HEADLEY'S HISTORY OF THE HEGRAIT REBELLION.

—The late Rebellion stands out peculiar and extraordinary in human events; and the magnificent scope upon which the war has been conducted, constitute it one of the grandest and most brilliant chapters of the world's history. Mr. Headley, of all writers, is perhaps best qualified to portray the stupendous features of the mighty contest. His previous works on less momentous themes have placed him in the first position, as a graphic and powerful delineator of war scenes and characters, and the magnitude and grandeur of the present subject, impart to his pen the fire and vigor of a yet more exalted inspiration, and furnish ample scope for the highest exhibition of his peculiar genius for military description. Under his powerful pen the stirring scenes of the War pass in review with the vividness and distinctness of a present and living reality; while his great talent for condensation enables him to embody everything of importance in a compass just suited to the public want. From no other source can so clear and comprehensive an impression of the grand march of events be obtained, so easily and agreeably, as from Mr. Headley's work.

Other Histories have been issued before Grant's Report and other Official Documents were submitted to the Government, and are therefore unreliable. Mr. Headley has delayed the completion of this till those documents so essential to AUTHENTICITY and CONNECTEDNESS could be obtained.

The Second Volume, completing this Work, will be issued in March, 1866. Agents wanted to engage in its sale in every town and county in the U. States. Liberal inducements offered. For particulars apply to or address, AMERICAN PUBLISHING HOUSE, 147 Aylmer Street, Hartford, Conn. SCRANTON & BURR, Agents.
