

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO Friday, June 28, 1867.

The fate of Maximilian is yet unknown.

The Union man carried Greenville, Tenn., Andy Johnson's own home, at an election last week.

California contributed seventy-four thousand dollars to the relief of unrepentant starving rebels.

Rumors that Secretary Stanton is about to resign are again in circulation. If A. J. can he will no doubt force his resignation.

A. J. we observe is to visit Annapolis, Md., on his backward swing 'round the circle from Boston, where the State Constitutional Convention is in session, and where he will doubtless receive a cordial welcome from those who gave aid and comfort to the "lost cause."

The President has issued an order to the Military Commanders enforcing the Attorney General's "opinion" upon that portion of the Reconstruction laws having reference to registration. It will doubtless be followed by another embodying the late "opinion" with regard to the power of the Military Commanders.

SURRAT.—The trial of Surratt in the Criminal Court of Washington is still progressing. The evidence taken clearly implicates him and shows that his mother was the prime mover in the assassination of the President, and that her execution was an act of justice. This evidence will induce many people to reverse their opinion that an "innocent woman" was hung when Mrs. Surratt was executed. The evidence fully justifies the verdict and the sentence, not only as to her, but the others who suffered death with her.

The Congressional Executive Committee received telegraphic responses to its circulars of last Thursday from over thirty members of Congress, every one of whom says he will be on hand for the summer session of Congress.

Several of them express the hope that no special legislation will be attempted, but that the reconstruction act will be made so plain and explicit that the President can neither misunderstand nor evade it, and that an adjournment will then take place to about the first of October.

Gen. Sickles has tendered his resignation, in which he declares that Mr. Stanbery's interpretation of the Reconstruction law deprives him of "means to protect his own life, property or the rights of citizens, and menaces all interests in these States with ruin." The General also demands a Court of Inquiry, that he may be relieved of Mr. Stanbery's aspersions upon his official action. It is understood that General Grant will not set upon General Sickles' request to be relieved.

GEN. SICKLES RESIGNATION.—The following is the letter of Gen. Sickles, in which he asks to be relieved of the command of the Second Military District:

HEADQUARTERS 2ND MIL. DISTRICT, CHARLESTOWN, S. C. June 19, '67

To the Adjutant General of the Army, War Department, Washington, D. C. I have the honor to request that I may be relieved from command in this military district, and I respectfully demand a court of inquiry upon my official actions, that I may vindicate myself from the accusation of the Attorney General, published in it, presumed with the approval of the President. Congress having declared these so-called State Governments illegal, the declaration of the Attorney General that military authority has not superseded them prevents the execution of means to protect life, property, or the rights of citizens, and menaces all interests in these States with ruin. D. E. SICKLES, Major General Commanding.

Official: J. W. CLOUS, Captain and A. A. G.

The sentiment expressed by General Sickles, as to the misconstruction of the act of Congress to govern the Southern States, by the Attorney General, is shared by every man in the loyal States who sympathized with the Government in its struggles with traitors. Congress legislated to restrain traitors and protect Union men. General Sickles, as has been confessed by some of the ablest lawyers in the country, carried out the act of Congress in the highest spirit of impartiality, and with an ability as to the construction of the law which was acquiesced in by Lieut. Gen. Grant, and the loyal men of the country. Attorney General Stanbery shot higher than his mark when he assailed Gen. Sickles for having done his duty. The Attorney General hit the people when he shot at a faithful officer and a gallant hero, and we are proud to know that General Sickles has thus tendered his resignation. He has asked for an investigation which will show that he merely did his duty, and that the interference of the Attorney General has been to revive the bitterest animosities of traitors against the Government.—Tel.

Gen. Schenck, now in Washington, has received telegrams and letters from different members from both Houses, and says that he feels warranted in making the prediction that a quorum will be present on the 3d of July.

It will take two months to examine all the witnesses summoned in the Surratt trial.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The House Judiciary Committee, charged with investigating the official conduct of the President will meet to-morrow and proceed to take further testimony. Hon. James P. Wilson, the chairman, cannot be here until the 2d of July. Mr. Boutwell will act as chairman in his absence, and the work of the committee will proceed. Hon. George V. Lawrence, of Ohio, has prepared a summary of the testimony taken thus far, and will hand this over to Hon. George S. Boutwell, who it is said, is preparing the report to be submitted to Congress.

The following members of Congress are here: Messrs. Butler, Boutwell, Schenck, Bingham, Marshall, and Ingersoll. No Senators have as yet arrived. Speaker Colfax writes to the editor of the Chronicle as follows:

CINCINNATI, O, June 22, 1867. Last March I insisted, as you may remember, that the Congress in which the loyal people of the country have such just confidence should not adjourn till December, but should provide for two intervening sessions in June and December; and events, not entirely unexpected, since have convinced me more than ever of the vital importance of a quorum being present in both Houses at the July session, which was finally agreed on by the concurrent resolution of Congress. You are, truly, SCHUYLER COLFAX.

NEW SYSTEM.—All Postmasters were instructed to put the new system of registration of letters into operation on the first day of June—at which time it went into effect all over the United States. A new style of canvas envelope, of a large size and of an appearance sufficiently novel to attract the attention of distributing clerks immediately, has been introduced—with this change—Postmasters, route agents, railway post-office clerks and receiving clerks, handling this registered package envelope while in transit, are required to keep a record of its number, post mark (with date), address, date of its receipt, and the description made of it by them on blanks and books furnished for that purpose.

GOING TO EUROPE.—J. Harry Ewing, Esq., an eminent Lawyer of Baltimore, says the Shepherdstown Register, of last week, will leave this country for Europe, on the 1st day of September next, for the purpose of investigating the matter of the Graf, Groff or Grova Estate. It will be remembered that a legacy of $75,000,000 in Germany is due the Groves heirs of this country, who have employed Mr. Ewing to proceed to Holland for the purpose of procuring the desired treasure.

The graves of five thousand Union soldiers at Louisville were decorated with flowers on Wednesday, by the loyal ladies of the city and the Grand Army of the Republic.

Of the five hundred and twenty exhibitors from the United States at the Paris Exposition, awards have been made in favor of two hundred and sixty-two.

Twelve cotton and woolen mills were stopped in Philadelphia on Monday, on account of a reduction of wages of the employees.

SUICIDE.—Jacob Venus, a well-to-do farmer of Springfield township, York county, committed suicide by hanging himself in his own barn last week. No cause assigned.

Lynch Law in Maryland.

In Monday's American mention was made of the hanging of James Pippin, near Centerville, Queen Anne's county, last week. From the Centerville Citizen we have the following additional particulars:

Just as we are going to press, we learn that a party of from ten to fifteen went to the house of Pippin's father (which is situated about four or five miles from Church Hill, in the 'big woods') on Thursday night, after his son's return from Easton, and took him out and hung him. The particulars, as we learn from a party who was present at the inquest, are as follows: The party went to the house about ten o'clock and demanded admittance. Pippin's father, suspecting harm was intended, concealed him under the floor, some planks being loose. The party, however, being convinced that the son was in the house, set fire to it on the inside, but before much damage was done, discovered his hiding place, and dragging him out, took him about one mile from the house, and a short distance into a wood, near the main road, and there hung him to the limb of a small oak tree, after which the party went away and left him hanging. He was discovered early in the morning, but the body was allowed to hang until a jury of inquest was summoned, which was between nine and ten o'clock. The above are the facts, we understand, as elicited at the inquest and given by Pippin's father. We also understand that other parties have been notified that they will share the same fate unless they leave the county immediately.

Pippin had been charged with being an accessory to the murder of J. Edwin Roberts, of Queen Anne's county, and was tried before the Circuit Court of Talbot County and acquitted. The Citizen says he was also acquitted of several larceny cases. It is to be hoped that the spirit of mob law on the Eastern Shore of Maryland will be put down, and the participants in the murder of Pippin may be speedily brought to justice.

Twenty-eight years ago General Sheridan was a boy in a hardware store and afterwards went into a dry goods store. He was fortunately nominated to West Point by General Ritzey, a member of Congress, and thus we were insured a good general.

An anti temperance society has been formed in Scranton, to oppose the great reform which the Good Templars are carrying on with so much success.

LOCAL MATTERS.

FOR SALE.—A small lot of brick.

FOUND.—A memorandum book found near town has been left at this Office.

There is promise of an abundant peach crop in "Poke Town" and vicinity.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Our "paper man" allows us but "thirty-days grace," yet many patrons take years to settle their accounts.

WANTED.—Wagon-makers and Blacksmiths. Apply to H. Oaks, or address him at Waynesboro, Pa.

GROCERIES, etc.—Messrs. Lidy & Dickle have received a supply of fresh groceries and other goods in their line. Advertisement next week.

CHERRIES.—Ripe cherries have been selling on our streets this week at 10 cents per quart. In some localities the trees hang very full.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A Post-office has been established at Brown's Mill in this county with Mr. Andrew Dalrymple as P. M.

DULL.—Our town continues as it has been for several weeks past, extremely dull. Bar-room and store box loafers are not half so numerous as formerly. A few idlers are occasionally seen pitching horse shoes.

MAD DOGS.—A mad dog made his appearance in Chambersburg on Wednesday of last week and a young son of Edward Spahr. The dog was pursued and killed. Report says a cow was taken with hydrophobia near Coney a few days since.

THE 4TH JULY.—We observe that arrangements are being made in many places to celebrate the coming fourth of July. A Basket Pic Nic in some "shady nook" not far from town would be a pleasant and appropriate way of passing the day. In this respect we should not be less patriotic than citizens of other localities.

WOOL WANTED.—Attention is directed to the advertisements of the Chambersburg Woolen Manufacturing Company in to-day's paper. As their goods are preferred to those bought from the Eastern markets country merchants generally should patronize the Company. They are now wholesaling at Philadelphia and New York prices.

At the Foundry of Mr. Erick in this place one and a half tons of iron are used daily, and we understand his business is gradually increasing. Mr. F. is possessed of a high order of mechanical ingenuity and is a very correct business man.

TALL RYE.—Mr. John Good of this vicinity can boast of the finest field of Rye in this region. One stalk taken from the field measured eight feet four inches. The heads are large and unusually well filled.

COWS DYING.—A disease called "milk fever" seems to be prevailing among the cows in this region. Among those who have lost fine cows lately from this cause are Mr. Mullen of the Waynesboro Hotel, and J. R. Sellers of this place.

A number of cases are also reported in the country. The owners of good cows should use Nixon's Cattle Powder as a preventative. To keep cattle in a healthy state nothing surpasses it.

FRESH BREAD.—Mr. S. J. Strite of Green-castle has appointed W. A. Reid, Grocer, agent for the sale of his Bread, &c. Families can be regularly supplied. On to-morrow evening and Saturday Mr. Reid will have a large stock on hand. He is now receiving three times a week and so soon as sufficient encouragement is given will receive Fresh Bread every evening by the "Great Western line."

THE WEATHER.—The continuous cloudy, damp weather during this week has operated very much against those of our farmers who had commenced cutting grass. A large amount of hay which was out the latter part of last week is still on the ground. This is likely to be more or less damaged, and parties generally much delayed in their business operations. But the weather may be regarded as specially favorable for oats, corn, potatoes, etc., which present a most promising appearance.

Reports of the wheat crop from all sections of the country continue favorable. The crop in our immediate neighborhood, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, is filling finely, and if the later fields are not yet too much damaged by weevil and rust, an unusual yield may be anticipated. Rye cutting will commence next week.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Tuesday evening of last week, says the Lancaster Examiner, the lightning struck the barn of Mr. Abraham Bollinger, in Rothville, Warwick township. In front of the barn, under the over-shot, a young man named John Landis, with several other persons, had taken shelter from the storm, when the electric fluid struck Landis, and instantly killed him. The other persons received severe shocks, but soon recovered.

Thirty orators, twenty of whom are colored men, have been sent South by the Republican Committee at Washington.

There were three feet of snow at Denver on the 31st ult.

CURES FOR HYDROPHOBIA.—We give the following from the Mercer Dispatch.—"Mr. Youatt, the famous veterinary surgeon, who has been bitten eight or ten times by rabid animals, says that crystals of nitrate of silver, rubbed into the wound, will positively prevent hydrophobia in the bitten person or animal. People would do well to cut out and preserve Mr. Youatt's receipt. Some of our readers may have a chance to try it before the summer is over."

The Baltimore Free Press mentions another cure. The remedy is chickweed, boiled in beer, and sweetened with molasses. The Press says "if taken after being bitten, it has never been known to fail in warding off the disease. An old German doctor in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, made the discovery, and the United States Government purchased it of him, and it is now public property. The druggists of Hanover, Pa., prepare the remedy, and they sell a large amount, people coming great distances for it. Owing to the nature of the remedy, it will not keep, and must be made fresh."

The Wife What Crows.

There is in this city a young married woman who is afflicted with a mania for imitating the crowing of the morning cock, while in a state of somnolence. We are assured that at the hour appointed by nature for chattering to frighten away the midnight prowlers from yawning graveyards, the fortunate husband of the "crowing wife," on the first night of his marriage, was roused from his slumbers by a most lusty crowing. On opening his eyes, what was his astonishment to behold his better half seated in the middle of the conjugal couch of conjugal bliss, flapping her wings and crowing in a most loud and clear voice, stretching out her neck after the most approved "rooster fashion." "Thrice did she thus 'herald in the morn,' and then sank back and slept on. In the morning he spoke to her about it, and was not more surprised than amused to learn that she had been born in the country and that a favorite 'Shanghai,' which roosted with his feathered family in the hen coop near the window of the maternal bed chamber, frightened her mother by his loud crowing and thus the child was 'marked.' And ever since—yes, even when a babe lying in the cradle, she has been wont to wake the echoes of the coming dawn by imitating 'ye rooster'—and still, each morn she flaps her wings and crows."

As the business of the husband requires him to rise very early, he is rather pleased than otherwise to find his wife possessed of this additional accomplishment, which dispenses with the necessity for an alarm clock, though having heard his grandmother say that the 'crowing of a hen indicated ill luck, unless her head was immediately cut off,' he is in some doubt, whether, in order to insure good fortune to this household, he is not in duty bound to stop his wife's crowing by severing her musical throat. We advise him to let his 'hen' crow on, so long as she does not 'peck' him.

Some persons may question the truth of this remarkable incident; but we can assure such that it is true in every particular, and can be vouched for by respectable parties who have known the lady from infancy; and the moral of it, that ladies who do not desire 'crowing children,' should not sleep too near the hen-coop.—Richmond Examiner.

MARKETS.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS, Tuesday, June 25, '67.—In Flour there is no improvement to notice. The demand is entirely from home consumers, who, notwithstanding the light receipts and stocks, will not purchase beyond immediate wants. A few hundred barrels were taken in lots at $8@8.50 per bbl for superfine; $9@9.75 for extras; $9.75@11.50 for Northwest extra family; $10@12 for Pennsylvania and Ohio do, $12@13 for California wheat, and $12@13 for fancy brands, according to quality. Rye Flour is unchanged; we quote at $6.75@7. Brandywine Corn Meal ranges from $3.75 to $5.80.

The Wheat market continues very quiet, and the only sales reported were 1,000 bush Pennsylvania red at $2.40@2.50. California may be quoted at $2.75, 1,000 bush Western Rye sold at $1.40. Corn—Quite an active inquiry sprung up this morning, and prices advanced 2c per bush. Sales of 3,500 bush yellow in store at $1.10, and 800 bush common white at $1.05. Oats are in good request, and 4c per bush higher sales of 10,000 bush Pennsylvania at 80@80 1/2c. Nothing doing in either Barley or Malt.

000 bush Pennsylvania at 80@80 1/2c. Nothing doing in either Barley or Malt.
