

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO, Friday, Dec. 11, 1863.

Forever fast that standard sheet? Whose treadles the for both hills before us. With Freedom's soil beneath our feet, And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Cult and Soil.—We would esteem ourselves highly favored, if all patrons in arrears for subscription, jobbing and advertising, would call and settle their accounts on or before the 1st of January next. We have to pay cash for wood, coal, beef, pork, etc., and in addition have a heavy paper bill to pay soon. Prompt paying patrons will of course excuse this notice. It is not intended for them.

Proclamation of the President. EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, Dec. 7, 1863.

Reliable information being received that the insurgent force is retreating from East Tennessee, under circumstances rendering it probable that the Union forces cannot hereafter be dislodged from that important position; and esteeming this to be of high National consequence, I recommend that all loyal people do, on the receipt of this, informally assemble at their respective places of worship, and render special homage and gratitude to Almighty God for this great advancement of the National cause.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The Proclamation of the President.—The deliverance of East Tennessee is indeed of national importance, and the President fittingly calls upon all loyal people to offer special gratitude to God for this great result of our military triumphs in the West.—To drive the rebellion from East Tennessee, is to drive it from its centre and strong hold; to hold that key to the whole South is to threaten it with speedy destruction.—We rejoice that the great news received from Gen. Foster has justified this brief but earnest proclamation. To have issued it immediately after the victory at Chattanooga might have been deemed premature, but there is now no question that the enemy has been driven from Tennessee under circumstances which make it impossible that he should again invade that State. General Longstreet, ruined by the defeat of Bragg, is exerting every energy to escape with his army, and cannot succeed without loss and humiliation. General Foster, having had the active co-operation of General Sherman, whose cavalry, at least, is in time to aid in the victory. Thus the great army, which so lately drove the Army of the Cumberland from the soil of Georgia, is now broken and dismayed, seeking safety in ignominious flight, and leaving the prize for which it contended absolutely and forever in the control of the Union. There will never be another battle at Chattanooga. The loyal men of Tennessee will never again tremble before the invasion of their foes. The threat of Jefferson Davis, that he would recover Tennessee if it required every man in the South, is proved an empty boast. A victory has been won which must lead to greater victory, and the President has been quick to see its vast importance. His hastily-written proclamation is evidently the inspiration of a profound gratitude and joy, and we trust that all its readers will profit by its wise suggestions, and give their earnest thanks to God, who seems in these latter days to have transformed the fiery angel of war into an angel of victorious light, whose very sword is wreathed with laurel, and points to skies luminous with the beauty of peace.—Freem.

Public Sale.—A desirable small property will be found advertised in another column by John Wisbart, agent for the heirs of Geo. Augustine, dec'd.

Another Supply.—We observe that our friend BEAVER of the "Variety Store" has just received another supply of new Goods. Give him a call.

Mr. Edward M'Pherson, late M. C. from this district, was on Tuesday chosen Clerk of the National House of Representatives, receiving 101 votes to 69 for Hon. Emerson Edwards.

A Big Copperhead Destroyed.—Ex Governor PAUL of Maryland, was recently seen within the rebel lines to be dealt with as an epic in cases that should return during the war.

Trustees Sale.—We direct attention to the sale of valuable Real Estate, advertised in another column, by Martin Heintzelman, Administrator of John Gilbert, J. C. dec'd, sold a house and lot of ground on Cherry Street, opposite the Union Church, for the sum of $1915. Purchaser, Wm. Logie.

There is no end to the troubles reported in order to smuggle whisky through the lines to the soldiers. Eggs have been filled with r. whisky and shipped in barrels. The barrels, along with the excise duties, have been imported into camp by female carriers. But now a certain enterprising woman has reached the limits of ingenuity, and has contrived to get the soldiers' accounts, and to have these the soldiers' quasi-captains' draughts. It must seem like "coming back to first principles."

Since the Rebel Gen. Bragg was defeated by Gen. Grant, there has been a terrible out-cry against him throughout the South, and the consequence has been that he has been superseded by Gen. Hardee, who is working night and main to put his army on the offensive. Terror reigns in Northern Georgia, owing to a marvellous impression of men into the Rebel army.

The proposition offered by Gov. Curtin to help volunteering, by allowing townships which furnish their quota to be exempted from further draft, has been accepted by the War Department.

Official returns from all the counties in Wisconsin, of the recent State election, give Lewis (Union candidate for Governor), 70,661, and Palmer (Democrat), 54,501, leaving the Union majority 16,160. The increase on the home vote over two years ago is 26,104.

President's Message.—The President's Message was to have been delivered to Congress on Tuesday at noon. We expect to give the important document in our next issue.

Recruiting Agent.—Col. E. S. BROCK, of this place, has been appointed by the Provost Marshal, Recruiting Agent for the 16th Congressional District, and is now receiving recruits. He will give every information desired by parties wishing to volunteer.

The Union State Central Committee of California suggests Gettysburg as the place of holding the next National Convention.

The Methodists of Philadelphia, on Thanksgiving day, presented the Rev. Bishop Simpson with a well furnished residence.

THE NATIONAL BANK NOTES.—It is settled that the new National Bank notes will not be dispensed with red or bronze letters, but will be printed directly from the plates of the American and Continental Bank Note Companies' Bank. The first impressions will probably be ready in ten days, and the notes will then be furnished rapidly.

LOSS OF CATTLE IN CALIFORNIA.—The losses of cattle by starvation in the southern counties of the State of California, on account of the unusually dry season, are estimated at over fifteen thousand, and many more were killed to save their hides and tallow. The recent rains have started vegetation to such an extent that the stock, it is thought, may commence to recuperate.

INCREASE OF CERTAIN TAXES.—The commissioner of internal revenue, it is said, will recommend in his report an increase in the tax on whiskey from twenty to sixty cents per gallon; in that on tobacco from seven to fifty to one hundred per cent. The tax to be mainly levied on the article in leaf, and in that on domestic wines of exactly a hundred per cent.

A little boy in South Woodstock, Conn., while trying to cut a pumpkin with an ax, to quiet a cow which his father was milking, accidentally cut off the arm of a tiny brother, who was trying to hold the pumpkin so it should not roll over.

DEPARTMENT OF THE MISSISSIPPI. The Proceedings of Longstreet's Army.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 o'clock P. M.—The full official despatch from the Army of the Mississippi, which was received at the War Department, is published in our issue of today.

TAKESVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 7, 1863. Major General H. W. Halleck, General-in-Chief, Longstreet is in full retreat up the valley. Your orders about following with cavalry shall be carried out. My division of cavalry attacked the enemy's cavalry in one of the passes of the Clinch Mountains yesterday afternoon, and are pushing them vigorously. Counters from Knoxville arrived last night. The road is clear.

General Sherman arrived there yesterday.

General FOSTER, Major General.

NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS.

CHATTANOOGA, Dec. 7.—General Sherman's cavalry arrived at Knoxville on the evening of the 3d inst., and Longstreet raised the siege of the night of the 4th, retreating toward Bristol via the Morristown railroad to Richmond, and south from Bristol. His retreat was made both on the north and south banks of the Holston river. Foster's cavalry following on the south and Sherman's on the north.

Fighting of a Negro Regiment.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The following despatch from an official source, and confirms the intelligence transmitted yesterday: LOUISVILLE, Dec. 7.—The news from East Tennessee is really glorious. Longstreet has abandoned the siege of Knoxville, and is getting himself into Virginia as fast as possible. Our cavalry are said to be in close pursuit of the rebels. A large batch of prisoners was captured yesterday at Clinch river. General Sherman has arrived at Knoxville.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—A special despatch from Chattanooga, dated the 7th inst., says: "Hardee is slowly falling back from Dalton with Bragg's whipped men."

"The mountains of East Tennessee are filled with rebel deserters and stragglers."

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—[Special despatches received here do not add many details to the accounts of the Associated Press of Calmer's fight with the Federals, under Col. Hatch. Calmer's force was about 4,000.—They made a desperate attack on Wolf-ridge, near Moscow, on Thursday last.—Each was repulsed with heavy loss. The rebels captured two negro pickets of the 2d Tennessee Regiment, whom they hung. The negroes retorted by throwing the rebel wounded into the river, dragging them with ropes about their necks, and refusing to touch them with their hands. The fight lasted four hours.

ARKANSAS. UNION MEETINGS.

A Union Convention.

MEMPHIS, Dec. 3.—The Little Rock Democrat, of the 4th ultimo, says: "A successful scout, under Colonel Caldwell, into the mountain counties west of Arkadelphia, has just returned to Benton. Several hundred Union men came into our lines with Caldwell."

The Union men are working hard for the restoration of their rights under the old Government, and people from the country are daily coming in to take the oath of allegiance and enrolling themselves into companies for home defence.

Recruiting for the United States service is also quite active in various parts of the State.

Unconditional Union men, representing twenty counties of Western Arkansas, held a Convention at Fort Smith, Arkansas, on the 30th ultimo, at which patriotic speeches were made and resolutions passed.

Colonel Johnston, of the 1st Arkansas infantry, was renominated to represent that district at the next Federal Congress election, which occurred on the 23d of November, and Col. Johnston was elected.

The Convention also voted that Arkansas be declared a free State after the war.

Owing to numerous guerilla attacks on steamers, Adjutant General Thomas issued orders to furnish all the boats in the Mississippi river, with arms and ammunition to protect themselves.

It is also believed that he has been reinforced by a portion of Longstreet's Corps from East Tennessee.

Save our terms, we can accept no peace whatever, and must fight till doomed rather than yield an iota of them; and our terms are:

Recognition by the enemy of the independence of the Confederate States.

Withdrawal of the Yankee forces from every foot of Confederate ground, including Kentucky and Missouri.

Withdrawal of the Yankee soldiers from Maryland, until that State shall decide by a free vote whether she shall remain in the old Union or seek admission into the Confederacy.

Another gentle little flower

Has lowly drooped its head—

We miss it from our little bowler

'Tis withered, pale and dead.

The freezing cold of winter's snow

Was more than it could bear.

The little bud was forced to go,

But not without our pray'.

Oh! that we could call back again—

That pale and withered flower.

To ease our broken hearts of pain

And grieve our little bowler.

Ah, no, we would not call it down

From that bright world above,

'Where safe from life's dark, wintry frown

It lives in endless love.

The Storming of Missionary Ridge. The storming of the Ridge, in the great battle before Chattanooga, on the 23th, is thus described by an officer in a report to the War Department: "The storming of the Ridge by our troops was one of the greatest miracles in military history. No man who climbs the ascent by any of the roads that wind along its front, can believe that sixteen thousand men were moved upon its broken and crumbling face, unless it was his fortune to witness the deed. It seems as wondrous a visible interposition of God. Neither Gen. Grant nor Thomas intended it. Their orders were to carry the ridge-pits along the base of the ridge and out of their occupants, but when this was accomplished the unaccountable spirit of the troops bore them bodily up the impracticable slopes, over the bristling ridge-pits on the crest, and the thirty cannon snuffing every gully.

The Supplies for Union Prisoners. FORTRESS MONROE, Dec. 6.—Dr. Charles P. Wright, of Ohio, captured at Chickamauga September 20th, has just arrived from Libby Prison, by flag of truce. The Doctor states that the articles of provisions, clothing, etc., sent to Union prisoners at Richmond from their Northern friends and associations have been received by them except in a few cases. The Doctor was requested by our officers now in Libby to convey to their friends at home an injunction as to the necessity of confining themselves to sending forward staple articles, instead of luxuries, as the Confederate mode of transportation are now taxed to their utmost extremity.
