

Three deaths from cholera last week are reported in New Orleans.

The Democratic State Convention met at Harrisburg on the 11th inst. and nominated Judge Sharswood, of Philadelphia, for the Supreme bench.

Southern flour of this year's harvest is already selling in the Northern markets, and has caused a fall of several dollars on the barrel.

President Johnson left Washington for Boston yesterday. One Branch of the City Council of Philadelphia refused to adopt a resolution tendering him the hospitalities of that city.

Vice President Wade, and fifteen other Senators, have united in an address to all Republican members of Congress to be in Washington at the opening of the July session.

A brutal prize fight took place at Aquia Creek, Va on the 13th, between two ruffians named Aaron and Collyer. Aaron was the victor after some two hours hard fighting. Large sums of money changed hands upon the result among the "black-legs" in attendance.

Gen. Longstreet, most prominent among the Rebel Generals, publishes a lengthy letter urging submission to the reconstruction policy of Congress. The Gen. seems to be possessed of more foresight than his contemporaries of the North.

Judge Kelly charges the Mobile riot to Andrew Johnson, who had appointed to a post of profit there a recreant Northerner, who provoked the disturbance by inflammatory statements in the public journals days before his arrival. The riots, he said, were premeditated, and were not brought on by any words of his own.

The leading journals of the country, loyal to the government during the progress of Rebellion, are calling for a July session of Congress. Recent movements of "A. J." and his accomplices foreshadow evil consequences, which the representatives of the people only can avert.

MEXICO.—The latest news from Mexico, but which needs confirmation, is to the effect that Maximilian was convicted on the 3d and sentenced to be shot on the morning of the 4th. Marquez, the Imperial commander in the City of Mexico had shot one of his generals for treason and threatened the execution of one hundred and sixty Liberal citizens in his hands if Maximilian was harmed.

The Washington Chronicle makes a strong appeal to the Republican majorities in both branches of Congress for the holding of a session in July. It is very evident that Johnson contemplates mischief; that he is plotting for the benefit of whipped traitors, and that Congress should not be out of session a month at a time while he is in power. If ever a man betrayed the interests of a Government he represents, that man is Andrew Johnson. He must be watched and held in check while he is the possessor of power. His attitude indicates constant danger to the peace of the country. He has no other object in view but the service of traitors. For the benefit of the men who wanted to destroy the Government, he now seeks to degrade its powers. Congress must meet early or this "bold bad man" will do the country harm.

General Custer, in his expedition into the Indian country, has been peculiarly unfortunate—not that the savages have fought and defeated him—but that so many of his men are deserting. It appears that 300, with their horses and entire outfits, have deserted, and though this wholesale disappearance has all taken place within a month, the entire force being only from 1,600 to 2,000 strong. It requires only a simple calculation to show just how long General Custer's army can withstand this new enemy. Desertion has always been epidemic in the armies on the Plains, and no adequate remedy has yet been proposed for it.

No, nor will be as long as Andrew Johnson pardons rebels by wholesale, and copper head judges of the Supreme Court decide that all a deserter has to do is to keep clear of arrest during a war, after which he can return and be as good a citizen as the best soldier that ever shouldered a musket.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday afternoon last, about 2 o'clock, Mr. Hamilton Myers, of Huntingdon township, this county, met with a fatal accident, near Frederick Trimmer's. By a sudden jolt he was thrown from his wagon, loaded with lime, and before his son James, who was driving the team, could stop it, one of the hind wheels passed over his body. Dr. A. B. Dill was at once called, but all efforts to save life were in vain. Mr. M. died at 2 o'clock next morning, twelve hours after the accident. He leaves a wife and ten children to mourn his sudden death. His remains were interred at Lower Bermudian Church, on Friday afternoon, attended by a large concourse of mourning relatives and friends.—Gettysburg Compiler.

SECOND OPINION.—Attorney General Stanbery's opinion on the power of military commanders in the States lately in insurrection has been issued. Its whole pith is contained in the following paragraph:

I find no authority anywhere in this act for the removal by the military commander of the proper officers of a State, either executive or judicial, or the appointment of persons to their places. Nothing short of an express grant of power would justify the removal or the appointment of such an officer. There is no such grant expressed, or even implied. On the contrary, the act clearly enough forbids it. The regular State officials, duly elected and qualified, are entitled to hold their offices. They, too, have rights which the military commander is bound to protect, not authorized to destroy.

Under this opinion, says the American, if acted upon by the President, not only will Gov. Wells, Judge Abell and Mayor Monroe be re-established in power, but nearly every important act done by either of the Military Commanders of the Five Districts (for in the meaning of the Reconstruction Acts they are not recognized as States) will be overturned and rendered abortive. On the subject of registration Mr. Stanbery is equally decided in giving his opinion in favor of the most lax interpretation of the law. The registers must register all who are willing to take the required oath, without the right to challenge or investigate the truth of what they swear to, and all who are registered must be allowed to vote. Truly has it been said that the power of interpreting a law is greater than that of passing it. Mr. Stanbery has succeeded, if Congress does not assemble in July and act promptly and decisively, in reducing the whole Reconstruction policy to a miserable bangle, without life or vitality sufficient to bring back one of the Southern States in ten years. He knows, and so does President Johnson, what was the intent and purpose of the Reconstruction acts, but they have deliberately chosen to surround them with a fog of miserable and impertinent technicalities, to obstruct the work of Reconstruction and to re-open the whole question.—The country will know where to place the responsibility.

The Hon. Thad. Stevens has written a letter, urging the importance of a quorum in Congress being present at Washington on the 1st of July. He thinks that the opinions of the Attorney General in relation to the Reconstruction laws require some supplementary explanatory acts. Mr. Stevens objects not only to the interpretation which the Attorney General has given to the laws of Congress, but urges that his attempt to construe those acts at all is a usurpation.—The second opinion which the Attorney General has issued and which, in effect, practically nullifies the Reconstruction acts will give additional force to Mr. Stevens' argument.

A letter from Queretaro says that the Mexican authorities will content themselves with banishing Maximilian.

BURIED TREASURE.—On Monday last as James Jones, near Downingtown, was digging on the side of the road for the purpose of setting a gate post, the spade struck on a piece of wood, which had the appearance of being a box, and which caused him to think of buried treasure; so he persevered in his digging until he had got the box entirely clear, when he raised it to the surface and opened it, which was found to contain some twenty gold coins, about the size of the "eagle," a number of silver coins, and some articles of jewelry. The coins are all over one hundred years old, and the jewelry is of the most antique pattern. Mr. Jones has lived on the place for forty years, and is confident that they were not placed there in his time. Just before coming to the box a pair of scissors and what had been an old fashioned needle cushion were found, which would lead to the supposition that a woman had something to do with the hiding. The box is made of walnut, and is put together with red cedar pins, instead of nails, and looks as though it was made many years before our time. Old coins have, on several occasions, been found near the spot where the gate is to hang, but no one can tell where they came from.

A PRESENTIMENT.—On Thursday evening a lady of Troy; sitting in her room, was instantaneously oppressed with the conviction that her little son had fallen from the window in his sleeping apartment to the ground below. She repelled the thought as an impossibility. In a few moments more it flashed upon her mind with such force that she could not resist it. She hurried to the bedside of her son, and there, to her intense horror, she discovered the lad sleeping upon the window sill, the window open, his head projecting outside. He was on the very point of falling to the pavement below! Who can explain this phenomenon, which is unquestionably true?

A Second Adventist in New York State has for ten years been feeding a big ox for a feast when Christ should appear. He has starved his other stock and spent nearly all his property in purchasing food for that ox.

A forty foot petition, embracing the name of nearly every rebel in Tennessee, has been carried before the President, praying for protection against the alleged outrages of the loyal State militia.

The literary societies of the University of Virginia have passed resolutions congratulating Jeff. Davis on his release, and inviting him to attend their annual celebration.

The Emperor Napoleon has presented to the University at South Bend, Indiana, a superb and powerful telescope, valued at 25,000 francs.

A husband 90 years old, accompanied by a wife of 19, was lately observed in Buffalo, N. Y., drawing his infant in a baby chaise.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Worshippers of "A. J." and the La Crosse Democrat can't go Longstreet's letter.

Strawberries retail here at 20 cents, in Harrisburg at 10 cents.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $2 from F. P. Folts, Abingdon, Knox Co. Ill.

Reader, if you want a sparkling, ice-cold glass of Mineral Water go to Fourtman's Fountain, at which even a "G. T." may slake his thirst and feel refreshed.

DEAD.—Rev. John J. Harshberger, minister of the Tunker Church, died on the 24th of May, near Cross Keys, Rockingham county, Va., in the 68th year of his age.

DOWN.—The price of butter is now down to 15 cents per pound, and Hucksers we learn are only offering 12 1/2 cents, prices in the cities ranging from 11 to 17 cents per pound.

SACK COAT.—A short-sack tweed coat was left in the Barber shop of W. A. Price on Saturday evening last, which the owner can get by paying for this notice.

LINDEN SCHOOL.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that the closing exercises of this school will be held in the Town Hall, on Friday evening, the 28th.

HAY-MAKING.—Some of our farmers have commenced cutting their grass. The yield generally promises to be an unusually large one. This is encouraging to those who have to lay in a supply.

BUSINESS LOCALS.—For all business locals, large or small, we charge ten cents per line. We repeat this announcement that some of our patrons may not be under a wrong impression and charge us with showing partiality in this respect. Our columns are equally open to all.

OVER-DUE.—A few lines from Mr. Cleary, constable at Smithburg, Md., have been due us for several weeks. If the worthy official has not suddenly departed this life or been disabled, he has certainly forgotten that he owes us a reply.

E. W. CURRIDEN, Esq., formerly connected with the Hagerstown Herald and Torch Light, has purchased an interest in the Clinton Republican, published at Lock Haven, Pa.—Mr. C.—is a fine writer and an energetic business man, and will doubtless do a good work among the "coops," of which we believe that region is pretty prolific.

We direct special attention to the "Eureka" Smut Separating Machine, advertised in to-day's paper by Mr. M. Hays of Mercersburg, who is an authorized agent for its sale. We understand this machine has been in use at the Mill of Mr. Geo. Besore and also in that of Mr. Jacob Hoover and is by them recommended to operate as represented. Mr. H also follows the business of building and repairing mills etc.

STRAWBERRY PRESENT.—We are under obligations to Rev. D. F. Good, of this vicinity, for a present of a couple of quarts of very superior strawberries. For a number of years Mr. G. has given his attention to the culture of strawberries and the various kinds of plants. Plants of the most improved varieties can be had at his gardens by the dozen or hundred.

REWARD.—The Pacific and Atlantic Tel. Co. of the U. S. offer a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of any person who shall interfere with the property of the Company, by cutting the posts, breaking the wires or glass, falling trees across the wires, etc. Our mountain wood choppers, and youngsters maliciously disposed, should make a note of this fact.

THE WHEAT.—It affords us pleasure to announce that the wheat in this section is filling nicely and but little fear is apprehended of material damage to the crop from weevil or rust, although the former have made their appearance in some fields. It is highly probable however that some of the latest wheat will be more or less damaged from one or both of these causes, but the prospects generally are most encouraging.

The crop south has been harvested and according to the published accounts the yield exceeds that of any season for many years.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday of last week Mr. Jacob Whetzel who lives on the mountain, near Buena Vista, met with a serious accident. It appears he was felling trees when several lodged on a third which he was cutting, and all three came down on him suddenly crushing one of his legs on his axe, severely cutting and breaking it just below the knee. Being alone at the time he remained in a helpless condition for some time when Mr. Geo. Waddle happening not far off in the mountain, heard him calling and went to his relief. He was removed to his home and Dr. I. N. Snively of this place set the broken limb, but amputation of his thigh was afterwards found necessary, and it was accordingly removed by Drs. Frantz & Snively, assisted Dr. E. A. Herring. At last accounts he was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Being a poor man and advanced in life his case is a sad one.

THE BEST FLOUR IN TOWN.—Hoover's

THRILLING ENCOUNTER.—We learn from the last Boonsboro' Odd Fellow, that Prof. J. Mitchell, known as the "South Mountain Wizard," had a thrilling adventure with a den of black snakes on the 7th inst. The Prof. was out gunning, when he suddenly came in contact with a snake, which he encountered, and was met by his snakeship in a defiant manner. On the second attempt to injure his enemy, the Prof. succeeded in dealing a mortal wound. No sooner had he thus despatched the first, than a second made his appearance, coming directly at him, with head erect, about five feet from the ground, and his forked tongue extended to its fullest length. The Prof. despatched this one with a ball from his carbine. A third one instantly came to the rescue, and halted within a few feet of the Prof., who discharged his carbine without effect, whereupon the monster, (measuring about eleven feet,) closed on his adversary, and wound his slimy folds a bout his person. The Prof. was at that moment staring death and the snake in the face, and it was a considerable time before he could command the presence of mind to draw his hunting knife, and sever the snake in to. After this was done, not caring to continue the battle, he beat a precipitate retreat, leaving the snakes, which were advancing from all sides, in countless numbers, to vent their spleen un molested, and mourn the loss of three-of-their-number, who had met an untimely death.

DECEASED.—Bruce Lambert formerly of Chambersburg, died lately in Sacramento, California of Chronic Diarrhoea. The deceased, says the Repository, in company with some six or eight others, left about fifteen months ago for Montana, but failing to find employment there, proceeded to California. Three of the party are now dead—J. Porter Brown, killed by the Indians, Samuel D. C. Reed, who returned home and died a short time since, and last the subject of this notice. Mr. Lambert served during the late rebellion in the three months service and also in the Anderson Cavalry.

MEMORIAL CHURCH.—It is proposed by the Methodist Episcopal denomination to erect a Memorial Church in Gettysburg—to be built of granite, and to cost $60,000. The idea was conceived by the Presiding Elder of the district, Rev. B. H. Crevel, and he has given much time and reflection to its elaboration. An Association has been formed, with it is said, Gen. Geary as President. Tickets of membership, $5. The Church is to be built on one of the principle streets.

ROBBERY.—On Saturday evening, June 1st, the house of Joseph Smith in Penn township, Perry county, was entered and robbed of $2,000. The family were absent from home at the time. A reward of $400 is offered for the arrest of the thief and the recovery of the money. An Englishman lately in the employ of Mr. S. is supposed to have committed the robbery.

A mad dog was shot in this place on Wednesday. Look out, boys.

The San Francisco Bulletin says it seems to be conceded that this year's harvest will be the most abundant ever known in California.

After months of cruel abuse, a Methodist minister in Brookfield, Mo., named James U. Slater, poisoned his wife with arsenic. She was sick and he mixed the deadly drug with some medicine left by a physician. He wished to get her out of the way in order that he might marry her sister.

MARKETS.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS, Tuesday, June 18, 1867.—The Flour market is emphatically dull, so much so, that it is impossible for us to give reliable quotations. Supplies continue to come forward slowly, and the stocks, particularly of good family grades, are exceedingly small. With great difficulty a few hundred barrels were disposed of in lots to suit the trade, at $8@9 1/2 bbl. for super; $9@10 for extra; $10@12 1/2 for Northwest extra family; $11@13 for Pennsylvania and Ohio do. do, and $14@16 for fancy brands, according to quality. Rye flour may be quoted at $5@7 1/2 bbl. Nothing doing in Corn meal. GRAIN.—There is no new feature to present in the Wheat market; 2,000 bus. fair and choice Pennsylvania red sold at $2 25@2 30. Rye is unchanged; sales of 400 bus. Pennsylvania at $1.40. Corn.—The market is less active than yesterday, but prices are rather better, sales of 2,500 bus. yellow in store and from the cars at $1.05, 1,000 bus. do. at $1.00, and 600 bus. Western mixed at $1.04. Oats are in better demand at an advance; sales of 3,000 bus. Pennsylvania at 72@74c. closing firm at the latter rate. No improvement to notice in either Barley or Malt.
