

The Loudoun County Jail.
WASHINGTON, June 16, 1862.
The Secretary of War having received complaints that the jail of Loudoun county was being used for the detention of the slaves of rebels, and that the rebels of that county were actively co-operating with the authorities of the Confederate States, the matter was referred to Gen. WADSWORTH, as commander of the department. Col. SWAIN, of Scott's Cavalry, was ordered with a detachment of his command, to go to Leesburg. After a week's absence the command returned last evening. Col. SWAIN had a general jail delivery of the negroes confined on a rebel account, and straightened up things generally.
He also brought here Chief Justice ASA ROGERS and the Rev. E. H. BOURSE as prisoners, they refusing to take the oath of allegiance and being proved to be active in the rebel cause, the reverend gentleman acting as a kind of rebel post boy. Leesburg proves to be a hot bed of Secession, the ladies of the place crossing the streets to avoid meeting the officers of the cavalry troop, the children singing Dixie in front of the quarters, and most of the stores were closed during the stay of the troops.

THE TOMB.
Near Middleburg, on the 10th ult., Mr. Samuel Barnhart, aged 31 years, 9 months and 27 days.
How shall I miss thy loving smile,
The mild look of thine eye,
Thou' all will be no more and dear,
Since y'n are gone from us,
But while I tread life's path alone,
I'll think thy spirit high,
And strive to reach thy home of bliss,
For I must die.
