

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO Friday, January 17, 1868.

A State Temperance Convention will be held in Harrisburg, beginning the 18th of next month.

Peter Cartright, the celebrated Methodist preacher, is still vigorous at the age of eighty-three.

President Johnson signed, on Saturday, the anti-banded warehouse whiskey bill.

Governor Geary, in his Message to the Legislature, strongly opposes the burial of the Confederate dead in Antietam Cemetery.

Buckner has recovered his confiscated property. Of course, so faithful a rebel as he should not be permitted to lose anything.

A special election will be held in the Eighth Ohio District, on the 27th to fill the vacancy caused by the murder, by his son of Hon. C. S. Hamilton.

The Ohio Democratic State Convention unanimously resolved that George H. Pendleton is the choice of the Democracy of Ohio for the next President of the United States.

The Boys in Blue of Pennsylvania have expressed their preference for General Grant and ex Governor Curtin as the Republican candidates for President and Vice President.

The Erie Observer says a bill is to be introduced into the Legislature, making it a penal offense, punishable with imprisonment, to take a newspaper without paying for it.

Kentucky demands some $5,000 from the United States Treasury for tolls on her turnpikes unpaid during the war, the boys in blue having fallen into the disorderly practice of "running the gates."

Gen. Kenton Harper, founder of the Staunton (Va.) Spectator, a soldier of the Mexican war, representative in the Virginia Legislature, and afterwards a rebel officer, died on Christmas night, aged 66.

In Georgia General Meade has removed Charles J. Jenkins, "Provisional Treasurer," and John Jones, "Provisional Treasurer," for "having declined to respect the instructions of and to cooperate with the Major General commanding the third military district."

In the United States Senate on Saturday Mr. Sumner introduced a resolution declaring that the amendment to the Constitution, proposed by the Thirty ninth Congress, had been ratified by a sufficient number of States and that it is now valid and a part of the Constitution. It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

George H. Pendleton seems to be looming up as the probable Democratic candidate for President next fall. The Pittsburgh Post, the organ of the Democracy of Western Pennsylvania, comes out for him fairly and squarely. It declares that he is the man the best calculated, of all who have been named, to fill the office of President at the present crisis.

The order offered in the Maryland Legislature, requiring the national flag to be displayed from the State House during the sitting of the present session of that body, was most consistently, rejected. The men who compose both branches of the Legislature regarded the stars and stripes as the symbol of tyranny and oppression during the war, and it is not likely that they have changed their views since its close.

In the Maryland House of Delegates last week, Mr. Syester presented a memorial from Thomas A. Boult, Secretary and Treasurer of the Antietam National Cemetery, and seventy-five citizens of Washington county, praying an appropriation of money for the purpose of removing to the Cemetery the remains of the Confederate dead. It was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Syester and his friends should not be partial. They should ask an appropriation for a bounty to living confederates, who endured so many hardships and privations for the success of the "lost cause."

Secretary Stanton's suspension was passed upon on Monday by the Senate in executive session, and a just and perfect verdict arrived at. The Senate decided, by a vote of 35 yeas to 7 nays, that, "having considered the evidence and reasons given by the President in his message of the 20th of December last for the suspension from office of the Secretary of War, Edwin M. Stanton, we do not concur in such suspension." The Senate ordered that General Grant, Secretary Stanton and the President be officially notified of its action. Of course Gen. Grant will vacate the office he has so ably filled since Mr. Stanton's uncalled for suspension, and resign its functions to that officer. What course the President will pursue a few days will develop; but there is no doubt that he will refuse to recognize Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—The Annual Message of Gov. Geary was delivered to the Legislature on the 8th inst. The document is highly interesting but too lengthy for our columns entire.

After alluding to the grateful acknowledgment due to the Author of all good for the continued prosperity of the country, the question of the financial condition of the State is discussed with clearness by the Governor, and a satisfactory exhibit of the revenues and expenditures is made.

The recommendation that the Legislature should give early attention to the preservation of the credit of the Commonwealth, and the speedy extinguishment of the public debt, is one that will meet the hearty approval of the public.

The Governor then alludes to the want of uniformity and constant change of books in our common schools, and says these are matters of serious inconvenience and needless expense to the poor, and might easily be remedied by judicious legislation. The chief aim of our system of common schools is to place the advantages of an education within the reach of all the children of the Commonwealth; and when it is considered that intelligence and virtue are the principle safeguards of our free institutions, this system earnestly claims the fostering care of the Legislature.

The Message recommends the adoption of a general railroad law, and the reduction of charges for passage and freight to minimum rates.

Members of the Legislature are requested to avoid the hasty and careless legislation which marked the close of last session.

An adequate preparation in time of peace as a preservative against the probabilities and contingencies of war is recommended. This oft-repeated axiom was not sufficiently realized before the rebellion, for when it broke out upon us it found the nation wholly unprepared. If it had been otherwise, the war would have been of comparatively short duration, if not crushed in its incipency.

A history of the working of the Soldiers' Orphans' schools is given, which is entirely satisfactory, as well as that of the Agricultural College.

More stringent laws for the protection of inventors, and the creation of an Insurance Department, are recommended.

The Message concludes with an able discussion of the National affairs, in which the Governor heartily favors the Reconstruction plan adopted by Congress.

TREASURER'S REPORT.—Mr. Kemble, State Treasurer, in his report recently published, states that during his short administration of three years, the debt of the State has been reduced nearly FIVE MILLION DOLLARS, and through a period when the war and miscellaneous expenses were necessarily very large. This intelligence will be received by the tax-payers with a welcome plaudit.

After referring to the working of several laws on the made of collecting taxes, and recommending amendments to the same, Mr. Kemble estimates an excess of $1,000,000 of our expenditures during the present year. As this is a much larger excess than is required—necessary and wise to collect—he urges a repeal of the mill tax on personal property, bonds, mortgages and moneys a interest, except the bonds and mortgages issued by corporations.

"THE HANGMAN OF MRS. SURRETT."—If in bringing General Hancock conspicuously before the country as a Presidential candidate, Mr. Johnson intended to get him assailed and killed off, he manifested a good deal of shrewdness and is not likely to be disappointed. The New York Day Book which may justly claim to be a Presidential organ, bestows upon him the epithet above, and sundry other Copperhead journals have shown their teeth not less unmistakably. The Day Book's language is as follows:

Hancock was the hangman of Mrs. Surra. He was one of Holl's bright and shining tools in that illegal and murderous business. If he were fairly and justly tried by the law, he would be hanged for that deed. It was a revengeful, malicious murder. Nor did the form of military trial render it any less murder, according to law. Gen. Hancock cannot execute the order of a band of assassins, and then excuse himself by saying that he, individually, had no malice. The law knows no such excuse as that.

A stormy scene occurred in the Virginia Convention on Thursday. Mr. Hunt, replying to a speech by Mr. Gibson, called Henry A. Wise and R. M. T. Hunter traitors. This brought Mr. F. W. Hunter, Conservative delegate and relative of the ex-Senator, to his feet, who said, "if you say R. M. T. Hunter is a traitor, you are a liar, and I hurl the lie in your teeth." Mr. Liggett then arose and reproved the language of Hunter. Dr. Norton, colored member, moved that the parties be reprimanded. The chair was bewildered. Many began to feel for their pistols, and amid the confusion one revolver dropped on the floor. The matter was finally referred to a committee.

SPEAKER ELECTED.—On Friday last Hon. Eliza W. Davis was elected Speaker of the House, at Harrisburg. The members who refused to support him under the impression that he was unsound on the free railroad law voted after receiving pledges and assurances of his course.

Not one of the 143 newspapers published in Iowa is religious.

Another Reconstruction Bill.—The Reconstruction Committee held a long meeting on Saturday, and after some discussion it was agreed to report the following bill:

Be it enacted, &c. That in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Florida and Arkansas the civil State governments in said States respectively shall not be recognized as valid or legal State governments, either by the executive or judicial power or authority of the United States.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That for the speedy enforcement of the act entitled "An act to provide for a more efficient government of the rebel States," passed March 2, 1867, and the several acts supplementary thereto, the General of the Army of the United States is hereby authorized and required to enjoin by special orders upon all officers in command within the several military departments within said States the performance of the acts authorized by said several laws above recited, and to remove by his order from command any or all of said commanders and detail other officers of said army not below the rank of colonel to perform all duties and exercise all the powers authorized by said several acts, to the end that the people of said several States may speedily recognize civil governments, republican in form, in said several States, and be restored to political power in the Union.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That the General of the Army is authorized to remove any or all officers now acting under the several provisional governments within said several States, and appoint others to discharge the duties pertaining to their respective offices, and may do any or all acts which by said several laws above mentioned are authorized to be done by the several commanders of military departments within said States; and so much of said acts or any act as authorizes the President to detail military commanders to said military departments, or to remove any officers which may be detailed as herein provided, is hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That it shall be unlawful for the President of the United States to order any part of the army or navy of the United States to assist, by force of arms, the authority of either of said provisional governments in said disorganized States, to oppose or obstruct the authority of the United States as provided in this act and the acts to which this is supplementary.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That any interference by any person with intent to prevent by force the execution of the orders of the General of the Army, made in pursuance of this act and the acts aforesaid, shall be held to be a high misdemeanor, and the party guilty thereof shall upon conviction be fined not exceeding $5,000 and imprisonment not exceeding two years.

Sec. 6. Be it further enacted, That so much of all acts and parts of acts as conflict or are inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Collection of Whisky Tax.—To relieve the doubt entertained in some quarters of the provisions of the act which passed lately relative to the tax on distilled spirits, the following copy of the bill in full is telegraphed as it was submitted to the President:

Be it enacted, &c. That from and after this date no distilled spirits shall be withdrawn or removed from any warehouse for purposes of transportation, rectification, change of package, exportation, or for any other purpose whatever, until the full tax on such spirits shall have been paid, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof are hereby repealed.

The following are the remarks in full of the Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means on the bill when it came back from the Senate:

Mr. Schenck: The House will cheerfully concur in the bill as it stands, so long as it strikes out the words "in bond," so that instead of providing that no distilled spirits in bond shall be withdrawn from any warehouse without the payment of the tax, the bill provides that no distilled spirits shall be withdrawn or removed from any warehouse for the purpose of transportation, &c., without the payment of the tax. The effect of that verbal amendment is to remove some possible ambiguity. The Senate Committee on Finance, as well as the Senate, seemed to think that by using the words "in bond" there might be a question whether our remedy reached warehouse A. I do not quite agree with them, but if it makes any alterations in the bill, or gives a little more precision in the exact direction in which we desire to go, it abolishes the warehouse system.

The patriotic course thus far pursued by Gen. Mead since resuming his new command, has created intense dissatisfaction among the old rebel leaders in that district. The announcement that he would carry out the reconstruction laws passed by Congress has filled Johnson's supporters with dismay, and destroyed their only remaining hope of defeating the Constitutions giving equal rights to all, and securing the South to the noble cause of Liberty and Loyalty. All honor to the hero of Gettysburg. Let him remain firm and he will receive the thanks of every loyal man in the country.

All the anthracite coal in the world is confined to the Wilkesbarre basin in Pennsylvania, and is comprised in a district about fifty miles in length by four in breadth. It is doubtless destined to be some day exhausted, although not for several generations yet. The aggregate thickness of the several veins is about sixty feet. The business of mining and transportation is gradually tending towards consolidation in the hands of a few large companies.

In St. Paul, Minnesota, offenders are punished by being made to saw wood upon an immense pile belonging to the city. They do the same in Windham county, Connecticut. The keeper of the county jail goes from house to house with a gang of prisoners, the refractory ones trampled by a ball and chain, and jobs of wood sawing for the people are attended to.

LOCAL MATTERS.

MOUNTAIN JAIL.—See advertisement of Jacob Daywalt in another column.

ABSENT.—Dr. T. D. French will be absent from his office in this place until Wednesday next.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $4.00 from John H. Mowen, Pittsburg, Pa.

HOTEL SOLD.—Jacob Sellers, Chambersburg, has sold the "Washington House" in that place, to Wm. Rupert, of Fayetteville, for $12,900.

MR. EMORY EDWARDS, a well known citizen of Washington county, Md., died very suddenly at his residence in Pleasant Valley, a couple weeks ago.

TO GUNNERS.—The season having expired on the 1st inst., any person killing a partridge, rabbit, &c., subjects himself to a fine of $5 for each one killed.

LOST PACKAGE.—Several weeks since a package of dry goods was lost on the turnpike between this place and Hagerstown. The finder by returning the package to this office will be liberally rewarded.

SNOW.—Another snow storm prevailed here on Tuesday last, covering the ground to the depth of two or three inches, not a sufficient depth however to make good sleighing.

PUBLIC SALE.—Special attention is directed to the public sale of valuable personal property by John F. Hess, of Quincy township, in another column.

GONE.—Maj. P. H. Brotherton, 5th U. S. Infantry, took leave of his friends in this place on Wednesday morning last, to join his regiment at Fort Harker, Kansas. The Maj. expects to return about the first of May next on a furlough of several months.

INDUCEMENTS.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Messrs. Metcalfe & Hiteshaw, Chambersburg, offer great inducements to persons in want of dry goods, notions, &c.

ICE.—Our Hotel and Restaurant men have taken advantage of the recent "cold snap," and have all we believe filled their houses with ice of fine quality. Another season is therefore in store for the lovers of ice cream, juleps, "ice-cold lemonade," &c.

NOBLE DEED.—Recently Hon. G. Dawson Coleman, of Lebanon, distributed, free of charge, to the poor people of that town, one hundred and fifty tons of coal. This is an act worthy of being placed on record, as it is a rare instance of whole souled benevolence.

BANK ELECTION.—An election for Directors of the First National Bank of Waynesboro' was held on the 14th inst. The Board elect is as follows: Alex. Hamilton, Geo. Besore, Daniel Mickle, Sen., Henry Good, W. S. Amberson, Jas. H. Clayton, Joseph Price, Daniel Hollinger.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—Mr. Samuel Scribner has sold his store house and lot of ground in Quincy to Mr. Daniel Miller for the sum of $2500, and has purchased of the same gentleman, for $7,000, Grafenberger Springs, in Adams county. With the property there are 100 acres of land.

POULTRY DYING.—The "chicken epidemic" continues to prevail in this place and neighborhood. Some families have lost nearly all their chickens within a short time. As all remedies seem to fail in arresting the disease we would recommend administering in the first stage of the disease a little air-slacked lime mixed with lard. This has been tried in one instance and the remedy proved effectual.

AN ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening last John Leshor, son of Mr. Jacob Leshor, of the Marsh, met with a serious accident. It appears he was in the act of unhooking his father's team, when the horses became frightened and ran off, running the wagon over him, fracturing his skull and otherwise seriously injuring him. He remained in an unconscious condition for several hours. Dr. J. N. Soively of this place was summoned to his relief, and we are pleased to learn that he was doing well at last accounts and in a fair way to recover from the effects of his injuries.

BARN BURNED.—The large frame barn belonging to Mr. Jacob Bahrman, near Monterey, in Adams county, was entirely destroyed by fire on Monday evening last with its contents, consisting of wheat, corn, hay, farming implements, &c. One horse and a calf perished in the flames. During the fire, the house of Mr. Beard, a neighbor, was entered by a burglar, who is supposed to have fired the building for the purpose of plunder, and who forced an entrance into his safe and carried off $25 in gold, two watches, and other valuables. Mr. Bahrman's loss is estimated to be not less than $3000, upon which we regret to learn he had no insurance. The reflection of the fire from the building was seen in this place, and many persons supposed that either the Monterey House or the large building erected by Mr. David Miller was being consumed.

According to the report of the commissioner of pensions, the last revolution is dead.

The following paragraph from the Lancaster Express has no doubt reference to the "Brand Bear," as the animal was taken to Lancaster by Mr. Spielman about that time:

A BEAR LOOSE.—Yesterday afternoon considerable excitement was created in North Queen street, by the appearance on that thoroughfare of a wild bear. The animal, it appears, was brought to this city a few days ago, and quartered in the stable of the Merrimac House. Yesterday a colored boy was teasing the bear, when he broke the rope by which he was secured. The boy started on a rapid run, the bear after him, both intent, apparently, of getting out of harm's way. The bear finally emerged into North Queen street, and his appearance created as much consternation among the pedestrians as a hundred pound shag would have if seen rolling along the street. Every body gave him a very wide berth, seeking protection in stores and houses. The bear seemed as much frightened as the people. The scare was mutual. A large crowd collected, and after a chase of several squares his bear-ship was finally secured in a yard in Duke street, and restored to his quarters. He is but a cub yet, probably not over six months old, and of a very docile disposition. It is yet an open question, which was frightened most, the people or the bear.

WAYNESBORO' BAND.—The Band organized in this place sometime since, with Prof. Dock as Leader, we regret to learn are operating under rather discouraging circumstances. The members it seems have not been able to raise sufficient funds to pay for their instruments, and as they have other expenses, such as light, fuel, the purchase of music, etc., citizens should make up at least the amount unpaid upon their instruments. They have obliged themselves to play gratuitously at political meetings, Sabbath School picnics, etc. It would therefore be but simply an act of justice for citizens, those especially who have heretofore failed to contribute anything, to give these young men a helping hand. A small contribution from each one would suffice.

A terrible affair occurred at Dyersburg, West Tennessee, Tuesday. Sheriff Parkinton attempted to arrest an old man named Duncan on the street. Duncan drew a pistol and fired, shooting the Sheriff's thumb. Parkinton's son, standing near, fired a pistol, killing Duncan, whose son coming up at the moment fired killing young Parkinton instantly. Seeing his son slain, Parkinton drew a pistol and shot young Duncan through the heart. The most intense excitement followed, but at last accounts nothing further had been done, though owing to the extensive relations of both parties, further trouble was apprehended.

A journeyman mason, aged twenty-two, committed suicide a few days ago by jumping from the top of a house on which he was at work. The cause of this rash act was a discovery he had made on the day after his wedding that his wife had a glass eye.

All the business portion of Indianola, Texas, was destroyed by fire on the 8th inst. Loss $300,000; no insurance. The custom-house and fifty other buildings were destroyed. The fire is attributed to incendiarism.

Among the patents issued last week was one to Samuel Ganz, of Beaver Creek, Washington Co., Md., for improvement in machine for separating wheat from garlic.

General Pope has issued an order announcing that the convention is carried in Florida by 713 majority, and directing it to assemble at Tallahassee on the 20th inst.
