

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO

Friday, January 21, 1866.

The Democracy of Nebraska have declared for Pendleton for President.

George Francis Train, noted for his eccentricities, was arrested last week on his arrival in England as a felon.

John Jacob Astor, Jr., died in New York, on Saturday last, in the 66th year of his age.

Mr. Pendleton is said to be the Presidential favorite of the Maryland Democrats.

Gen. Grant's platform of principles may be comprised in one strong plank, that the men who saved the country should rule it.

When Senator Wade's present term is filled, he will have been eighteen years in the United States Senate—a good measure of good service.

Surratt's second trial was on Monday set down for the 24th of February, that date being fixed by District Attorney Carrington.

The Vicksburg Republican hoists the name of Grant, for President and Colfax for Vice President, as the choice of the Republican party of Mississippi.

There is now unbroken railroad communication from New York to the Rocky Mountains, a distance of two thousand miles.

The South Carolina Convention, now in session, has a colored majority of ten.—This is a hard pass for the blightiest of the slave States to come to.

Fernando Wood of New York was publicly reprimanded in the House at Washington last week for using some of his Five Points slang.

PASSED.—The Reconstruction Bill which we published in our last issue was passed in the House on Tuesday. Yeas, 123; nays, 45.

J. M. Cooper, of the Chambersburg Valley Spirit, is said to be a candidate for Surveyor General before the 4th of March Democratic State Convention.

The New York Herald, which for some time effluited General Grant with its support, has so far swung around the circle as to be of the opinion that "Andrew Johnson is the coming man."

Gen. Hancock seems to be eating dirt in New Orleans with gusto. He is the idol of the rebels, and recently dined at the house of the rebel Archbishop Adin, in company with Generals Beauregard, Hood, Buckner, and other ex-rebel officers. He now defies his uniform so as not to offend the delicate sensibilities of the rebels. How are the mighty fallen!

CHANGE OF TUNE.—The copperhead papers are wrathful at Gen. Grant for turning over the War Office to Stanton, and allege that he has been guilty of a "breach of promise" to the President. The Valley Spirit of this week says—"For sometime past rumors have been circulating somewhat quietly, that Gen. Grant had relapsed into his old habits and was again drinking to excess; and now it is reported that he was drunk at the time the War Office was turned over to Stanton." This statement, coming from a quarter so reliable, will be shocking news to the friends of the General, no doubt.

The 'Conservatives' of Alabama have appointed Thursday week next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God, to preserve the people of Alabama from the horrors of "negro domination." They had better give the negro a chance to read the Bible and make a man of himself before calling on the Almighty for a settlement. These same gentlemen shocked the moral and religious sentiment of all christendom by using the Bible to prove human slavery a divine institution, and they are now making themselves ridiculous before the world, in professing fear at the hands of a race who are orderly, industrious, and peaceable, and who only ask an equal chance in the pursuit of happiness and acquisition of property.

It seems to be pretty well settled at Washington, that General Sheridan is to be reinstated in his command at New Orleans within the next few weeks. The passage of the new reconstruction act will place the appointment of District commanders entirely within the control of General Grant, and it is said that one of his first important acts will be to reinstate gallant Phil Sheridan.—Nothing would prove more satisfactory to the loyal men of the country, or do more to enhance the fame and popularity of the General of the army.

R. O'Connor, a school teacher in Richfield, Minnesota, was put off the cars because he did not pay an extra ten cents to an exacting and brutal conductor, and when found was frozen to death.

General Logan has been re-elected President of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Judge Richard Busteed is slowly recovering.

Chicago has 2000 salubus.

U. S. SENATOR.—On Friday last the Maryland Legislature elected Wm. T. Hamilton, of Hagerstown, United States Senator. Hamilton received 66 votes, Swann 46, and Merrick 5.

It is well known, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, that Swann, after having been elevated to position by the Union men of Maryland, proved false to them, and he was chiefly instrumental in restoring the elective franchise to the rebels of Maryland, by which Union men were overpowered and persecuted at the polls. For this betrayal he was elected to the United States Senate last year, but fearing that the Lieut. Governor who would take his place as Governor of Maryland, was an honest man and would not turn his back upon those who gave him honor and position, he resigned the U. S. Senatorship, no doubt with a promise that the party would elect him this year. This fact was announced on the floor of the House for the purpose of whipping the members into his support, but it failed to have the desired effect, and Governor Swann receives the fate of all traitors—being completely shunned.

THE REBELS DISAPPOINTED.—The following is an extract from a letter written by a prominent and influential citizen of Alabama:

"We are now working hard and will surely succeed, unless A. J. should again derange our plans by the removal of General Meade, who has begun so gloriously, much to the chagrin and disgust of the Rebels. During the last two weeks the latter had been having matters, in many counties, all their own way, and the scenes of 1860, when no one could safely speak against secession, were beginning to be re-enacted. Old residents here, who were Union men then, and who are still loyal, say they have seen no time since 1860 that has so much reminded them of that period as have the few days since General Pope's removal. We all understood the programme, and that it would be one of violence and bloodshed. Their leaders openly proclaimed this, and but for the noble stand taken by General Meade, our election must have been, and could only have proved, a mere farce. But now all is changed, and if you could see the faces of the leading Rebels here in one of the illustrated weeklies you would laugh heartily.—We rode the other day with a committee of their number who went to Atlanta to pay its respects to General Meade and to get a promise from him to do their bidding. I saw them on their return, and their very presence in the cars cast a shadow on all around. Now we are having our day, and our friends, so far as they have seen General Meade's orders, are fully reassured, and all feel confident."

The correspondence between General Meade and Gov. Jenkins, of Georgia, which resulted in the removal of the latter from office, is published. General Meade opens the correspondence by directing Governor Jenkins to draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer for the sum of $40,000 to defray the expenses of the Reconstruction Convention. He contends that the ordinance passed by the Convention making such appropriation is in accordance with the law, and must be obeyed. Governor Jenkins replies that he does not consider the Convention a legally organized body, and consequently cannot recognize its action. Thereupon General Meade removed him from office, expressing, at the same time, his belief that he acted conscientiously, and assuring him of his respect.

The Selingsgrove Times of last week says: Last Sunday a week ago, a bull weighing about 500 pounds performed a feat and still lived that surprised all who witnessed it.—Some farmers in Monroe township were driving the animal, when he attempted to run across a well 52 feet deep that was covered only with boards. The boards gave away and his bulshup went down head foremost 52 feet to the bottom of the well, clean out of sight. As it was evening, and it being impossible to attempt to get him out that day, the owner called in the neighbors on Sunday morning. There was a full turn out. They tackled the bull with ropes and brought him up. Though the loops of one of the ropes had slipped and caught him across the nose and his fore feet so that he could not draw a breath while being raised, when again on earth he walked as though nothing had happened!

The oldest man in America lives in Detroit, a poor negro known as "Old Father Robinson." His age is 114 years. Nor is his remarkable longevity the sole noticeable feature in this aged negro. Unlike many, his faculties have been retained unimpaired. Up to this last week his vision was unimpaired and his hearing unusually acute, but during the last few days he has failed rapidly, until, in his own expressive language, "the clock is almost run down." He participated in the revolutionary war.

A fruit farmer in Ohio is planting a mammoth orchard which will consist of 5,000 apple trees, assorted kinds, 10,000 peach trees, 6,000 pear trees, standard, 2,000 dwarf, 2,000 cherry trees, 1,500 Chiohasaw plums, six acres of quinces, twenty acres of strawberries, twenty acres of raspberries, eight acres of Lawton & Wilson's blackberries, eighteen acres of grapes. A greater part of the trees are already dug, and are ready for early spring planting.

From December, 1866, to December, 1867, the number of emigrants passing through Columbus, Ohio, alone was 43,000 and the population of Ohio was increased during the same period by the permanent settlement of 11,972 foreigners, mostly Germans, within its boundaries.

On Friday night a week locomotive engine exploded at Scranton, Pa., instantly killing an engineer named Murphy. The top of his head was blown off, his face entirely destroyed, his body terribly mutilated and not enough of him left for recognition by his friends.

LOCAL MATTERS.

John F. Hess, near Mt. Hope, February 8th.

Wm. Wiles, near Frantz's Church, February 10th.

Samuel H. Barr, on the Marsh Run, four miles from Waynesboro, February 13th and 14th.

Isaac Fox, 3 miles South of Waynesboro, near Salem Church, February 27th.

RECEIVED.—We acknowledge the receipt of $2.00 from M. J. Barbet, Elkhart, Ill.

FISH.—Mr. Reid received his first supply of fresh fish on Monday last. He expects another supply to-day or to-morrow.

HOUSE FOR SALE.—Mr. Hamilton offers for sale two brick houses on Mechanic street See advertisement.

PUBLIC SALE.—Several sales of valuable personal property will be found in our advertising columns to-day, to which we direct special attention.

THANKS.—Col. B. F. Winger, of the House of Representatives, will accept our thanks for copies of the Daily Record, containing proceedings of the Legislature.

After this week town subscribers will be served by a new carrier. If any should fail to receive their paper they will please send to the office for it.

HOUSE SOLD.—Wm. Adams, auctioneer, on Saturday last, sold the house and lot on Church Street belonging to Clement Mayhugh, to Mrs. Lidy, for the sum of $916 00.

SNOW.—On Monday night last we had another fall of snow in this section, which has since afforded tolerable sleighing on the turnpikes.

MARBLE WORKS.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns that Meals & Brother have opened a Marble Shop next door to the "Bowden House," and are now prepared to furnish Monuments, Tombs, Headstones, Mantles, &c. We bespeak for them a liberal public patronage.

A WORD OF CAUTION.—We advise persons to make secure their Smoke-House doors. An attempt was made a few nights since to enter one in this place. When rogues are about it is well to be on the alert.

FURS, ETC.—We invite special attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Updegraff & Son, Hagerstown, in to-day's paper. Persons from this region visiting that place will find them well supplied with Ladies' Furs, Buffalo Robes, Blankets, Hoods, fashionable Hats, Gloves, etc., all of which they are running off at first cost to make room for a Spring supply of new goods.

DISORDERLY.—We have heard lately a number of persons complain of the disorderly conduct of boys at the Post Office when the mail is opened of an evening. They generally rush into the Book Store pell-mell, each wanting to be foremost, and force themselves in front of the boxes, whilst older persons, and even ladies, are compelled to remain back. Boys with the least modesty and good breeding are not so forward in public places.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Martin Miller, son of Mr. Jacob Miller residing near Leitersdorf, met with a serious accident on the 16th inst. While hulling cloverseed he had one of his legs broken by the bursting of the jack-whool. It appears the strap from some cause slipped from the wheel, and the horse commenced running, which gave the wheel such a velocity that it flew into pieces, one striking Mr. M. across the legs, breaking one, and severely bruising the other.—Drs. Frantz & Seively are giving him every attention and he is reported as doing well.

THE SENTENCE OF DONOVAN.—When Wm. Donovan, the York county murderer, appeared in court for sentence, says the York Pennsylvanian, he not only declared himself innocent, but he also stated to the court that he was ignorant of it, and that he had never taken the life of any person. If he persists in this statement he will be ushered into eternity without implicating any person as having participated in the triple murder of the Squibb family.

The following is the sentence of the court: "Unfortunately this plea of innocence is no longer of any avail. You have been twice tried and convicted of the murder of George Squibb, although ably defended by your counsel on both trials.

"After your first trial you were granted a new one, and this has resulted in another conviction. You have since made no application for another, and it now becomes the painful duty of the Court to pronounce upon you the sentence which the law demands.

"How long or how short a time will elapse before this sentence will be executed I do not know. The time will be fixed by the Governor of this Commonwealth. But I do know that it will not be many weeks or months. This time, whatever it may be, you will have for repentance and preparation. No time is too short if properly improved. Banish then from your mind, as far as possible, all the concerns of this world, and devote yourself to the duties which your situation require. Call to your aid the ministers of your church, and under their ministrations, I hope and pray that when life with you here is at an end, you may enter into the eternal rest prepared for all those who truly repent and rely for forgiveness upon the atoning blood of Christ.

"The sentence of the Court is, that you, William Donovan, be taken from this place to the prison from whence you came, and thence to the place of execution, and there be hanged by the neck until you are dead—and may the Lord God Almighty have mercy upon your soul!"

At the conclusion of the court's sentence Donovan approached Judge Fisher, shook him by the hand, and remarked—"I will meet you in Heaven!"

CHICKEN CHOLERA.—As this disease has been prevailing in this place and vicinity, for several months, we give the following, which is published in the last quarterly report of the Department of Agriculture: "For the last two years my chickens have been dying of cholera; even turkeys have died the same way. When I notice the hens begin to droop and look sleepy I give them three or four teaspoonfuls of strong alum water, and repeat the next day. I also mix the feed (say corn-meal), with strong alum water, feeding twice a day for two or three days; afterwards once a week. Since I have practiced the above I have not lost any."

Arrest of George Francis Train.—LONDON, Jan. 21.—The following particulars of the arrest of George Francis Train have been received here from Queens-town:—

During the transit of the tender which contained the passengers and baggage from the Scotia to the wharf, the baggage of Train, as well as that of Thos. C. Durant, of New York, who was also a passenger, was submitted to a most rigorous examination by the customs officers, but nothing of an incendiary or seditious character being found in the trunks of either of these gentlemen, they were accordingly both permitted to go ashore. But as they stepped from the tender to the wharf they were arrested and taken before a justice of the peace in the city. The examination elicited nothing against the persons to warrant their detention, and they were discharged.

Soon after their arrival at a hotel, they were re-arrested, and upon the completion of the second examination, Mr. Durant was discharged, but the authorities, however, detained Mr. Train, and he was sent in custody, to Cork jail, and there re-examined. In the meantime the case was creating considerable excitement, the newspapers reprinting Mr. Train's characteristic speeches and letters as forming a sort of justification of the arrest.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—George F. Train discharged from arrest at Cork this morning. He sent the following despatch to his friends in America:—

"I have just been released on the intervention of Mr. Adams, and have brought suit against the British Government for one hundred thousand pounds damages.
