refrequence of the Springs of Capatia Area of Setunder at Bine Springs. House a chydren can be summoned it may be too writes that Maryland will be a Miller of Standard Company of Company of the Standard Company of the Stan

NUMBER 22

POFFICAL.

A ROW OF LITTLE COPFINS:

Six little coffins by the door, Are waiting to receive their prize,

A little fillow for the head And dainty folds of lace. Hung to silom the early dead And deck the marble face.

O can it be that each of these Shall shold a prattler's breast?
Will shey, from 'mid the flowers of life,
Find such a precious guest?

What circle, blest with childhood's song is doomed to be bereft?
O which of life's endearing flowers Are taken, and which left?

What heart, unused to sorrow's night; Shall feel its withering gloom? What garden of earth's happiness, Shall lose its fairest bloom?

Six shining scraphs near the throne, Six pairs of shining wings, Six voices, tuned to sweetest strains Will touch angelic strings.

HOPE.

Hope is like the dawn of the morning Breaking through the misty night, Each of Nature's works adorning With a pure and holy light; Like the gentle evening shower Scatt'ring fragrance all around, Op'ning every little flower Germinating from the ground.

Let us, then, forever cherish Hope, to lift our hearts on high-That our spirit may not perish, Or our happy dreaming die; That, when earthly ties are riven And we leave this world of care; We may meet again in Heaven; Each the other's joys to share.

ADVICE.

Do not look for wrong and evil-You will find them if you do, As you measure for your neighbor He will measure back to you.

look for goodness, look for gladness; You will iffeet them all the while; If you bring a smiling visage To the glass, you meet to smile.

MISCHLLANY. PHILANDER PARDIGGLE:

The Victim of Mistortune

Some years since, I was travelling on the North River, and being on the deck of the steumboat, my attention was drawn to a man leaning listlessly over the rail. Certainly, a more remarkable object I have hever seen His face was one of those thin; cadaverous visages no happy man ever possesses; his figure was long, lank and bony, and his garments had long before seen their best days. and had now contracted around his ungraceful form, in a manner more picturesque than poetical. Moved by the sympathy which I always entertain for afflicted fellow mortals; I advanced to his side; and hardly had I done so, before he started up, exclaiming in a shrill-voice, 'Now don't.'

Don't what?' I asked in surprise. 'Don't go for to comfort me; it's unpossible, in nutery rear 'em, as our schoolmaster used to say. I spose that means they must be reared naterally; but it wouldn't have made no difference with me if I'd been brung up different; it's late, sir as does it-and I was fated to be everlastingly the most misfortunate mortal on earth.

'I'm sorry to hear you talk so,' I replied. You should take courage, my friend: remember the proverb, better luck next time. "I tell you it aint no use!" and he brought his hand emphatically down on his knee .--'I knowed you would try to consolate me when I first saw your symperthysing feetures; but I say again it's a thing as can't be did. It's a fixed fact that I am forever 'destinated to be an unfortunit critter; a terrible example to all persons as will come after ine, to be born fucky. Don't I know? Haven't I always lived with mysolf, and had smashed the cars, and killed half the pasthe opportunity to find out the nature of my sengers. I wasn't hurt but I might as well complaint? Of course, but I see you don't have been killed for all the good the jourthink as I do. Well, now you listen, and if ney was going to do me. I footed more I don's convince you in ten minutes, then than twenty miles to where my aunt hved, I'll give up the pint.'

I willingly complied with the request, and history of his experience. My name is Philander Pardiggle, he commenced, and you'll agree with me, that her whole fortune. it's the most shockflicst name that ever disto the Logislature to have it altered, but of mist submit to my fate. Taint no use to course they wouldn't do it; 'twasn't nateral rave and kick in harness; I've got to trot for me to have any such good luck. That in the traces just as I was meant to Of name has been the cause of a most half of course I'd be better off if I was dead; but a doubtful blessing. my troubles, and if I had any sponsors at it's no use to talk of susatside—I conbaptism (of which I sain't sure), and they kill myself if I should try. If I tried was alize, and I knew who they was, I'd in, the rope would break; if it was she suck em for damages, I would by mighty! the pistol wouldn't go off, and if it was But what use would it be if I did I couldn't in, the knife would turn to wood, if there mimit so I'm as well off as Lever can be.

As I said I was always as discoursed were in store for him. against every tring you will dillip and down stairs, and doin Pittable Philander Pardiggle! wonder your own improvement. Jean and the start of her killing will the manager of the control falling the country of her and down states, and doing the country of the country existence there if the stable boy hadn't fish

end to my grievances; my bread always fell be even a visitor. Sharp, angry tones re-on the buttered side, and my coffee always sound through them from morning till night, burned my mouth; I was sent to school, and the disease is as contagiousus mension. get the hook into my fingers, and drop myself into the water instead of my bait One day the house ketched afire, and I run up with a pail of water to extinguish it. One pail was enuff and I knowed it; but just as I got to the top of the stairs, my foot slipped, and the pail of water and me fell about forty feet down two pair of stairs. The consequence was that the house burned down, and I was laid up for three months with a broken leg.
Well, I sprouted up like r weed, and at last came to be a man. I tried various kinds of business, but could'nt succeed in anything I undertook. I was a clerk in a dry goods shop, but I was so ugly that I frightened all the gals and wimmin away, and so I was discharged short metre. Then I was a hack driver; but that business was soon broke up by the infernal hosses runnin' away, smashin' the hack, killin' themselves, and more than half killin' me. After that I went into the pottecary business"

'The what ?' 'The pottecary business-docterin' sick folks, you know. I got a box of 'doctor's stuff; and traveled round the country, dispensin' health on my own back. That went off very nice, until I give a man some physic one day, and the turnel fool up and died. Folks said I killed him, but I knew better; if the drugs wan't good for sick people the confounded drug man had no business to sell 'em tome. But it made no difference; the perple would have it that I poisoned him, and was posted all over the country for a disgraceless quack-so that spiled that business, and I had to stop bein' a health dis penser.

'Next I became a house painter; but that was a miserable poor go. A gentleman hir-ed me to paint his country house, and because I painted the house green and the blinds white, he abused me like a pick pooket and refused to pay me a cent. He said he told me to do it vicey versy; but how was I to remember? And sposin' it was Shortly after, I was half way up a long adder, painting a sign board. I heard somehing crack, which I the't was the ladder where I had been sent with three broken ribs and a dislocated shoulder. While I was getting well I come to the conclusion that this kind of thing wouldn't do; so I resolved to make a bold push.— Pardiggle, my boy, 'said I, 'there's a great many worse looking men than yourself married a fortune; why can't you?' I jumped at the idea and I instantly devoted my time to fortune huntin.' There was a gal I had knowed when I was small, who had a good deal of the ready; and I commenced with her.' 'And ended too' I suggested.

'Yes of course; you might know it !-Things went on well-enough, until one day, when I thought it was about time to fix the matter I asked her if she would marry me, and she wanted me to excuse her. It makes tarnel simpleton, up and excused her! A while after, she married another feller. I spose she asked him to excuse her too; but he knew too much for that. I might have been in his shoes if I had played my cards right; but it couldn't be-it wasn't my

'Not quite a year ago, I received a letter from an aunt whom I knew nothing about. The letter said that she was on her death bed, and was going to will all her property, to me, and she wanted me to come and see of leavin me; the engine ran off the truck, and when I got there things where just as I the odd character went on to give a brief dead and buried, and a rascally cousin of mine had arrived in time, palavored with the aunt, and persuaded, hor to leave him

So you see it aint no use to try to conso-

Ishwen would keep to an in an angle of the next the unfortunate Pardiggle would not hear to to grow up, and a milifility of I'm as well off as Lever can be. it. He left me with the firm belief that his open to ever the latter worked out. Multiplied ened, and to be a latter worked out. Multiplied ened, and to be a latter worked out.

Hints to Mothers—Speak Low ed me out with the garden rake.

I know some houses, well built and hand.
When I got a foot higher there was no somely furnished, where it is not pleasant to

Oh, mothers, it is worth a great deal to cultivate that "excellent thing in a women," a low sweet voice. If you are ever so much New York Chronicle.

kind.

he would, had he the power, imprison any tuated with too many "ils or ands." man on whose premises a drop of the poison while all this was going on, Gov. Andrew to the non-slaveholders of Tennessee!"

While all this was going on, Gov. Andrew to the non-slaveholders of Tennessee!" done wrong—what odds did it make? I old deacon, who has the faculty to pile up was standing at the window looking through bouldn't see anything wrong about the looks his wood for market, so that seven feet will the panes, upon which he was drumming measure a cord, propose to expel a young with his fingers, at the same time he was grocer from the church because he sold him humming Hail Columbia. He was an attenthirty-one ounces of sugar for two pounds. tive listener to all that was going on. He -It is amusing to hear a member of the had not yet been approached by the Presibreaking; but before I could decide about shurch, who, in youth, sowed his wild oats dent. Presently there was profound silence while circumstances may raise and insuperait, I suddenly lost my senses, and when I by the bushel, propose that the church in- in that small but thoughtful party of distin- ble bar, for the time being, at least. How ome to life again, it was in the hospital, vestigate the circumstances under which guished gentlemen. brother Jones calls on sister Smith so often, thousand by a mere accident in speculation, if I issue my proclamation?" sow whine over the wants of business tact | Silence still more profound prevailed. It sow whine over the wants of business tact. Sience still more profound prevailed. It is seemed as if the fate of the country dependant of the present day.—It is seemed as if the fate of the country dependantly steps. They have no faith in a propolitical conscience is so tough that you can fest destiny trembled in the balance. make no impression upon it with the sharp- Gov. Curtin, drumming on the pancs with est axe of honor that can be found, sigh his fingers as aforosaid turned, faced the whole loaves were at the start willing and with pious horror over the want of princi- President, and with uplifted hands, said : pal in those who oppose his political creed. it is amusing to hear a man who has just | paused. brains enough to believe his wisdom and intelligence is actually needed to help society along, often prate about the weakness of your proclamation, Pennsylvania will furnish women's mind. You can see at once how you a hundred thousand men, in a week. strong his own must be, but cannot help me mad whenever I think of it. I like a wishing he had a little more power of discernment, that would enable him "to see the same and then throwing his arms around himself as others see him."

POPULAR DELUSIONS.—It is not to be woudered at atter all, that Jeff. Davis and his followers have their admirers, even in tion shed tears—they were tears of the loyal States. In the heart of mankind which mingled with those that suffused the their is a leaning to untruth, and a falsehood cheeks of the pririotic Governor of the You receive your pay regularly?" is not believed. Mahomet died as king; Keystone State. The gloom that enshroud-Christ as malefactor. Nor is their a crimi- ed that conclave of men now passed away nal sentenced who has not his admirers. So it is not strange that the arch-conspirator the summer sun; hope revived the drooping expect your employer to hitch up his team pounds. The body of Orestes, son of Ageher before she died. Of course, I went. I should be idelized by some morbid dispossibility joy took the place of sorrow; the every Saturday night and carry you home?" started off in such a hurry that I target my sitions, even white, like Samson, he has Governors sprang to their feet and with one. This seemed a poser but it wasn't hat and coat. For once in my life I thought taken hold of the pillars of our liberties only accord congratulated Mr. Curtin, my luck had changed. I wasn't left by the to hurl down the temple of freedom .-

with that of Iscariot and of Arnold. warned a friend not to "Nicodemus his ment was dry, and thus the yeomen populachild into nothing." Unmindful of this, a tion of the old Keystone of the Federal Arch Should trials with an incessant knock him down, replied the friend. 'Don's knew they would be. The old lady was sacrificed to her patriotism the comfort of her infant child by naming him George D. crans Stanley Berryman Burnside Adams. graced a human orritor. Li petitioned once late me. I'm a poor misfortunate bein', and land be so unfortunate as to learn to write. he will be compelled to sign his name Geo." D. P. J. B. G. O. H. B. S. B. B. Adams. Broad and Prime streets.

Life under such circumstances would be They arrived in Washington so quickly others?

THE WEED OF DISSATISFACTION.—Try day, I beseech you, to preserve yourself in easy and cheerful frame of mind. But dind your heart our life strength. d with a panoply rite: truly you will

When the redichard of rebellion was column and around around at the nation too eithusided. Wing kept the noted at Aiddle Grantaist the amblent of rebellion was column and around around at the nation too eithusided. Wing kept the noted at Aiddle Grantaist the amblent of rebellion and deeds of valor. He is the Richelleus of the grantait of the grantait accommodations to illan and beast. The nation, so to speak with apparently powerless. American Rebellion and a roll of the grantait of the gr and there I got fluiled for everything I did, and much more to be dreaded in, a house nation, so to speak with apparently powerless. Appropriate the constitution of the great and many things I never thought of doing hold. The children catch it and it lasts for for a time. Our big ships of was diad been. That he equivorated had he been to distant waters!! Our arsentles and or an and; had he said; Well I don't know get the hook into my fingers, and drop my doors and windows are once the great appalled. The three hwaters the conspicuous apparently powerless. Appropriate of the great for a time. Our big ships of was diad been. That he equivorated had been for a time. Our big ships of was diad been. The life equivorated had been for a time. Our big ships of was diad been. The life equivorated had been for a time. Our big ships of was diad been. sereaming and scotting; until she has been sent into the country to improve her habits. Children catch cross tones quicker than parrots, and it is a much more mischevious habit. Where mothers set the example you stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution, were plotting to governive with the content of the mations would stitution. will searcely hear a pleasant word among the The country then was impailed in gloom - 1 rate to children in their plays with each other .- President Lincoln had very recently been Andrew Johnston an Abultionist: Yet the discipline in such a family is always weak and irregular. The children expect tion, surrounded, as he was then by a few urday events of the under the order of the surrounded, as he was then by a few urday events of the under the under the urday events of the urday events of the under the the low, firm tone of the mother, or a decision obtain. Treason flaunted its red flag all to clared himself at thorough going amancipaded look of her steady eye in law, never ver Washington at that period. It was then tionist, and urged the immediate and entire think of disobedience either in or out of her that President Lincoln called around him abolition of slavery in Tennessee and else the Governors of the loyal States, to advise where. The Nashville Union gives the fulwith them on the desperate pature of the lowing sketch of his remarks :

ing a proclimation to the people 21

Amusing Things we Meet in man- | hind his back, paced up and down the apartment. The six or seven Governors, who henceforth as Freemen should. The slave It is amusing to hear a grayheaded old formed his auditors, were wrapped in the aristocracy had long held its foot upon their man, who amassed a fortune in his younger mentle of deep meditation. Each expressed necks and exacted heavy tribute from them days by keeping a tippling shop, now say his opinion, but their sentences were punc- even to robbing them of free speech. Lot

What will Peunsylvania do ?" Here he

"Do !" another pause.

"Why, sir, (with emphasis,) if you issue "Give me your hand, Andy," said the President, and as he convulsively grasped him, he ejaculated : I hank God for that no-

The Governor of Pennsylvania telegraph. A Long Name - Sidney Smith once phin, before the ink of the immortal docu- twelve months.

that the red-monthed, bloody minded traitors that surrounded the patriotic President and had Washington within their grasp,

The pext day the famous Massachusetts 6th, and the Washington Brigade of Philadelphia, passed through Baltimore, when a murderous outrage was committed, and the first loyal blood was spiried; then followed of milespels in the end of the by with the

APAGE OF IMPARTIALHISTO: man in the right place. Noble, brave patritink and draw the residual account of patriotish in the boson of President Line when the redichard for reballion was coloured the mail of patriotish in the boson of President Line
When the redichard for reballion was coloured to mailtain the eighthusidade doors and windows are open, and even Poll or relieved of their little; garrisons Alie abrave and trusty propher within its boy Parrot has caught the tune, and delights in small army of 2,500 United States, Regulars, ders—they may likely respond, I suppose—screaming and scolding, until she has been sent South under the contraud of can tany out gless they will—the doen emergency:

They met in the White House. It was a the scales of the statesman should be used a low sweet voice: It you are ever so much tired by the mischevous or witful prinks sort of remature mental Valley Forge. not simply to pure away the exterior and of the little ones speak low. It will be a "Gentlemen," said the President to that leave the roots to propogate the disease a great help to you to even try to be patient little party of patriotic men, the machinery new, but to femore it altogether. Let us and cheerful, if you cannot wholly succeed. of the nation is out of order. We must run destroy the cause of our domestic dissentions Anger makes you wretched, and your chil. it as we find it. Its intelligent wheels, its and this bloody civil war. It is neither dren also. Impatient, angry tones never bid rods, belts, are separated, but the boiler wise nor just to compromise with an evil so the heart good, but plenty of evil. Read what Solomon says of them, and remember work with such skill and ingenuity as we'lly for the removal of slavery: the some the he wrote with an inspired pen. You cannot have the excuse for them that they lighten there is wisdom in council, and better Some inconvenience might and therefore I have called you that we may read most likely would follow, temporarily, but your burdens any—they make them only son together. What shall we do to crush these would be more than compensated by some horses at the Vermont State Fair; retentines heavier. For your own and your out this foul rebellion and preserve the countries given to all our interests; sulted in favor of the horses. The machine children's sake, learn to speak low. They try from wreck? I have made up my mind by the substitution of free for slave labor. will remember that toue when your head is with implicit confidence in an over-ruling He was for immediate emancipation; if he under the willows. So, too, would they re- Providence, to meet all the emergencies that could get it; if this could not be obtained memoer a harsh and angry voice. Which may arise. It is time for work," continued he was for gradual emancipation; but emanlegacy will you leave to your children?— the President. "What shall I do about issucipation at all events. cipation at all events,
"He invoked the people to cast off the sla-

The President with his hands folded be- vish fear which had hitherto scaled their hill a horse can, but it caunot make time lips on this question, and speak and act the era of freedom he henceforth proclaimed

The Best You Can.

Never faint, halt or despair because you. cannot realize your ideal and to do the thing you would. Only do the best you can, and no authoritative judgement shall condemo you. Your will may be equal to your ideal. Mr. Lincoln finally broke the silent spell, ing for opportunities to do other and more innocently forgetting all the while that "it and standing erect in all the pride of a than their circumstances warrent. They distakes a rouge to catch a rogue."—It is amusing to hear a man who made his first ten and said, "Andy, what will Pennsylvania do surely lead to the higher. They have a notion of what is perfect accomplishment, and If they would study the record, they would ready to take any slice they could get. Our true business in life is to make the most of the means and oportunities we have-not to neglect small advantages because we can not have large ones. By cultivating the little, we make it easier to compass the greatest.

> A good story is told of a certain prominent railroad goutleman of this city, who is equally renowned for his ability to make and take a joke. A railroad employee whose home is in Avon, came on Saturday night to ask for a pass down to visit his family. You are in the employ of the railroad "inquired the gentleman alluded to." 'Yes"

'Yes.'.

Well. Now suppose you were working like the morning mist before, the power of for a farmer instead of a railroad, would you his cost weighed 150, and his spear 19

This seemed a poser, but it wash'r Thanks to a loyal people, he is being foiled, ed the fact of the forecoming proclamation and in a few years his name will be classed to the capital of the State, from which it racall him a darmed mean class if he wouldn't giant, is nearly 8 feet high. diated to all parts. It was announced on let me ride." Mr. Employee came out three the newspaper bulletin boards in Philadel minutes afterwards with a pass, good for lady of Kentucky by the name of Adams has were aroused to the wholesome enthusiasm. vehemonce sift thee as whoat, should tribut trouble yourself, said he, I did that myself Two battery companies of Reading and lation with a weight of woes, almost grind immediately. Pottsville, on the receipt of Governor Cur- thee to powder: should pleasure with her Prentice James B: Grunt Orlando H. Rose tius despatch, "called the roll" at once and bewitching smiles solicit thee to delicious the next train bore them to the defence of ruin, yet hold thee fast to God and lean on The little fellow is only five weeks old, and capital of the nation. We well remember Him who is omnipotent. Thou canst not be best cow was choking. He forthwith jumpcannot remonstrate. If he lives to grow up, when those hardy men from the interior, juvolved in such calamitous circumstances ed up to save the life of Brunnie, when Lo! some even in their shirt sleeves, passed or be exposed to such imminent peril but thy through Philadelphia, and took the cars at God whom thou servest is able to deliver pump. thee from one and to support thee under the Latte to Bigod

A Young man in a highly elaborat sermon which he preached while supplying an absent were struck with astonialment upon the giving some new exposition of a pasage: sudden appearance of the batteries. They The critics and commentators do not agree But what use would it be if I did, they wast to other way to get round it. You possession, and compare the day in which never possession, and compare the day in which at once ready for the emergency; the found they did, they did, they did, they did, they didn't I attempted some alight consolation, but they had been deceived. They were with me here." The next morning as he was never recover anything; which is seen at once ready for the emergency; the found they didn't I attempted some alight consolation, but they didn't I attempted some alight consolation, but they didn't they didn't I attempted some alight consolation, but they didn't they had been deceived. They were with me here."

The critics and commentators do not agree thought they had been deceived. They did not agree to see him with me here."

The critics and commentators do not agree thought they had been deceived. They did not agree to see him with me here."

The critics and commentators do not agree thought they had been deceived. They did not agree the day in which they didn't they di woman came to see him with something in Grandmother used to say to grandfuther, her apron. She said her husband had heard It is no use of quarreling, my dear, when we his sermon, and thought it was a very line know we must make it up aguin. one; and as he said "the common taters did . He can hardly be prepared to enter the not agreewith him here, i he had sent him world of spirits who troubles at the thought Home of the best dersey blues Toereis no doubt that, of all the states, the one in which the most earnest heart. Bogause it grows down prayers are offered up for the Union is the state of single blessedness.

Riches hide vice, and poverty conceals vic-Mante I was broken the parties of the

Linder State Sel Bearing the William State

I don't pare die I do. son't In olden time, before Muint liws were In-deaf. Fish, the villinge spainter, was sulso afflicted in the same was in the day they were sitting by themselves in the barroon. Wing was behind the counter, waiting for the nort bustomer while Fish was lounging before the fire with thirsty look, easting sheep's eyes goossions ally at Wing's decembers, and wishing most devoubly that some one would come in and kirdly troat.

A traveller from the south, on his way not

Brandon, stepped in to inquire the distance Going up to the counter, he said : HCqu you tell me how tarit is to Bran-on?"

"Brandy?" says the ready lanlord, jumping up: yes, sir, I have some; and the same time handing down the decanter of the pre-

"You misunderstand me," said the stranger, I asked how far it was to Brandon." "They call it presty good brandy," said Wing. "Will you take sugar in it?" renot-

The despairing traveler turned to Fish and said : "The landlord seems to be deaf; will work tell me how far it is to Brandon? "Thank you," said Fish; 'I don't care if The stranger treated and fled.

A RACE botween a steam carriage and is a curiosity. It cost two thousand dollars, is two horse power, and weighs five hundred pounds. A hodful of coal will make steam enough to propel the carriage "twenty-five miles making the expense of running it less than a cent a mile. It can go up or down any any where but on a straight course.

HUMAN TOIL -The sentence of toil and the pomise of glory had issued from the dame throne. Even our troubles here may make the material of enjoyments above the circumscription of the earth. All are agents in the restorative mercy of the Great Disposer, all turn into discipline. The obstacles to knowledge, of the heart, the thousand roughnesses of the common path of man, are converted into muschlar lorge of the mind. We are but sowing in the winter of bur nature the seed which shall flourish in immertality .- Dr. Croly.

Man goes forth like the day, and strately way arises the roar of busy toil, the sound of human voices, and the rush tumult of active life-the ministrations of woman are like those of the quiet hight, when the down fall upon the drooping leaves and flowers, and in holy stillness the stars come out to watch'tlib tired slumbering earth ... Chapin.

An exchange paper says: "There's noth. ing like nature as developed in feminines; for no sooner does a female juvenile begin to walk and notice things, than it takes after its mother, and wants a baby It is almost ineredible how much of matter and feeling is wasted on rug-babies and equint-eyed Dutch dolls."

FRIENDSHIP .- In every man's life there sooner or later comes a time when the services of a friend are invaluable. And when the want of them works disaster and sometimes ruin. No man, be he high or low. rich or poor, from the monarch to the beggar, can afford to loose a friend; for no greater loss can betall a man to loose, and no greater folly can a man commit than to throw off or neglect one whose friendship he has no reason to doubt.

The bed of Og was 27 feet long and 7 feet broad The height of Goliath was 11 feet; memnon leader of the Grecian expedition against Troy, was Ill feet high, Maxi-"No," said the man, promptly. "I wouldn't mus, a native of Spain, the Roman Emperor, Two friends meeting, one remarked. 'I have just met a man who told me I looked like you.' 'Toll me who it was that I may

A milkman was awakoned by a wag in the night with the announcement that his he found a turnip stuck in the mouth of the

Judy Bralegan having boon requested to open some oysters; after knocking them a. bout for some time, exclaimed, "upon amy conscience, then, but they are mighty hard to peel." .

Death has consigned many a man to fame, when a longer life would have consigned him to infamy.

of encountering a solitary ghost.

Why in a cat's tall like a swan's been ? Why is life the riddle of all riddles? - De course werioust all give it upon the government

Better bure wash happy than despense