Obituary.—We charge our regular advertising rates for obituary notices exceeding five lines. Preaching.—Rev. ALFRED BURMAN will preach in the Union Church, in this place, Sunday morning the 13th inst. and at Jacobs church at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Union Meeting.—We have been requested to announce that a Township Meeting will be held in the Town Hall, on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock, P. M. to nominate a Ticket to be supported at the coming Spring Election.

Public Sales.—Several sales of valuable property will be found in our advertising columns to-day, to which we invite attention.

Jobbing, etc.—A pressure of jobbing and advertising still continues, and we are consequently not enabled to devote as much space to reading matter as we would like to do, nor give the paper the attention which it demands; but the season is so far advanced that we expect to be relieved in this respect soon and will endeavor to make at least some amends for the past.

Cash Receipts.—Our receipt lists were creditable during the last month, and have tended greatly to relieve us from pecuniary embarrassments. Whilst we return special thanks to these prompt-paying patrons we must remind others who are yet in arrears that we have several hundred dollars to make up during this month, and that their presence with the "collateral" before the first of April is particularly desired.

A Compliment.—The Valley Spirit faults us for having too much to say about the "copperheads." This is what every loyal man would expect of that sheet. It is true to its copperhead instincts being the apologist of traitors generally, (Vandanhams included,) even volunteering defence in behalf of such men as pronounce Jeff Davis' constitution "just the same as ours." Altogether, we regard the little notice of our cotemporary as complimentary, and hope he will continue to pay us his respects.

The Pilot man should claim damages. Maryland Legislature.—Last week a bill passed the Maryland House of Representatives by a vote of 39 yeas to 14 nays, punishing any person convicted of selling liquor on Sunday by imprisonment in jail for a period of not less than 30 days nor more than 6 months, and by a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $100 at the discretion of the court, for the first offense, and on conviction for the second offense, revoking the license of the party so offending, imprisoning him for not less than 60 days nor more than 6 months, and finding him not less than $50 nor more than $100.

The Weather.—The mild Spring-like weather which we experienced recently, suddenly changed on Monday, and during a part of Monday night, Tuesday and Tuesday night snow continued to fall, covering the ground to a sufficient depth to afford sleighing, but at the time of writing the weather has moderated and the snow is rapidly disappearing.

Of the one hundred and nine Union officers who escaped from the Libby prison, Richmond, fifty-two have arrived at Fortress Monroe. The German Reformed congregation of Gettysburg have extended a call to the Rev. Mr. Deatrick of Fayetteville, to become their pastor. On Saturday, Feb. 27, the wife of Gen. Harrison J. Hunt, North Head yesterday.

The War.—Occasional of the Philadelphia Press, says, three years ago the rebellion was only preparing to look at the throat and drink of the heart's blood of the nation. To-day it is prepared to make its last and most desperate effort. Its remaining energies and resources are to be put forth. In all probability, the greatest battles of the war will be fought within the thirty-one days that begin to-day. Never was the military situation more interesting and extensive. Great armies are standing face to face in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, &c. Mighty fleets hold the long line of the seceding coast, or ride in the great rivers, bays, roadsteads, and harbors of the South. Such is the prospect before the astonished nations of the earth. The issue will be a sanguinary issue, but it cannot be a doubtful one. The rebels have gathered all their material for the conflict, and their troops condition is shown in the fact, that while they swear never to surrender or yield their cries for food, raiment, ammunition, and men, are like the wail of fallen angels hurrying with resistless momentum to their inevitable doom. Behind them are a great people, fresh, invigorated, and sternly resolved to save the Government. Before them and close to their ragged but fanatic battalions, are their desolated firesides, depopulated towns, and scorched plantations, the work of their own traitor-chiefs, who have taken everything to feed and fill the armies of slavery. This is the near future. It does not appal the friends of the Government. In the loyal States the very imminence of fast-moving hostilities has stirred the hearts of the people to their profoundest depths. Thousands are re-entering the army. Millions are being subscribed to increase the comfort of their families, to cure the sick, heal the wounded, and provide for the families of the dead. No voice comes from this noble people but the voice of Hope, Perseverance, and awful Resolve. And may God decide for us in this the most critical period of the war!

The Horrors of Libby Prison.—The editor of the Richmond Enquirer with unusual boldness has ventured to express in print his opinion of that charnel-house, and to describe what he saw within its walls, while on a visit of curiosity to see the incarcerated "Yankees." He says "The Libby takes in the captured Federals by scores but lets none out; they are huddled up and jammed into every nook and corner; and at night the floor of every room they occupy is covered, every square inch of it, by uneasy slumberers, lying side by side and heel to head, as tightly packed as if the prison were a huge impenetrable box of nocturnal sardines. It is truly surprising that some pestilence has not been the result of this herding together of human beings who are constantly breathing the same impure air, and who are allowed no outdoor exercise. If it should become necessary to reduce their diet to cold corn bread, they will not have strength enough in them even to masticate it." What an exposure is this of rebel cruelty, says the Miltonian.—What a commentary upon the boasted chivalry and hospitality of the South. Thousands of brave heroes, many of them suffering from the effects of honorable wounds or of continued sickness, are confined in such a circumscribed space that their appearance after nightfall, when their eyelids are closed, and their minds are relieved of the agony with which during the day they are afflicted, reminds the facetious editor of a box of sardines; and yet the days pass by, and the brutal captors, gloating over the suffering and pain they are inflicting, take no step to remedy the evil.

It has hitherto been the policy of the traitors to deny the oft-repeated statements of cruelty practised and suffering endured by the report of the editor of the Enquirer, proves conclusively how false have been those denials, and how horrible the wretchedness and misery which have been the lot of the patriots and heroes in the Richmond prisons.

The War News.—The news from Florida, Georgia, and Mississippi is of an exciting character, but the reports are so varied that it is difficult to arrive at anything like a reliable conclusion. Unofficial statements from Florida, report that on the afternoon of the 20th ult., the Union troops, under Gen. Seymour, met the Rebels, 15,000 strong, fifty-five miles beyond Jacksonville, and eight miles beyond Sanderson, on the line of the Jacksonville and Tallahassee railroad. The battle was desperately fought during three hours, and at sunset the Union forces, overpowered by numbers, retired to Sanderson, taking with them the greater part of the wounded. The Union loss is variously estimated at from 1,200 to 1,500, killed, wounded and missing, including several officers.—About 800 of the wounded had been brought to Hilton Head. The loss of the Rebels is not known. Gen. Seymour, who commanded the Union expedition, it is reported, has been placed under arrest by order of Gen. Gilmore.

Resignation.—Rev. Dr. Schmecker, for over thirty years a Professor of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., has announced his intention to resign his position in August next.

A gentleman fairly arrived at New York with $15,000 in Southern money, which he bought of a reb for five dollars; and of 198 years.

Murder.—A young man about 18 years of age was found dead in a lime-kiln, on the place of Mr. Guppy, about three miles south of Chambersburg, on Wednesday morning last. The body was found by some boys, and an examination clearly showed that he had been brutally murdered. His trunk was out, and there were several stabs in the neck. He had been seen in company with a negro, and suspicion attaches to the negro as the murderer. Both the murdered man and the negro were entire strangers in this neighborhood, and the inquest failed to identify the body of the victim. He was probably a deporter who had received bounty. His remains were interred in the Poor-House burial ground. The negro suspected of the murder went through Greenastle the next day, and exhibited a considerable amount of money and it is said that he showed a knife with a bloody blade, which he explained by saying he had killed a dog. He doubtless went into Virginia. The inquest found that the man had been murdered by the negro.—Repository.

The Lieutenant Generalship.—The President has issued the commission of Lieutenant General to Ulysses S. Grant, of Illinois. Representative Washburn has been dispatched to Chattanooga, bearing the commission in person to General Grant, who thus holds the only such position ever conferred on any person in this country except George Washington. General Scott's rank of Lieutenant General being merely that of brevet. The new law is so worded that the Lieutenant General is only ex-officio commander in chief of all the armies, and therefore it does not disturb Gen. Halleck unless the President requests him to retire.

Army of the Potomac.—The Tribune's Washington letter of the 29th states that the latest information from the army is up to 10 o'clock on Monday morning. No battle had occurred between the opposing infantry forces. There was some skirmishing on the right on Sunday, but nothing of any account. It is evident that Lee does not intend to fight unless compelled by Meade to do so. Stirring news may be expected soon.

Arrival of Union Prisoners, at Washington. WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The Navy Department has received the following report from Commodore Parker: U. S. Steamer Ella, WASHINGTON, Feb. 29, 1864. SIR: I have the honor to inform the Department that I arrived here to-day, with Col. A. D. Straight, of the 51st Indiana Volunteers; Major B. B. McDonald, of the 101st Ohio Volunteers; Capt. W. W. Scarce, of the 51st Indiana Volunteers, and First Lieut. John Sterling, of the 30th Indiana Volunteers, who made their escape from Libby prison, Richmond, on the 9th instant, and reached Blackstone's island, Potomac, where I found them yesterday. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, FOXHALL A. PARKER, Commanding Potomac Flotilla.

To Hon. GIBSON WELLES, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D. C. A letter from the Army of the Potomac says that First Lieutenant Scadamore, one of those that escaped from the Libby Prison with Colonel Straight and party, came into our lines last night, having been on the way nineteen days. He had intended to proceed by the way of Gordonsville towards the Ohio river, thinking his chances of getting away in that direction better than by the Peninsula, as he felt certain of being captured if he had gone in the latter direction.—After travelling thirty-five miles, his knees failed him, and he was forced to lie in a mud-hole, as he terms it, for nine days, a negro taking care of him and becoming his companion when he resumed his journey. At another time he had to lie concealed three days, but finally reached the Rapidan on Saturday night, which river he crossed, passing the pickets within a few paces.

Lieut. Scadamore says he saw no troops near Richmond, nor did he find any white adult male inhabitants on his route through the country. There were none but women, children, and negroes. He represents Gen. Lee's army as being pretty strong, but no signs of activity were visible. He was captured near Rome, Georgia, and has been ten months in the Libby Prison.

A LUTHERAN MINISTER A PRISONER.—We regret to learn that our friend, Rev. Mr. Dosh, pastor of the Lutheran church of Winchester, has got into a little trouble by not observing the military regulations along the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.—On last Sabbath Mr. Dosh had an appointment to preach in Shepherdstown. It was necessary to pass through the lines of the Union army. Neglecting to procure a pass, he with several friends, came on Saturday from Winchester to Shepherdstown, and on Monday morning they were arrested as spies. They have been kept at Harper's Ferry since as prisoners. They had forgotten the order of Gen. Kelly, that all persons coming through the lines without a pass would be treated as spies. Through the influence of his friends it is thought they will be sent back to Winchester in a day or two.—Balt. Lutheran Observer.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN PRINTER.—Mr. Austin B. Williams, a widely known and highly-respected printer of New York, died suddenly Sunday morning. Mr. Williams' personal appearance,—being, perhaps, the largest and heaviest man since the days of Mr. Holt, in that city, weighing some 420 pounds, and requiring no less than seventeen yards of broadcloth to complete his exterior outfit,—made him an object of especial and peculiar interest to all associated with him. He was native of Exeter, N. H., and in the 31st year of his age. About a week since he was seized with an attack of apoplexy, and lingered until Sunday morning.

Hannah Kelley, an old colored woman residing in Washington county, Pennsylvania, and believed to be the last slave in this State died a short time since at the advanced age of 198 years.

REBEL NEWS.

Business Monitor, Feb. 29.—The flag of peace had arrived this evening, from City Point. The Richmond Sentinel, of the 16th contains the following: "CHAMBERSBURG, Feb. 25.—140 shells have been fired at the city during the past twenty-four hours. The enemy have erected a battery on Dixon's Island, commanding Schooner creek." The Enquirer, of the 29th, says: "CHAMBERSBURG, Feb. 27.—A Yankee picket-boat containing one officer and five men, was captured last night. The enemy continue to shell the city.—About 1,000 shells were thrown in yesterday."

"SANDERSON VIA TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 26.—Gen Flinnegan's forces occupy Baldwin. The enemy have retreated to Jacksonville. Lieut. Opl. Barron, of the 4th Georgia Regiment, was killed; Col. Ulrich is wounded. "STARKVILLE, Miss., Feb. 22.—Heavy fighting all day yesterday, at Pontiac; killing forty, and capturing over 100 of the enemy. Our loss is not known. Col. Forrest is killed. Colonel Barksdale and McLaughlin are badly wounded. The battle closed by a charge from the enemy's cavalry, which was repulsed."

ATLANTA, Feb. 26.—The Yankees have left Pontiac. We have lost many officers and men. Sherman's advance has reached Pearl River. DALTON, Ga. Feb. 26.—Enemy have disappeared in our front, retreating toward Chattanooga, with Wheeler in pursuit. Gen. Longstreet has withdrawn his forces to a point not prudent to mention. The enemy have not yet crossed the Holston river.—Gen. Ducknot is assigned to command Hood's division.

GREENVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 27.—General Jones captured 250 of the enemy and 13 negroes, five miles east of Cumberland Gap.—Two Yankee mounted regiments, supported by a division of infantry, attempted to flank our left and occupied the gap three miles from Dalton, on the night of the 25th.—Smith's Texas brigade drove them out. Our loss is 150 wounded, including Col. Curtis, of the 41st Georgia.

TENNESSEE, Feb. 26.—The enemy fell back two miles, and will not probably make a stand this side of Chickamauga.—All signs of a general engagement have failed. Gov. Brown, of Georgia, has issued a proclamation convening the Legislature for a special session on the 10th of March.

THE WAR IN EAST TENNESSEE. Hasty Retreat of Longstreet. LOUISVILLE, Feb. 29.—Information received from Cumberland Gap, and deemed of a reliable character, says that our forces have reached Morristown, Tennessee. Major Berry, of the 11th Tennessee Cavalry, who has arrived from the vicinity of Rogersville, reports that Longstreet's forces are going East in double-quick time on each side of the Holston river.

War in the Southwest. CINCINNATI, March 1.—It is reported that the army of General Thomas has advanced on the enemy at Dalton, from Tunnel Hill. It is stated in special despatches, received here, that General Thomas has been reinforced by considerable numbers of men. If this be correct a severe engagement will inevitably take place very soon.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—The retreat of the rebel Longstreet's force, in East Tennessee, is a mystery. Accounts from Knoxville express anxiety to know whether he has gone towards Lee or towards Johnston. Report says he will join Lee.

CORN IN MISSISSIPPI.—We learn from a gentleman just from Natchez, Mississippi, that corn is very plenty in that vicinity, at ten cents per bushel, in the field. The crop averages from forty to sixty bushels per acre, and has not been gathered for want of help, nearly all the able-bodied negroes having joined the Union army. This corn is now being gathered by Northern men, and several lots have already been shipped to St. Louis.—Cincinnati Times.

Leo's army is stated to have been on half rations for several weeks past; and so determined were some of the regiments lately to make a raid on Pennsylvania, that Lee, in order to hinder this untoward conduct, sent to Richmond and got supplies of coffee and sugar which satisfied his men for the time being.

A woman at Johnston, N. Y., foretold the time of her decease, made all preparations for that event, did a day's work at washing and baking, took her clothes and hung them away, saying she should never need them again, and next morning was found dead in her bed.

THE ALTAR. In McConnellsburg at the Fulton House, on the 25th ult., by the Rev. C. F. Hoff, Minister, Mr. SAMUEL S. GIPE, to Miss LYDIA J. FISHER, both of Geonostle, this county.

THE TOMB. DIED.—Near Greenastle, February 26th, 1864, JOHN, son of Mr. John Esleman Sr., aged 21 years and 3 months.

NEAR GREENASTLE, February 27th, 1864, GEORGE, son of Mr. Jacob Leshor, in the 8th year of his age.

On the 24th ult., near Mt. Hope, Pa. of Lung Fever, SUSANNA BECKER, consort of Daniel Becker, deceased 74 years, 10 months and 3 days.

My friends: I bid you all adieu.

Call on earth no more see you! But on heaven's flowers plain. I'll go to meet you all again. Farewell dear friends, and children too. An angel home will look for you. Walk on the path which leads to God. It is the path which leads to God. Farewell dear friends, and children too. An angel home will look for you. But will our lives in this world pass? For they are free from you and pain. Darest mother, though I'm left, Through thy loss we deeply feel; Yet we know, that thou art happy, Which will all our sorrows heal. Thy days dear mother, on earth are ended, And thou hast now reached thy home; And joined the heavenly happy numbers, To worship with them round the throne. My mother, thy days on earth are ended, And all your troubles now are o'er; We trust, we all will meet in heaven, That land, where parting is no more. D. R. B.

On the 6th ult., at the same place, EMMA REBECCA ROOK, daughter of David and Christiana Rook, of Spotted Fever, aged 10 years, 10 months and 6 days. Your days on earth are ended, You troubles all are o'er; We trust we all will meet again, Where parting is no more. D. R. B.
