

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO, Friday, May 23, 1868.

The internal revenue receipts of last week were $2,889,983 04, and the total since the beginning of the fiscal year, $161,165,346.98.

RAILROAD.—The Pittsburg and Connersville Railroad, is about to be put under contract from Cumberland to Connersville. From the latter place to Pittsburg, it has been in operation for some time.

FAILURE TO CONVICT.—The Senate, sitting as a Court of Impeachment on Saturday, took the vote first on the Eleventh Article (Mr. Stevens'), fifty-four members present and voting, the result was thirty-five for conviction and nineteen against it, lacking but one single vote to secure the two-thirds necessary to the President's conviction and ejection from office.

The course pursued by Republican Senators who voted for the acquittal of the President occasioned great surprise and widespread regret. It is surmised in many quarters that improper influences were brought to bear to obtain the verdict thus rendered.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times writes:

There will be a pretty searching investigation this week into the rumors that the President used corruption to influence votes in the Senate. The Managers hold their first meeting to-morrow morning. They claim to have been put in possession, already, of many facts bearing upon their case, but admit that there is as yet nothing but what may perhaps be ratiocinated. There are plenty of reports pointing directly to the purchase of votes with money, and names are given of persons who acted as agents between the White House ring and the Senate Chamber, but these rumors and stories may be safely left to the hands of Thaddeus Stevens and his associates, who will carry vigor enough into the investigation entrusted to them by the House to unearth whatever fact and truth there is in the current talk of all political circles.

The Republicans who voted against impeachment are complained of by the extremists less for their vote than for their alleged duplicity. The Ross has repeatedly declared he would vote for the eleventh article, and so most explicitly gave his colleagues to understand after dining with them on Friday. Van Winkle prepared an opinion sustaining his vote for the same article, and read it to Senator Cattell a week ago this morning and subsequently on Tuesday it was shown to another associate. The Missouri Radical delegation are ready they say to make affidavit that Henderson distinctly promised to resign or vote for the same article, and this no longer ago than Wednesday.

Concerning the charges against Senator Ross the Philadelphia Press correspondent writes: The Board of Managers were in session until a late hour, under the instructions of the House. Among the persons summoned before them was W. W. Ross, of Florida, brother of the Senator. He informed them that he knew no more than they of the alleged corruption, and added, with considerable feeling and evident sincerity, that he would gladly do all in his power to expose it if he had the means. Mr. Ross feels the conduct of his brother most intensely, and declares that he has made his name infamous. General Boynton, of the Cincinnati Gazette, who has been a warm friend of the Kansas Senator, telegraphed an account of an interview he had with Ross, and the number of articles which he promised to vote "guilty" on. The public indignation centers most strongly on this man and Fowler. The latter's conduct is utterly without excuse, as he has been a noisy advocate of impeachment hitherto.

Lyman Trumbull says the Telegraph was the real author of the Tenure of office act. On the 13th of January, he voted to reinstate Mr. Stanton, and on the 21st day of February he also voted that his removal was illegal and unconstitutional. By these votes, and upon his responsibility as a Senator, he affirmed the legality of the enactment and pronounced an emphatic judgment of condemnation upon an usurping Executive. By these unhesitating declarations of the co-ordinate branch, the House felt itself authorized, nay, more, instructed to proceed with impeachment, and the country has been inspired with the most confident belief in its successful prosecution. The Senator now retraces his steps, and squarely faces the record of his inevitable condemnation. No apologist for judicial integrity, Senatorial independence of personal purity, can persuade an indignant people to overlook his unblushing and defiant treachery.

Thaddeus Stevens offered a resolution in the House, on Monday, requesting the Senate to transmit to the House a certified copy of the last two days' official proceedings in the High Court of Impeachment. Objection was made by Democratic members, when Mr. Stevens advocated its adoption, stating that there has been somewhere deep gait and manifold damnation, and all the facts must be brought to light. After considerable discussion, the resolution was adopted.

The district attorney for Philadelphia (a city officer) receives a salary of $32,000. This includes a large amount of perquisites, and is $7,000 more than the President of the United States receives.

It is stated that in some parts of Washington county, Md., a number of hogs have died from the effects of eating Locusts, which they are rooting up and devouring with great avidity. Joseph E. Norwood, of Chicago, one of the victims of the late disaster on the Erie railroad, had insurance on his life of $67,000.

METHODIST CHURCH Loyal.—By the aid of the loyal clergy this land was saved from destruction by rebel hands, and when another hour of danger approaches the loyal people are again aroused and using their power to save it from disgrace. The general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in session at Chicago, composed of nine bishops and two hundred and forty two delegates, representing a Church of more than eleven hundred thousand members in the United States, unanimously adopted the following preamble and resolution.

WHEREAS, There is now pending in the Senate of the United States the most important question which has ever engaged its attention; And Whereas, The evidence and pleadings in this case have been fully spread before the people, so that all may form an enlightened opinion; And Whereas, We are deeply impressed that upon this faithful decision will largely depend the safety and prosperity of our nation, as well as the religious privileges of our ministers and member in many parts of the South;

Resolved, That we hereby appoint an hour of prayer from nine to ten o'clock A. M., to-morrow, to invoke humbly and earnestly the mercy of God upon our nation, and beseech Him to save our Senators from error, and to so influence them that their decision shall be in truth and righteousness, and shall increase the security and prosperity of our beloved Union. W. L. HARRIS, Secretary of the General Conference.

The editor of the Cincinnati Commercial says Gen. Ben. Butler is quite stout and his legs, instead of developing in proportion to his body, are slender and short. Sitting, he is a large man, until you see his legs, and when he gets up he is dumpy. One of his eyes is long-sighted and the other short-sighted, which singularity gives the queer expression of the eyes which no one else upon earth has. His bald head is very white and the brown hair still grows thick and strong above the ears and around the base of the brain. His hand is small, white and neatly shaped and looks well as he extends it with the palm outward, a favorite gesture in public speaking. He is not a fluent speaker, but a forcible one. He hesitates for words and sputters at them; but generally finds a word that goes to the point.

Senator Ross, of Kansas, waited on Ben. Wade on Tuesday, for the purpose of explaining the good effects of his (Ross's) vote on the eleventh article. Mr. Wade ordered the Kansas Senator out of his presence, with the request never to speak to him again. TRIAL OF JEFF. DAVIS.—It is now stated on good authority, says the Richmond Dispatch of Monday, that Chief Justice Chase has positively decided to proceed with the trial of Jefferson Davis on the 3d of June. The United States Circuit Court has adjourned to that date.

The National Temperance Advocate strongly favors General Grant for President, showing its belief in the rectitude of his habits, after careful investigation.

AN AWKWARD FIX.—The New Albany (Indiana) Ledger says: Several weeks ago, when it was supposed that all the fruit in this vicinity had been killed by frost, a gentleman living near Galena, in this county, who owns a large orchard, offered to sell all the fruit he bore this year for twenty-five cents. The gentleman, to whom he made the offer accepted the proposition, and paid over the money in the presence of witnesses. It appears that the owner of the orchard now desires to back out from his bargain, as the trees are full of fruit. The purchaser, of course, is equally desirous to hold him to it, as he sees a handsome return for his investment when the fruit matures. The quarrel between the parties is waxing warm, the owner claiming that the sale was only a bit of fun, while the purchaser contends that he acted in good faith and will fight the trade through the courts if necessary. What will be the result of the affair time alone will determine.

Time's first footprints are wrinkles and gray hair, and although nothing has yet been discovered to eradicate the former the latter may be easily obliterated by the use of Rigg's Vegetable Ambrosia. We know that it will restore gray hair to its original color and remove from the scalp all itching or irritation, whether caused by dandruff or humors, at the same time imparting to the hair that glossy and beautiful look so much desired.

In one of the departments at Washington, a father holds a chief clerkship at $1,200, and a son, fifteen years, a lesser clerkship in the same department at $1,200, another at another department, $1,400; and a daughter at the last named department at $800—only five members of the family holding places under the Government at an aggregate income of from six to seven thousand dollars. This is the best illustration of the 'happy family' that we have yet heard of.

LOCAL MATTERS.

MINERAL PAINT.—The Grafton Mineral Paint, an article highly recommended, can be had in large or small quantities at Bonebrake's Drug Store.

ICE CREAM, ETC.—For choice cakes, ice-cream, meat, etc., call at the Bakery of Honneberger & Hoover. They get things up to suit the taste of the most fastidious.

RETURNED.—Mr. Bonebrake, druggist, has returned from the East, and is now receiving a supply of fresh drugs, medicines, &c., &c.

OYSTERS.—Our neighbor, Reid, the other day presented us with a can of McMurray's Spiced Oysters, just received, and which we consider a superior article. They are retailed at 35 cents per can. Cheap.

SECOND ARRIVAL.—Messrs. Ambersson & Benedict, and Messrs. Price & Hoellich have received their second supply of new Goods, and invite their customers and the public to call and examine their new styles.

FOR SALE.—A Perpetual Scholarship in the "Eclectic Medical College of Pennsylvania," located in Philadelphia. We offer a liberal inducement to any young man wishing to enter this institution.

A young son of Wm. Roberts, of Sharon, Pa., died quite suddenly, on Sabbath last week, from lockjaw, caused by running a nail in his foot a few days previous.

We are assured that the firm of EASTMAN & KENDALL, 65 Hanover Street, Boston, Mass., advertised in our columns, is trustworthy and reliable. For 10 cts. they send a patent pen fountain, and a check describing an article to be sold for $1. Their club system of selling goods is becoming quite popular, particularly with the ladies. It is worthy of a trial.

THE RAINS.—The freshest of last week created an almost unprecedented rise of water in some of the streams. The Antietam overflowed its banks, and it is said the water in the Conococheague had not been as high within the last twenty years. More or less damage was necessarily the result.

THE WEATHER.—The weather continues cloudy and cool, with an occasional shower. This state of things is driving forward rapidly all kinds of vegetation, but serves to greatly retard the work of corn and potato planting. Late planting this season with most of farmers will be a necessity.

The fruit prospect continues most cheering. All the different varieties have bloomed profusely, and so far no damage from frost has been done even to the more early varieties. All indications favor an abundant crop and a plentiful season generally.

INFORMATION WANTED.—John Kelly, a boy aged about seventeen years, run away from his home near Shippensburg, Pa., in the month of March, 1867, and up to this time no trace of him can be found by his friends. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received by Mrs. Mary Kelly, care of VALLEY SENTINEL, Shippensburg, Pa. Exchanges please copy.

LEGAL NOTICES.—We again remind the public, especially the citizens of Washington and Quincy townships, that our rates for inserting Administrators', Executors' and Auditors' notices, is just one half less than those charged by other county papers. Previous to the late Rebellion the uniform price for such notices was $1.50. Our cotemporaries increased the sum to $5, but we added one dollar making our price $2.50. We can't see the propriety of persons from this section having such notices published in a paper that has not half the circulation that the Record has in their own neighborhood, unless it is to have the privilege of paying twice for the work.

THE LOCUSTS IN 1851.—An old subscriber of the Repository, has furnished the record of the appearance and doings of the locusts in 1851. The locust first came out of the ground on the evening of the 20th of May, but only in small numbers. On the evening of the 21st the number increased. On the 22d the trees were pretty full of them. Their musical voices were first heard on the 23d, and now ones were added to their force. The morning of the 24th being rather cool, many were crippled in their shells and died. They did not sing much on the 25th, the morning being cool and frosty, but many additional ones made their appearance. A heavy gust prevailing on the 27th, none were heard and few seen. More were visible than at any time previous on the 28th. They first stung the trees on the 3d of June. On the 9th of June they commenced dying, and by the 30th of that month very few were alive: A few stragglers held out until the 10 of July, when they sang their own requiem and disappeared for the season.

RAIL ROAD.—The Hanover Branch Railroad Company has subscribed $20,000 towards the building of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad.

Gen. Mead has issued an order declaring the constitution of Georgia ratified by 17,690 majority.

Philadelphia is thirty miles in circumference. See advertisement of Mr. Fisher, Merchant Tailor.

STRONG.—The selfishness and indifference of some persons in regard to great public enterprises is really surprising. Of this we have a fair exhibition in regard to the Scotland and Nova Scotia Railroad. The friends of this enterprise expected to have the road at least located by the middle of this month. But this selfish spirit of indifference alone has delayed the work. Men who would be enriched thousands of dollars by the Railroad, instead of going to the canvassers and subscribing liberally, and thus encouraging those who are striving for the success of the enterprise and for the best interests of both town and country, expect these persons to wait on them and importune them from time to time to do what is a plain duty. It is true, our town has done nobly, and will do ever more if the success of the enterprise should require it, but the township is entirely too sluggish. It has taken weeks, yes months, and we fear it will take some of the citizens years to make up their minds to subscribe. They cannot possibly get less than six per cent. dividends on the stock, and the chances are that the dividends will exceed ten per cent. Taking into consideration this fact and the benefits that would accrue indirectly to all classes, is not such sluggishness and indifference inexcusable? Some of our farmers have done their part promptly and liberally, but others are standing aloof and holding the enterprise in check. If we are ever to succeed in securing the road there must be concert of action and no sparing by one neighbor at the expense of the other. To the agricultural community the benefits will be mutual, and each should do his part fairly.

OUR VISIT.—Recently we had occasion to visit Hagerstown, and happening in the neighborhood of the office of the Maryland Free Press, curiosity prompted us to enter the editor's sanctum. We had known Boyd well in boyhood, but from his connection with the Rebels during the Rebellion and the character of his paper, we expected to see a wonderful transformation in his person, a horrible, horry-look monstrosity. He was absent, however, and things in general looked anything but inviting. Even the Devil looked ferochish. When about to make our exit a man in his shirt sleeves turned upon us, who to our amazement proved to be an old acquaintance, "Mac," imputed author of the "Mrs. M Ink story," wearing a black eye and presenting a most ghastly spectacle; with this sight the dingy little apartment seemed to fill with the fumes of brimstone, and imagining the place to be a K. K. head quarters, we beat a hasty retreat, congratulating ourself upon having thus escaped from the presence of the Prince of Darkness. But further up street we encountered his Ugliness, the editor, a libeler of loyal men in general. At his urgent solicitation, and after securing well our pocket-book, we accompanied him back and spent a short time together chatting about business and incidents long passed, when we made another start for our stopping-place, Little's Hotel—which is by the tip-top public house—the way accepting an invitation to join the editor, but reluctantly, as we usually do such invitations. Thus ended our visit and brief sojourn at the office of a live Rebel editor.

GROWING ECONOMICAL.—We understand that the Town Council require our Building Association to pay a bonus for meeting weekly in the Hall. It is alleged by some that this is not fair, that the building was erected at the expense of the public and for public convenience, and that therefore the Association should have the use of the Hall free of charge. If successful the Association will certainly prove an enterprise of great public benefit, and in our opinion, should receive encouragement, not only from the Town Council, but from all public spirited citizens. Why make the Building Association an exception, when Railroad meetings, Political meetings, Band meetings, etc., are held free of charge?

MORMONISM. In a sermon recently delivered in Salt Lake City, Brigham Young said: A thorough reformation is needed in regard to our eating and drinking, and on this point I shall freely express myself and shall be glad if the people will hear, believe, and obey. If the people were willing to receive the true knowledge from heaven in regard to their diet they would cease eating swine's flesh.

The beef fed upon our mountain grasses is as healthy food as we need at present. Beef, so fattened, is as good as wild meat, and is quite different in its nature from stall fed meat. But we can eat fish; and I ask the people of this community, who hinder you from raising fowls for their eggs? who hinder you from cultivating fruit of every variety that will flourish in the different parts of this Territory? There has not been a day through the whole winter that I have not had fresh peaches, and plenty of apples and strawberries. Who hinders any person in this community from having these different kinds of food in their families? Fish is as healthy a food as we can eat, if we except vegetables and fruit, and with them, will become a very wholesome diet.

Some of our Bishops have made no improvements for eighteen years. I have asked the Bishops to sow a little rye, to make straw for hats and bonnets. A few have done so. I have asked them to do the same thing this spring, that the sisters of their wards may have straw to manufacture. If the Bishops have not time to do this, or have not the ground, get some of the brethren to do it who have time and the ground, and let there be an acre of rye sown to each ward, and then ask the sisters to gather it in the proper season.

Ever since I knew that my mother was a woman I have loved the sex, and delight in their obsequy. The man who abuses or tries to bring dishonor upon the female sex is a fool, and does not know that his mother and his sister were women. Outside of this community they are destroying the sex, ruining all they can, and then they boast of their villainy. I wish the whole people of the United States could hear me now. I would say to them, let every man in the land over eight years of age take a wife, and then go to work with your hands and cultivate the earth, or labor at some mechanical business or some honest trade, to provide an honest living for yourselves and those who depend upon you for their subsistence; observing temperance, and loving truth and virtue; then would the women be cared for, be nourished, honored and blessed, becoming honorable mothers of a race of men and women further advanced in physical and mental perfection than their fathers. This would create a revolution in our country, and would produce results that would be incalculable good. If they would do this, the Elders of this Church would not be under the necessity of taking so many wives.

Will they do this? No, they will not, and there are many who will continue to ruin every virtuous woman they can, buying the virtue of woman with money and deception, and thus the lords of creation proceed from one conquest to another, boasting of their victories, leaving ruin, tears and death in their pathway, and what have they conquered? A poor, weak, confiding, loving woman. And what have they broken, and crushed and destroyed? One of the fairest gems of all God's Creation. O man, for shame. If the men of the City of New York alone had done for the last twenty years as the men of this community have done, from two to four thousand females, from sixteen years of age and upward, whose dishonor and ruin are mercifully covered in the grave, would now be in life and health, moving in the circles of happy homes, prayed for, respected, loved and honored.
