Berger's Death Warrant.

On Tuesday, Henry C. Howell, the Sheriff

ed maiden lady was committed on Saturday morning, the 6th of last January, Berger having been arrested on Wednesday, the 17th of the same month, being eleven days after the perpetration of the horrid crime.— He was convicted on Friday, the 2d of February, and was sentenced to death on the following day:

The murder was so entirely atrocious that the inhabitants of Germantown were thrown into the greatest excitement, and it was thought at one time that the prisoner would be lynched by some of the citizens.

The Sheriff produced the death-warrant, and said "Mr. Berger. I have come this morning for the purpose of performing an exceedingly unpleasant duty. I have with me your death-warrant, signed by, the Governor of this Commonwealth, fixing the time of your execution on the 27th day of April ensuing, between the hours of ten and two o'

The prisoner looked upward and said: "Yes, I have heard of it; yesterday my father was here, and he communicated the

The sheriff then proceeded in a calm, dignified and solemn manner, and in a voice slightly tremulous, to read the document that doomed the prisoner to an ignominious death. During this time, Berger retained the same position; he was callous, almost like a breathless statue; he was not affected in the least; not the slightest emotion was apparent,-The reading having been concluded, the Sheriff broke the silence by saying to the doomed convict that he did not consider there was the slightest hope for a pardon; not even for a respite. He advised him to prepare to meet his fate, assuring him that Newcomer, aged 59 years, 4 months and 29 he need not entertain any hope of executive days. clemoney.

Berger replied: "My only hope now is in Jesus. My spiritual advisor, the Rev. Mr. Hamden, has paid me several visits lately, which I have enjoyed very much."

Ex-Sheriff Kern asked him if there was anything he was in want of?

The prisoner replied in the negative, and added that he "enjoyed all the comfort he could reasonably expect, under the circum-

Inquiry was then made if his wife had been to see him recently, to which he replied that "she had been there one day during the past week for the last time."

Sheriff Howell again urged him to make preparations for his fate, desiring to impress upon his mind the certainty of death. Berger made no reply. He shook hands with the Seeriff and Mr. Kern, and thus the interesting ceremonies were finished. The prisoner was left alone in his cell.

LEMON JUICE IN DIPTHERIA .- Doctor Revillout, in a paper presented last summer to the French Academy of medicine, asserts that lemon juice is one of the most efficacious medicines which can be applied in diptheria, and he relates that when he was a dresser in the hospital his own life was saved by its timely application. He got three dozen lemons and gargled his throat with the juice, swallowing a little, at the same time, in order to act on the more deep-scated parts.
