

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO Friday, September 20, 1867.

One hundred and three persons died of yellow fever in New Orleans on Saturday and Sunday.

A STRIKE.—The Philadelphia boot and shoemakers are on a "Strike" for an increase of twenty per cent. on their wages.

The yellow fever is rapidly spreading throughout Texas. A large number of Government officials and officers of the army and navy have died. Aid is urgently appealed for.

General Grant as acting Secretary of War has ordered the discharge of seventy clerks out of the one hundred and forty in the Pay Department.

The editor of an Iowa paper says that the heavens were black, one day last week, with wild geese, flying South, and consequently presages that winter will be here in September.

J. G. Batterson, of Hartford, Ct., is the successful artist who will furnish the statue and pedestal for the Antietam Cemetery. Cost, $30,000.

Five warehouses were destroyed by fire at Cincinnati on Saturday night, involving a loss of $400,000. A large quantity of whiskey was stored in the warehouses.

The report of the Judiciary Committee on Impeachment is being printed for presentation to Congress. Great precautions have been taken to keep the report from being made public before its presentation to the House of Representatives.

An appeal has been made for a Congress of American women, to decide upon a rational style of dress. Let this Congress assemble as soon as possible, for if reconstruction on any subject is needed speedily, it is that of the costume of the women of the country.

LOYAL GOVERNORS.—The St. Louis Democrat suggests, in view of the condition of affairs in Washington, that the Governors of the loyal States meet together at an early day, and consult in regard to the political situation. It also suggests a similar consultation on the part of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The telegraph announces the death of Gen. Griffin at Galveston, from yellow fever, which occurred on the 15th. This announcement will be received with profound regret. He was a brave and able soldier who, throughout the rebellion, performed active and efficient service. As ranking officer he succeeded to the temporary command of the Fifth Military District on the removal of General Sheridan. At his own request he was permitted to remove the headquarters of the department to Galveston, where he was then stationed—he declaring it would seem like a desertion of his post to leave there whilst the fever was prevailing so malignantly, and the officers and soldiers were so greatly suffering from its ravages. He remained, and has fallen a victim to his conscientious ideas of soldierly duty.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the House of Representatives, in a letter to Hon. John L. Thomas, concerning the recent Border State Convention, defends the right of Congress to inquire whether a State has a republican form of government, and says, concerning Maryland: "If a State which disfranchises by the tens of thousands every man who bore arms to destroy the nation, and along with them every man who took official oaths of allegiance to a so-called Government which could only exist on the ruins of the Republic, and at the same time disfranchises by the tens of thousands other men who are free citizens of the United States and unmistakably loyal—if such a State has a republican Government, I would like some learned jurist to inform us what would be an anti-republican Government." He then states that he has "the fullest faith that Congress, which has dared to defy Rebel hate and Executive obloquy and reviling, will not allow such conduct to pass unrebuked. It is their duty to protect loyal men everywhere, and they will do it." Alluding to President Johnson's conduct, Mr. Colfax says the first duty of Congress, when it assembles, will be to determine whether the recent Executive action, so flagrantly defiant of the will of the people, and so notoriously at the demand of unrepentant traitors, does not require them to present the President at the bar of the Senate as an enemy of the country in his persistent revivification of the spirit of rebellion, and enemy of peace in his persistent obstruction to reconstruction by law, and a persistent defiler of the expressed will of the nation.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 16.—A difficulty originated in Walling, a small village near this city, last night, between a party of whites and negroes, in which several on each side were severely wounded; one negro has since died. It appears that the whites visited a negro camp meeting near by and created a disturbance by throwing stones at a colored clergyman, who was speaking.

Corn sells in Oskaloosa, Iowa, at eight cents a bushel.

LARGEST CIRCUS IN AMERICA COMING

The gigantic combination of Thayer & Noyes will visit Waynesboro, on Friday, Sept. 27th. We copy the following from the Pittsburg Commercial of Aug. 20th:

Thayer & Noyes Great Circus and Wonderful Performing Lions and Elephants. It will be gratifying to the many friends of Thayer & Noyes in this city and vicinity to hear of the immense success these gentlemen have been meeting with in the Eastern States. There is no exhibition traveling that could come to Pittsburg and stay as long and do as well as this firm's most excellent combination. One of our exchanges, the Utica Observer, says: "The advance of this gigantic combination, Thayer & Noyes' Great Circus, and wonderful performing lions and elephants, through New York State, is an event of the greatest importance to the lovers of public amusements, as it is an organization combining all that is instructive, pleasing and entertaining, and discarding all the elements, occasionally found in traveling exhibitions, that would in the slightest degree prove offensive to the most sensitive mind." The Oswego Advertiser says: "This concern is the acknowledged Hercules of the shows of the age, and is, without equal or dispute, the only really extensive circus in the United States." The Elmira Gazette says: "This is the best exhibition ever witnessed in this city, the majority of their riders essaying their exploits upon barebacked horses. The style in which Thayer & Noyes place their attractions before the people cannot fail to draw the largest of audiences to their establishment." This firm have recently added a new attraction to their already large collection of trained animals. Through the agency of Avery Smith, Esq., a gentleman of great experience and most excellent judgment, they have purchased for the sum of ten thousand dollars in gold, the celebrated performing elephant, Hiram, whose public exhibitions at the Zoological Gardens, London, for the past twelve months, have been the wonder and delight of all England. Thayer & Noyes, with their usual liberality and enterprise, have had constructed for them and are now using a portable Pneumatic gas works, and their pavilion is nightly beautifully lighted by one hundred jets of brilliant gas—the only traveling exhibition on this continent that is so brilliantly and perfectly illuminated.

FOUR.—A Boston paper advises consumers who have heretofore purchased their winter's stock of flour about this time, not to be in a hurry this year. The crop of wheat is reported to be very large, and it is thought that if consumers will continue to purchase as sparingly as possible, prices must recede to reasonable rates. The same paper says that there is now a grand ring forming to keep breadstuffs up to famine prices. This ring has its branches in Chicago, Buffalo and New York, and its leading members are said to be men of great wealth, with heavy bank facilities. It is well known that millions of bushels of wheat have already changed hands in Chicago, Buffalo and New York, without a bushel being moved. Like gold gamblers, many parties are buying and selling breadstuffs, who have not a bushel of wheat or a barrel of flour in their possession. They buy and bear the market, buy and sell on time, and pay the difference. These speculators are simply the tools of the ring, used to keep the market excited and prices buoyant.

New York, September 11.—General Sickles concluded his speech to the serenaders last night, amid loud, long continued cheers, as follows:

Much remains to be done before our country can enjoy the repose and security you won for her at Gettysburg, at Atlanta, at Spotsylvania, Winchester and Richmond. The enemies who surrendered to Grant, and Sherman, and Sheridan [loud cheers] are now in their parole of honor to obey the laws of the land, and I believe their parole will be kept wherever the Government, in all its departments, is agreed on the duty to be performed. The will of the people who put down the rebellion must be executed. [Applause.] Then, and not till then, shall we have peace. Let us have faith in the future. Let no one take counsel of the timid. Whoever may be tried and found wanting, the army of to-day, the armies of 1865, the citizen soldiers of the Republic and Grant, [loud cheers] their invincible leader, will never falter, never fail.

It has long been a matter of surprise that Berks and Lancaster counties should be so decidedly opposite politics. Hon. John Strehm of Lancaster, at a recent meeting, gave his theory as follows:

"He also gave a brief history of the early settlers of Berks and Lancaster counties. During the Revolution, Lancaster county was settled principally by non-combatant and non-resistant Christians. These refused to fight, but sympathized with the revolutionists, and, as they were producers, they were let off on condition of supplying our armies with provisions, &c. A great portion of the early settlers of Berks county were Hessians captured at Red Bank. These people were made to believe that our government were oppressing them, and hence, generally arrayed themselves against it.

We perceive, says an exchange, that an attempt has been made to introduce the ridiculous Rebel amusement of playing tournament, into Pennsylvania. The grand farce was enacted at Huntington, at which place a number of gallant knights on horseback attempted to poke the ends of long poles through rings suspended from beams, while their spavined Rosinantes were proceeding at the best speed to which kicks and whipping could urge them. This is the first instance of the adoption of this Southern folly in any State north of Mason and Dixon's line. It will do very well as an amusement for the nigger-whipping chivalry, but among grown people of common sense it is as absurd as it would have been if the same assemblage had been drawn together to witness big men play at marbles.

LOCAL MATTERS.

TIMOTHY SEED.—A choice article for sale at Reid's, on Saturday.

PLEASANT.—The weather has been pleasant during the past week.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $2 from John L. Young, Prairie City Ill. Also $3 from P. B. Doty, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Mr. J. L. Metcalf offers at private sale his Cottage Building on Church Street. See advertisement.

GREAT CIRCUS.—Thayer & Noyes' Circus, said to be the largest in America, will visit this place on the 27th.

FOR SALE.—See advertisement of small property for sale by Abm. Snowberger, administrator, in another column.

At a wedding in Scranton, Pa., the bride received ten thousand dollars worth of presents. Good place to get married.

DECEASED.—Dr. James Brotherton, whose illness we noticed in our last issue, expired at his residence in this place on Thursday evening last, aged about 75 years.

COMING.—We have been requested to announce that Messrs. Price & Hefflich will receive their first supply of new goods on Tuesday next.

VALUABLE ESTATE.—The valuable estate of Jacob Hoffman, dec'd, situate near Kinggold, Md., is advertised at public sale in today's paper.

"TOWN-HALL" STORE.—Mr. J. R. Welsh has received a full stock of new boots and shoes, as well as other goods in his line of trade. The public is invited to call and examine his stock. See advertisement.

AT WORK.—Farmers are taking advantage of the favorable weather during the past few days, and are now vigorously pushing preparations for seeding. The wet weather much delayed their operations.

PUBLIC SALE.—We direct special attention to the sale of valuable "South Mountain Mineral and Agricultural Land," advertised in another column by Geo. W. Smith Jr., Agent.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. John Long, of Bedford, Pa., died in her chair, at breakfast, a few days since. Up to the moment of her death, she had apparently enjoyed good health.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—Mr. Martin Heist, a citizen of Hartley township, Union county, died last Sabbath at the advanced age of 107 years, 3 months and 2 days.

WHISKEY STOLEN.—On Monday night of last week, two barrels of whiskey were stolen from the distillery of Mr. Hollingshead, near Mercersburg. The thieves had provided themselves with a waggon wherewith to take away their booty. The loss to Mr. H. is about $300.

THE ORIENTAL.—We direct special attention to the advertisement of the "Improved Oriental Base Burning Coal Stoves, and Parlor Furnaces," for the sale of which D. B. Russell, Esq., is agent in this place. Superiority for these stoves is claimed over all others now in use.

"THE SECRET SERVICE."—We have received from Mr. Robinson, agent, a copy of Gen. Baker's History of the War, "The Secret Service." The volume is handsomely bound, and plainly printed on fine paper.—We have not had time to examine its general contents, but understand from one who has perused its pages that it is a work of thrilling interest.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.—A meeting of the Union Republican Party is announced for Waynesboro' on Saturday evening the 29th inst. The meeting will be addressed by several speakers.

A Democratic meeting in this place is announced for Tuesday evening, October 1st, at which addresses will be delivered.

SALARY INCREASED.—At a meeting of the School Directors of Franklin county, held on Thursday last, the salary of Mr. P. M. Shoemaker, County Superintendent, was increased from eight to twelve hundred dollars. The attendance was small, and the vote on the proposition to increase stood twelve for and eight against.—Rfp.

FIRE.—Four stables were burnt in Hagerstown on Sunday morning last, situated on the alley in the rear of the Washington House, owned respectively by Henry K. Tice, Mrs. Winter, Messrs. F. Fechtig and D. C. Aughinbaugh. In the conflagration Mr. Tice lost two valuable horses and Mr. Seymour his brother-in-law one. A number of vehicles, provender, &c., was also destroyed.—The fire is said to have been the work of some heartless incendiary.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Monday, the 9th inst., Mr. Charles N. Sellers, a young man residing in Fayetteville, was seriously injured by being caught by the tumbling shaft of a grain separator, while in rapid motion. Had not his clothes given way, he probably would have been instantly killed. He received serious injuries about the head and other parts of the body. He is now lying in a critical condition at the residence of Mr. Jacob L. Wingert, in Guilford township, where the accident occurred.—Rfp.

ANTIETAM CEMETERY.—The dedication ceremonies at Antietam Cemetery took place on Tuesday last. Of course there was a general turnout from this place and vicinity.

The crowd in attendance is represented as numbering from 20,000 to 30,000. President Johnson and other Washington dignitaries were present, with a number of loyal Governors, Governor Geary and Staff included. The Military in attendance was the Philadelphia National Guards, Grey Reserves, and the Veteran Artillery, from Philadelphia, the number of soldiers from Maryland being comparatively small. The orator of the day was Ex-Governor Bradford.

The President's reception is said to have been decidedly cool, his appearance occasioning but a few feeble shouts of welcome, whilst the gallant soldier, Geary, was most cordially and heartily greeted by the multitude. Respect for the office of President should be shown on all occasions, but treachery, whether in high or low places, will ever be met with disfavor by an intelligent and patriotic people.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION.—The public meeting announced for Monday evening last was not held, owing to the absence of some, and preparations on the part of others to be present at the Dedication of Antietam Cemetery. A meeting will however be held shortly, a notice of which will likely appear in our next issue. The object of the meeting will be, we understand, to appoint a committee to solicit stock, &c. It appears the Court, according to an act of the Legislature, has to be petitioned in regard to the matter at the next Term, and that the petition will be considered and acted upon at the January Term. So that nothing further can be effected than a temporary organization and the appointment of a committee to solicit Stock until the decision of the Court has been obtained. The petition it is not doubted will be granted, and for this reason it is proposed to make preparations in the meantime for a permanent organization.

IMPROVED.—The Berkeley Union, published at Martinsburg, Va., appeared last week in an enlarged form and new dress. It is a live Union paper and in its new dress presents a handsome appearance.

FARM SOLD.—The farm of John Lantz, Sr., in Quincy township, containing 924 acres, was sold by G. V. Moog, auctioneer, on Wednesday for the sum of $115,500 per acre. Purchaser, Mr. John Lantz Jr.

Santa Anna is still imprisoned in the Castle of San Juan d'Ulloa. Nothing definite is known in regard to his fate.

MORIBUND.—Shares of the Parkersburg (Va.) Building Association are at a premium or fifty per cent.

THE INDIAN WAR.—New York, Sept. 16.—A special despatch to the Times, from Lays' City, Kansas, dated the 15th, says the Indians have broken out into fresh hostilities. Five attacks were made upon the stage stations between here and Fort Wallace, on Friday. At Downer's Station, eighteen government mules and five horses were captured. A citizen, stock-tender, was killed, several were wounded, and the soldiers were driven into their tents. No Indians were injured.

Grinnell Springs Station and Cattle Look Station were both captured, and the government train at the latter lost stock. To-day forty wagons were attacked at Cow Creek, between here and Ellsworth, and twenty one government mules, some valuable horses, and $500 in greenbacks were captured.

Two drivers were killed and one wounded. The stage was also fired into this morning. The prairie has been fired for fifty miles by the Indians. The troops have been ordered to act only on the defensive, and the Indians are appearing in large bodies, and threatening the total destruction of the stations and obstruction to travel.

CORN.—It is pleasant to read that some of the Southern States, at least, are producing a surplus of grain this year. The Nashville Press remarks: "A most noticeable feature in commercial matters here is the present large shipment of corn to the North.—The sending of corn to Louisville and Cincinnati is something almost beyond the memory of the oldest inhabitant. The cause is simply that a better price, by some twenty cents, is paid in Cincinnati than in Nashville. Several car loads of corn are now shipped daily over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad."

Three children, all under ten years of age, were killed on the 3d inst., near Neponsett, Mass., while attempting to run across the railroad track in front of an approaching train. There was furious snow storm on Mount Washington, New Hampshire, on Thursday of last week. Parties ascending were driven back.

The wife and daughter of Dr. R. P. Blackstone, of St. Mary's county, Md., were burned to death last Saturday morning. The clothes of the daughter aged 11 years, first took fire, and those of the mother in endeavoring to extinguish the flames. Both died within a few hours after the dreadful accident occurred.

BOSTON, Sep. 16.—The dwelling of James Keene, East Abington, was burned last night. Mr. Keene's two daughters, his only children, aged 19 and 21 years, were burned to death. Keene is in New Orleans, and his wife and daughters were alone in the house.

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens is rapidly improving in health.

At Denver, Colorado, wheat sells at $1.06 to $1.10 a bushel. It used to bring five times that much.

The appearance of frost in a mild form is mentioned by newspapers East and West.
