

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO, Friday, Jan. 22, 1863.

Prayer that this standard sheet! Where breathes the foe but falls before us...

An Apology.—We ask the readers to excuse the appearance of to-day's paper. Sick-

Public Sale.—We direct attention to the sale of personal property advertised in another column, by Mr. H. Good.

Another Citizen and Soldier Gone.—Mr. THOMAS G. PILKINGTON, Post Master, of this place and a member of Co. A, 126th Regiment P. V., died in the Washington Hospital of Diarrhea, on Thursday of last week.

Waynesboro Classical and Commercial Institute.—In order to accommodate all who may desire instructions in Bookkeeping, Penmanship, etc.:

A New Orleans correspondent says: "A most remarkable affair occurred recently in the former headquarters of Major, General Butler."

Officers relate that on the Fredericksburg battle-field they saw an officer on horseback waving his sword.

A REGIMENT OF EXEMPTS.—Iowa has furnished a regiment of exempts, composed of men over forty-five years old, who are now in St. Louis doing provost guard duty.

Passes to the Army of the Potomac.—The following announcement in the National Intelligencer freshens something: "It is announced that the War Department will issue no more passes to the Army of the Potomac at present."

Twenty-seven Persons Drowned.—BINGHAMPTON, Conn., Jan. 18.—A party, consisting of thirty-seven ladies and gentlemen, while skating on a pond near Haversville, Conn., broke through the ice, and all but ten of them were drowned.

The capture of Arkansas Post is fully confirmed, and is a good offset for the repulse at Vicksburg. An official despatch from General McClernand states that the place was carried by storm by our forces on the 11th instant, and from seven to ten thousand prisoners taken, with all the artillery, stores and ammunition of the enemy.

Negroes Hanged in Charleston.—A British subject who arrived in Norfolk, from Charleston, South Carolina, within a few days, gives the information that nineteen Negroes were hung in the streets just prior to his departure.

President Lincoln's Hopeful.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer states that on Friday last the President remarked that he considered the rebellion nearer being crushed than ever before.

The bill to authorize the issue of $100,000,000 legal tender notes, for the immediate payment of the army and navy, is now a law.

Old man goes to death. Death comes to young men.

Support the Government.—The present administration will administer the government for two years longer. Every efficient support should be given to the government.

It has often been the case that a large minority of a nation has been opposed to entering upon a long and expensive war; but when the step is once taken, and the honor of the nation is once committed, that minority has always rallied to the support of their country.

Army of the Potomac. [By Associated Press.] New York, Jan. 20.—The Post of this evening publishes a rumor that General Halleck intends to send a large part of the Army of the Potomac to the West.

While our army on the Rappahannock lies idle, or prepares to move in a direction which actually increases its distance in time from the army in Tennessee, and thus at every mile of progress makes it less and less easy to send reinforcements from the East to Rosecrans, the public is naturally uneasy at the reports which come from the West of reinforcements going down to the rebels from Virginia.

And even if, in such a case, we got Richmond, what then? Would that make up to us the loss of Tennessee—the defeat of our armies there? Surely not.

We hold, then, that the rumored determination of Gen. Halleck to send a large part of Potomac army to the West is a sign that he wisely appreciates our dangers, and means to meet the emergency where he can have him at the greatest advantage.
