

VILLAGE RECORD. WAYNESBORO. Friday, July 16, 1869.

The Ohio Democracy have nominated Gen. Rosecrans for Governor of that State.

Walker, the Governor-elect of Virginia, had a lengthy interview with President Grant on Monday last.

Wm. H. Sanford, a bank cashier of New York, has absconded. He took $100,000 of other people's money with him.

At the recent election in Virginia a colored man named D. M. Norton, was elected to Congress from the First District by the votes of democrats, niggers and conservative republicans.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has reversed the decision of Judge Sharpwood, one of its members, and declared the Registry law of Philadelphia constitutional.

The constitution adopted at the recent election in Virginia provides especially that the 15th constitutional amendment shall be ratified.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.—The Democratic State Convention assembled at Harrisburg on Wednesday. Asa Packer was nominated for Governor, and Judge Persing, of Cambria county, for Supreme Judge.

A flash of lightning striking an oil tank at Titusville, on Thursday last, caused a fire which spread over a large tract, destroying four thousand barrels of oil and wells that are now producing four hundred barrels per day.

Mrs. Bell A. Mansfield, lately admitted to the bar in Iowa is a young lady of 24, and a graduate of Iowa Wesleyan University. Her husband, Prof. J. M. Mansfield, was admitted at the same time.

There are probably not less than one hundred colored men now in Rome preparing for the Catholic priesthood. The majority of them will become teachers of freedmen of the South.

CONVICTED DISTILLERS.—Martin Billmore and R. Ullman have been convicted of violating the revenue laws at Williamsport, Pa., in relation to distilling, and each sentenced to two years confinement in the Penitentiary. They are the wealthiest men in that part of the State and the largest distillers, but money and influence failed to avert merited punishment.

The Erie Republican says: The story set afloat in this city, that Charles White, the lion tamer, traveling with Thayer's circus, was actually eaten up by the lions, on Friday night, in a small town in Michigan, is a canard. No such dispatch was received at Girard.

The celebrated breach of promise case of Miss Amanda Craig vs. Sprague, recently tried near Chicago, Illinois, was compromised last week. The jury had awarded Miss Craig the sum of $100,000 damages, but she wisely concluded to give Sprague a receipt in full upon his paying her $40,000 of that amount.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.—An election was held in Virginia on the 6th inst., for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, members of Congress and of the State Legislature. For several weeks preceding the election the contest was very warm and bitter, but the election has proved to be the most quiet ever held in the State.

HOPE H. WELLS, the Republican candidate for Governor, was opposed by Gilbert O. Walker, an independent or conservative republican candidate. The returns show that the Walker ticket has been elected by about 40,000 majority, while the expurgated constitution has been adopted by about 50,000 majority.

The Walker party also elect five out of the eight Congressmen, and will have about 40 on joint ballot in the Legislature.

The Constitution, as carried by the 'conservative' party in Virginia, is the same as was adopted by the radical convention in October, 1867, when the representation was 70 Republicans to 35 'conservatives.' With the ratification of this Constitution, the election has passed upon the 15th constitutional amendment, which, either way the State might have gone, would be adopted.

The strife between the two factions was on the rebel disfranchising clause of the Constitution, on which a separate vote was ordered by the President. The 'conservatives' voted for the Constitution without this clause, and, it seems, successfully. The only question now left is whether the 'iron-clad oath' will be imposed according to General Canby's conclusions, or set aside by our chief executive.

A correspondent of an exchange says he has known dyspepsia cured by the use of raw onions as a daily tonic, and on philosophical principles. They have the same exciting influence on the coats of the stomach that they have on the eyes, calling out gastric juice as freely as they do tears from the visual organs.

A man who is too mean to advertise himself and he wanted to sell, says the Berkeley Times, but a written notice in one of the hotels the other day. A man who was inquiring for a small farm, was referred to the 'written notice.' He replied: 'I can't buy land at a fair price of any man who does his advertising in that way. He'll steal the fence, the pump handle, and barn doors before he gives up possession.'

LOCAL MATTERS.

A Soaker.—The rain storm of Wednesday evening.

A new lot of Spectacles of all kinds, just received at Alex. Leeds'.

Potatoes (new crop) are now in market at 75 cents per bushel. The early planting promises an unusual yield.

Don't fail to call at the first-class store of C. N. Beaver for your Hats, Shoes, Cloaks, Trunks, &c. Another line just received.

ABSENT.—Dr. L. N. Saively is on a visit to the Valley of Virginia, and expects to be absent until the latter part of next week.

The Mercury, in the shade, for the past week, has ranged somewhere in the nineties. Warm enough to help the ice-cream trade.

John M. Gooper, Esq., has retired from the newspaper business by disposing of his interest in the Valley Spirit office to his partners, Messrs. Duncan & Stanger.

QUITTING.—Some of the leading articles in the sale advertisement of Mrs. Mary Sanders published last week were unintentionally omitted. This list complete will be found in this issue.

OUR.—Dr. John J. Gellig made his appearance on the street the other day for the first time during the last six or eight weeks. The Dr. had been seriously indisposed and recovers slowly.

SHOWERS.—During the past few days our region has been favored with several copious showers of rain, just in time to refresh and bring forward the corn and potato crops. The prospect for both is now encouraging to farmers.

A little girl, daughter of Martin Funk of this vicinity, aged about 3 years, the other day fell down the stairway and broke the process of the shoulder bone. Dr. J. M. Ripple was sent for and applied the necessary remedies for her relief.

GOING TO THE MOUNTAIN.—The Monterey and Clermont Houses on the Mountain are filling up with visitors from Baltimore and other sections. We understand parties continue to arrive daily.

Our farmers have finished cutting their rye and wheat and are now engaged 'hauling in.' A few more days of favorable weather will finish the work. The work of harvesting the oats crop, which is said to be very fine, comes next in order.

DECEASED.—Mrs. Row, a very aged lady, of this place, wife of Michael Row, dec'd, several days since received a fall, fracturing the neck of the thigh bone, from the effects of which she died on Tuesday night last. Attending physician, Dr. J. M. Ripple.

RECOVERING.—The lad, son of Mr. John Friedly, whose injuries by a Reaper we announced in our last issue, is, we are pleased to learn from his physician, Dr. Frantz, doing well and considered out of danger.

London Smoked Spectacles, for weak eyes, at Alex. Leeds'.

ENGRAVING.—Mr. Brackbill, of the 'Diamond Gallery,' has received an assortment of fine steel engravings, among which are, the 'Babe of Bethlehem,' Wesley and all the Bishops of the M. E. Church, for sale with or without frames. Call and see them.

GOOD INVESTMENT.—As harvest is now nearly over young men who have the 'stamps' to spare should call at Brackbill's Gallery and secure photographs for their friends.—His pictures compare favorably with those taken by Eastern operators.

Work on the new Lutheran Church has been suspended since the commencement of harvest, but will be resumed again with the commencement of next week. So we learn.

We understand the tribe of Red Men recently organized in this place are rapidly increasing in numbers. They purpose holding a picnic near town the latter part of this month. A near neighbor of the Record is to play 'Big Lujan' on that occasion.

The greatest variety of Sledge Buttons, at Alex. Leeds'.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last a little daughter of Mr. Jacob Middour, near this place, aged about ten years, fell from a cherry tree on a post, badly fracturing her skull. For sometime her life was despaired of, but we learn from the attending physician, Dr. John M. Ripple, that she is now doing well and that the chances favor her recovery.

DANCING BEAR.—A huge black Bear suddenly made his appearance in our town on Wednesday and attracted great attention and got a little popstration among some of the juveniles. He was muzzled and in this badge of a keepp. The animal was trained and performed many antics besides dancing on his hind legs to the beating of a drum.—The entertainment was a novel one, which the boys and some who were not boys, seemed to enjoy very much. After 'passing the hat around' and 'slaking Bruin's thirst at the 'public pump,' the performers were escorted out of town by a procession of boys.

Have your Watches repaired and insured by Alex. Leeds, Watchmaker and Jeweler, next door to Town Hall.

EAST LIVING.

Fast living.—Fast living—remarks somebody—is an attractive and fascinating habit, particularly to the young. There are few warm blooded young men who would not live fast, if they could afford to. The lack of means alone restrains them. It seems so delightful to rattle over the pleasant first ten miles of adult life, from twenty to thirty, at a two-forty pace, rather than jog along at a rate that permits all the fast teams to pass you. But old men think differently. They know that the fast liver rattles away his bloom and his youth, before he is ready to part with it, and becomes old, while his plodding companion of the same age is still young. He goes up the ascent with the speed and dash of a fleet roaster; but he goes down the decline on the other side with the speed of a galloping consumption. He gathers and consumes his harvest of life's pleasure and joys long before they are ripe, and like children who have gorged themselves with green fruit, he is compelled to suffer pains and pangs, the penalty of the transgression. He grows old and weary and querulous in spirit and habit, while he is still young in years. There are wrinkles on his face, there are twitches in his joints, there are angry and painful swellings on his knuckles; his hands quake, and his limbs totter, and he hobbles down the home stretch, an object of pity to those whom he dazzled with the brilliancy of his first setting out, and filled with remorseful reflections over the folly which squandered the riches of life in youth, and left no strength of muscle nor warmth of blood to cheer and sustain him in the dismal winter.

If the young man is wise, he will be content to go slow up the ascent, and husband his vigor of body and mind for the latter part of the race. The innate joys of youth, its hope and buoyancy and freedom from care may suffice for that period of life, without the fierce excesses and profligacies which make up fast living. Temperance and moderation to the young, appear insipid and prosy; but they are conservators of the power which the young will need when they become old. To lay up money for old age is esteemed the light of worldly wisdom; but to carry the innocence and freshness, and some of the vigor and health of youth into old age is a wiser and better thing still.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.—A stated meeting of the Franklin County Medical Society was held at Chambersburg on the 6th inst. The attendance was small, but the proceedings were harmonious and interesting.

The deaths of Dr. E. D. Rankin, of Greencastle, and of Dr. J. S. King, of Mercersburg, having been announced, the accompanying resolutions were reported and adopted:—

WHEREAS, The ranks of our infant society have already been thinned by the fell destroyer, Death:

Resolved, That, while we bow in humble submission to the will of the Great Ruler of events, we deeply deplore the demise of Dr. E. D. Rankin, of Greencastle, and Dr. J. S. King, of Mercersburg, recognizing in them fully qualified and honorable members of our profession, and men who have endeared themselves to the communities in which they respectively resided by their many acts of disinterested charity.

Resolved, That we tender our condolence to the bereaved and greatly afflicted friends, and that a copy of these resolutions, after having been entered on our minutes, be sent to the families of the deceased.

The Society, without a dissenting voice, passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Society approves the action of Dr. I. N. Saively, one of its members, in calling the attention of the Commonwealth to an alleged case of criminal abortion occurring within the sphere of his practice; that by so doing he complied with the demands of the profession and of public morality; and that it is the duty of every member of this Society to exert himself in bringing such heinous crimes to the bar of justice.

Dr. Samuel G. Lane was requested to prepare an essay to be read at the next stated meeting.

Adjourned to meet in Chambersburg, on first Tuesday of January next, when an election for officers will be held.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Christian Mole, aged about 58 years, fell from a Cherry tree on the farm of Mr. John Frantz, near this place, on Friday last, and it is supposed fractured the base of his skull, from the effects of which he expired on Saturday morning.—Dr. Frantz was called to his relief but all efforts in his behalf proved unavailing and he expired as above stated. Mr. Mole was a bachelor and had made Mr. Frantz's house his home for about 25 years. He was a native of Lancaster county.

IMPROVED.—The Town Hall has recently been re-painted by Wm. G. Smith and Bro., and now presents a handsome appearance.—The improvement was a much-needed one, and it is hoped the Council will take some action to restrain boys from marking and otherwise defacing the doors and frames.

In Salt Lake persons are fined ten dollars for being drunk, and twenty dollars for profanity.

Such men as Royd of the Hagerstown Free Press should keep away from Salt Lake.

The stables of Jonathan Middlekauff and Jacob Gruber, in Hagerstown, were consumed by fire on Friday morning last with their contents, among which in the former was a horse, cow, sow and pigs, &c. The fire is supposed to have been occasioned by an incendiary.

WONDERFUL REDUCTION.—Good Family Flour for $6 25 per barrel; 28 lbs. for one dollar; at J. Elden's.

ADVICES FROM CUBA.

Advices from Cuba give the particulars of the butchery by the Spaniards of two American citizens, Albert Wyeth and Spekman, and Washington despatches report that our Government will take immediate and decided action in the matter. Wyeth was a telegrapher by profession, only twenty years of age, cousin to Jos. Douglas, Esq., of this place. The following is his last or farewell letter:—

SYNTIAGO DE CUBA, June 21, 1869. DEAR GENE.—Good-bye. I will be shot at 9 o'clock this morning. It is now about 3 A. M. I was sentenced about 12 o'clock last night. I have just been baptised in the Catholic church chapel here, and will pass the few hours of life that yet remain to me here with the good priests. Tell George Diven, and Newell, and all my other friends, of my fate. All who came on the vessel have been shot. There are three others who were with me on the vessel who die with me. There is no hope whatever, and be assured you will never see me again on earth: My love to Newell and George. Please send my trunk and papers to my mother, Mrs. E. J. Wyeth, Chambersburg, Pa. Good-bye. Be prepared to meet me in Heaven, whither I trust I am going.

Your friend till the last: AL.

The Commencement Exercises of Franklin and Marshall College took place at Lancaster on the 1st inst. The Intelligencer says:—

Josiah D. Detrish, Waynesboro, Pa., next delivered an oration on the 'Pleasures of Art.' The Artist had an able and eloquent eulogist in Mr. Detrish, who manifested by his remarks a great familiarity with the imperishable paintings of the great masters of the past and the present. He stated that some of our great modern artists are capable of expressing on canvass even the inward consciousness of animals; and it is by the art of painting that we are enabled to preserve the forms and features of the eminent dead, to furnish for the young of the present day examples for them to emulate. The address was well written and delivered.

HORSE THIEVES ABOUT.—Last Friday night two horses were stolen, one from Mr. Samuel Lamy and the other from Mr. Jacob Strickler, near the turnpike leading from Chambersburg to Gettysburg. Both horses were taken from pasture fields on the farms of their owners, about four miles from this place.—Spirit

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—We learn from our Cumberland County Exchange that Dr. Keffer of Carlisle, while crossing the South Mountain on Thursday last, on his way from Carlisle to visit a patient in Petersburg, Adams Co., was accosted by a robber, revolver in hand, who relieved him of his watch and twenty dollars in money. We know nobody who enjoys a joke more than the Doctor but this one, was, doubtless, too practical for him.—Id.

CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting for the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Carlisle District, will be held near Oakville, on the line of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, commencing August 4th, and continuing eight days.

CRACKERS.—Water Crackers, Ginger Schnapps, Lemon Biscuit, Wine and Cream do., at reduced prices, sold by Reid & Waynant.

DOWN.—Mr. Elden of the down-town feed and provision store continues to lower the price of flour. He now furnishes a good family article at $6.25 per barrel.

FARM FOR SALE.—A well improved and pleasantly situated farm, a few miles south-west of Waynesboro, is offered at private sale. Enquire of the Printer.

DEATH OF THE HEAVIEST WOMAN.—We learn from the Maryland Chronicle and Advertiser that Mrs. Elizabeth Ogborn, aged 40 years, wife of William F. Ogborn, died on the afternoon of the 25th ult., at her residence, sixth milestone, Ridge avenue, of suffocation from excessive corpulence. Her weight two years ago was 430 pounds; and it is estimated that it reached at the time of her death Six Hundred Pounds! No chair would bear her weight and a kind of a platform had to be constructed for her accommodation, and the house itself, a frame one, yielded to her great weight. She could move about very little for the last two years; and when she died, which was very suddenly, she fell to the floor, and it required the united strength of six or eight men to lift her. Her body was subsequently taken down to the ground floor, and required a force from eight to ten men. Her coffin was six feet four inches long, three feet wide over the breast, and two feet one inch in depth. There was no hears in the city large enough to admit the body, and a wagon had to be used. It took twelve men to carry it, but it was interred without accident. Notwithstanding her bulk, Mrs. Ogborn was well proportioned and good looking. She was, perhaps, the heaviest woman who ever existed in the United States.

If the dyspeptic will use the Constitution Bitters, he need no longer be discouraged, for they are a remedy that will produce the most satisfactory results. Try them, you are afflicted, by all means, if you have not, and be cured.

Old and young use Seward's Cough Cure.

A reward of $10,000 is offered for the capture, dead or alive, of Samuel Hildebrand, the Missouri desperado. An armed posse has been organized under a proclamation of the Governor of the State to search for and arrest him. He has killed over 80 men, and boasts that he will not yield until he has made it an even hundred.

In Michigan, last fall, whilst a farmer was thrashing, a pig got accidentally covered up in a straw stack, and this spring, seven and a half months after, the pig was found there alive. On being liberated, it evinced a disposition to eat.

Sir Robert Clifton, who died recently in England, had $750,000 insurance on his life.

PERIODICALS.

[All books and periodicals designed for review in the Record must be addressed to Reviewers, Ringgold, Washington county, Md.]

The HAZEN PUBLICATIONS.—Journals of almost every class are unusually dull at the present season, but we have not as yet noticed a change in any of the Harper periodicals. They seem as sprightly as ever, and in some respects are even more interesting and vigorous than during the winter. Late issues of the Bazaar and Weekly are upon our table, replete with capital reading matter. To merely praise these two truly excellent journals would be but a poor compliment to their merits. They are world-renowned, hence, the praise or censure of any single individual could not 'break or make' the proprietors. We do, however, offer our humble voice in their favor, and would especially request our common friend of the Free Press to peruse their contents, as many articles are of timely pertinence upon certain qualities unfamiliar to him; if we are permitted to judge character by the actions of individuals.

On the 23d of June last there were snow banks twenty feet deep still lying in the northern part of Meigs.

MARKETS.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday July 13, 1869. —There is not much activity in the flour market, but with a continuation of remarkably light receipts of all descriptions and greatly reduced stocks, holders are stiff in their demands; sales of 1,200 barrels, mostly in small lots, at $5@5.44 per barrel for superfine, $5.50@5.75 for extras, $6@7.25 for Northwestern extra family, $6@7 for Pennsylvania do. do., $7@8 for Ohio and Indiana do. do., and $9@10.75 for fancy brands.—There is no change in rye flour, and it sells in a small way at $6 1/2@7 1/2. In corn meal there is nothing doing. There is not much wheat coming in, and it meets a fair inquiry at yesterday's figures; sales of 2,000 bushels old and new red at $1 45@1.55, and some amber at $1.50. Rye has advanced, and sold at $1.40. Corn is excited and advancing, with sales of 3,000 bushels Western mixed at $1.10, and yellow is held at $1.12. Oats are unchanged, with sales of 3,000 bushels Western at 70@80c. Whisky is scarce, and ranges from 97c. to $1.05, tax paid.
