

VILLAGE RECORD

WAYNESBORO

Friday, Oct. 31, 1862.

Forever float that standard sheet! Where breathes the foe but falls before us, With Freedom's soil beneath our feet, And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

The official vote for Auditor General has been received from all but three small counties. Mr. Slenker's majority is 2,282 which will be increased about 180 by the other three counties. This is a pretty close run. If the army vote were counted Mr. Cochran would be elected.

Soldiers Vote.—In the 123d Pennsylvania regiment polls were opened on the last election day, and there were 202 Union votes to 31 Democratic. In the 125th regiment, now on Maryland Heights, there was also an election, and 187 votes were cast for the Union candidates and 27 for the Democratic. Polls were also opened in the 126th Pennsylvania regiment, and the Union ticket received, in the eight companies from Franklin County, which are embraced in that regiment, 206 votes and the Democratic 67. The Iowa regiments that were in that State on the late election day, voted 4,590 for the Republican ticket and 1,145 for the Democratic.

Enemies of the Government.—There is a certain class of persons in this and perhaps every community throughout the loyal States who have no sympathy for the Government in this war for the Union, but who do not wish to be classed as among those who sympathize with the traitors. According to their own declarations they are thorough Union men, but their actions belie their professions. The class to which we refer are zealous and untiring in their efforts to embarrass the Federal authorities, and if possible, prejudice the unthinking masses against our present worthy Chief Magistrate, by a most scandalous system of misrepresentation. Every act of the administration from the commencement of the war has been seized hold of by these sympathizers with treason, and every device that the ingenuity of man could invent to pervert the truth has been resorted to, to thus aid the cause of Jeff Davis. With many of them the war tax just now proves to be a great "eye-sore," and then the draft too is a "bore," but the greatest boog-boo of all is the "Nigger." They cannot under any circumstances refer to the war without putting "Sambo" in. It is either a "Black Republican war," an "Abolition war," or "a war to free the niggers." Sometimes the negroes are going to overrun all the free States and make beggars out of every poor man, woman and child. Next may be heard the cry of "Negro equality." The result must be a perfect equality between the races unless old Abe is put out of office and Breckinridge, Vallandigham, or somebody else put in his place. So it matters little what the President or Congress may do to restore the Union, this class will still have it that the war is to free the negroes. No better evidence of a sympathizer with the traitors is required than such declarations falling from the lips of any man, and yet those same parties claim to be loyal. They want to give the rebellion what aid they can and at the same time avert the disgraceful appellation of TRAITOR, which must mark their names North and South as certainly as it has done that of Arnold. It will not do for such persons to seek to cover over their perfidy and treachery by clamoring about the negro, the unconstitutionality of the President's acts, etc. If they are not for the Government in this life or death struggle they must be against it, and hence can in no wise be regarded as loyal.

A Newspaper Office Demolished.—The office of the Carlisle Volunteer was attacked on Friday evening last, by about 100 citizens and soldiers of the Anderson Troop, and completely demolished. It was provoked by a most malignant and scurrilous article against the President, the army, and loyal men generally. One of the sentences in the article was, "They have, in the face of his threats and persecutions, dashed their clenched fists in his very eyes, and branded him and his trucking, thieving, rotten Abolition with the seal of their condemnation. Come out of that snarl, Abraham Lincoln!"

The Drafted Militia.—The Harrisburg correspondent of the Phila. Inquirer, says, that the State authorities have determined to place the drafted militia of the border counties in camp along the border as follows:—three regiments from Franklin, Fulton and Cumberland counties, in camp at Chambersburg; one regiment from Adams county in camp at Gettysburg; two regiments from York county, in camp at York, and regiments from the other border counties, in camp at their respective county seats.

It is understood that the escape of Stewart's Cavalry from Pennsylvania is to be made the subject of a court of inquiry, when the conduct of Generals Pleasanton, Stovener, and others, will be investigated.

An Active Campaign.—We have a look, says the Phila. Press, we see that the march or preparation to march, to see a unity of purpose that shows the great will at the head of affairs, and the great master-mind organizing victory. Never have we seen so much harmony and energy in the Government as we see now. We no longer hear of enmities and quarrels among our statesmen. In the person of the Administration the Republic presents a united front to the rebellion, and this the rebels are beginning to feel. We see indications of alarm in the Southern newspapers. They know the mighty preparations that are taking place among the people of the North, and the stupendous exertions that are being made to accomplish their overthrow. "An invasion is designed," says the Richmond Dispatch, "to which all we have seen of invasion is mere child's play." We speak it—not for the purpose of creating unnecessary alarm—but warn our people of what they have to expect, and to prepare them for the occasion? This warning is the knell of Southern hopes. The rebels have made a gallant resistance, but their gallantry is the recklessness of despair. We are uniting, concentrating, strengthening; and on the result of the months now coming this war will depend. The President has placed the Republic on the advance ground of liberal sentiment, and our battles are not merely for the Union, but for liberty and Union. The inspiration of this thought is to our cause more than an army of warriors. Hereafter we are to know nothing but war, that peace may come, and we look for peace to come quickly. We are about to hurl a united, vigorous North upon a feeble and exhausted South. We are on the advance everywhere—in the army and navy and in public sentiment. The devotion which the people show to the Administration, and the respect which its enemies pay to it in exhibiting a constant anxiety to be regarded as its friends, show that Abraham Lincoln truly represents the popular will, and leads the people in this holy crusade. He commands, and the heart and mind of the nation obey. Activity, energy, power, and a mighty cause to marshal our hosts; this is our position now, and out of this we look for speedy victories and a speedy peace.

Who was Right.—The Miltonian asks the question, who was right when Gen. Caperon warmly urged the arming of a million of men to subdue this rebellion, while his enemies ridiculed the idea. The Miltonian further adds, that it appears now that the General had farther insight of this rebellion than any other one man at the time. The Anderson Cavalry have been ordered from Carlisle to Kentucky, probably to join Buell, and are to leave in a few days. They will be furnished with horses at Louisville.

The election in California has resulted in a splendid victory of the Union men. There are 40 Senators and 80 Assemblymen. The Union men have 36 in the Senate, the Secessionists 4. In the Assembly the Union men have 75, the Secessionists 51.

Thirty-Eighth Congress.—The delegation in the Thirty-Eighth Congress from Pennsylvania, will stand Twelve Republicans, Ten Democrats, and Two War Democrats.

The Democratic majority on joint ballot in the Legislature this winter will only be one.

Three inches of snow fell at Cincinnati on Saturday night last. A severe storm of wind and rain prevailed all through the north on that night, and we had our share here.

Printing Office for Sale.—Any one wishing to purchase a Printing Office in a pleasant country town in central Pennsylvania can hear of a good opportunity by inquiring at this office. The paper is in its 19th volume, and the office is in good condition. It is a neutral paper, but could perhaps be sustained as a political Journal, if such a change would be desired.

We regret to state that Perry A. Rice, G. G. Ruple and little Daniel Shafer of this place, James Grove of Baltimore, all of whom were captured by the rebels in this place, and Mr. Winger, of Clay Lick Hall—all, so far as known, still remain in the custody of the rebels, and have probably been sent to Richmond to be held as hostages. We wish we could hope better things, but from want of intelligence from them, and their protracted stay, no other inference can be drawn.—Mercesburg Good Intent.

Explosion of a Shell.—Killing of one man and Wounding of another.—Two young men, Daniel McPherson and Adam Wolf, living in the vicinity of New Franklin, this county, were trying to open a percussion shell, last Sunday, when it exploded, killing McPherson, and wounding Wolf in the thigh and left hand. He is doing well. McPherson's left hand was blown entirely off, but the fatal wound was in the abdomen. He lived about eight hours after the accident. The shell was brought from the battle-field of Antietam. The deceased was aged 20 years, 5 mos. and 2 days.—Dispatch.

A Fall.—Mr. Cyrus Kuepper, of Quincy township, on last Tuesday evening, fell off the Waynesboro' Omnibus, on the wheel of that machine, and was considerably injured. His right ear was nearly cut off, and side and leg was bruised. He was taken to Foreman's hotel. Dr. Grubb was called in, who did all in his power to relieve the sufferer. We were much surprised to learn from the Dispatch, that he was injured "so severely as to produce death in about ten minutes."

On last Thursday, two days after the accident, we saw him, when he was taken home by his friends. He was then living, and seemed to be improving.—Greencastle Pilot.

Profanity in the Army.—The following order has been issued by General Howard for the suppression of profane swearing in his division: "The General commanding this Division has noticed, with extreme pain, on the part of the officers and men, the constant and very general use of Profane Oaths. He need not remind any thinking man of the vulgarity and meanness of this practice, nor speak of it as a positive violation of God's law, but will simply appeal to the good sense and better feelings of the members of his command, and urge them, by all they hold dear, to abstain from insulting Him whose protection they need. By command of Gen. O. O. Howard."

A woman was convicted at New Haven, last week, as a 'common scold,' under an old blue law, which applies only to females.

From the Army of the Potomac. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Tuesday evening, October 28. The advance, under Gen. Pleasanton, yesterday encountered the enemy, with cavalry and artillery, at Snicker's Gap. He lost one man and five horses by the explosion of a shell. To-day his scouts were pushed out in the direction of Aldie and Middleburg. He reports Gen. Hill's rebel command at Upperville. A long train of wagons was seen to-day between Bunker Hill and Winchester, which is good evidence that the rebels still remain there.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC

General Movement along the Marsh Run. BURNSIDE ADVANCES TO VETTESVILLE. HARPER'S FERRY, Oct 26, 6 P. M.—I am happy to be able to inform you that the advance of the Army of the Potomac commenced this morning, and I have reason to believe that before to-morrow night the movement will be general along the whole line, placing the Potomac in our rear. At daylight this morning the cavalry force of General Pleasanton, with four pieces of artillery, crossed the new pontoon bridge at Berlin, eight miles east of Harper's Ferry, and proceeded direct to Lovettsville, in Loudon county. At Lovettsville our cavalry entered about eight o'clock in the morning, and a few pickets stationed there fled before them in the direction of Leesburg. The people of this loyal town, especially the ladies, received our troops with great enthusiasm, and the stars and stripes were thrown out in all parts of the town. Many of their fugitive husbands and sons returned with the cavalry, and the demonstration was most earnest and unmistakable. Without stopping, except to leave pickets and a guard, General Pleasanton moved on in the direction of Waterford, expecting to reach Leesburg early in the afternoon. There was, at the last accounts, a small force of rebel infantry and cavalry at Leesburg, and there may possibly have been a fight there, unless they retreated on hearing of his approach. Shortly after the cavalry advanced had crossed; General Burnside with his second army corps commenced crossing at the same point, and during the whole day the bridge was constantly under the tread of the advancing column. They proceeded in light marching order, though an immense train of wagons were waiting to follow them. It was the intention of General Burnside to rest for the night at Lovettsville, and move forward on Monday morning—in what direction was not known. The troops were in fine spirits, notwithstanding the bad weather, and cheered most lustily as they reached the Virginia shore. The troops on Bolivar Heights are also under marching orders, and it is thought will be in motion to-morrow. It is reported that the enemy have already retired from our front, withdrawing their pickets yesterday, apparently aware of our early advance. We have also tidings from the upper line of the Potomac, showing that active movements are also on foot there. The rebels are said to have evacuated Martinsburg on Saturday.

RETIREAT OF THE REBEL ARMY. Lee's Entire Army Retreating. HARPER'S FERRY, Oct. 27. News received here to-day, from General Pleasanton's advance, confirms the previous reports, that the rebels are retreating rapidly up the valley. Winchester was evacuated to-day, it is thought, and Strasburg will not be held with any large force. The entire rebel army of Northern Virginia is said to have been divided into two bodies under Jackson and Longstreet. Jackson's column is moving directly to Staunton, where it is said winter quarters for a large force have been improvised. Longstreet moves to Gordonsville, it is thought. Gen. Burnside moved South to-day, and is now on his way to Winchester, meeting no enemy, but his cavalry have brought in a considerable number of stragglers. A large force is now employed on both the Baltimore and Ohio and Winchester Railroads, and both will be in running order during the coming month. Our forces will occupy Winchester during the present week. It is believed that Gen. Burnside will come up with the rear-guard of Longstreet, and that a fight will ensue, and Gen. Slocum's corp d'armee has been sent forward to support him.

The entire Army of the Potomac will move across the river as soon as transportation for supplies can be secured. It is a source of congratulation to the officers in charge of the Quartermaster's Department that our troops are comfortably clothed and fed during this season of constant and severe campaigning, and every one will agree with me that our troops have no cause to murmur when they see, what I have seen, rebel soldiers captured with spurs made fast to shoeless heels, and all in rags and tatters.

From the Army of the Potomac. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Tuesday evening, October 28. The advance, under Gen. Pleasanton, yesterday encountered the enemy, with cavalry and artillery, at Snicker's Gap. He lost one man and five horses by the explosion of a shell. To-day his scouts were pushed out in the direction of Aldie and Middleburg. He reports Gen. Hill's rebel command at Upperville. A long train of wagons was seen to-day between Bunker Hill and Winchester, which is good evidence that the rebels still remain there.

The War in Tennessee. CHICAGO, October 27.—A special despatch from Memphis, dated the 26th inst., says: A report prevails here that a force of a thousand cavalry has stationed itself nine miles from here, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and taken possession of the line, establishing their headquarters in the vicinity of Noncote. This is supposed to be the advance of a large force having designs upon this city. Gen. Joe Johnston is said to be in charge of a large army at Little Rock.

GAIRO, October 26.—A Union force, numbering two hundred, with one piece of artillery, stationed at Waverly, Tennessee, twenty miles southwest of Fort Donelson, were attacked by a party of 800 rebels on Thursday last. The latter were completely routed, with a loss of 24 killed and 25 captured, and a large number wounded. Our loss was 2 killed and 2 wounded.

Official Result of the Ohio Election. CINCINNATI, October 29.—The official returns of the State election give a Democratic majority for supreme Judge of 8740. The Democratic vote has increased 85,000 over last year, and the Union vote decreased 28,000. The total vote of the State has fallen off 78,000 since the Presidential election.

BRILLIANT VICTORY IN ARKANSAS

St. Louis, October 24, 1862. To Major General Halleck, General-in-Chief: Our arms are entirely successful against North-west Arkansas. Gen. Schofield, finding that the enemy had encamped at Pea Ridge, sent Gen. Blunt, with the first division, westward, and moved towards Huntsville with the rest of his forces. Gen. Blunt, by making a hard night's march, reached and attacked the rebel force at Maysville, near the northwest corner of Arkansas, at 7 o'clock A. M. on the 22d inst. The enemy were under cover, and estimated at some 5,000 to 7,000 strong. The engagement lasted about an hour, and resulted in the total rout of the enemy, with the loss of all his artillery, a battery of six-pounders, a large number of horses, and a portion of their transportation, camp, and garrison equipage. Our cavalry and light-howitzers were still in pursuit of the scattered forces when the messenger left. Our loss was small. Gen. Schofield pursued the rebels through Maysville and beyond Huntsville. Coming close upon him the enemy fled precipitately beyond the Boston Mountain. All the organized rebel forces of the West have thus been driven back to the valley of the Arkansas river, and the army of the frontier has gallantly and successfully accomplished its mission. S. R. CURTIS, Major General Commanding.

Rebel Guerillas Encountered.—Thirty Wagons Captured. LOUISVILLE, October 29.—Colonel Edward McCook, Acting Brigadier General, with 500 cavalry, left Crab Orchard on Thursday morning, and encountered several bands of Morgan's and Scott's rebel cavalry at Point Lick and Big Hill, killing four or five and taking their telegraph operator and his instruments and thirty-three other prisoners. Also, thirty wagons partly loaded. The remainder of the rebels went towards Mount Vernon. Col. McCook had two horses shot under him. At Richmond our forces captured 200 sick and wounded rebels, whom they paroled. All of the reports of disobedience of orders by Generals McCook or Rossen, or of their having been arrested, are absolutely false.

CARIO, Oct. 25.—A fire at Blairville, Ky. last night, destroyed the principal hotel of the place, a livery stable, and two dwellings. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The contractors here number from eight hundred to one thousand, and are suffering intensely. They are in want of the necessary clothing and bedding. Two of them are reported, by the attending physicians, as having died last night from exposure. They are nearly all women and children, and many of them are sick.

UNITED STATES SOLDIERS HUNG BY THE REBELS.—A young man, named Johnson who lived at Martinsburg, was hung to an apple tree at Winchester last week. He joined Ashby's Cavalry at the time of the John Brown raid, but when Virginia seceded he left and enlisted in a Maryland regiment. In one of the late skirmishes he was taken prisoner, and a messenger was sent to Jackson to inform him that a spy had been captured, and inquire what disposition should be made of him. Jackson sent back word to hang him, which was accordingly done without any trial being granted, and in the uniform of a United States soldier. It is to be hoped that the Commanding General will take the matter in hand, and if the facts as stated are found correct, demand of the rebel military authorities an explanation.

THE SOUTH ARMING THEIR NEGROES.—A Washington special dispatch to the New York Times, gives the following: We have intelligence from the South, through a source entitled to credit, that the rebels have really ventured upon the dangerous policy of arming their negroes. In Atlanta, Ga., Montgomery, Ala., and other cities, it is said that negro regiments have already been organized and supplied with weapons; and a recent North Carolina newspaper states that about eight thousand black soldiers, officered by whites, have been sent from camps of instruction to garrison fortifications and important towns.

A Union refugee from Winchester writes to his friends in Baltimore, that the destitution of the Rebel army is most extreme, the soldiers begging from door to door, and refused by friend and foe. Calico is selling in Winchester at $1.50 per yard; muslin $1; potatoes $3@5 per bushel, and scarce; and apples $2 per bushel; flour $15 per barrel; matches $1 per box, and other things in proportion.

COTTON IN ILLINOIS.—It is estimated that Illinois will produce 20,000 bales of cotton this year, and the crop is now gathering. The State could grow 500,000 bales profitably.

Big March.—Gen. Baill's army, in which is Col. Stumbaugh's 77th Pennsylvania Regiment, on the retreat to Louisville, marched three hundred and ninety-one miles in twenty-nine days.

THE TOMB. In Bascom, Seneca county, Ohio, on the 29th of September last, of consumption, Mr. Lewis M. Haugh, formerly of this vicinity, aged 22 years, 2 months and 11 days.
