

VILLAGE RECORD.

WAYNESBORO.

Friday, June 15, 1899.

The Harrisburg Daily State Guard has suspended publication.

Bonj. Lutz, at one time editor of the Shirleysburg Herald, recently died near Lanark, Ill.

The Republican State Convention to nominate candidates for Governor and Supreme Judge meets in Philadelphia on Wednesday next.

According to a law passed by the last Legislature, all sewing machines belonging to seamstresses are exempt from levy and sale, on execution or distress for rent.

Seventeen hundred and eighteen eight wheel freight cars passed over the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania Central railroad east and west, on Friday.

Mr. James Starkweather, of Michigan, whose wife was killed by a train of cars in November last, has entered suit against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for fifty thousand dollars damages.

A great fire in Cincinnati on Saturday morning rendered fifty-one poor persons homeless and destroyed $41,000 worth of property.

The votes of the Legislatures of but four States only are now necessary to ratify the Fifteenth Amendment. Vermont, Rhode Island, Maryland, Georgia, Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are to vote on the subject.

During seven days in the month of June 10, 978 immigrants from Europe arrived at New York. The total number for five months of the present year is 102,562.

Governor Geary has authorized an emphatic denial of the report that he was seeking a position in President Grant's Cabinet, or that one had been offered to him. The report originates with parties desiring to intimidate that he has withdrawn from the gubernatorial contest.

The Harrisburg Telegraph says three daughters of Samuel Palmer, in West Hanover, aged 14, 16 and 18 years, on Tuesday were lying dead, and a younger one at death's door, from the effects of the same disease, scarlet fever.

The newly organized Society for the Prevention of cruelty to animals, in Philadelphia, commenced operations by arresting a number of city car drivers for overloading their cars. One driver arrested had seventy people in car a built to accommodate but twenty.

A despatch from Springfield, Mass., says that Willis, Phelps & Co., of that city, on Friday contracted to build and equip that portion of the Buffalo and Washington Railroad which extends from Buffalo to the Pennsylvania coal region, 125 miles, for $3,000,000, the work to be commenced in a few days. This is the important link in the chain needed to connect Washington with the lakes.

Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, Minister to Russia, received a very handsome farewell compliment from the people of Philadelphia on Saturday. Many thousands of citizens visited him at a public reception at Independence Hall in the afternoon, and a grand banquet at the Academy of Music took place in the evening. In his speech Minister Curtin referred to the stirring events of the late war for the Union, alluded to the part taken by Pennsylvania in the struggle, and paid a high tribute to President Grant.

The duel between W. E. Cameron, editor of the Petersburg Index (Democratic) and W. E. Hughes, editor of the Richmond State Journal (Republican), which was interrupted by the authorities near Richmond on Friday, took place in North Carolina on Saturday afternoon. Cameron was wounded in the breast at the first shot and disabled, his own shot failing to take effect. The affair grew out of an article written by Cameron, denouncing Hughes as a political renegade, who had sold his brains to the highest bidder.

The Miners' and Laborers' Association of the Anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, who suspended work on the 10th of May, say they have accomplished the object they had in view, to wit: the depletion of the overplus of coal in the market and the prevention of the over supply that was going there, and in consequence have resolved that, on and after the 16th inst. all districts or branches which can agree with their employers as to the basis and condition of resumption, shall resume work.

A CURE FOR SMALL POX.—Will you please announce in your paper that a plant called Saracena Papers, or Indian Cap, is a cure for small pox? It is made into tea, and drunk freely, and to prevent pitting or mark is used as an outside wash. It has been highly recommended by some of the medical faculty who have tried it with unvarying success in the United States, and was first in the hospitals of Nova Scotia.

No fly will light on a window which has been washed with water in which a little garlic has been boiled. Neither will a musketo bite a person who has been eating onions.

The man with the "big feet" proscribes us.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Harvest is fast approaching.

Rich Jewelry and sleeve buttons from 10 cents up at Alex. Leeds'.

Potatoes are just now "a drug in the market," hard to sell at 50 cents per bushel.

Good Family Flour at $6.75—barrel and all $7— at J. ELDEN'S.

JUST THE THING—Chemical Paint at the Corner Drug Store.

Buy your Drugs of Amerson, at the Corner Drug Store.

Among some of our farmers the work of "hay-making" has been commenced. The crop is said to be good generally.

WE NOTICE.—That C. N. Beaver has received another supply of Hats, Shoes, &c.— You will do well by calling.

LONGEST DAY.—Next Monday will be the longest day in the year. Duration, 14 hours and 50 minutes.

CAUTION.—Keep out of Alex. Leeds' wood pile for your stove may blow up— or red pepper get down your throat if you don't.

GOOD FLOUR.—We direct the attention of citizens wanting flour or feed stuffs to the advertisement of D. Lohr in to-day's paper.

The woods are beautiful just now. The trees are in full leaf, the wild flowers are in bloom, and all nature rejoices. Take a stroll into the woods, and be glad that you are alive.

If the person who visited Alex. Leeds' wood pile at day-light on Monday morning will return one half of the wood he took at that time he will say nothing about all that has been taken at other times.

IN DEMAND.—The improved McCormick Reaper is in demand. Jacob Foreman, agent in this place, is filling a number of orders. Persons wanting reapers should apply to him at once.

PREACHING.—We are requested to announce that Rev. Dr. Craig, of Mercersburg, is expected to preach in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath morning and evening.

The Lock-Up was occupied by a visitor from the neighborhood during several hours on Saturday evening, who became too heavily loaded with "benzine" and consequently too disorderly.

The Gettysburg "Star and Sentinel" states that the "Big Hotel" at the Katalysine Springs will be completed by the first of July. It will be a first class Hotel, capable of accommodating 300 guests.

TAN.—Tan may be removed from the face by mixing magnesia in soft water to the consistency of paste, which should then be spread on the face and allowed to remain a minute or two. Then wash off with castile soap suds, and rinse with soft water.

The Thirty-third Annual Commencement of Franklin and Marshall College will take place at Lancaster on Thursday, July 1st. Among the graduating class we notice the name of Josiah D. Deatrich, son of Mr. Lewis Deatrich of this place.

CHESTER PIGS.—Geo. J. Royer, of this vicinity, the other day purchased of A. E. Price two Chester pigs, eight weeks old, one weighing 50 and the other 46 pounds.— Not many of our farmers, we presume, will undertake to beat the weight of this pair.

COOL.—The weather continues unusually cool for this stage of the season, which is anything but favorable to the vendors of ice-cream. Notwithstanding, Messrs. Henneberger & Hoover, and Mr. Beck of "The Dew Drop Inn," continue to keep a supply on hand.

CHERRY SEEDER & Co.—The Cherry Seeder sold by D. B. Russell & Son answers an admirable purpose. They are also well supplied with Fruit-Jars, both tin and glass.— See advertisement.

STRAWBERRIES since last week have dropped in price from 20 to 12 1/2 cents per box. The yield in quantity and quality is unusually fine. Messrs Reid & Waynant expect another supply to morrow.

Gettysburg College, which formerly held its commencement in the latter part of August, has changed it to an earlier day.— This year it falls on the 30th of June, preceding by one day the dedication of the National Cemetery on the Gettysburg battle ground.

THE CROPS.—The wheat in this section is filling finely, and those who should know inform us but little damage as far as they have been able to ascertain, has been done to the crop by the milk-weevil. Most of the wheat is now too far advanced to be damaged from this cause, and the prospects may be regarded as fair for a fine yield. Harvesting will fairly commence about the first Monday in July.

CLOSED.—The Ladies' Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival at the Town Hall was closed on Monday evening. The enterprise was liberally patronized and a handsome sum realized, which is to be used towards furnishing the new Lutheran Church. We understand they purpose holding a Fair sometime during the coming fall season.

BURGLARY.

The country of late seems to be infested with rogues. The Chambersburg papers this week publish accounts of burglaries committed in different parts of the County. The house of John Orr, in Orrtown, on Saturday night last was entered, his safe broken open and $400 taken. The dwelling houses of Mr. Ebersole and Rev. Tripner, near Chambersburg, a few nights since, were also entered and robbed of about $400. In addition to these, similar burglaries have been committed in Loudon and other localities. These light fingered gentry may next turn up in this region. Citizens should be on the alert—secure their doorfastings and supply themselves with powder and lead.

FOGYSM.—Our neighboring town of Greencastle is earning abroad the unenviable reputation of fogysm, because of her Borough authorities having recently written and posted a borough statement for the past year, when she has a printing office (and a good one at that) right in her midst. We wonder if our Borough Fathers are preparing a statement of this kind, or whether they are going to do as they did last year publish none at all. In some shops or other our citizens should be made acquainted with the financial condition of our Borough.—Mercersburg Journal.

Greencastle and Mercersburg are not the only exceptions in this respect. Our "Town Fathers" also adhere to the primitive style of advertising. Twenty-two years have elapsed since our connection with the Record and we have yet the first statement of Borough Receipts and Expenditures to publish.

The whole of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad has been put under contract. Work is to be commenced on the 15th of July, and the road must be finished by the 1st of May, 1870.

Along the line of the road by this time there is doubtless a swarm of "Carpet-baggers" from Ireland.

We have received, too late for this week's issue, an interesting communication from the R. R. Executive Committee, in reply to a query published sometime since in reference to the proposed Scotland and Mt. Alto Railroad, which will no doubt be read with interest by those of our readers interested. We will publish it next week.

ROYD, the ill-mannered "gray-back" who publishes the Maryland Free Press, at Hagerstown, must have lately been on another "spree," judging from recent allusions made to us and our "Reviewers, Ringgold, Md." The morals of this vanquished knight of the "Stonewall Jackson Brigade" must, under the influence of Estine's "benzine," be growing gradually more corrupt.

ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.—There will be a total eclipse of the sun on the 7th of August. It will be visible throughout the United States. The eclipse will last one hour and thirty-five minutes, the middle being at 6 o'clock in the evening.

NEW PERIODICALS.

HARPER'S MONTHLY.—For June is quite attractive. The first paper is a valuable contribution upon a scientific subject, the Aurora Borealis or Polar Light, by Prof. E. Loomis, of Yale College. Much invaluable information can be gained, by a perusal of it, concerning the beautiful, but strange phenomenon. The paper is illustrated by 21 woodcuts. Next in order is a pretty poem, Too Late, and after that a graphic account of Winter on the plains.—Military Vignettes of Former Days, is a brief, but very readable article. We would be pleased to devote some space in giving a critique on the next paper, Said Pasha of Egypt, but cannot as we intend to devote all the extra space to another article, Deliverance Armstrong, a Cornish Carnival and a Brave Lady (the author of John Halifax Gentleman) are worth reading. Now follows what we consider the most brilliant and delightful article in the book—Leo and Luther. This essay is sprightly, yet very historical; truthful, yet tinged just sufficiently with the fanciful to make it extremely pleasant reading matter, for the study, or country boy. It is evidently from the pen of a gentleman. Let us, for a moment, glance at the closing part of the essay. Last scene of all. "Tis in the afternoon. The famous Diet of Worms convenes for the last time. The great hall is lighted with flaming torches which flash upon the glittering jewels and stern countenances of the assembled diet." Luther rises "to defend the Reformation," and is assailed upon every side, but finally wins applause from the honest German princes. Night comes on, and the flambeaus burn low. There are murmurs of increasing violence, the assembly grows impatient, and Luther is commanded to "retract his heresies."

Now the spirit of the bold reformer is displayed in its full power, and remarkable perseverance, as he cries aloud, "Unless, your majesty, I am convinced by the plain words of the Scriptures I can retract nothing. God be my help. Here I take my stand."

Of the remaining contents of the magazine, we shall say nothing more than that it is in harmony with the former part.

THE BIBLIOPOLIST, published by Lubin & Son's, New York, is a very critical, and oftentimes a very caustic, "Literary Register and Monthly Catalogue of old and new books." To the bibliophile this is really an indispensable monthly. We have received the May number.

From some unknown quarter comes the advance sheets of a work by Edward A. Pollard—Life of Jefferson Davis. If favored with a complete copy of the book, it shall receive attention.

Countless myriads of grasshoppers have lately made their appearance on the north and eastern shore of Salt Lake, and are marching or hopping toward the City of the Desert. The ground around Promontory Point is literally black with the young and rapacious insects. They are now about three-fourths of an inch in length, black in color, and resembling a cricket more than a grasshopper. But as they increase in size their color changes to brown.

Conviction of Shoeppe.

The trial of a young German physician named Paul Shoeppe, aged 28 years, charged with murdering, by means of Prusio acid and morphia, a maiden lady, Miss Marie Stinnecke, 71 years old, was concluded at Carlisle, on the 8th instant, by the rendition of a verdict of "Guilty of murder in the first degree." Miss Stinnecke, who was a resident of Baltimore, visited Carlisle sometime in January last, and being taken ill, sent for Dr. Shoeppe, as her medical adviser. She had some previous acquaintance with the Tentonist M. D., but after a few visits from him in his professional capacity, her death broke off the connection. Her body, after life had ceased, was taken to Baltimore and interred. In a short time thereafter Dr. Shoeppe handed to the Orphan's Court of Carlisle, for probate, a will, purporting to be that made by Miss Stinnecke during her last illness, and this testamentary document was in the hand-writing of her medical adviser. It was witnessed by his father, who is a Lutheran minister in Carlisle. The old lady, who was worth some $50,000, according to the paper in question, makes the youthful Dutchman her sole executor and the inheritor of her estate. But it turns out that another will (probably the genuine one) is found among the lady's effects.— This other paper gives her wealth to various religious and charitable institutions, and to her relatives. Two long-standing friends are appointed her executors. These latter gentlemen caused the dead body of the woman to be taken from the tomb, when, strange to tell, on a postmortem examination, there was found in her system the poison from which she undoubtedly died.

THE $100,000 VERDICT.—The comments of the press on the heavy verdict recently rendered in the breach of promise case Craig vs. Sprague, are various, but most of them agree in this, that under the circumstances the award was just. Amanda is a woman of about thirty-five. Sprague is about fifty, and is said to be worth some $500,000. The former we believe is a resident of Cincinnati, the latter of Chicago, or perhaps vice versa. The courtship extended over a period of several years, during which the epistles addressed by the gay lover to his mistress are very positive, very killing, and horribly spelled. The Chicago Post, of June 9, says in reference to the case:

The long-continued Craig-Sprague breach of promise suit was concluded yesterday, with a verdict for the plaintiff of $100,000 damages, the full amount asked. The jury is stated, on the first poll of votes, stood eleven for $100,000, and one for $60,000. The last, remarking that he would "go the whole hog," changed his ballot accordingly, and within five minutes after the jury had retired, they were in the courtroom with their verdict.

This verdict may be considered almost unique. If more than one woman ever before recovered full damages, asking so much, we do not recollect it.

A strange woman has just died in Tennessee, named Rebecca Freeman. While yet in her teens, and an orphan, she was engaged to be married; but her lover died, and she betook herself to a cabin built on the top of a high and rugged hill, in an almost impenetrable forest, where she lived the life of a hermit until her death, at the age of 72.— She kept the white shippers and the apparel in which she was to have been made a happy bride until the day of her death, and would brood over those remembrances for a half day at a time. Whenever the spirit of sadness fastened upon her she went to her door and blew a long tin horn for hours at a time.

Wear your learning, like your watch, in a private pocket, and don't pull it out to show that you have one; but if you are asked what o'clock it is, tell it. So if you are asked what the greatest tonic in the world is, you can with confidence say, the Zingari Bitters. It is recommended by some of the most eminent men in this country, as well as in Europe.

There are many reasons why the Alisma should be used instead of any other hair restorer. It will do all the proprietors claim for it; is a larger bottle, nicely put up, and can be used constantly without injuring or destroying the hair. Many preparations are liked for a while, but eventually injure, if not destroy the hair entirely. If you would have a luxuriant head of hair, use the Alisma.

Use Seward's Cough Cure for Pulmonary complaints.

During a storm on Monday evening a week a house at Beaver Falls, Pa., was struck by lightning, instantly killing a woman who was standing near the stove. Others sitting near her were severely shocked, but not injured.

The numerous incendiary fires which have recently occurred at Altoona, Pa., has been traced to a number of young men connected with the fire companies. Several arrests have been made, and the parties acknowledged their guilt.

Judge Jeremiah S. Black's arm, which was broken on the cars near Louisville, a few days ago, will have to be amputated.

Mrs. Ellen Dill, of Marion county, Indiana, has just entered her 65th year, and has also just entered matrimony with a youth of 19. He is her fifth husband.

John Murray, an old and respected citizen of Portsmouth, Va. was shot and killed last Saturday by a young man named Perry, who had seduced Murray's daughter.

Col. E. M. Mobley and Dr. A. J. Longdorf have been appointed assistant Assessors for Washington co.

Five men were poisoned in Lodi, New Jersey, last Tuesday, by drinking alcohol with strychnine in it. Four of them are dead and the fifth cannot recover.

A gentleman near San Antonio, Texas, has a ranch of 180,000 acres fenced in, and 40,000 head of cattle pastured on it.

A year ago Dr. J. T. Peterson died as was reported, of an over dose of laudanum, in Savannah, Georgia. On last Monday, Mrs. Peterson, his widow, who is residing in Philadelphia, was indicted by the Grand Jury of Savannah for his murder. The accused is a lady of extreme beauty and intelligence, and moves in the most refined society. The case excites a great deal of interest.
