VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO'.

Friday, January 8, 1869.

☞Assistant Assessors in the different distilleries in this State ceased to act on the 19th ult. All distilleries are henceforth to be taxed to their full capacity when in operation.

☞European advices announce that in view of President Johnson's Amnesty Proclamation, Jeff. Davis, John Slidell, James M. Mason and other ex-Confederates, are preparing to return to the United States. Those named are now in London.

☞On Friday evening a fire broke out in the grocery store of Harris & Co., corner of Connor and Broad streets, Bangor, Maine, and spread each way until ten brick stores were destroyed, nearly all of them containing heavy stocks of goods. Loss estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

☞Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, in his message to the Legislature of that State, says that the Presidential election there was the occasion of most disgraceful acts of intimidation, culminating in several instances in scenes of massacre shocking to the sense of civilized men, and only finding parallel in the annals of savage warfare. He states that the outrages he complains of were wilful and premeditated, and arose from opposition to the laws of Congress.

☞A despatch from General Sherman announces that General Sheridan had reached Fort Cobb with all his command well. He has captured the two noted chiefs, Santanta and Lone Wolf, and will hold them captives until all their tribe surrender. General Sherman expresses the opinion that General Sheridan having formed a junction with General Hazen, will be able to settle things satisfactorily.

☞The Pennsylvania Legislature organized on Tuesday. In the Senate, Hon. Wm. Worthington was elected Speaker, and Geo. W. Hamersly, Clerk. In the House, John Clark of Philadelphia, was elected Speaker, and Gen. Selfridge, Clerk.

The annual Message of Gov. Geary was delivered on Wednesday. It gives a flattering exhibit of the State finances, and is commended by the press as a statesman-like document.

☞A conference of leading ex-Rebel politicians of Virginia was in session at Richmond during two days of last week. After considerable discussion they agreed on a preamble and resolution, which set forth that while the people of Virginia do not believe that the negroes, in their uneducated condition, are as yet fit for suffrage, yet, in view of the expression of public opinion in the recent national election, and in the hope of restoring harmony and union, they are willing to accept universal suffrage coupled with universal amnesty. A committee was appointed to present these conclusions to Congress.

THE HILL MURDER.—The trial of Twitchell, charged with the murder of Mrs. Hill, his mother-in-law, at Philadelphia, was brought to a close on the 1st inst. The jury went out about nine o'clock in the evening, and returned in twenty-five minutes with a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The prisoner is said to have received the verdict by throwing up his hands in a deprecating manner."

The New York Sun says: "The most important testimony for the defense was that of a man named Algler, who said that about ten minutes before nine o'clock on the night of the murder he saw two men come out of the front door of Mrs. Hill's house, and pass up the street. When he read the account of the murder in the paper the next morning, he told the people at the boarding place that he saw the very men who did it." On the other hand, testimony was given by other witnesses, who alleged they passed by the house nearly at the same time, and saw no one leave the premises.

Altogether, it was an extraordinary case; and it appears a mystery to us how the jury could so soon decide the prisoner guilty of murder in the first degree after the matter of the guilt or innocence of the prisoner had been left with them. The printed testimony certainly places the matter of the prisoner's guilt in a doubtful light before the general public.

Monday next has been fixed on to take up the case of Mrs. Camilla Twitchel, indicted for murder.

☞Throughout the South Friday last was celebrated by the colored people as the anniversary of their emancipation from slavery. There were processions, speeches, ect., and everything passed off quietly.

We learn that the barn of Mr. L. F. Curry, near Zoar Church, was consumed by fire on Tuesday morning last, together with 800 bushels of wheat, six horses, four cows, &c. The fire originated, it is thought by smoking a pipe by one of the family, in one of the stables.—Shepherdstown Register.

MILL BURNT.—The Grist Mill in Roxbury, in this county, belonging to M. R. Skinner, was destroyed by fire on the 31st ult., with a considerable quantity of wheat and cloverseed. On the mill there was $2,000 insurance and $600 on the grain.

Congress re-assembled on Tuesday.

LOCAL MATTERS.

☞The Celestial Railroad, (an interesting reading) for sale at J. R. Welsho's Book Store, in this place. *

☞J. F. Kurtz has a large lot of Fresh Garden Seeds, also a full stock of Drugs and Medicine always on hand. *

FOR SALE.—Mr. Israel Hess will sell his house and lot on the 16th inst. See advertisement.

☞The Wheeling Match advertised for New Year's Day did not come off owing to the unfavorable state of the weather.

SOLD.—On Saturday last Mr. John Spangler disposed of his property on Broad street for $1000 cash. Purchaser, Mr. Geo. F. Beard, of Adams county.

ERRORS.—Several errors occurred in the address distributed by our Carrier on New Year's Day, which will be found on first page corrected.

THE CARRIER.—Our Carrier returns special thanks to town patrons for the liberal reception he received at their hands on New Year's Day. The amount realized from the sale of his address far exceeded his expectations.

PROPERTIES SOLD.—The house and lot on Main street belonging to Mary Nuce, dec'd, was sold on Saturday last for the sum of $1.550. Purchaser, Jos. H. Crebs.

Dr. W. D. Lechler has also disposed of his property on Church street for the sum of $2500. Purchaser, John Hamilton.

OYSTERS.—Messrs Henneberger & Hoover would announce to the citizens of Waynesboro' that they will supply them with Oysters at their doors on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week during the season. *

DISSOLUTION.—The firm of Stover & Winger, Merchants, Quincy, it will be seen by reference to another column, has been dissolved, Mr. E. B. Winger continuing the business.

FIRM CHANGED.—We direct special attention to several advertisements in to-day's paper, from our enterprising young friend, Mr. W. H. Hiteshew, merchant of Chambersburg, who has purchased the interest of his partner, Mr. Metcalfe, and will hereafter continue the business in his own name.

FAHRNEY'S MEDICINE.—Dr. P. Fahrney's Blood Searcher is becoming very popular in this region as a family medicine. Large sales of it have been made by our druggists within the last few months. We speak knowingly when we say it is a good medicine, and as such commend it to invalids.

GOUGH'S LECTURE.—Prof. Corwin V. Wilson of this place, on New Year's night, by invitation, delivered one of Gough's popular lectures on the evils of intemperance, in the M. E. Church, in Chambersburg.—The Repository compliments the Prof. highly, and says the readings gave so much satisfaction that negotiations were being made to have the lecture repeated sometime next month.

MURDER.—A brutal murder was committed near Shippensburg, on Wednesday a week. Adam Titus killed Henry Stem, in order to obtain some forty dollars in money in the possession of the latter. On Friday Titus buried the body of Stem, which led to the discovery of the murder, and the murderer was arrested and committed to prison at Carlisle. Both men were Germans. The horrible deed has created great excitement in the upper end of Cumberland county.

The murdered man, the Repository states, was hauled to Shippensburg on a sled and the murderer was there made to confront the mangled corpse of his companion. The prisoner at last said, "I struck him," and then commenced crying. He afterwards said "that he and Stem had started out to cut wood, and that on the way Stem commenced repeating some stories Mrs. Frey had told him, and that they proceeded from words to blows, when Stem struck at him with a club, and he in return struck Stem with his axe and afterwards cut off his head. He did not bury him until Friday morning, and the last thing he did before covering the earth over Stem was to kiss him. He always regarded Stem as his fast friend, and was sorry that he had committed the deed. He said "ale, whiskey and bad women were responsible for this murder."

PROHIBITORY LAW.—A petition for a law prohibiting the sale of spirituous or malt liquors in the Borough of Waynesboro' or within one mile of it, has been circulating among our citizens during the past week.—This movement on the part of our temperance men has occasioned some excitement, and a counter petition on the part of those adverse to such a law will doubtless be put in circulation.

A STRANGE TRANSACTION.—Sarah Wilson is an aged maiden lady living in this County, possessed of immense wealth, consisting chiefly of real estate situate in the County. She is the last of the Wilson family. It seems that some time ago she spoke to a very respectable minister of her acquaintance with reference to a distant relative of her family and expressed a desire to ascertain his whereabouts, saying that if he was in needy circumstances, she would do something for him. The minister found out where the relative lived and he turns up as a preacher also, named, John M. Bowle.

Mr. Bowle came on to visit Miss Wilson, went to her house last Wednesday and remained until Saturday. Whilst there he drew up a paper for the old lady to sign to carry out her purpose of giving him "something," and did actually procure her signature to it. The paper is not drawn as a lawyer would have drawn it. It is made up of "reservations" and "donations." Miss Wilson is made to reserve to herself fifty thousand dollars for her own use, to be collected out of bonds, promissory notes &c., in her possession, provided they amount to that sum; if not, the balance is to come out of her real estate.

She then donates thirty thousand dollars to religious and literary institutions and charitable purposes, the great bulk of it going to found a Seminary or School for females to be under the charge of the Rev. John M. Bowle. And then comes the third donation as follows: "I donate to the Rev. John M. Bowle all my real estate," the said real estate being worth the snug little sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This paper is witnessed by the administrators of the estate of Miss Wilson's brother, who say that they were under the impression that Miss Wilson was executing her will. Miss Wilson says that she never had any idea of parting with her real estate and could scarcely be brought to believe that she had signed any paper to that effect.

A bill in equity is about to be filed for the purpose of having the paper delivered up to be cancelled. This paper will unquestionably give rise to interesting and, possibly, protracted litigation.

It is but just to the minister to whom Miss Wilson expressed a desire to find Rev. Mr. Bowle, to say that he has had nothing to do with this affair except to carry out the lady's wishes in that respect.—V. Spirit.

MYSTERIOUS.—On Wednesday last, near Mercersburg, in this county, an inquest was held on the body of Nancy Toms, an aged lady, who was found dead in her bed under circumstances which gave rise to suspicions that she had been foully dealt with. The particulars of the case, so far as we have been able to learn them, are as follows:—On the road leading from Mercersburg to M'Connellsburg, about a mile or two above the Gap, there lived for many years a family by the name of Toms, consisting of late years of an old lady about eighty and her nephew aged about fifty. The old lady possessed some property—eight acres of land and a log house, and was supposed to have some money. With the old lady lived a girl by the name of Swank. A man by the name of William Jones, now in jail in this place, implicated in the robbery of Fallen's store, had been living with this girl, having sent his family out West, for a year or more. Some time ago the nephew of Nancy Toms died suddenly, and suspicions were excited at the time that his death did not result from natural causes. An inquest was held, but no very thorough investigation made, and there the matter dropped. The old lady was found dead in her bed, one day last week, and it appears that but a few days before her death she had made over all her property to this man Jones, upon the condition that he would support her while she lived. Dying so shortly, and so mysteriously, after this transaction, naturally excited suspicions that she had been put out of the way. The citizens of Mercersburg brought the affair to the notice of the District Attorney, who ordered an inquest, and on Wednesday last sent Drs. Senseny and Boyle to the place where the body was buried to make a post mortem examination. Esquire Hyssong had the body disintered and a Coroner's jury summoned, while the physicians made a very thorough dissection of the body, bringing away the stomach and its contents for chemical analysis. We have not learned positively what conclusions the jury and physicians arrived at, but understand there exists evidence enough to send the matter before the Grand Jury.—Repository.

BODY OF MR FIERY FOUND.—On Thursday last, the body of Mr. Fiery, whose unfortunate death by drowning was noticed in our last issue, was found about a quarter of a mile below the place where he was drowned, near what is known as the Cave, having been in the water six days. It was in a fine state of preservation, the temperature of the water having prevented decomposition, but had a bruise or cut upon the face, which is supposed to have been made by a piece of floating ice. The family distributed Five Hundred Dollars among some thirty persons, as an appreciation of and compensation for their services in the prolonged search for the body.—Hag. Herald.

QUINCY FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP!

THE subscriber having purchased of Messrs. Hess & Emmert their Foundry and Machine Shop at Quincy, Pa., respectfully announces to the public that he will continue the business, and for the present, will do all kinds of repairing in iron or wood. Will also build new Overshot, Undershot and Breast Water Wheels and Flour Bolts to order. Being a practical and experienced mechanic he flatters himself that he can give general satisfaction to all who will favor him with their patronage. He further promises that his charges shall be moderate.
