

VILLAGE RECORD
WAYNESBORO
Friday, September 27, 1867.

Returns from the counties of Maryland of the vote for and against the Constitution indicate a Rebel majority in its favor of about 23,000 votes. Lee's soldiers were out in force.

Senator Wade and Representative Spalding, of Ohio, announce themselves in favor of a continuous session of Congress from the day of its meeting until the 4th of March 1869.

Vallandigham has publicly announced himself a candidate for the United States Senatorship from Ohio. His claims are based upon his martyrdom in behalf of the rebellion.

Hon. Thad. Stevens, now at his home in Lancaster, Pa., was attacked with a severe indisposition on Saturday. His friends hope that he will regain his usual strength in ample time to resume his public duties. His death would be a great loss, particularly at this time.

The Indians, says a St. Louis despatch, have notified the contractors on the Kansas Pacific Railroad that the road shall not be built beyond Fort Hayes; that they mean war to the knife. Great excitement prevails along the route, and the laborers are leaving. Colonel Shoemaker is at the end of the track endeavoring to rally the men.

Toronto, September 20.—The celebrated Dr. Blackburn, of yellow fever notoriety, left Canada for New Orleans yesterday, having obtained permission to return under the late amnesty proclamation.

The miscraent, says the New York Commercial, should not be suffered to pollute, with his step or presence, the soil which he attempted to scourge. In violating all the laws of God, man and nature, he became obnoxious to all laws, human and Divine. No steamer or railway should allow him to travel, nor should any receive him.

OUR CURRENCY.—The Lewistown Gazette in an article on our currency says:—As for greenbacks, they are the best and safest currency the world ever saw, because the United States Government is responsible for every dollar issued. The farmer, mechanic, laboring or business man, need have no care about banks breaking as long as he has greenbacks, because the breaking of a bank does not affect the value of those notes, nor need he care whether it is issued in Maine, Wisconsin, Florida, or Texas. Gold is an article of commerce which no poor man wants to buy, and to argue that because it is at a premium our currency is not good, is decidedly shallow. Greenbacks buy lands, houses, food and drink, and gold can do no more.

THE NATIONAL DEBT.—An exchange remarks that, such as political divisions and internal disquiet cause our people to feel anxiety as to the condition and prospects of the republic, they are at set times compelled to confess to a sentiment of supreme satisfaction when the regular monthly statements of the national debt exhibit the large and steady reduction of its aggregate and the extent to which its volume has already been brought down from the great sum with which our war expenditures closed up. At its highest point the total debt was much nearer three thousand millions of dollars than people generally were allowed to be made aware, as the real total was obscured by deducting from it the high balance in the Treasury. Since that point was reached we have gradually contracted our obligations to the extent of two hundred and eighty-six millions of dollars, and the year 1867 will probably terminate with an aggregate reduction of a round three hundred millions.

ACTIVITY.—A correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette—a dirty rebel sheet—says that "for two years none but radicals in politics were allowed to work on the Antietam cemetery grounds." We say amen to that arrangement. What right has a rebel or a Copperhead, at one time or the other engaged in the overthrow of our country, and the murdering of Union soldiers, to dig the first shovel full of earth, or place a single inch of sod over the graves of those they helped to destroy? It would be downright sacrilege.—Tel.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—A gentleman who had a long interview with the President this morning, says he will inaugurate no new measures at present, but if Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York should go against the Union or Radical party, he will consider it an endorsement of his policy, and will then take decided action against Congressional reconstruction, as he is satisfied he will be supported by the people.

The council of the Peace Commissioners with the North Platte Indians has resulted in nothing decisive. Gen. Sherman told the Indians very plainly that they must keep the peace and leave the roads alone, or he would kill them.

Rev. F. R. Auspach, D. D., of the Episcopal Church, died in Baltimore last Tuesday morning, in the 49th year of his age.

BROAD STREET, Philadelphia, is eleven miles and a half long in one straight line, and one hundred and fifteen feet wide.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.—The Richmond Whig, in an article on the approaching elections, advises its readers in this wise:

We could wish that our people would make up their minds to carry out the Reconstruction acts in their letter and spirit without regard to election results. Let them do what the existing laws require, and if any favorable change occur in Northern sentiment promising relief, they will be in an attitude to receive it gracefully. If not, they will only have to appeal to their conduct to silence any accusation as to contumacy. They should remember that no matter what may be the result of the Northern elections, a Republican Congress will still be in power, and will hold over until after the Presidential election—long enough to consummate its policy of reconstruction. Nothing short of a successful armed revolution can drive it from power, and who expects that? If such an attempt were made, it would be immediately confronted by the army; for General Grant, it is now ascertained, favors the Congressional policy of reconstruction.

If our advice could influence the action of the people of Virginia, it would be to look for no miracles and no relief from any quarter, but, turning neither to the right nor the left, to keep straight on in a course of rigid compliance with the Reconstruction acts—voting for a Convention and for liberal and enlightened men, of unobnoxious antecedents, who are not wedded to the dead past, who appreciate the revolution through which we have passed and the new duties and new policies it has imposed, who are ready to comply fully with the requirements of the Reconstruction law, and who sincerely desire to effect the speediest attainable restoration of the Union. The latter is, for the present, our sole legitimate connection with politics, and to it we should address all our efforts. It will be time enough to consider other questions when this is disposed of.

At a recent meeting in Ohio Senator Sherman emphatically declared that Mr. Stanton's removal from the War Office was simply to get out of the way a man who insisted on the fair execution of the laws of Congress, that as a Senator he would vote to reinstate him as Secretary of War, and that he had no doubt that he would be restored, to remain there during the term of Mr. Johnson's administration. Senator Wade was equally emphatic. Senator Thayer declared his belief that Andrew Johnson meditates forcible resistance to the authority of Congress, and that the organization of a Rebel militia in Maryland was being effected to aid Johnson in his plan.

A GOOD LAW.—What would be the consequence if the following law, passed by the English Parliament in 1770, was in force now?

"That all women, of whatever age, rank, profession or degree, whether virgins, maids or widows, who shall, after this act, impose upon, seduce, or betray into matrimony, any of His Majesty's subjects, by virtue of scents, paints, cosmetic washes, artificial teeth, iron stays, bolstered hips, or high-heeled shoes, shall incur the penalty of the law in force against witchcraft and like misdemeanors; and that marriage under such circumstances, upon conviction of the offense, shall be null and void."

MODESTY VS. EGOTISM.—A correspondent of the Baltimore American says:—

In reading the dedicatory address of President Lincoln at Gettysburg in 1863, and that of President Johnson at Antietam in 1867, as published in your paper of Thursday last, I notice that while President Johnson used the personal pronouns I, we, and My eight times, President Lincoln did not use them once.

President Lincoln used the pronoun We ten times. President Johnson only four times.

The Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald thinks that if President Johnson does not strike at Congress by preventing its assembling in November, or forcing it to admit the Southern representatives elected under Johnson's Reconstruction policy, he will be impeached, and ought to be.

So the President has fair notice of what is expected of him.

THE FALL ELECTION.—Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana Iowa and Minnesota, will hold their general election on Tuesday, October 8th; West Virginia will hold an election on Thursday, October 24th; New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, Maryland and Delaware, on Tuesday, November 6th; Kansas on Monday November 11th.

MR. STEVENS.—The Lancaster Examiner of Wednesday says: We are pleased to state that Mr. Stevens has measurably recovered from the severe attack which prostrated him on Saturday. He is much better to-day, but still weak, and confined to his room. It is thought that in a few days he will be able to take exercise in the open air.

The official vote in Tennessee at the recent election is published. It gives Brownlow 74,484 and Etheridge 23,550. Majority for Brownlow, 51,334.

Gov. Orr, of South Carolina, has written a letter to General Sickles since the latter was relieved, in which he expresses deep regret at the President's course, and unqualifiedly endorses all the measures of Sickles' administration, approving especially of General Order No. 10 which he says has been the only means by which the people of South Carolina have been able to raise a crop this season.

LOCAL MATTERS.

GET ASSESSED.—Persons not assessed to-day (Friday) will not be permitted to vote at the coming election.

EXPECTED.—Hon. Ed. McPherson is expected to speak at the Union meeting in this place to-morrow evening.

The heirs of Geo. Wiles, dec'd, offer the "Hoover Farm" for sale. See advertisement.

CALE FOR SALE.—We have a fine calf (male) which we will sell to a farmer who may want to raise one.

FOR SALE.—Mr. Hamilton offers at private sale in to-day's paper seven houses and lots.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $2 from Dr. M. S. Newcomer, Mt. Morris, Ill.

NEW GOODS.—Messrs. Price & Hoeflich are in receipt of their first supply of new fall goods. Their advertisement will appear next week.

HEAVY LOAD.—Mr. W. M. Ward recently hauled from Greenacastle to this place, with one horse, 3,000 lbs. of Iron castings, making the trip coming and going in half a day. So says the Valley Echo.

ON HAND.—Our neighbors, Messrs. Amberson, Benedict, & Co. have received their first supply of new fall goods. Advertisement next week.

REFRESHING.—A few patrons quite recently called and settled their long-standing accounts. Such visits are refreshing, and we hope others will be as considerate and fork over long-deferred arrearages. We have a couple of payments to make in a short time and will be compelled to "dun" somebody unless the money is forthcoming.

HOAXED.—It appears from an official despatch published in another column that the much talked of fortune in Germany to the Graff or Grove family in this country has no foundation in fact.

THE WEATHER.—The days are warm and the nights are cool, just the season to breed sickness, and we advise mothers to give their children an extra quilt through the night, and stockings and shoes through the day—this will save quinine.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—We would remind those wishing to make investments in real estate that the sale of Dr. Frantz's farm comes off to-morrow. A chance is here offered for a good investment.

PUBLIC MEETING.—We have been requested to announce that a public meeting to take into consideration the formation of a Building Association will be held in the Hall on Monday evening next. A general attendance is requested.

ELECTION OF PASTOR.—We learn from the Middletown (Md.) Register, that the congregation of that place on Sunday last elected the Rev. A. Buhman of this place their pastor and that he will receive a call to that charge. Rev. Mr. Buhman is popular with his people here as a minister, and they would no doubt be loathe to part with him.

PRIVATE SALES.—Since our last issue Mr. Samuel Baer disposed of his farm, near Park Hill, containing about 57 acres, to Mr. David Fox, for the sum of $90 per acre.

Mr. Geo. Summers also disposed of his farm near Quincy, to Andrew Shank, for the sum of $7,500.

Henry Beare, 12 acres of wood land, near Poketown, to David Snively, for the sum of $160 per acre.

THE ELECTION.—Tuesday a week will be election day. So far but little interest has been manifested by either party in this region. Although neither Governor nor members of Congress are to be voted for this fall, the election notwithstanding is a vitally important one. Not so much on account of the offices to be filled as the influence the result may exert upon grave questions at issue between a loyal Congress and a treacherous and reckless Executive, who is operating in the interest of traitors, and against the loyalists of the country, both North and South. For this reason we attach importance to the October election.

Wheaton's Ointment is an old and well tried remedy, which keeps constantly increasing in popularity as its merits become known. It has been before the public for more than sixty years, and is universally acknowledged to be the most certain and speedy cure ever discovered for Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Chilblains, Tetters, Pimples, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, while it is a sure cure for the Itch, and will eradicate the most obstinate cases in forty-eight hours.

THE LITTLE CORPORAL FOR OCTOBER presents a beautiful table of contents, always original, and always popular, pure and elevating. Now is the best time to subscribe for this attractive Juvenile, as the publisher offers to send the November and December numbers of this year free to all new subscribers for 1868 that are sent before the last day of October. Great inducements are offered to those who raise clubs. Price, one dollar a year. Sample copy ten cents. Address ALFRED L. SEWELL, Publisher, Chicago.

WAYNESBORO BAND.—At a meeting held in the Town Hall, on Saturday evening, Sept. 21st, a Band was organized by the election of the following officers.—President, Geo. Hollenberger; Vice-President, E. Bender; Treasurer, Wm. Smith; Secretary, D. H. Hildebrand; Leader, Peter Dock. Private Members—G. E. Lidy, C. O. Rhoyal, S. W. Pilkington, W. Iffontine, A. Freuch, C. H. Dickle, A. H. Rowe, Geo. Beaver, Wm. Dock, Geo. Pilkington.

The members all pay $5 initiation fee, and ask the citizens of Waynesboro and vicinity to lead them a helping hand. The money subscribed by citizens sometime since (1854.00) is in their hands, but which, with their own subscriptions, is inadequate to procure the needed instruments, eight or nine in number. If the citizens will extend the necessary aid to procure these instruments, the members obligate themselves to play for political parties and the different Sabbath schools of our town in the future free of charge. The proposition we think is a liberal one and our citizens should at once make up the deficiency.

DEATH OF JOHN NILL.—John Nill, Esq., a well-known citizen of this county, died at his residence in this place on Thursday last. His health had for a long time been infirm. He at one period owned what is known as Scerist's Mill, at Mt. Hope, in Quincy township; was afterward Collector of Tolls on the Pennsylvania Canal at Harrisburg; and still later, a Justice of the Peace for Washington township and Treasurer of the Waynesboro' Saving Fund. He was at one time a very active and prominent man, but for some years past his infirmities have compelled him to lead a quiet and retired life.—Spirit.

KNIFE BLADES.—Owners of bladeless knives are referred to the advertisement of Mr. Johnston in another column.

On first page we give Gov. Geary's address delivered at the close of the Antietam Dedication Programme. It is just what might be expected from a good Governor and a brave General.

For the Record.
School Furniture.

The farmer cannot advantageously cultivate the soil unless he has good implements. The surgeon must have the best kind of instruments—the carpenter good tools that they may perform their work well. No less essential is it that we have good School Grounds—good school houses—good school furniture to aid the "moulder of the immortal mind" in "chiseling out" of the youthful being such an image which shall, when completed, be admired by all who love the true, the beautiful and the good. The faithful teacher feels no less embarrassed with poor instruments, than does the farmer or the surgeon. Farmers at all times know the condition of tools in their employments hands, and, if money is at stake, soon repair them. Good stables are built for horses, cows, and hogs. Good sheds for wheat oats and hay. Carefully is everything housed that may tend to profit. This is all perfectly right—Men must live. All love to live as comfortable as possible. Men, too, have a right to possess things and take care of them—All these things, daily observation teaches us, must be deserted, however close they cling. There is something in value that far outshines all these, it is the soul that never dies. Man was not created to live always. This world seems to be a school for the "chiseling out" of images pleasing to the Creator. First is infancy, next childhood, youth, manhood and old age. All know when they completed the first period—when they picked up the primer and marched off to school, what a great thing they imagined they were performing. The fond hopes of being learned when they "grew big" swelled their breasts. They then had just entered the ship in which they hoped to sail to the unknown shores. They were willing—the teacher was willing to do anything that would land them safely in the haven. Soon they became weary of the uncomfortable house, the muddy yard, the dirty floor, the miserable school furniture, and the unpicturesque walls. How they long for out—for night—for Saturday. It's pleasant at home. This house is my prison. I wish I had never seen it. Soon the child went to school unwillingly. The means which should produce good ends were defective. Truancy was the result.—The lad who might have been an ornament is now a nuisance. The time has come when more attention should be paid to children than to colts, calves and pigs.—Means should be used that promote health, a desire to learn, to facilitate the teachers' labour that he may do much work in a little time. Every school house should be well located—should have an acre of ground planted with ornamental trees and enclosed with a good fence. The house should be provided with neat, comfortable furniture—well lighted, heated and ventilated. A school architect, or Wickersham's School Economy, should be well studied by teachers and school officers before educational means are provided. ECONOMY.

FREDERICK, Md., Sept. 24.—Colonel G. W. Z. Black, editor of the Frederick Republican, was to-day assaulted in a cowardly manner in the street, by Edward Nelson, who took umbrage at an article which appeared in the Republican, criticising the course of his father, Judge Nelson. Armed with a club and pistol, he assaulted the Colonel, but failed to inflict the slightest injury and hurriedly left an inglorious field.

At a republican ratification meeting held in Philadelphia last Friday evening, a resolution was adopted declaring the opinion of the meeting and the duty of Congress to impeach, try, and if found guilty, remove Andrew Johnson, President of the United States.

Two elderly maidens residing in Philadelphia have been committed to prison on the charge of killing, with strychnine, a little girl aged 4 years, the daughter of a neighbor, in revenge for the child calling them old maids.

Hans Graff.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Secretary of State has received the following: United States Legation, The Hague, Sept. 6, 1867. SIR: A statement appeared some time since in an American paper, to the effect that the minister at the Hague had—confirmed a report that $75,000,000 had been—lifted in Holland to the descendants of one Hans Graff in answer to the many letters—received on the subject, I have made inquiry and find no foundation for the rumor. Some of the writers state that their ancestors owned a large estate in a certain part of Baden, which was confiscated during a religious persecution, and that the government was prepared to refund.—The minister of Baden informs me that no such persecution and confiscation ever occurred, and that the records show that at the time and place specified, one Hans Graff was in possession of a farm as tenant, but held no estate in fee. As I am advised that in many parts of the country money is being laid out by the family, and I find it impossible to continue to notice their numerous letters, I beg to suggest that such publication be authorized by the Department as will answer their inquiries and save them further expenditures.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant, HUGH EWING.

A New York youth hung himself the other day, but as he felt the halter draw, repented, seized it with both hands to prevent strangulation, and called lustily for help. His mother cut him down and gave him a flogging.

Tuesday morning last a little boy, aged 7 years, died from hydrophobia, in Baltimore. He was bitten through the hand by a dog on the 13th of July, but there had never been any apprehension of danger from it.

A train in the western part of Iowa, was a few days since delayed one hour and a quarter by grasshoppers, which covered the track so thick that the engine drivers slipped on the rails.

A few days ago the yellow fever made its appearance in the family of Mr. Louis Miller, at New Orleans, and swept off the mother and five children. Only the father and one child survives.
