The Two Misers.
A miser living in Kufa had heard that in Bassora also there dwelt a miser more miserly than himself, to whom he might go to school, and from whom he might learn much. He forthwith journeyed thither and presented himself to the great master as a humble commender in the art of avarice, anxious to learn, and under him to become a student.
"Welcome," said the miser of Bassora; "we will go to the market to make some purchases."
They went to the baker.
"Hast thou good bread?"
"Good, indeed, my masters, and fresh and soft as butter."
"Mark this, friend," said the man of Bassora to the one of Kufa; "butter is compared with bread as being the better of the two; as we can only consume a small quantity of that, it will also be cheaper, and we shall therefore act more wisely and savingly, too, in being satisfied with butter."
They then went to the butter merchant, and asked if he had good butter.
"Good, indeed, and flavory and fresh as the best olive oil," was the answer.
"Mark this, also," said the host to his guest; "oil is compared with the best butter, and therefore by much ought to be preferred to the latter."
They next went to the oil vendor.
"Have you good oil?"
"The very best quality; white and transparent as the water," was the reply.
"Mark that, too," said the miser of Bassora to the one of Kufa; "by this rule water is the very best. Now at home I have a pail full, and most hospitable therewith will entertain you."
And, indeed on their return nothing but water did he place before his guest, because they had learned that water was better than oil, oil better than butter, butter better than bread.
"God be praised!" said the miser of Kufa, I have not journeyed thus far in vain!

I see Jist Sam.—During the last winter a "contraband" came into the Federal lines, in North Carolina, and was marching up to the office of the day to give an account of himself, whereupon the following colloquy ensued:
"What's your name?"
"My name's Sam."
"Sam what?"
"No, sah, not Sam Watt. I see jist Sam."
"What's your other name?"
"I hasn't got no odder name; sah, I see Sam—dat's all."
"What's your master's name?"
"I hasn't got no massa now; massa runned away—yah! yah! I see a free nigger now."
"Well, what is your father's and mother's name?"
"I see got none, sah, hebbor had none. I see jist Sam—nobody else."
"Have you any brothers and sisters?"
"No, sah! nebbor had none. No brudder, no sister, no fadder, no mudder, no massa—nuff n' Sam. When you see Sam, you see all dere is of us."
"To be good to the Lot."—A certain editor, in a neighboring city, was called upon by a lad belonging to one of the public schools; a few days since, and after passing through the usual compliments, the editor inquired of him of his standing in the school. "Are you at the head of your class, my lad?"
"No, sir." "Why not? do you not wish to be?"
"Yes, sir." "Well, that speaks better for you. But you should be at the head, and should be thrashed daily till you get there. Let me tell you, my lad, you can do whatever you choose; it is only by effort, and the knife is ground. There is no necessity of your being at the foot of your class, when you can be at the head." The lad gave a peculiar look at the editor, and said, "Sir, I want you to be elected Mayor." The editor, as he recovered from the shock, struck a blow for the outer door, that he might inhale the fresh air. The joke is this: the aforesaid editor had been twice a candidate for Mayor, and had been defeated by inferior candidates.

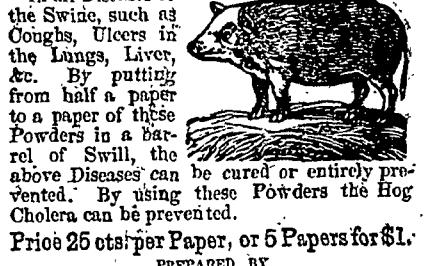

If we are loved by those around us we can beat the hostility of all the rest of the world, just as if we are before a warm fire, we need not care for all the ice in the polar regions.

M. M. STONER, Druggist.
THANKFUL to his friends and customers for their very liberal encouragement received in his "old business" and he hopes that the introduction of the cash system will add to their interest and his advantage in continuing their favors. He believes a distinction ought to be made between cash and credit and he intends to exhibit it in the prices of his articles offered for sale. Call and see; and if not so, purchase where ever you can get the cheapest, the best article at the lowest price. His assortment is more general than is usually found in country Drug Stores. Improved Thrashing Machine!
Farmers will please look at the great advantage in Thrashing Grain with GEISERS' PATENT SELF-REGULATING GRAIN SEPARATOR, CLEANER AND BAGGER.

At a time like the present, when labor is very scarce, it is important that farmers who are interested should give attention to the above improvement, which will considerably reduce the expense of thrashing grain over the common way.
This machine has been before the public for a number of years, but not very widely circulated, although it has competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and proved a decided advantage, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever before the public. In order to prove this in new neighborhoods where it is not known, I am willing to forward a machine for a test to any person desiring a trial, and have its merits tested; and I wish to have it understood that I put the machine upon its own merits, and want farmers to judge for themselves. If it does not fully meet their wants and they do not wish to purchase, I am perfectly willing to bear all expenses of shipping.
The machine is particularly adapted to farmers for their own use, and will apply to lever or railway power, will thresh and clean, in good grain, from 100 to 150 bushels per day, using four to six horses and the same number hands, but under very favorable circumstances will thresh more per day.
It cleans the grain thoroughly clean by one operation, which is not generally done by other Separators. Grain cleaned on this machine, with much light filthy matter, is worth one or two cents more per bushel than if cleaned in the common way. There is also a great saving of grain, in straw and chaff over the common way of thrashing and cleaning, and also over other Separators and Cleaners.
The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and thrashing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble in a barn floor as the common thrasher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation, being simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact, and cleanly to work by, while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separator.
Far more can be assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation from farmers that are using them; I must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want and will have as soon as they have an opportunity to appreciate and attest its merits, which I hope they will give me an opportunity, as I am willing to be responsible, as already stated, Price of Machine at Shop, (all complete, ready to attach to belt Lever or Railway Power,) $1.75 cash, $1.80 in three months, with interest from date.
As material for manufacturing advances, there may be a corresponding advance in the price of machines. The machine is fully represented in the above cut. I warrant the machine to do as above represented. Orders solicited and promptly attended to. The machine is manufactured in Pennsylvania and Maryland, at different shops.

I, the undersigned, desire to call the attention of Farmers and Threshers of Franklin and adjoining counties to this machine. It has been before the public for a number of years, during which time it has given general satisfaction, and the patentee has made some very important improvements which render it still more complete, both for clean separating and cleaning, and also for the ease of draught and fast thrashing.
