

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO Friday, August 30 1867.

REMOVED.—The President has issued an order removing Gen. Sickles from the Military District embracing the States of North and South Carolina, and assigning Gen. Canby to his place.

On Thursday afternoon the stage between Washington city, and Rockville, whilst attempting to cross Ball's Branch, was swept away by the flood, and three young ladies, who were passengers were drowned.

The armed Rebels in Tennessee are revenging themselves for Brownlow's majority by robbing the negroes of the arms which they retained when leaving the Federal service, and then murdering those who have thus been disarmed. Madison county is overrun with the murderous guerrillas.

The Government made a great mistake when it failed to drive the leading traitors from the country. That measure of justice would have done more towards reconstruction than all other means combined, and the country will never know peace so long as the men who instigated the rebellion are allowed to circulate at will among the people.

THE PRESIDENT AND GEN. GRANT.—The correspondence between Gen. Grant and the President in relation to the removal of Gen. Sheridan will not fail—says the Baltimore American—to elicit national attention. It is not difficult to understand the reluctance with which the President has allowed this correspondence to be made public, if, indeed, it has been made public with his consent.—Gen. Grant's protest against the sacrifice of Sheridan is as earnest as warm feeling, and decided language can make it. He says: I urge earnestly—urge in the name of a patriotic people who have sacrificed hundreds of thousands of loyal lives and thousands of millions of treasure to preserve the integrity and union of this country—that this order be not insisted on.—It is unmistakably the expressed wish of the country that Gen. Sheridan should not be removed from his present command. This is a republic where the will of the people is the law of the land. I beg their voice may be heard. Such language from a man of Gen. Grant's equable mind and reticent nature, is of unmistakable report. It was intended undoubtedly as an assertion of his understanding of the will of the people in relation to the reconstruction of the South, and his full sympathy with them. He goes on to declare that Gen. Sheridan has performed his civil duties faithfully and intelligently, and addresses this solemn warning to the President: "The removal will only be regarded as an effort to defeat the laws of Congress. It will be interpreted by the unreconstructed element in the South—those who did all they could to break up the Government by arms, and now wish to be the only element consulted as to the method of restoring order—as a triumph. It will embolden them to renewed opposition to the will of the loyal masses, believing that they have the Executive with them." The loyal masses will thank General Grant for these words.—We believe a very short time will prove how truly he has foreshadowed the effect of the President's received policy of obstruction.

The end of the world was fixed by one Dr. Cummings to occur in 1867. The Doctor now comes forward to acknowledge that he has made a mistake in his calculations, an announcement of great comfort to those regardless of seeing the end this year. He says in revising the calculations on which he based the announcement of the world's ending in 1867, he discovered that he had overlooked figures which add something like a quintillion of years to the race which this mundane sphere has to run. This will be gratifying information to those of the doctor's disciples who have been setting their houses in order as a mark of preparation for the great event. A "quintillion of years" is a comfortable remote prospect, according to present reckoning, and as "distance lends enchantment to the view" everybody can enjoy the soothing reflection.

The veteran Congressman, Hon. E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, has returned from abroad in improved health, and is at present the guest at Washington of his intimate personal friend, General Grant. Mr. Washburne expresses the opinion that the first business of Congress when it meets will be to prepare articles of impeachment against the President, and that this is the only way to save the country.

Statistics of the colored schools in Virginia show that nearly 17,000 scholars are enrolled, the annual expense of whose teaching will be about $100,000. In Richmond 9,000 colored pupils receive instruction from 43 teachers, some of the latter being also colored. The scholars are regular in attendance, eager to learn, faithful to the requirements of the schools, and give good promise of becoming intelligent and worthy citizens.

Rev. Robert Douglass, of the German Reformed church, died at his residence, near Sharpsburg, Md., on Tuesday a week aged about 60 years.

NEW ORLEANS MASSACRE.—The infamous massacre of colored men in New Orleans on the 30th of July, 1866, by the authority of ex-Confederate officials, was fully celebrated, on its first returning anniversary by the colored people of the city, in the very hall where the tragical event occurred. The New Orleans Advocate says: "The large hall was draped in mourning, and in the centre aisle stood a lofty catafalque. Rev. Mr. Maistre conducted the religious services, and Hon. Rufus Waples and Rev. Dr. Smith pronounced the funeral orations. The oration by Mr. Waples was a magnificent effort. The audience was sensibly moved when he alluded to Horton, Dostie, and other victims, and his references to Mr. Johnson were well timed. It is a sad comment upon our courts and our military authorities, that up to this time none of the murderers have been arrested, though several of them have been identified. We hope, however, that the widows and orphans of the dead, and those victims who have survived the deadly assaults, will bring suit against the city of New Orleans for the losses which they have sustained."

HON. HANNIBAL HAMLIN.—At the Republican Convention for Penobscot county, Maine, in Bangor, on the 22d instant, ex-Vice President Hamlin being called upon, made a short address of which the Bangor Whig gives the following synopsis: "He thought the present was a time for action rather than words. The words that are used, if any, should be short, sharp and decisive. There was no hour during the war of the rebellion when there was greater responsibility placed upon us than rests upon us to-day. We are not out of our trials or our dangers. Unfortunately in some respects, but fortunately in others, we have a national Executive who seems bent upon thwarting the national will and preventing a proper and just reconstruction. Reconstruction should never be completed, except upon the fairest basis of popular justice and liberty; and it is our bounden duty to see to it that no settlement shall be made upon any other basis. Neither can we do it. Rough how then as we may, there is an over-ruling Providence that will shape our ends. Mr. Hamlin proceeded to examine the acts of President Johnson, and declared that his usurpations and wrongs have opened the eyes of the blind, and unstopped the ears of the deaf, to see and hear what is true, and right, and just. Mr. Johnson's acts and policy were necessary to educate the public mind up to the right point; and he was fully impressed that the people will have a full settlement of these things settled on the right and proper basis."

The high price in flour is a great source of annoyance to housekeepers at the present time. The purchase of a barrel is postponed from week to week in hope that the staff of life may be obtained on more reasonable terms; and while the crops are plentiful and the prospect of an over-stocked market is certain, the puzzling question is asked, why does not flour come down? and we soon hope to get a favorable answer. For if the Chicago grain dealers, by their speculations, are the cause of exorbitant prices, the arrest of the flour gamblers in that city should put a stop to these immoral combinations to control the provision market. A fine of one thousand dollars and imprisonment for one year is the penalty affixed to the offense of selling grain not in the vendor's possession. The law was passed by the Illinois Legislature last winter and has not yet been enforced. But as recent failures have waked up some of the sufferers to a sense of the wrong done to the public by such transactions, there is hope that the flour consumers may profit by now purchasing in an honest market.

REMOVAL OF GENERAL HOWARD.—The Tribune's special despatch from Washington says: It is now a settled fact that Gen. Howard will be relieved from his position as Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau. The President has contemplated making the change for a long time past, but not until Mr. Stanton and Gen. Sheridan were removed did he definitely decide to act in Gen. Howard's case immediately. The order for the removal of the General may be looked for this week; indeed, it is expected every day at the headquarters of the Freedmen's Bureau. Gen. Grant is also opposing this step of the President, and has written, or will have, a protest similar to those on the removal of Mr. Stanton.

ELECTIONS.—The California election is held on the first Monday of September; Maine on the second Monday of September; Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa on the second Tuesday in October, and Massachusetts, Minnesota and Wisconsin on the first Tuesday in November.

General Sheridan perseveres in his good work in New Orleans, without regard to the displeasure of the President, and has removed the City Surveyor, City Attorney and Assistant City Attorney. He fears the enemies of reconstruction as little in Washington as in Louisiana, and will do his duty boldly as long as Mr. Johnson leaves him the power. He has also ordered a revision of the jury lists, and declares only registered citizens to be eligible to serve on juries or to vote.

The Washington City Council have repealed all the city ordinances creating a distinction on account of color.

Washington continues to be filled with rumors concerning the resignation of members of the Cabinet.

It is stated that a gentleman living in Green county, Ala., has offered his entire crop of corn for thirty-five cents a bushel in the field.

Ex-President Buchanan is lying seriously ill in Philadelphia.

A Judge of the Supreme Court of Maine has decided that a marriage between a negro and a white person was illegal and void.

In the little town of Winn, Maine, one hundred thousand hides are annually tanned into sole leather at one tannery, said to be the largest in the world.

LOCAL MATTERS.

PUBLIC SALE.—See sale advertisement of Jacob Shatzker in to-day's paper.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $2 from Thos. Pennell, South Charleston, Clark Co. Ohio.

PIC NIC.—The G. R. Sabbath School of this place will hold a Basket Pic Nic near town on Thursday next.

INSURED.—James Wason, Esq., of Hagerstown, whose sudden death from heart disease we noticed last week, had his life insured for $10,000 in the Penn. Mutual Insurance Company, of Philadelphia.

Three persons, Joseph Spidel, Gotlieb Miller, and Jacob Davis, broke jail at Hagerstown on Wednesday night of last week and made their escape. The reward on them is $75.

GOOD MOVE.—The importance of a Building Association in Waynesboro is being agitated. The scarcity of houses and high rate of rents would certainly make such investments profitable.

GROCERIES etc.—Mr. C. H. Diekle of this place has received another supply of fresh Groceries, and other goods in his line of business, and is prepared to supply the wants of all at short profits.

CAMP MEETING.—We have been requested to announce that a Winebrenerian Camp Meeting will be held on the land of John Kohler, about one mile from Montorey Springs, commencing on Friday the 6th day of September next.

POTATO ROT.—The late protracted rains have had the effect to start the rot in the earlier varieties of potatoes: The crop in this section it appears has already been very materially damaged.

DEAD.—Rev. William Beates, the oldest minister of the Lutheran Church in Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Lancaster, on Friday a week.

LIVERY.—We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Wolfersberger & Stoner who have recently enlarged their Livery stock. Persons wanting fine traveling horses and good buggies should give them a call.

CORN CROP.—The late seasonable weather has contributed wonderfully to the growth of the corn. The late planting or backward portion of the crop is coming forward rapidly, and the prospects for a full yield was never perhaps more encouraging.

MORE RAIN.—Another severe thunder storm prevailed here on Wednesday evening, and at the present time, (Thursday morning) the indications favor further showers.—The fall of rain in this region during the last six months is said to be without precedent in the memory of that venerable personage, the "oldest inhabitant."

OUR PAYMENTS.—Some of the sidewalks on Main street are sadly in want of repair. Such property holders should visit with their neighbors in keeping up the reputation of our town for good pavements. In several localities they are so rough and otherwise out of repair as to be almost impassible after nightfall.

FARM FOR SALE.—We direct special attention to the valuable farm offered at public sale in another column by Mr. John Lantz, of Quincy. His property is pleasantly and conveniently situated and may be regarded as among the most desirable in that township.

FIRE.—A destructive fire occurred in Buchanan Valley, Adams County, on Saturday a week, involving the loss of Miltinberger & Brady's Steam Saw Mill. Total loss between four and five thousand dollars. No insurance.

DECEASED.—Mrs. Susan Benchoff died near Smithburg, Md., on the 23d. She was mother of fourteen children, fifty five grandchildren and one great-grand child. Her father and sister, Mrs. Newey, were of the six killed and burnt at Newey's house many years ago, for which Markle was executed.

MATCH GAME.—The First National Base Ball Club of this place played a Match Game with the Kangaroo Club at Greencastle on Saturday last. We have neither time nor space for the usual full particulars of the game. The game occupied four and a half hours. Nationals 52 runs and 27 outs, Kangaroos 46 runs and 27 outs, the Nationals coming out six ahead.

The parties composing the club here are much pleased with their visit, and well they might be, judging from the reported kindness and hospitality extended them by the Kangaroo boys, who paid their expenses, including dinner and supper, gotten up in the usual good style for which the Adams Hotel is noted.

BARN BURNED.—On Friday night, the 16th inst., about 12 o'clock, the barn of Mr. Abraham Carbaugh, residing near Brown's Mill, was entirely consumed by fire, containing his entire crop, and all his farming utensils. The loss is estimated at $4,000—no insurance. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.—Spirit.

The Indians never scalp negro soldiers. Much cry and little wool is their motto.

TENNESSEE ELECTION.—Somebody gets off the following on the "forty-thousand" Brownlow victory:—

O, hab you heard from Tennessee. All honest and true. Where de loogie white man votes, And de loogie niggers' too!

De Copperheads are in dar holes, And look confounded blue, But dat which gibs such pain to dem, Hurts neider me nor you!

For chry true and honest man, Wid one second agree, Dat de "niggers" skinned de Copperheads. Down dar in Tennessee!

O, Copperheads, we warn you now, De coming wrath to flee, For don't you hear de banjo bum, Down dar in Tennessee!

So shout de year ob jubilee, From prairie to de sea— Old Massa Brownlow he go in, Down dar in Tennessee!

COLORS "TURN OUT."—We learn the colored folks' Procession and Pic Nic at Greencastle on Saturday last, in honor of the emancipation of their race from slavery, was largely attended. They were ably addressed by speakers of their own color, Rev. Wm. H. Garnett, (Presbyterian) of New York, and Wm. Corten of Philadelphia. By invitation the former occupied the pulpit of the German Reformed Church on Sunday evening. This darkey demonstration seems to have harassed considerably the editor of the Valley Spirit, much more so no doubt than would a similar assemblage of full-plledged down-south rebels. From all accounts the colored orators, so far as intelligence and good morals are concerned, have the advantage of our cotemporary.

THE PIC NIC.—The Odd Fellows' Pic Nic, owing to the unfavorable state of the weather did not come off yesterday. The promised address by Dr. Daugherty, of Carlisle, was delivered in the Hall. The procession and Pic Nic we understand will be held on some future occasion not far distant.—The Order had made extensive preparations for the occasion, and had not the rain interfered, the gathering would have been large and a pleasant time had generally.

BEARS!—The mountains it would seem, are full of Bears, and they are getting quite bold.—On Sunday last one of huge proportions made his appearance in the settlement two miles east of this place, and when discovered, was amusing himself driving a sow and pigs off to the mountain where he made a feast of his captives. The sow was the property of Mr. Bowers, a poor man, and was valued at $20. Bruin seemed perfectly at home and regarded with sublime indifference his pursuers who had no other weapons than an old shot gun and hatchet. We learn that a war of extermination against the "varmints" is to be inaugurated.—Eulton Republican.

CURIOSITIES.—Last week a friend in the country sent Mr. J. S. Nixon fifteen snake eggs, which were thrown in an open box under the counter in his store, and forgotten until Saturday, when attention being called to them, Mr. Nixon found the eggs beginning to open and during the day nine copper-head snakes, about six inches in length, came out of the eggs. True to the instincts of nature, as soon as their heads appeared outside the shell, they stuck out their fangs and showed fight.—Repositoary.

ASSASSINATION OF A TENNESSEE LOYAL MILITIAMAN.—We were shocked yesterday evening to hear of the assassination of John Askew, Orderly Sergeant of Captain J. C. Blackburn's company of State Guards. He was returning from General Stokes' residence, in DeKalb county, on Thursday evening last, when he was fired on by several men, who were lying in wait in the bushes by the roadside. He fell from his horse, and his assassins rushed up and fired several bullets into his body and left him for dead. He was picked up shortly after, still alive, but we learn, expired soon after. This brutal and cowardly murder took place on Coney Fork. Sergeant Askew is said to have been a most exemplary and excellent young man, and his untimely death is greatly to be regretted. No doubt is entertained that his assassins were moved by political hatred to commit the awful crime. General Stokes' life has been attempted on several occasions, and his preservation hitherto is really remarkable. Last winter we published the fact that rewards had been offered by a number of rebels for the lives of General Stokes and several other officers in the Union army. The death of poor Askew is no doubt to be laid at the door of the same ruffians.—Nashville Press 13th.

WALKING MATCH.—One of the greatest walking matches against time on record has just been made by George K. Goodwin, of New York, who backed the noted pedestrian, Edward P. Weston, to walk from Portland, Me., to Chicago, Ill., a distance of twelve hundred miles, in thirty consecutive days. The start is to be made from Portland on a Saturday, between the 1st and 15th of October next, Weston agreeing not to walk on Sunday, thus leaving him twenty-six days to do the work in. The match is said to be for $10,000.

The Rev. Wm. Beates, the senior member of the Ministerium of the Lutheran Synod of Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Lancaster last Sunday morning, while administering the Lord's Supper to his family. He was in the 91st year of his age.

Recently several prominent grain operators at Chicago were arrested on a State warrant charging them with violating a bill passed at the last session of the Illinois Legislature, providing against speculation or gambling in breadstuffs.

The Chicago Tribune, heretofore opposed to impeach Mr. Johnson, has taken decided grounds in favor of that policy.

Ice formed on Mount Washington, N. H., last Tuesday night, to the thickness of a quarter of an inch.

The late Rufus H. King, of New York, left a property valued at $800,000. The sum of $10,000 per annum and the use of the dwelling house is given by his will to the widow, and the remainder of the property, after the payment of some small bequests, is divided equally among his four children.

Wm. Richardson, of Paulding county, Ohio, is one hundred and four years old. He is the survivor of five wives, and is now living with the sixth. He is the father of twenty-five children by two of his wives—twenty-one are living.

A man named Thomas Halon was drowned in Long Island sound, New York, on Saturday, while endeavoring to rescue his little son, who was bathing and got beyond his depth. The child was saved.

Sixty clerks in the Treasury Department were discharged a few days ago. It is expected that as many more will be discharged this week.
