The table giving the official vote for Governor in this State at the late election ty will range between 17,000 and 18,000.

John Covode's election to Congress is hailed by the loyal press of the country as one of the heaviest blows the President has yet received from the people whom he has outraged. It is said that after Covode had assertained to a certainty his election, he telegraphed to Johnson at Washington the simvie words, "Andy, I'll give you the benefit of The Herald says :- The whole thing looks an investigation, after I am sworn as a Rep. resentative."

SPATE ELECTIONS .- The result of the Octopor elections must be regarded as a popuhar verdict in favor of Congress The Pres-None and Rebel sympathizers in general them. hard the with a most signal and merrited retuke at the hands of the people, to whom his Accidency referred the questions at issue between himself and Congress. The latits just, necessary and wise measures receivwell be stronger. The November elections trouble, and that they got it up. will swell this volume of popular disapproval of the President, and then the North will present an unbroken front to the enemy. There is to be no reconstruction of the rebel States without guaranties of future good behavior. There is to be no reconstruction until they give bouds for the payment of the National debt. There is to be no reconstruction until they ignore, totally and beyond the possibility of revival, the debt incurred in conducting the war against the life of the nation. And there is to be no reconstruction until it is settled that the vote of a · Southern man shall count no more than the vote of a Northern man. These things have been decided by an overwhelming popular verdict, and from that decision there is no appeal short of another war. If that comes, rying troops further West to prevent what the responsibility will rest with the President and his copperhead allies in the North, for without the unsought apostacy of the licery have been captured and robbed of large quantity of acorus the Sunday previ-President and the proffered assistance of the copporheads, the conquered rebels would have submitted to the natural consequences of defeat, and reconstructed their demoralized and broken governments in accordance with the demands of the changed condition of things. Their present revived feelings of hostility to the North they owe to Andrew Johnson. He fanned the dying emoces and rekindled all their bitterness, prejudice and arrogance. On his hands is the blood of ev. ter, be appointed in his stend. ery Union man, white or black, who has been murdered in the South by the rampani adherents of his policy.

Seven years ago, says a cotemporary, John Brown, of Kansas notoriety, at the head of an insignificant band of infatuates. got possession of a portion of the Government work's at Harper's Ferry, with a view to capturing arms and ammunition to be used in a negro insurrection for freedom .-All who live now remember the intense excitement which that raid then created. The authorities of the State of Virginia seized John Brown and a portion of his followers. tried and hung them as "rebels." Efforts were made to save some of the unfortunates, but they were unavailing. The honor of Virginia had been insulted and a score of necks must be stretched and broken

Four years ago Jeff. Davis, at the head of half a million traitors, took possession of a large portion of the territory of the United States, seized and held Government forts, arsenals and navy yards, for the purpose of waging a war for the benefit of alavery. Davis' war was not crushed as easily as that Goo Francis Train withdraws from the can- prietor, is a hospitable gentleman of social of John Brown's. Davis' rebellion piled a vass as a caudidate for Territorial delegate in and agreeuble manners, and cortainly morits debt of thousands of millions of dollars on the nation, filled many thousands of graves, made thousands of widows and orphans. burned towns, desolated vast territory, and yet Jeff. Davis still lives! John Brown was hung in a few months after his capture .-Jeff. Davis has been a prisoner for more than a year, fares sumptuously at the expense of the Government, and has, for his next best friend, the President of the United States!

Who is to blame? Does not the historical record show that the South is more able the curse of the time. It is ruining our to prevent a riot in a Southern State, than is the United States able to visit with proper penalties a traiter to its Government?

We ask again, Who is to blame?

During the afternoon a serious disturbance was occasioned, in which stones and clubs were used and pistol shots freely exchanged. The assailants, among them some of the Mavor's special police, retreated to a drinking house kept by James Coon, near the Jail, which they entered and continued firing upon the crowd from the windows. A young has not yet been received. Geary's majori. man named Chas. Gall in the set of shooting from the window was shot through the head and instantly killed. The house was then entered and a man named Sands, one of the leaders,-was-knocked down and stabbed, it was thought mortally so. The contents of he building were then broken and scattered whiskey. Eighteen persons were wounded by the Johnsonités before Gall was killed .to us, as premeditated and prearranged .-Guns and ammunition had been provided and stored in Coon's house, and these parties were to get up a fracas and then lead the crowd toward this ambush prepared for

One man of the Mayor's party has confessed that he was importuned to prepare for and engage in the fracas.
