A despatch from Mobile tells of a similar attempt to murder Judge Busteed, United States District Juage for Alabama, by District Attorney L. V. B. Martin. The latter had been indicted for revenue frauds and extortion. He approached the Jüdge and said: "Judge, will you al--low-that-indictment-against-me-to-take-itscourse?" Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention. WASHINGTON. Dec. 27.—The committee appointed at the meeting of the representatives of Soldiers' Leagues throughout the country, held here two weeks ago, to communicate with various military parties as to the propriety of holding a National Convention of Soldiers and Sailors next May, to nominate a Presidential ticket, raport that plan, from a number of prominent military officers, including two or three who are Governors of States. Another conference is to be held here on the eighth of January next. when an address is to be prepared, and the time and place for holding the Convention decided upon The leaders of the movement advocate the plan for holding the Convention at Chicago the week previous to the Republican National Convention, and then proceed to nominate such a ticket as the latter will be compelled to accept, or take issue with the soldiers of the country. The secret of the entire matter is that the Convention will be held to further the designs of some candidate for the Vice Presidency, who hopes, by obtaining the nomination of the soldiers, that it will likewise place him upon the Republican ticket. None but those connected with the movement seem to doubt but that the Convention will declare for Grant for the Presidency.
