as personal adornments, and one witness deliberately avers that the head of one our most gallant officers was cut off by a Secessionist, to be turned into a drinking cup on the occasion of his marriage. Monstrous as this revalation may appear to be, your sommittee have been informed that during the last two weeks the skill of a Union solution between the skill of a Union solution between the skill of a Union solution between the last two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution between the skill of a Union solution between two weeks the skill of a Union solution and the purpose and which had been converted to such that the skill of the skill the house where Captain was interred. Sprague of Rhode Island, is most interest on opening the ditch or trench, we found it ting. It confirms the worst reports against filled with soldiers, all buried with their faces downward. On taking up some four or that the body of one of the bravest officers for the property of five of them, we discovered the remains of in the volunteer service was burned. He does not besitute to add that this hyena des-ceration of the honored corpse was because the rebels believed it to be the body of Col. Slocum, against whom they were infuriated for having displayed so much courage and chivalry in forcing his regiment feurlessly and bravely upon them. These disclosures, establishing, as they incontestably do, the consistent inhumanity of the rebel leaders, will be read with sorrow and indignation by the people of the loyal States. They should inspire these people to renewed exertions to protect our country from the restoration to power of such men. They should, and we believe they will, arouse the disgust and horror of foreign nations against this unholy rebellion. Let it be ours to furnish, nevertheless, continued contrast to such barbarities and crimes. Let us persevere in the good work

Your committee beg to say, in conclusion, that they have not yet been enabled to gather testimony in regard to the additional inquiry suggested by the resolution of the Senate, whether Indian savages have been employed by the rebels in military service against the Government of the United States and how such warfare has been conducted by the said savages, but that they have ta-

BROOMS

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING GRAIN SEPARATOR, CLEANER AND BAGGER

AND THE Latest Improved Thresher and Triple Gear ed Horse Powers, Driving either by Gear or Relt, all furnished Complete ready to be put on Wagons.

1, the undersigned, desire to call the attention o Farmers and Threshermen of Frankling and adjoin ing counties to it. This Machine has been before the public for seven years, during which time it has given general satisfaction, and the patentee having made some very important improvements which render it still more complete, both for clead separating and cleaning, and also for ease of draught and fast threshing. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it will give the best of satisfaction. I am manufacturing three different sizes, as follows: No. 1 is 8 horse Power, will thresh and clean from 200 to 500 bushels per day.

No. 2 is 5 to 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 150 to 300 bushels per day

No. 3 is 4 to 6 horse power, will thresh and clean from 100 to 200 bushele per day.

These Machines are warranted to do the above, and do it much better in every respect than any other machine in use.

Grain having much light filth in it cleaned on this

Machine is worth from 2 to 3 cents more per bushel than when cleaned on any other separator, or the common way of cleaning on hand fans. For this reason there is not the eighth part of light matter in the grain as when cleaned on the riddle principle. The blast acts freely on all the grain as it leaves the shues, whereas, when cleaned with riddle that advantige is lost

This machine does not return the tailends a most of the separators do. By returning filthy tailends atternately it is impossible to make merchantagrain. Another important feature in this muchine hat others of the kind have not, is the Sulf-acting Blust Regulator in the fan, which remedies all dif-ficulties in bud cleaning, blowing grain in the chaff in high speed or irregular driving, which cannot be avoided in cleaning grain by horse power This Machine is also more durable and less tedious o manage than any other Separator and Cleaner,or the common machine with shaker. Orders to insure their being filled until harves should be sent in immediately. I am fully prepared to make to order and on short notice Portable and Stationed
