

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO

Friday, June 1 1866.

OUR TERMS.

The following are our terms for subscription advertising and job work, to which we will strictly adhere...

DEATH OF GEN. SCOTT.—Lieut. Gen. Scott died at West Point on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Winfield Scott was born in Petersburg, Va., June 13, 1786, so that at his demise he was within fifteen days of eighty years old.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, May 29, 1866.—The President with profound sorrow announces to the people of the United States the death of Winfield Scott, the late Lieutenant General of the Army.

The third section of the reconstruction resolution disfranchising the late rebels until 1870 was stricken out in the Senate on Tuesday by a unanimous vote, and the following substituted in lieu of it:

No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress or elector of President and vice President, or hold any office civil or military under the United States, or under any State, who having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same in giving aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of the thirds of each House remove such disability.

The resolution as amended goes back to the House for concurrence.

The House of Representatives has passed a bill providing for the equalization of bounties of soldiers of the Union armies. The bill will give to each person entitled to its benefits about $800, deducting therefrom bounties from any source heretofore received.

The members of the old and new School Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, which bodies met at St. Louis, had a meeting together on Tuesday night a week, for the first time since 1837, to discuss the question of re-union.

Jeff. Davis' physician has made a report concerning the health of his patient.—It is alleged that Jeff. has not slept more than an hour or two at any one time, on account of the interruptions occasioned by the tramp of the sentry at the prison door, and so they have laid matting on the floor that the tread of the soldier on duty may be deadened.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania, in 1764, passed the following: "Resolved, That no member of the Legislature will be allowed to come into the House barefooted."

The first green corn of the season made its appearance at New Orleans on the 11th. The price paid was two dollars per dozen, and it was served up at the restaurants at twenty-five cents per ear.

BEAUTIFUL EXTRACT.—We take the following beautiful extract from a speech delivered by General Garfield, member of Congress from Ohio, at the mass meeting of the Union party, held at Hagerstown, on Saturday, the 12th ult.

"This Valley, with its Heaven-kissing hills on every side, bathed in clouds, contains more glory in it than almost any equal space of ground upon the earth. On the very summit of the mountain yonder, a thousand, five thousand it may be, noble men lay down their lives and sanctified that soil to liberty forever. Just off between that place and this, on the great field of Antietam, how many thousand more laid down their lives to preserve the liberties of this Republic.—I have an interest in that ground. Five hundred Ohio men are sleeping in these valleys around me here. Twenty-five hundred more came home crippled for life in defending these beautiful valleys against rebellion. You cannot afford to be recreant to the trust reposed in you, who have the honor of living in so glorious a valley of your own. By the memory of every dead hero that sleeps in your soil, by the glory that hovers over these spots that shall be classic for hundreds and thousands of years to come, these valleys to which thousands of people shall make pilgrimages, fathers and mothers, to lament over the fallen members of their family, and children shall come here to pay their homage to the men who died to save the Republic. I say the citizen who lives on such consecrated ground cannot afford to die unfaithful to liberty.—Stand by the Union and make this valley, which is now the garden spot of agriculture, also the abode of liberty and peace. And when that is done Maryland will be glorious and the Union will be saved.

A CANDID REBEL.—A Nashville paper reports conversation between a Mississippi planter and a rebel soldier regarding the passage, by the Legislature of Tennessee, of a bill disfranchising those who had been active in the rebellion. The planter was very full of wrath because of this legislation, but the soldier said:

"I can't blame the Legislature for acting as it did. It did nothing but what we intended to do had we won the fight, in place of the Yankees. If we had held Tennessee we would not have allowed Union men to vote or hold office, and there is no sense in my abusing others for doing to me what I had fully determined to do to them had circumstances been different. I don't deny that it is pretty rough to be denied a vote, but still it is the fate of war, and I know that we Confederates were determined to disfranchise all who were against us. We have no business at all to complain.

WHAT A POLICY!—According to President Johnson's policy, Alexander H. Stephens, the vice president of the defence Confederacy, who has been elected to the U. S. Senate from Georgia, and who believes that the rebel States lost none of their rights by fighting for disunion, is at once to be admitted to his seat. Save us from such a Reconstruction policy, where there is so little distinction made between loyalty and treason!

The last reports from the Rebellious States show that the Freedmen's Bureau is feeding about FIVE whites to ONE black.—The colored people are generally at work, while the whites refuse to work and are literally starving.

Gen. Fisk, on arriving at Memphis, ordered the re-building of freedmen's schools and churches, recently burned by the mob in that city. The work is to be done at the city expense, and the General has advertised for colored laborers to perform it.

A gold mine has been discovered near Tinsville, which, it is thought, will put the oil wells of that region in the shade.

Gen. Knipe entered on his official duties as Postmaster at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, in place of Geo. Bergner, removed.

An effort is being made, with the consent of all parties, to postpone the trial of Jeff Davis until fall, and the arrangement seems probable.

The Blair County Whig and The Juniata Republican have come out in favor of "my policy."

A Most Terrible Conflagration.

Oil City, May 26, 1866.—The largest fire that has ever visited this district is now raging. Below you will find a part of the property destroyed: Metropolitan Hotel, Watson's Hotel, Oil City House, Charley Wyatt saloon, Philadelphia House, Tremont House, Chas. Johnson's saloon, United States livery stable and saloon, M. E. Church, Reynolds & Co.'s Store, Williams' hardware and iron store, C. Robinson's pipe manufactory and copper establishment, the lock-up, United States Beer Hall, Oil City Bank, now defunct; Susquehanna store, Baldwin & Co.'s hardware store, McClain & Jacob's hardware store, Colbert & Eckert's drug store, W. W. Ford's large liquor and grocery store, the whole of Dennis' block, containing some eight saloons and stores; the large Commercial building; Miller's wholesale liquor store; Colonel Fox's lumber-yard; Alfred Wright, tubings and tools; Bissell's Bank.

Oil City, May 26.—The whole east side of Oil Creek, comprising half the business portion of the city, is in ashes. Seventy-five stores, eight hotels, forty dwelling houses, a church and a seminary are a mass of ruins. The loss is estimated at one million dollars, which is insured for only $100,000.

It has been decided that no bounty or back pay can be paid to men who deserted from the army, or to their representatives, notwithstanding the deserter may have subsequently served out his term of enlistment.—The bill which has just passed Congress excludes desertors from the benefits thereof.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Local items for this column thankfully received.

WAGON MAKER WANTED.—See advertisement of H. Oaks.

FOR RENT.—The Buena Vista property is offered for rent. See notice.

An exchange tolls of a man who stopped his paper on Saturday, and died the next Tuesday. A terrible warning.

NEXT CONFERENCE.—The next annual Conference of the German Baptist Church will be held at Pipe Creek, in Carroll Co. Md.

IN TOWN.—The man with the "hard cheek" was again in town last week. His account at this office is still unsettled.

SOLD.—The Buena Vista property was sold at private sale on Monday last to Mr. Levi Sanders for the sum of $2,100.50.

DIVIDEND.—The Waynesboro' and Maryland State Line Turnpike Company have declared a dividend of 3 per cent. on their capital stock.

"THE OLD FLAG."—We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs. McClure & Stoner, who will resume the publication of "The Old Flag," a campaign paper, on the 4th of July next.

"TOWN HALL" STORE.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that J. R. We'sh has received another supply of new goods.

FROST.—According to the "Hundred Year Almanac," which is considered pretty good authority in matters pertaining to the weather, we are to have several frosts during this month and one on the 5th of July. Not very encouraging news to our dame gardeners.

PROTHONOTARY.—The cards of W. H. McDowell and T. J. Nill, Esq., who are candidates for the office of Prothonotary will be found in another column. Both are well and favorably known to most of our citizens and are eminently deserving of the responsible position to which they aspire.

RAIN.—During the past week our section, and we presume the country generally, has been highly favored with the most refreshing showers of rain. Vegetation which had been languishing for some time from the effects of the dry weather and high winds is now coming forward rapidly, especially the grain and grass fields. Our agricultural friends, with continued seasonable weather, certainly have cause for encouragement.

THE FOURTH.—We observe that movements are already being made in many sections for an appropriate observance of the coming 4th of July. Let us too move in the matter and have a Pic Nic, Festival, or celebration of some kind. The savage, relentless foes of human liberty having been put under subjection, for the time being at least, the people everywhere should rejoice and renew their vows of devotion to a good government on Independence Day.

DAILY TELEGRAPH.—The Harrisburg Daily Telegraph, published by Geo. Bergner, Esq., comes to us much enlarged and otherwise improved in appearance. The Telegraph is a staunch Union paper and ranks favorably with the best journals of the commonwealth. Being published at the State Capitol should secure for it a very general circulation. The Telegraph is sent daily to subscribers at $6 per annum and weekly at $2.00.

FIXING UP.—We observe that many of our citizens this spring are re-painting and otherwise improving their properties. We would be glad to see the work more general, for many private residences have been sadly neglected in this respect. Some persons act upon the principle of the "penny wise and pound foolish." They let their buildings become shabby and dilapidated and go to decay, rather than invest a few dollars in paint and lime.

PIC NIC.—There will be a Concert Pic Nic in Shady Grove, on the lands of Mr. M. S. Naively, under the supervision of Prof. Wilson, on to-morrow, (2d of June.) Antrim Band will be present, and a good time is expected. 25 cents will be charged to defray expenses of Band.

Exercises to commence at 11, A. M.

BUSINESS PLACES.—Waynesboro' has now 5 dry goods stores, 1 hardware, 1 clothing, 1 book, 1 variety, 3 drug and 2 grocery stores, 1 merchant tailoring establishment, 3 first class hotels, an extensive foundry with machine shops, etc., and notwithstanding the competition in trade business, to all appearances, is prosperous generally. Surrounded on all sides, as our town is, with the most productive soil, a railroad only is wanting to extend its borders and contribute to the resources, comfort and convenience of the people at large. Whether we are to be so highly favored or not seems now to be question of time.

REPAIR CASTINGS, &c.—Mr. Daniel Geiser has now at his office a supply of repair castings and some of the latest improved agricultural implements. Farmers or others in want of articles in this line would do well to give him a call.

We endorse the following paragraph, which we dip from an exchange. It will apply to every village in the land, not excepting Waynesboro', even:

SLANDER.—We have been requested to write an article on the subject of slander, from which we infer that somebody has been slandering somebody. And when was there even a day passed in this or any other town, but what the busy tongue of slander has been going from early dawn till eve? There never was such a day, nor will there ever be, unless it is the day after the resurrection.—People will talk, and nothing but death will stop them—and what is more of it, those who do the most of this slanderous tattling, always talk about those who are superior to them in everything. It would make no difference whatever what we may say about scandal-mongers—if any difference, it would only serve to make the matter worse. Some people live by slandering others—if they can't hear anything to talk about, they invent manufacture it themselves out of whole cloth. Every true man and woman should look upon such characters with supreme contempt, turn a deaf ear to all their slanderous talk, shun them as though they were venomous reptiles, for they are far worse.

LADY'S FRIEND.—The June number of this superior magazine comes to us laden with the choicest literary contributions and most handsomely embellished. "The Mother's Blessing" is a superb steel plate engraving, and illustrates a romantic story. The contents generally, including fashions, patterns, etc., are useful and entertaining. Price $2 50 a year; 2 copies 4 00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnut Street Philadelphia.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL FOR JUNE.—Contains Portraits of Hon. Solomon Foot, Thomas Jefferson, Aaron Burr, Constance Emily Kent, Jenny Lind, a Group of Moquis or Utah Indians, with upwards of twenty illustrations and sketches of character; also Practical Physiognomy, Love and Lovers, Marriage and Divorce, Celibacy, Revelation and Science, Your Likeness, Strong Men, Hints to Preachers and Sextons, Physical Culture, True Politeness, How to Talk, Fashions, etc. $2 a year, or 20 cents a number. A new volume, the 44,—begins with the next number. Address, FOWLER & WELLS, 339 Broadway, New York.

BRIDGE BURNT.—The Eastern end of the old Harrisburg Bridge, which connects the city with Foster's Island, was entirely destroyed by fire on Saturday morning, involving a loss, according to the statement of the Telegraph, of from sixty to ninety thousand dollars. The origin of the fire is attributed to incendiaries. The act of the Legislature authorizing the erection of the old Harrisburg Bridge was approved April 31, 1809.

NOISY.—The noisy youngster who carries, occasionally, after nightfall, a "brick" in his hat, to the annoyance and discomfort of good citizens, is a ripe subject for the "lock-up." It would certainly ease him of his burden.

Advertising puts cash into the pocket of the business man, and gives an air of freshness to the paper. It shows forth the business character of the place, giving it respectability abroad and affording satisfaction to its citizens.

For the Record.—Mr. Editor:—The laws of our land are made to protect all classes, but occasionally the deepest wrongs are perpetrated, for which there seems to be no remedy. We give for example the following case, which recently occurred in a town, which shall be nameless.

A few weeks ago a young man took up his abode temporarily, in the village alluded to, and soon became known, by sight, at least, to the majority of the citizens. He was not a man pledged to use no intoxicating drink, and yet he was not what could be called an intemperate drinker; he was like thousands in the land in the habit of "taking a spree."

Suddenly, late one night, the respectable portion of the community were aroused from their sleep, and informed that a death had occurred in a bar room in town, and upon inquiry they learned the following particulars. The man above alluded to, had been allowed to drink at the several taverns and saloons of the town, until he became almost a raving maniac; then he was forcibly ejected from the doors of those who had given him the maddening fluid. As though the work were not yet completed, these relentless enemies gave additional drink to the already drunken man, and then, heartlessly said, "He'll do now." "He'll be quiet enough now!" In less than two hours from the time the last whiskey was given to him, the man died; the medical opinion of the cause of his death being, "Apoplexy superinduced by intense excitement, caused by the excessive use of intoxicating drink."

Two days after, the widowed mother, bowed down with grief, aye! broken-hearted, cried aloud for her murdered son! Now these words of the mother were called only the ravings of grief, and it was not deemed necessary by that moral community, to order a post mortem examination, or to take any legal steps to investigate the matter; he died from natural causes and while it was "an ugly case" the officers of justice, and the whole community concluded there was no law to reach the guilty parties (in the opinion unfortunately, they were probably right), and to-day these same houses are allowed to prosecute their murderous work. Do we say murderous work? Yes, for they killed suddenly the man mentioned, and they are killing slowly, but surely, twenty other men in the same community.

But have they not been tried and found guilty? Aye! their cases have been brought before the bar of public opinion, and the moral community know where to place the guilt. Is this all? No! those widowed tears and cries reach the ears of the great "God of Sabbath," and He has rendered judgement; for his eye regards not the technicalities of earthly law, and He has placed upon the brow of more than one, the mark of Cain, and the venger and victim of drink, must both answer at the bar of God.

"Vengeance is mine, and I will repay saith the Lord." And what shall we say of the professedly christian men of that town, who for the sake of custom or influence, refuse to identify themselves with the friends of temperance reform. They too must answer at the bar of God for the blood of that man, for in trying to act as neutrals they are allies with the friends of intemperance.

Now, Mr. Editor, we have made in the above, some plain assertions, and have told perhaps, some unpleasant truths, but we are not only willing to prove all we have said, but are ready to meet on their own ground, the friends of whiskey. We say to every friend of temperance, "Let us be up and at work." C. F. T. Waynesboro', May 30th, 1866.

A TORNAO.—Inonesdale, Pa., May 28.—A terrific tornado swept over the lower portion of this borough last evening. The immense covered bridge spanning the Lackawanna river at Sixth street was lifted a distance of six feet in the air and fell into the river. It is a mass of ruins. A boy who had just crossed the bridge was carried some fifty feet up the river.

Several barns, out-houses, &c., were demolished. Trees and sticks of timber filled the air, flying like shingles. Reports have reached Atlanta, Ga., of a bloody riot between the whites and blacks at Quincy, Fla. A negro was arrested for some offence, and committed to jail, and a large number of blacks assembled and attempted to rescue him, whereupon a fight ensued between the party and the town officers, in which the marshal was killed, and several citizens wounded.
