

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO.

Friday, March 3, 1865.

PUBLIC SALES.

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Lists names like B. E. Price, March 1, and John Bonebrake, March 1, with corresponding amounts.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—The crowded state of our advertising columns this week affords us but a limited space for news matter. We expect to do better, however, ere long.

PUBLIC SALES.—Among the new advertisements in this issue will be found eleven public sales, to which we invite the reader's special attention.

UNION MEETING.—We are requested to announce that a Township Meeting will be held in the Town Hall, on Saturday the 11th inst., 2 o'clock, P. M., to nominate a ticket to be supported at the coming spring election, which, we believe, occurs on the 17th inst.

A GRADUATE.—We learn that our young friend, Henry X. Bonebrake, of this place, graduated on the 25th ult. at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York city. The Dr. is a clever young man and has been a most attentive student. We wish him success in the profession of his choice.

PROPERTY SOLD.—On Saturday last the house and lot of Jacob Wolfe, on Main Street, was sold by Wm. Adams, auctioneer, to Francis Bowden, for the sum of $2000. On Monday Mr. Adams also sold the brick house and lot of ground on Mechanic Street, the property of Joseph Funk, dec'd, to the widow, Mrs. Cecelia Funk, for the sum of $1700.

THE NEWS.—The news of the draft for our Borough and Township was received here on Monday evening, and for a time created considerable commotion. Of course those who escaped were jubilant, whilst some at least of those "conscripted" gave unmistakable evidence of sore disappointment. From the published list in another column it will be seen that the reader's humble servant (notwithstanding the prayers of certain copperheads) will be permitted to publish the Record as usual, at least until another draft is made.

Congress will adjourn to-morrow morning, March 4th, and Abraham Lincoln will at 12 o'clock be inaugurated for a second term of four years as President of the United States. President Lincoln is the only President re-elected since Andrew Jackson, who was re-elected in 1832. The writer of this recollects with what anxiety he and thousands of others witnessed the inauguration four years ago. Treason was rampant on all sides, and traitors jeered and ridiculed the whole ceremony as a farce, and the last that would take place at Washington. But four years of war and blood have taught traitors to know that the Union cannot be destroyed. What a theme for reflection a review of the past four years opens up. But we do not mean to enter on any review of the past. This every reader can do for himself, and he cannot fail to feel that he has lived in the most important age of the world's history.

REAL ESTATE SOLD.—Geo. Fourthman has disposed of his farm near this borough, containing 43 acres to Alex. Hamilton for the sum of $5,500.

$140 FOR A COW.—At the sale of Daniel Seuger, near this place, on Friday last, his cow was sold for the sum of $140. Purchaser, Henry Bonebrake. Her calf, eight months old, brought $24.

The subscription to the 7-30 loan on Thursday last, amounted to six and one-quarter millions of dollars. A very substantial evidence of the faith of our people in the Government.

RE-CAPTURED.—From letters received in this place from Salisbury, N. C., we learn that Thos. H. McDowell, J. Porter Brown and George Cauffman, three of our citizens prisoners who escaped from the rebel prison in that place a short time ago, were recaptured by North Carolina militia near Newborn, within five hours march of the Union lines, after having traveled over three hundred miles, and taken back to the prison from which they escaped. The rebel authorities endeavored to make them promise they would not attempt it again, but without effect.—Repository.

The constitutional amendment abolishing and forever prohibiting slavery throughout the country was on Tuesday adopted by the Legislature of Wisconsin. Seventeen States have now ratified it.

Col. Wm. S. Fish, formerly provost marshal of Baltimore, who was sentenced last April to be cashiered, forfeit all pay and allowances, pay a fine of $5,000, and be imprisoned in the Albany penitentiary until the fine should be paid, has been pardoned by the President.

PAY UP.—See advertisement of C. Raths.

Capture of Gens. Crook and Kelley. Brigadier General Stevenson has been appointed temporary commander at Cumberland, in the absence of General Crook. A member of the West Virginia Legislature, who was in Cumberland when Gens. Crook and Kelley were captured, has furnished the following additional particulars: He states that it was about one o'clock on Tuesday morning when the rebels entered the city. They came in very quietly, without firing a gun, and halted in front of the Revere and St. Nicholas hotels, which stand close together upon the same street. The rebels, without appearing to have made a single inquiry of any one, made straightway to the rooms of Generals Crook and Kelley, about half of the gang remaining upon their horses in the street. The door of General Crook's room at the Revere House was not locked, and the rebels entered so quietly and took possession of his body so stealthily that those who occupied adjoining rooms knew nothing of the capture until it was all over. The same quiet and caution were observed in the capture of General Kelley and Captain Melvin, who occupied adjoining rooms at the St. Nicholas. It is supposed that the first intimation the officers had of the presence of a foe was the gentle nudges of the Johnnies signifying to the sleeping gentlemen that they were desired to get up. Horses had been provided for the Generals, and they were thrown astraddle of the cavalry saddles with great haste and without much ceremony, and moved away to a place of concealment. The rebels remained in the city only about twenty-five minutes, during which time a squad of the gang kicked over the tables and instruments in the telegraph office, and seized the operator. They destroyed none of the papers at headquarters, and made no attempt to capture any officers or men except those named. The rebels were dressed in the uniform of the United States soldiers. The sudden appearance of the rebels at such an hour, and their bold and confident way of doing things, put everything in confusion and they had secured their prisoners and were galloping away before the officers remaining behind had time to think about what was necessary to be done. After the departure of the rebels, however, a piece of artillery was fired off to alarm the sleeping people, but it was nearly two hours before our cavalry were fairly started in pursuit. Some of the gang said they belonged to Gilmore's command, others that they were Rosser's men, and others that they were commanded by McNeil.

Lee on the Capture of Gens. Crook and Kelley. "The following interesting official despatch was received at the War Department last night:

"HEADQUARTERS, Feb. 24, 1865. "Hon. J. C. Breckinridge, Secretary of War: General Early reports that Lieutenant McNeill, with thirty men, on the morning of the 21st, entered Cumberland, and captured and brought out Generals Crook and Kelley from the Adjutant General's Department, two privates, and the headquarters flag, without firing a gun, though a considerable force is stationed in the vicinity. Lieutenant McNeill and party deserves much credit for this bold exploit. Their prisoners will reach Staunton to-day. "R. E. LEE. "The following despatch was received yesterday: "HARRISBURG, Feb. 24.—Major Generals B. F. Kelly, George Crook, and Major Thayer Melvin, of General Crook's staff, are here, on their way for Richmond."

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC. THE VICTORY AT WILMINGTON. A SHOTTED SALUTE FIRED.

CITY POINT, Va., Feb. 25, 1865.—In honor of the evacuation of Wilmington, intelligence of which reached General Grant's headquarters yesterday morning, a shotted salute was fired along the whole line at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. The rebel works responded pretty vigorously, but the casualties were very light.

Deserters report that the evacuation of Petersburg is a subject freely discussed in the rebel army, and its necessity is as freely admitted. The fall of Wilmington expedited the matter materially. It is the opinion of competent authorities that in less than a week's time Petersburg will be ours. This is not a mere speculation, but an inevitable and logical deduction from the present military situation. Unless Sherman can be driven back, the rebellion will be girdled with our armies, and Virginia will be the only fighting ground remaining to Lee. The rebel fort opposite Fort Hell kept up a brisk and heavy fire on our works yesterday afternoon, but with little or no effect, so well protected were our men by the bomb-proofs.

The sutlers, who were thrown into an ecstasy of delight by the arrival of a dozen paymasters day before yesterday, are considerably exercised in spirit because they have been temporarily deprived of transportation for their goods over the City Point Railroad. The Government was in full monopoly of the road yesterday, and nothing but military supplies were forwarded.

Grant's Army Under Marching Orders. A Heavy Engagement Expected. NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The Commercial has a letter from Hatcher's Run, dated the 25th instant, which states that our army is under marching orders, to be ready to move at a moment's notice, and that a heavy engagement is expected for the possession of the South Side railroad.

NOW AND THEN.—When four years ago Fort Sumpter was compelled to succumb to the South Carolina insurgents, Governor Pickens—who once boasted that he was insensible to fear—delivered a congratulatory address to the Charlestonians, in which he said: "We have humbled the flag of the United States, and so long as I have the honor to reside as your Chief Magistrate, so help me God, there is no power on earth that shall lower from that fortress those flags, unless they be lowered and trailed in a sea of blood."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—A letter from the Army of the Potomac says that deserters report the continued arrival of fresh troops from Beauregard to Lee, and that both the Union and rebel armies are extremely wary and watchful.

WILMINGTON.

Admiral Porter's Official Report.

CAPE FEAR RIVER. U. S. FLAG-SHIP MALVERN, Feb. 22, 1865. SIR: I have the honor to inform you that Wilmington has been evacuated, and is now in possession of our troops.

After the evacuation of Fort Anderson, I pushed the gunboats as far as the water would permit, the army pushing up at the same time on the right and left banks of the river. After sounding and buoying out the middle ground at Big Island, I succeeded in getting the gunboat over, and opened fire on Fort Strong, the work commanding the principal obstructions, where the rebels had also sunk one of their large steamers, the North Eastern. Our fire soon drove the rebels away from the fort, but now and then they would fire a shot, one of which struck the Sassacus below water mark, and set her leaking badly.

She was struck once or twice more, but with no loss of men. That night, the 20th, the rebels sent down two hundred floating torpedoes, but we had a strong force of picket boats out, and the torpedoes were sunk with musketry. One got in the wheel of the Osceola, blew her wheelhouse to pieces, and knocked down her bulkhead inboard, but did no damage to her hull. Some of the vessels picked up the torpedoes with their torpedo net.

The next morning I spread two fishing nets across the river. Yesterday evening General Ames, with his division, moved within a short distance of the fort, and had a sharp encounter with the rebels. On hearing the musketry, and seeing where our troops were, I opened a rapid fire on the fort and along the enemy's line. The fort responded with three or four shot, but was soon silenced.

This morning we heard that General Terry was within the works, and the road was clear to Wilmington. The Montauk could not get across the shoals without lightning, which was a work of some labor. I had the pleasure of placing the flag on Fort Strong, and at 12 o'clock to-day shall fire a salute of thirty-five guns, this being the anniversary of Washington's birthday. I am, sir, very respectfully yours, &c. D. D. PORTER, Rear Admiral. Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy.

MORE PEACE MOVEMENTS.—It is stated that Gen. Singleton and Judge Hughes arrived at General Grant's headquarters on Saturday morning. It is understood that they are en route to Richmond, by permission of the President, to make one more attempt to bring about peace.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 27.—The Journal, in an editorial speaking of Lee's army, says: "We have reason to say that the rebels are expecting very soon to startle the whole country and 'astonish the world.' No matter what our reason may be, it is a good one."
