

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO Friday, March 20, 1867.

Both branches of the Legislature have agreed to adjourn, finally, on Thursday the 11th of April, 12 o'clock.

It is thought that Surratt will not be tried before the June term of the Washington Criminal Court.

A bill passed the House of Representatives, on Wednesday last, permitting disabled soldiers to peddle, on procuring license therefor, without charge.

Ex-Gov. Curtiss sailed from New York, on Saturday week, for Havre. He leaves his family in Philadelphia, and will be absent on a tour to Europe, for several months.

A party of refugees, numbering about 90 souls, from different localities of North Carolina, embracing all ages and sexes, passed through Harrisburg one day last week.

THIRTEENTH VETO.—On Saturday last the President sent to Congress his veto of the Supplementary Reconstruction bill.

On Monday a memorial was presented in the U. S. Senate of the Grand Council of the Union League of Maryland, asking that the provisions of the Military Reconstruction bill be extended to Maryland.

IMPEACHMENT.—Several preliminary votes in the House indicate that a majority of Congress are opposed to General Butler's program of immediate impeachment of President Johnson.

In the House of Representatives on Monday, on motion of Mr. Schenck, a resolution was adopted declaring that each House of Congress give consent to the other to adjourn on Thursday, the 28th instant.

Negro Vote in Washington.—Washington dispatches say that the registration of voters under the new suffrage law now being acted upon in that District indicates that the colored population will have supreme control of the elections in several of the largest and most aristocratic wards in the city.

At one of the colored churches in Mobile, the minister having finished his sermon, announced that a collection would be taken up for missionary purposes.

How strange it is that President Johnson suggested all the points in Mr. Stevens' whole-sale confiscation bill.

Treason must be made obvious; traitors must be punished and impoverished; they must not only be punished, but their social power must be destroyed.

There have been serious riots and outbreaks in the coal-mining regions of Pennsylvania, robberies, murders and outrages of a terrible character are of the day.

Gen. Joseph Markel died at Pittsburg, on the 15th inst. He was a prominent old-line Whig and his candidate for Governor in 1844, but was defeated by Francis R. Shunk.

The Legislature of Maryland adjourned on Saturday last, after passing the usual complimentary votes to the officers.

HOW IT WORKS.—The Washington Chronicle says that the late leader of the rebel armies, Robert E. Lee, advises a prompt acceptance of the terms of restoration offered in the military reconstruction act.

The estimate in which he is held by the people of the South, his opinions are not without importance, and we hail with pleasure the sensible counsel he seems disposed to give.

Like Wade Hampton, he possesses sagacity enough to see that resistance or sulion inaction can only make matters worse for the South.

The change of attitude on the part of leading rebels which has been brought about by the passage of the reconstruction law must have convinced all that it is not only wise, but the wisest policy that could possibly have been adopted.

It does not seem to have required much of the prophetic gift to see that the surest way to put an end to strife was to remove the ground of quarrel; and yet how many were unable to perceive that a contest between the whites and blacks of the South must continue so long as the latter were striving for the suffrage and the former straining every nerve to prevent them from obtaining it.

The Confiscation bill, which Mr. Stevens will endeavor to force through Congress, contains nine sections.

A very important educational measure, prepared by Prof. J. P. Wickersham, State Superintendent of Common Schools, is now before the State Legislature.

Speaking of the Reconstruction bill the Charlottesville [Va.] Chronicle one of the most sensible of all the Virginia papers says:

"We think that the southern people have done enough in the way of honor; it is time now to get bread to eat, and shelter and rest."

The trouble of our people is that they cannot accept the inevitable. If negro suffrage is a determined fact, why struggle against the fact of God?

At one of the colored churches in Mobile, the minister having finished his sermon, announced that a collection would be taken up for missionary purposes.

Another survivor.—The Lynchburg News states that a revolutionary hero yet survives in the person of Mr. James Farmer, who lives in the Yellow Branch neighborhood, in Campbell county, Virginia.

The snow storm.—Last week this section, and the country generally it appears, was visited with an old-fashioned snow storm, which was protracted from Thursday evening until Saturday morning.

The oil regions.—The Pittsburg Commercial says, the evidence of renewed activity in the Pennsylvania oil regions this spring and coming summer is apparent everywhere.

Lizards, scorpions, and other deadly and nasty creatures named epithoracic volucantes are said to be generated in our crout.

Our old favorite, the Adams Sentinel published by the venerable Harper, in the same place, has also donned a new suit, and indicates enough vigor and sprightliness to be in the hey-day of the editor's youth.

SECTION 3. That the provisions of the fifth section of the act, to which this is a supplement, shall not apply in any roads running along or through the mountains in said County, except so far as relates to removing of loose stones.

THE TOWN HALL.—An addition of twenty or twenty-five feet to the Town Hall has been talked of for sometime. We understand a ticket in favor of extension will be placed in nomination at the next election for Burgess and Councilmen, and if elected the building will be thus enlarged if that much ground can be secured.

We believe it is generally admitted that the building is entirely inadequate for the purpose for which it is intended, but with the proposed addition, would be ample in size for all purposes, and a credit instead of a discredit to our town.
