

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO. Friday, February 8, 1867.

The Frederick (Md.) Republican has led the banner of Impartial Suffrage. The Republican is a live paper and handles the "conservatives" or "confederates" without gloves.

The Kentucky House of Representatives have referred to the Committee on Federal Relations a resolution that Andrew be requested to issue a proclamation for general amnesty, or that John C. Breckinridge, the traitor, be pardoned and permitted to return to his home.

WHAT HAS HE GAINED?—The term of the present Congress will expire by Constitutional limitation on the 4th of March next. That substantial Union Daily, the Harrisburg Telegraph, says it is the first Congress of Andrew Johnson's reign, and will date an epoch in the history of the Government.

When Johnson was nominated for the Vice Presidency his opponents denounced him as the blackest of all the Radicals, a renegade Democrat who, for honor and emolument, had deserted all his past expressions of opinion and professions of principles. When this man became President by the violence of a murderer, it was predicted by thousands of people that he would rule the States then in rebellion with an "iron hand," that he would repay treason with such punishment as must forever prevent the recurrence of a nether armed effort to destroy the Government.

At the approaching end of Johnson's first Congress, while President, it is fitting to ask what he has gained for the country, what has he done for the Government?—In the first place, we can safely make the sweeping answer that Andrew Johnson has not added one particle of strength to the Government, or contributed a single security for the future peace of the country. From the hour that he was inaugurated President in the "Kirkwood House" he has been in league with traitors who warred to overthrow the Government.

At no time during the past twenty-two months has Andrew Johnson attempted the performance of an honest act, to put the weight of treason on traitors. He has used his power, invariably, to screen guilty rebels. He has pardoned men who richly deserved eternal ignominy if not disgraceful death, and he has amused himself in setting free the most depraved wretches, whose conviction was an act of great public justice, and whose incarceration was regarded as a necessary means of securing public safety.

He has been his own secret agent in encouraging murder and arson in the South as the best way the rebels defeated in battle could revenge themselves on Union men. He incited the mobs who filled the streets of Memphis and New Orleans with the blood of Union men. He has done more to bring the Government to reproach than the rascals who assailed it with arms in their hands.

He has steadily and deliberately opposed the wise action of Congress to increase the general welfare. He has exercised the veto power expressly assigning as a reason for so doing that his object was the protection of traitors from punishment. * * * Having attempted to usurp the power of Congress, he has forced that body to assert all its constitutional rights, the exercise of which leaves the President powerless, rendering Andrew Johnson to-day the most contemptible individual in the world invested with civil and military power.

At the approaching end of Andrew Johnson's first Congress, he has no friends but such as are unrepentant traitors or the friends of treason. He had proven himself incapable of good, and after a feeble struggle with the legislative branch of the Government, he has been rendered powerless for evil.

The secession plotters in the Maryland Legislature, alarmed at the storm of indignation excited by their outrages upon the loyal people of that State, have repealed the bill calling a new election in the city of Baltimore—so that the Radical city government, headed by the brave Mayor Chapman, will stand.

Gen. Sherman, in his Atlanta letter of 1864, said: "If you admit the negro to this struggle for any purpose, he has a right to stay in for all; and when the fight is over, the hand that drops the musket cannot be denied the ballot!"

The new bounty bill reported in the House allows $8.25 per month for the time served, deducting all United States, State and local bounties, and provides for the payment of the same upon discharge, even though the soldier may have lost his discharge papers.

THE COURT HOUSE.—According to the published Statement of the County Commissioners, the entire cost of re-building the Court House in Chambersburg, amounts to the round sum of $52,083.25.

TRIFLES.—Several attempts, of a late hour, have recently been made to enter meat houses in this place. Some "long-fingered" gentleman is evidently short of pork "fratious," and we would advise citizens generally to have an eye to their "hams."

THE INDIAN DOCTOR will visit this place on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 13th and 14th, when he can be found at his room in Gilbert's Hotel. For further particulars see supplement in this week's paper.

STOVES, &c.—We invite special attention to the advertisement of W. A. Trindle, in another column. It will be seen that he is well supplied with stoves and other articles in his line of business.

USEFUL ARTICLES.—We have the pleasure of calling the attention of our readers to the advertisements of Nixon's proprietary articles. They have been before the public for some years, and have proven worthy of public confidence. Nixon has spent over twenty years in the Drug business, and controls his business with a masterly hand.—We advise our readers to try these articles.

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS AND AIR PASSAGES.—Doctors Frenz & Snively are prepared to treat all diseases affecting the throat and lungs, by means of the Atomizer, an instrument by which medicines can be applied in the form of spray, combined with vapor to the diseased surfaces, in a manner, and with a success, heretofore unknown.

THE LADY'S FRIEND.—We have received the February number of this popular monthly. As usual it is beautifully embellished, containing many engravings, among which are "The Sailor Boy's Dream of Home" and a colored Steel Fashion Plate of the usual double page size. The contents of this number are interesting generally. Price (with engraving) $2.50 a year. Address Deason & Peterson, 319 Walnut St., Philadelphia.

GROUND HOG DAY.—Saturday last was Ground Hog Day. It is alleged that if his "hogship" sees his shadow on that day he will return to his hole, and that we may expect six weeks more of severe weather.—As old Sol did not make his appearance on Saturday, many shadows were seen and we can therefore anticipate an agreeable "spell" for the next few weeks. The man with the "white hat" can take consolation.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Among the cases of importance before the Court last week was that of Ruppel Speelman vs. Daniel W. Royer. Mr. Speelman several years since purchased Mr. Royer's farm. Mr. Daniel Myers since transferred two notes against Royer to Speelman amounting to some $2,700. Mr. R. claims that the notes were accommodation notes and that he received no value for the same. Hence the suit. A large number of witnesses were examined on both sides. The verdict of the Jury was in favor of the defendant, but a motion for a new trial has been made.

NOTICE.—We are requested to announce that all our efforts to secure Mr. Hewlett to lecture on Temperance, in this place have failed, and in lieu thereof we have the pleasure of announcing that the Rev. S. H. C. Smith, of Chambersburg, will address the citizens upon that subject on Thursday evening, Feb. 14th, and we promise them another lecture by some stranger from a distance in the early spring. If this be not satisfactory to those who subscribed, they can have their subscriptions refunded by applying to the lodge through Mr. Jos. F. Kurtz.

A. H. ROWE, W. S.

COMING TO LIGHT.—The following circumstances throw some light on the late Post Office robbery in this place. At the time the robbery was announced suspicion attached to a stranger named Clark who had been teaching or pretending to teach a writing class here several weeks previous. He decamped without paying his Hotel bill, but returned about 9 o'clock on the night the office was robbed, and was missing in the morning. We now have it from good authority that the same individual has been passing under the name of Long, and within a few days attempted to get his trunk away from McGrath's Hotel, in Chambersburg, without squaring up arrearages. Being discovered he was looked in a room with the trunk for the night, but succeeded in releasing himself by tying the bed clothing together and letting himself down from the window.—Our informant also states that a few evenings previous to this occurrence he was seen enter a restaurant and offer a sheet of stamps for sale. These were doubtless some of the stamps taken from the Post Office in this place.

GROWING OLD.—It is said that time itself is growing old, and must soon lose itself in the boundless expanse of eternity. The years roll round rapidly, and general after generation passes away, and is forgotten or treated as a tale of old. Men are born into the world, grow up to youth and maturity and old age with its sure marches, soon overtakes them. We look for them again, and we find the new made grave with its simple headstone, the bereaved clad in the habiliments of mourning, and sorrowing friends moving slowly about the streets. All things are passing rapidly away, men and women are growing old, and new forms and faces will soon occupy the places they now fill.

JEFFERSON'S IDEA OF MEDICINE.—Jefferson had no confidence in Materia Medica. While a resident in Paris, his daughter was seized with typhus fever, and an eminent physician was sent for. He came, examined the patient, gave directions about nursing, and departed without giving or leaving any medicine. The same course was pursued on the second and third days, when Mr. Jefferson said: "Doctor, you don't appear to be doing any thing for my daughter. What is the reason?" "The reason is I want her to get well. I had supposed you knew what my system of practice was."

"No, what is it?" "To have the most careful nursing, leave the disease to wear itself out, and let nature do the rest; but I never give any medicine." The result was the daughter recovered with an unimpaired constitution, and for thirty years Jefferson followed the system of the French physician.

Gov. Read these certificates, hundreds of which could be published: Four or five years ago, J. S. NIXON compounded a Horse and Cattle Powder, and asked me to try it. I was the first farmer to whom it was given and the first one to use it for stock. I found it fully equal to what Mr. Nixon said of it, and I have used it extensively since, and heartily recommend it to farmers as a sure thing in fattening stock of all kinds and a capital Powder for Horses.

MICHAEL EBERSOLE, Chambersburg, December, 1865.

Mr. J. S. Nixon.—To the multitude in this portion of our State, who have used your Cattle Powder, no commendation is necessary. Its beneficial effects have been fairly tested, and hence its unbounded popularity. I have used it for my horses and cows for several years past, and cannot afford to do without it. It keeps all kind of cattle in good condition, loosens the skin, smoothes the hair, and sharpens their appetites. As a preventive from disease, I regard it as invaluable. Yours, &c., REV. B. S. SCHNECK. Chambersburg, April, 1866.

Mr. J. S. Nixon.—Dear Sir.—I gave your Horse and Cattle Powder a fair trial with all my stock, Horses and cattle, and it improved them wonderfully. It speedily increased the richness of the milk of my cows, and improved the condition of my stock greatly.

I can cordially recommend it as the best thing of the kind I have ever known or tried, for all kinds of stock, and it should be kept in every stable. Yours truly, A. K. McCLURE, Ed. Repository. Chambersburg, April, 1866.
